The President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained at dinner last evening complimentary to the Right Rev. Arthur P. Wilmington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London. The table was decorated with an effective arrangement of orchids and pink carnations. Invited to meet the guest of honor and Mr. Sillas McRee, who is also a house guest, were the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Metcalf, the Surgeon General of the Navy and Mrs. Rixey, the Right Rev. Dr. Brent, the Bishop of the Philippine Islands; Mrs. Satterlee, Mrs. Bayard, Mr. and Mrs. Glover, and Capt. Fitzhugh Lee.

Mr. Warren L. Wagner and Miss Eunice Ruth McNichols were quietly married yesterday morning by the Rev. Dr. Alexander Kent, pastor of the People's Church, and immediately left on a trip through New England. They will be at home after November 1 at their future residence, Riverdale, Md.

An interesting wedding of to-day will be that of Miss Allis Fraem Mitchell to Mr. Harry Day Reed, which will take place at high noon in St. Michael and All Angels' Church. Miss Mitchell, who is a Marylander by birth, is descended on her father's side from a famous old Scotch family, and through her mother is a great-great grandchild of John Paul Jones, and a granddaughter of the late Capt. Robert Emmet Du Val, a distinguished Union officer and a direct descendant of Martin Du Val, one of the earliest Huguenot settlers of Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd O. Peck announce the marriage of their daughter, Pertha M., to Mr. William L. Mattocks, on Wednesday, September 25, at Jewett, N. Y. The couple will be at home after October 15 at 137 Massachusetts avenue southeast.

The counselor of the Mexican Embassy, and in the absence of the Ambassador from Mexico, the charge d'affaires, accompanied by Senora Godoy and their daughter, Senorita Godoy, arrived in Washington yesterday and for the present are guests at the Shoreham. They expect to occupy a house as soon as a suitable one can be secured.

The Comptroller of the Currency and Mrs. William Barrow Ridgely and the Misses Ridgely have taken possession of their recently purchased residence, 1209 Seventeenth street. The house is spacious and charmingly arranged, and has been entirely renovated during the summer. For the past few years it has been occupied by the counselor of the Mexican Embassy and Senora Godoy, and was the scene of many delightful entertainments.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fairbanks and their little daughter, who have spent the summer with the Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks in the North, left for their home in Chicago. Mrs. Fairbanks will remain at Manchester for some time. She is somewhat improved in health, but is far from well.

The engagement of Mrs. Florence Thomas Fisher, formerly of Washington, to Mr. Edward P. Rawle, of Philadelphia, has been announced. Mrs. Fisher is the daughter of the late Maj. Evan Fisher, U. S. A.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Newberry have closed their summer place at Watch Hill, R. I., and are en route for a brief stay. They will go to Detroit for a visit with relatives before returning to Washington for the season.

Mrs. William H. Claggett and her daughter, Miss Gertrude Claggett, who have spent the past two months at Narragansett, have returned to Washington and opened their apartment at the Marlborough.

Signor Roberto Centaro, secretary of the Italian Embassy, has arrived in the city, to remain several days. Signor Centaro will then return to Manchester, Mass., for the remainder of the month.

Miss Frances Graham French has returned from Saratoga, and will be for the winter season at the Cumberland, Thomas Circle.

Mr. George William Fraser Small, attorney at law, of this city, who some time ago was erroneously reported seriously injured in a railroad wreck, has returned to his home, after an absence of nearly five months. Mr. Small spent most of the time in Southern California, because of the illness of his brother, Mr. James A. Small, one of the oldest Post-office inspectors in the country, who died en route to the East at Salt Lake City.

Mr. William C. Bobbs, a prominent society man of Indianapolis, called at the White House to see the President Thursday by invitation. He returned to Indianapolis yesterday.

Miss Ida Quinn and E. Werton Brown, of Seat Pleasant, Md., were quietly married by the Rev. Mr. Williams, at Trinity Church, Washington, Wednesday, September 25, at 6 o'clock, the only attendants being Miss Agnes Nalley, a friend of the bride, and J. E. Brown, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a very pretty gown of cream lawn over silk, with trimmings of rich lace, hat and gloves to match. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

After the ceremony a wedding reception was tendered the young couple at the residence of Mrs. M. M. Garrick, the bride's aunt, with whom she has recently made her home. No invitations were issued, and only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, among them being a fine collection of cut glass and silver.

After a short wedding trip in the North, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside at Seat Pleasant, Md., where Mr. Brown has recently erected a handsome home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo A. Bagley have returned to their apartments in the Cecil, after a trip to Montreal and Thousand Islands.

WIFE SUES ABSENT HUSBAND

Mrs. Brashears Files Petition for Separate Maintenance.

Spouse Left Letter and $100 in Bank to Her Credit and Disappeared September 19.

"I don't know exactly where I will go, or how long it will take me to find a good place. I have left $100 to your credit in the bank for your expenses while I am gone. If that isn't enough, sell some of the furniture, or move it to a cheaper place."

This was the message contained in a special delivery letter which Mrs. Rose B. Brashears says she received from her husband, Walter C. Brashears, on September 19. Since then she declared in a petition for maintenance filed yesterday in the District Supreme Court, she has not seen or heard from him. She asks the court to subject the real estate owned by them jointly in South Brookland to the payment of her support.

Mrs. Brashears, through Attorney Irving Williamson, informs the court she was married in Brookland, D. C., July 12, 1884, and up to July, 1906, she says, there was no dissension between them; but in that month, she alleged, her husband became interested in other women to an extent that caused her great unhappiness.

On his promise to reform, she says, they took up their abode in a flat at 555 Rhode Island avenue, northwest, and everything was going along well until the receipt of the special delivery letter.

EXCURSIONS.

The big crowds that are leaving Chesapeake Beach, and they are attracted to the resort because of the excellent fishing. The extended peak, nearly a mile long, is an ideal place for the angler who likes to pull in the fish.

The big hotels of the town are full for week-end stays. Fishermen who are at the resort for only one day can get meals at the hotels or can serve themselves on the boardwalk or under the trees along the shore.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the steamer Charles Manaster will make another of those delightful forays into the Potomac and return, thus giving those who go a continuous river ride of eighty miles, passing in plain view of Indian Head, the naval proving grounds, where all the large guns are tested.

The steamer, returning, will reach home about 7:30 p. m. Stops will be made at Alexandria. Meals a la carte will be served in cafe during the entire trip. Luncheon and refreshments can also be obtained on board.

A visit to the National Capital is never complete without making a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon, the home and tomb of Washington. A pleasant and historic route is by the steel steamer Charles Manaster, which leaves Seventh street wharf daily, except Sunday, at 9 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., returning by the route at Washington.

It is a land of roses, fragrant, beautiful, in a land of unbroken Boston. It is a land of orchards, and still more, a land of humming birds. Meadow larks unnumbered had the morning sun from the upland grain fields, and at night, in the fastnesses of the mountains, yet may be heard the mountain lark. In the late winter and the early spring the valleys are a carpet of baby blue eyes, and upon the higher mountain ridges, usually open, the summits to the desert side, majestic peaks, too large for the sun, lift their heads so high that their veering songs, when the evening breeze comes, are lost.

How to reach this country at a price within reach of every one will be told at the office of the Washington Steamboat, 715 Fifteenth street and 211 Pennsylvania avenue.

The Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company offers the most attractive service to the Sixth Field Artillery, Norfolk, and Old Point Comfort. Its splendid modern steamers offer a choice of travel by day or night, sailing at 8 a. m. and at 6:30 p. m. every day. Affording such a delightful opportunity to view the historic Potomac, with many interesting points on its shores, it can readily be seen why the day service is so popular with tourists.

The comfortable, rapid, and stationary make travel by the night boats a luxury. The dining service deserves the great fame it has won with the traveling public.

On the trip South both day and night boats wharf at the exposition pier, as well as at Old Point and Norfolk. Daily excursions are made at the latter place with steamers for New York and Boston. The up-ton ticket office in the Colorado Building, Fourteenth and F streets, will find a convenient place for tourists to secure tickets, reserve state rooms, hotel accommodations at the fair, etc. Wharf offices are located at foot of Seventh street.

MASONIC RITES AT GRAVE

Funeral Services for Dr. James Appleby To-morrow Afternoon.

Death of Well-known Citizen and Physician Sudden, Although He Was Ill for Months.

Funeral services over the body of Dr. James F. R. Appleby, who died Friday morning, will be held in his home at Thirty-second and F streets northwest, to-morrow, at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. William C. Alexander, pastor of the West End Presbyterian Church. Masonic rites will mark the interment, the services at the grave being conducted by George C. The death of Dr. Appleby was unexpected, although he had been ill for several months. He was sixty-seven years old, and had been a resident of Washington for many years, having removed to this city in early life from Tennessee. His preliminary education was received in the private schools of the District, and he later attended Lafayette College, at Easton, Pa., from which he was graduated in 1864. Following his academic course, he entered the Medical School of Georgetown University, and was graduated from that institution in 1870. Dr. Appleby leaves a wife, Mrs. A. R. Appleby; four daughters, Mrs. William Kendrick Hatt, wife of Prof. William Hatt, of the University of Indiana; Mrs. W. F. Willoughby, wife of Mr. W. F. Willoughby, secretary to Porto Rico; Mrs. Van Natta, wife of Lieut. Thomas F. Van Natta, of the Eighth Cavalry; U. S. A., and Miss Edith Appleby, and one son, J. F. Appleby.

Dr. Appleby was one of the most prominent Masons of the West End. He was past grand high priest of the District, past high priest of Potomac Royal Arch Chapter, past commander of Potomac Commandery, No. 3; a member of the Mystic Shrine and of the George C. Whiting Lodge, F. A. M. He was also a member of the George U. Morris Post, No. 19, Grand Army of the Republic.
