

MAY BAR OUTSIDERS

Alexandria School Board to Discuss Non-residents.

CITY GROWS TO WESTWARD

Area Fifty Feet Wide Found to Belong to Corporation, Although Never Yet Included in Tax Assessor's Lists—King Street Paving May Be Extended—Knights to Meet.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU.

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 3.—(By special children who are not residents of this city will be permitted to enter the public schools of this city will probably be passed upon at the next regular meeting of the school board.

At the session this evening Claude R. Yates gave notice that he would in November offer an amendment to the by-laws intended to cover the cases of non-resident applicants. It was stated that the matter was brought up by an unsuccessful effort on the part of a person living close to this city, but outside the corporation lines, to enter the local public schools.

An announcement to the effect that all the schools had been opened under auspicious circumstances after the summer recess and were being conducted in good order, with a large attendance of scholars, was made by Clerk Hubert Snowden, in the absence of Supt. Kemper. After the annual bids for fuel for the schoolhouses during the year had been presented by the clerk of the board, the contract for coal was awarded to T. J. Fannon, while the contract for furnishing wood went to De Wilton Atcheson.

Authority was given to the committee on schoolhouses to have certain repair work done, and a number of miscellaneous bills were audited and the question of changing the hours of the afternoon session of the schools was discussed, and the matter was referred to the committee on studies.

City Gains Big Area.

In connection with the extension of the improved paving on King street, from Fayette street to the boundary line, an investigation of the position of the line marking the western corporation limits shows, it is asserted, that the city extends about fifty feet further in the westerly direction than it had been thought to reach.

The accurate measurements show that the distance to the line from the west to Fayette street is 291 feet, whereas the various old city maps, heretofore considered authoritative, indicate a distance of only 253 feet. The additional area said to belong to the city has never been assessed for corporation taxes, but it is said that it will hereafter be included in the tax estimates. Whether the paving will be extended to that point is said to rest with the property owners concerned. Should they decline to pay their property assessments, the improvements will be made, but if the property owners decline to bear the expense, the proposed work will be interrupted at that point.

Knights to Meet To-night.

Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a meeting to-morrow night to make final arrangements for the exercises next Sunday in St. Mary's Hall, when the exemplification of the first, second, and third degrees of the order will be made.

Spaulding Council, of Washington, will confer the first degree at 11:30 o'clock. After the adjournment the second degree will be conferred, and at 4 o'clock the exercises incident to the third-degree work will be held. This will be in charge of District Deputy D. J. Griffin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The knights and their friends will attend vespers services in St. Mary's Church at 7:30 o'clock.

In the Corporation Court today a decree was entered referring the case of Estella Lee and others against William Wesley Allen and others to the master to make final arrangements for the exercises next Sunday in St. Mary's Hall, when the exemplification of the first, second, and third degrees of the order will be made.

Through John D. Normoye, real estate agent, Charles M. Blawowski, jr., of Richmond, has sold to Mrs. Susan P. A. Calvert, of Alexandria County, two building lots on the south side of the line of King street and the Washington and Alexandria turnpike in St. Elmo. It is said that Mrs. Calvert will improve the property by the erection thereon of a modern store and dwelling.

MARLBORO FAR ENDS

Republican Candidates Attract Crowd.

GAITHER MAKES AN ADDRESS

Nominee for Governor Promises to Reform Tobacco Warehouses—Advocates Completion of Washington-Baltimore Boulevard—Two Good Races on Card for the Last Day.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Upper Marlboro, Oct. 3.—The Republican candidate for governor, George R. Gaither, was present on the final day of the Southern Maryland Fair, and addressed a large crowd gathered to hear him.

Mr. Gaither came to Marlboro about noon over the Chesapeake Beach Railroad. He was met at the railway station here by Dr. R. S. Hill, president of the fair association, who drove the distinguished visitor directly to the fair grounds, where dinner was served in the rear of Exhibition Hall.

Besides Mr. Gaither, Hammond Erner, candidate for attorney general; Fred D. Baker, candidate for comptroller, and Thomas Farran, candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals, were present. The absence of Congressman Sydney E. Mudd was commented upon. Gen. A. L. Wilner, candidate for chief judge of the Seventh judicial circuit, arrived later in the day. Other prominent Republicans present at the fair were: Ex-Mayor Timmons, of Baltimore; State Senator George Day, of Howard County; Francis S. Carmondy, of Prince George County, and the candidates for the various county offices and for the house of delegates from this county.

His Ancestral Home.

Mr. Gaither declared that he would make no political speech, but in response to a general demand from the crowd, he made a brief address from the grand stand. He stated that his ancestors were natives of Prince George County, and that therefore, he felt at ease in speaking to the people of Southern Maryland. Referring to the tobacco industry of this section, he declared that he would, if elected, give his personal attention to so adjusting affairs at the State tobacco warehouses as to see that this crop was properly taken care of. He wanted to see the industry revived and placed on a paying basis.

He said he was in favor of good roads for the entire State, and would advocate the completion of the boulevard between Washington and Baltimore, now under construction. Mr. Gaither made a decidedly favorable impression, and during the afternoon was introduced to practically every person on the grounds.

Only Two Races Run.

The race programme for the final day included two trotting and pace events, the running cases being declared off. In the first race, King Redwood, won 2 to 1; driver, J. H. Redwood, owned and driven by R. Henschel, of Baltimore, won. In the first heat, Harry Madden, owned by George Goeders, of Washington, and driven by Thomas, led to the half-mile, where he was overtaken by Redwood, who won easily, with Madden second. The others were strung out. In the second heat, King Redwood was in the lead soon after the start, and was never headed. The third heat was a repetition of the second, except that Rara Avis beat Madden for the place. The summary:

Table with race results: King Redwood, Harry Madden, Rara Avis, The Duke, Keweenaw, Longwood May, Bob Rogers.

Bob R. Takes Another.

Bob R. took his best start in the 150 trot and pace for Southern Maryland horses, two in three, purse $150, and won the first two heats and the race in the easiest sort of fashion. This is the third straight race Bob R. has won, and his owner, G. W. Richardson, of the Meadows, Prince George County, was complimented on the form shown by the animal. The summary:

ADOPT A COMPROMISE PLAN

Democratic Senatorial Candidates Reject Warfield's Idea.

Unless One of Them Receives Forty Per Cent of Primary Votes Election Will Not Count.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Baltimore, Oct. 3.—At the second conference of the Democratic candidates for United States Senator, held this afternoon, an agreement to bind the candidates in the Senatorial primary election was drawn up, but it will not be binding unless all who enter the contest on or before October 9, agree to it. Those present at the conference were Gov. Warfield, United States Senator Whyte, Congressman Talbot, Joshua W. Miles, ex-Gov. Brown and Smith, and John P. Fos.

Mr. Smith took no part in the discussion, and the other Eastern Shore candidates, ex-Gov. Jackson, did not attend. Neither Brown nor Smith voted on the agreement, the former explaining he was not a candidate.

Under the agreement, if no candidate receives 40 per cent, or more, of the votes cast at the primary, the Senator will be elected by the legislature in the usual way. If a candidate secures a majority of Democratic members of the legislature, other candidates will not be balloted.

Each candidate is to limit his primary campaign expenses to $1,000, and party machines are not to be used in the interest of any particular candidate.

Gov. Warfield did not support the final draft of agreement, his plan of a plurality vote having been rejected. The indications are that the Eastern Shore candidates will not accept the plan, and that there will be no choice at the primary.

GIRL ELUDES NEGRO FIEND.

Outraged Would-be Assassin, Whom Bloodhound Fails to Trace.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 3.—Hope, the negro's bloodhound, was today called out again to trace an unknown negro, who attacked Miss Grace Cook, a pretty fifteen-year-old girl, while she was walking on Beaumont Mountain.

The negro, who was lying in ambush, threw a heavy stone at the young girl and made a leap out of the bushes for her. Miss Cook gave him a chase down the mountain, screaming as she ran.

The negro was pursued by a posse of officers, led by the bloodhound, into the mountains, where the trail was lost.

This is the second attempt of the sort here in two days, a young girl on George W. Vanderbilt's estate, Baltimore, having been chloroformed yesterday by a negro in her home, who was frightened away by the victim's sister. It is believed that the same negro committed both crimes.

BELIEVE BODY THAT OF GIRL.

Norfolk Police Hope to Solve Murder Mystery.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Jamesstown Exposition Grounds, Va., Oct. 3.—Developments to-day may result in the solution of the mystery surrounding the discovery of a headless and dismembered body in a box near here by several negro workmen.

A deserted but, built of tin, in a thick woods a few yards from the spot where the body was found, has been discovered. The only objects found in the hut were two newspapers, a chair, and several planks across two boxes, which seemed to have served as a bed.

It is not believed that the mutilated body is that of a girl. The dismembered remains have not yet been buried.

BUYS PUBLIC OPINION

Quigg, "Accelerator," Explains Operations.

USES MONEY TO WIN FAVOR.

Tells Public Service Commission He Received Annual Salary of $10,000 From Metropolitan Street Railway Company to Secure Support of Public-spirited Citizens for Extension.

Special to The Washington Herald.

New York, Oct. 3.—Lemuel Ely Quigg, the Metropolitan Street Railway Company's special "accelerator," told the public service commission, at today's hearing, that he was responsible for the appearance before it recently of a good many public-spirited citizens who had advocated the extension of rapid transit facilities in the Bronx. The process of acceleration in the Bronx this year cost the Metropolitan about $7,000.

Edward P. Healy, a Republican district leader, and James L. Wells, formerly president of the tax board, were the ones upon whom Quigg depended for active work north of the Harlem River.

Apparently it was not so much a question of organizing public opinion in the Bronx as it was of molding it into working form. There was plenty of public opinion lying around loose.

"I have been engaged," said Mr. Quigg, "in an effort to reconcile differences existing in organizations and to get them all in favor of some one plan." The plan that Mr. Quigg preferred for rallying purposes was the construction of third tracks on both the Second and the Third avenue elevated lines. This is the very plan which Quigg, according to his testimony on Wednesday, was opposing in 1903 and 1906. But, as he remarked to-day, the interests are merged now, instead of being rivals and opposed to each other.

Trents Himself Generously.

Mr. Quigg testified that he had charged about $6,000 a year for accelerating public opinion, but he hadn't succeeded in getting it yet.

Mr. Ivins called Mr. Quigg's attention to the fact that of the $151,890 which was used by him for this purpose, $43,828, according to his testimony, was for cash for himself.

"Is there any means by which you can identify the persons to whom you paid the $43,000?" asked Mr. Ivins.

"No, there is not."

"Or the amounts in which payments were made?"

"No, Mr. I should hesitate to try, if I could do it. My memory on it is faulty. I took memoranda at the time in order to make the payments and in order to make my account up. I destroyed them for the reason that they were cash payments, and being cash payments, I did not want a record of them."

Would Suppress Facts.

"Largely because I did not want to do what the records—what the recorded checks compelled me to do yesterday—mentioned the names of persons to whom I paid the money."

"When it was done deliberately for suppression, was it?"

"Precisely."

Mr. Quigg testified that he still has in his possession several thousand dollars of the fund charged to the subway special account. This was the account which paid for the accelerations.

"I once a good deal of it," the witness added.

NURSES RAISE THEIR PAY.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Staunton, Va., Oct. 3.—The State Nurses' Association adjourned to-day, to meet next year in Danville, a resolution raising nurses salaries from $21 to $25 was adopted.

VIRGINIA AND WEST VIRGINIA.

Second Eleven Outplays First Team by Use of New Plays.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—The Harvard University team was driven hard for twenty minutes this afternoon against the strongest scrum team it has been up against this year. The scrubs had by far the better of the encounter, and kept the play entirely in the "varsity" territory.

A lot of new plays were tried, and one of these was used with great effect by the scrubs. It was a wing shift, used in connection with the forward pass, the "varsity" seemed unable to fathom it. Burr was tried out for the first time at tackle, and showed up well in his new position. He was not so strong on the defense, however, and the scrubs gained many yards through his tackle. There was no scoring.

The feature of the afternoon was the fast playing of Cutting, a new man, who was left half back on the scrub. He was in every play, and gained every time he was given the ball. He will probably be taken to the "varsity" team.

YALE IN FAST PRACTICE.

'Varsity Scores Touchdown Against Scrubs in Twenty-minute Play.

New Haven, Oct. 3.—Yale coaches were at the field in force this afternoon, as they were during the game yesterday. The only word of criticism they have spoken to the squad since the contest was concerning the getting of more speed into the play, and about lining up more quickly after scrimmages.

The work which the coaches gave the team this afternoon showed that they are going to develop the forward pass to perfection, and begin practicing the on-side kick. It was a twenty-minute drill which the "varsity" received against the second team, resulting in a single touchdown for the first eleven.

It brought out the possibilities in E. H. Coy, who played so brilliantly at the tackling game yesterday. Coy, in the last minute of the play to-day, when neither side had scored, caught an on-side kick at the college team's 40-yard line, and, running through a broken field, made a touchdown.
