IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Mr. de Lima Takes His Wife Back to Portugal.

MISS ELLA SHERMAN A BRIDE

She is Married to Lieut. Elliott Johnstone Dent, of the Engineers. Secretary Wilson Only Member of the Cabinet Now in Washington. Minister and Mme. Corea Leave.

Mr. Arenas de Lima, first secretary of the Portuguese Embassy in Paris, who has been acting as charge d'affaires for the Portuguese government in the absence of Minister Viscount d'Alta, left Washington yesterday with Mme. de Lima for New York. They will sail tomorrow for Paris, where Mr. de Lima will resume his duties at the embassy. Later they will go on leave to their home in Lisbon.

Mr. de Lima was obliged to leave this country before the return of the minister on account of the delicate health of Mme. de Lima. Mr. Gurgel do Amaral, charge d'affaires of the Brazilian Embassy, will for the second time also act as charge d'affaires for Portugal. Mr. do Amaral will leave here either Saturday or Sunday for Norfolk, the object of his visit being to give a farewell dinner to Rear Admiral Huet de Bacellar, commander of the Brazilian squadron stationed in Hampton Roads. The Tamoyo, a destroyer, is at present at the navy yard at New York for repairs. As soon as she is ready the fleet will weigh anchor to return to Brazil. In the meantime, Mr. do Amaral will give a large dinner at the Hotel Chamberlin, which he will invite Gov. Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia; Mr. Henry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition, and the most prominent of the officers of the American squadron stationed in Hampton Roads, to meet Rear Admiral Bacellar.

Miss Ella Lillian Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman, of the Mendota, and Lieut. Elliott Johnstone Dent, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., were married yesterday at noon in the Cathedral Close at St. Alban, Rev. G. C. P. Bratton, rector of St. Alban's Church, assisted by Rev. John G. Ames, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore Brussels net over soft white silk, elaborately trimmed with duchesse lace. A tulle veil was worn, and the effective costume was completed by a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Mrs. William Bolton Farnham, of Rochester, N. Y., a sister of the bride, was her matron of honor and only attendant. Her gown was a dainty creation of white chiffon over a taffeta slip, with which she wore a large picture hat of white chip trimmed with white plumes, and she carried a cluster of La France roses.

Mr. Josiah Dent, brother of the bridegroom, stood with his brother as best man. The ceremony was witnessed by a small assemblage of relatives of the bride and bridegroom, and was followed by a reception. Lieut. and Mrs. Dent left Washington late in the afternoon for a wedding trip, and will go later to the coast of Maine. In the autumn they will take up their residence in Washington, where Lieut. Dent is stationed.

The wedding unites two families whose names have long been prominent in public affairs. Lieut. Dent being of the older branch of the Dent family, which has been closely associated with the history of Washington. He is, also, of the Johnstone family, of South Carolina, a family of recognized influence in that State.

Miss Sherman is from the family which from Colonial days has been conspicuous in both the military and civil service of the country. It was with her grandfather in Ohio that, during a part of his boyhood, the late Senator Sherman made his home, and after whom he was named.

Justice M. F. Morris and his sisters, the Misses Morris, and Mrs. Hastings, with whom is her daughter, Miss Edgeria Hastings, are among the distinguished Washingtonians who recently arrived at Newport, where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

The Secretary of Agriculture, James Wilson, the eldest member of the Cabinet in point of service, is the only executive now in Washington. Secretary Cortright left Wednesday evening for his summer home in Long Island, and will probably be away until October. The Attorney General, Mr. Bonaparte, has joined Mrs. Bonaparte at Lenox for the summer. Secretary Taft is at Murray Bay, making brief visits to near-by places. Secretary Root is at his country place near Hamilton, N. H., and Secretary and Mrs. McCall are still at Oakland. Col. Secretary Garfield is making a trip through the West, and Secretary Strauss is also in the West. After a brief visit to Washington, the Postmaster General is off again for a real vacation, a fortnight of which he will spend in salmon fishing near Matapedia, Quebec.

The Minister from Nicaragua and Mme. Corea, who spent the spring and early summer at the country place of Mme. Corea's parents, Col. Robert L. Fleming and Mrs. Fleming, left Washington yesterday for the remainder of the summer, which they expect to spend in travel, probably going abroad, as has been the custom of the Minister in the past few years.

Mr. Burton Watkins, of this city, is spending a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. E. R. Watkins, at Baldwin, Long Green Valley, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Mitchell were among the dinner hosts at Narragansett Pier Wednesday evening, their guests including Mrs. John Almy and Miss Almy, of Washington.

Commander J. B. Briggs, U. S. N., and Rev. D. Harlan, of this city, are among the recent arrivals in Paris.

Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, whose engagement to Miss Katherine Eddy was recently announced, after taking the cure at Contrexeville, France, is again in Paris.

Mr. J. B. Reynolds, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has returned to Washington.

CREEL HOPEFUL OF PEACE.

Ambassador Believes Nicaragua Will Avoid Making War.

Ambassador Creel, of Mexico, who called upon Acting Secretary Bacon at the State Department yesterday, expressed the belief that affairs in Central America are quieting down to a condition of peace. Creel discredited the reports of preparation for war, and believes that Nicaragua's good intentions are indicated by her complete withdrawal of troops from Honduras.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS BIRTHDAY

First Convention Held Fifty-nine Years Ago To-day.

The Suffrage Movement Inaugurated with Declaration of Civil and Political Disabilities.

To-day is the fifty-ninth anniversary of the woman's suffrage movement, the first woman's rights convention being held July 13, 1848. It convened at Seneca Falls, N. Y., with Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lucretia Mott, Martha C. Wright, and Mary A. McClintock as prime movers. A declaration of sentiments and a statement of civil and political disabilities were made.

The Seneca Falls meeting inaugurated the fight for woman suffrage which has been kept up ever since, and which has been championed by Susan B. Anthony and other talented and aggressive women. Mrs. Stanton's declaration was modeled after Jefferson's Declaration of Independence, and was the first demand for equal suffrage. She may, therefore, be considered the originator of the movement. This convention was largely attended by leading woman thinkers of that day, and the deliberations were thoughtful, and radical only as concerned the demand for political rights.

The second convention met at Salem, Ohio, in April, 1850; the third at Worcester, Mass., in October, 1850, and thereafter a convention was held every year until the civil war. In 1862 an agitation for dress reform was started, and the wearing of the bloomer costume was a proof of allegiance to the cause. Woman suffragists were ridiculed, and accused of being advocates of free love, easy divorce, and the amalgamation of the races; but a few prominent men, Horace Greeley among them, treated the question with respect.

Funeral services were held according to the ritual of the Improved Order of Red Men for Chief John, of the Seneca Nation, yesterday in the chapel of Lee's undertaking establishment.

Chief John was one of the most famous of his race, was ex-president of the Senecas, and a man of great influence in his tribe. Among the whites he had many friends, including the late President McKinley and Senator Quay. He was born on the Cattaraugus reservation, New York. Attending the public schools of Corning, he went afterward to the Normal School at Mansfield, Pa. In 1868 he took a scientific degree at the Allegheny College, in Meadville, Pa. Since that time he has been an official in the Seneca tribe.

His fraternal brothers in the Order of Red Men are in charge of his body, which is to be shipped to-night to his home in Cattaraugus, N. Y. His wife and cousin will accompany the remains.

NEW MAIL RULE AIDS PUBLIC.

Small Substations May Arrange Change in Address.

The postmaster of Washington has made an order, under which the public may have mail matter forwarded from this city to other places, or to new addresses within the city, by applying to clerks in charge of the smaller or numbered stations, instead of being restricted to the main office, and to the letter-carrier force, as has heretofore been the rule.

The clerks in charge of these stations have been supplied with the necessary blank forms, and have been instructed to receive and transmit to the postmaster all applications made to them embodying requests for changes of address. It is expected that this change will result in great convenience to the post-office as well as to its patrons.

READERS COMPLAIN OF HEAT.

Patrons of Congressional Library Make Appeal for Relief. Complaint has been made by patrons of the reading-room in the Library of Congress about the intolerable heat and lack of ventilation beneath the big dome, but an investigation fails to reveal any serious ground for the complaint. It is warm in the reading-room these days; in fact, it is oppressive, but there is no means by which it can be cooled to any greater extent unless it be by means of a refrigerator.
