Demonstration of the "Ivy" Corset.

THE "Ivy" Corset is designed by a woman who knows the requirements of the feminine figure, made of sturdy material, containing large eyelets, which insure easy adjustment and long wear of the corset lacings, filled with best grade of Sheffield bone, equipped with reliable hose supporters. It is a corset that is doing more to create comfort and a stylish appearance for ladies of full figure than any other corset made. It is designed upon hygienic principles and molds the figure into graceful outlines without the sacrifice of health or personal comfort. It is an ideal corset for young and old.

We have models for rounding out the slender figure and reducing the appearance of the stout.

Free fittings during the demonstration. You are invited.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Miss Lillie Finley Is Presented to Society.

TWO OTHER DEBUTANTES OUT

Miss Louise White and Miss Helen Church introduced at Pretty Teas. Secretary and Mrs. Bacon Entertain at Dinner Complimentary to the Peace Delegates—Personals.

Teas were the order of the day, three of the debutantes of the season being introduced yesterday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Finley, in Massachusetts avenue, was the scene yesterday afternoon of one of the prettiest teas of the season, their daughter, Miss Lillie Finley, being introduced to their large circle of friends from 4 to 6:30 o'clock.

The scheme of the decorations was pink, a charming dash of contrasting color being added by numerous bouquets and other pretty floral tributes sent to the bud. Miss Finley stood with her daughter. She wore a gown of black chiffon, and the debutante was charming in a robe of white net and lace over tulle, embroidered in gold. Her bouquet was a cluster of violet orchids.

Miss Finley, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finley, wore pink silk. In the dining room Mrs. Henry Yates Satterlee served chocolate, and her vis-a-vis was Mrs. Gordon Crawford, who poured tea. Among the assistants were other debutantes of the season, including Miss Vera Downing, Miss Constance Hoyt, Miss Mary Scott, Miss Henrietta Fitch, Miss Tresscott, the Misses Morse, and the Misses Goldsborough.

Commander and Mrs. William H. White entertained at a tea yesterday afternoon to introduce their daughter, Miss Louise White, to society. A profusion of pink blossoms was used in a decorative scheme, and the table was unusually pretty with a huge mound of pink roses as a centerpiece and pink shaded tapers.

Mrs. White received her guests in a charming gown of white lace, and the debutante wore a soft and girlish dress of white chiffon. Among the assistants were Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Leiber, Mrs. W. E. Davis, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Sibley, Mrs. Koester, Mrs. Freer and Mrs. W. E. Hoxie, together with a boy of charming young women, including Miss Archibald, Miss Hatfield, Miss Clabatch, Miss Morse, Miss Granger, Miss Langitt, Miss Gill, and Miss Anna Pollard, of Boston, a house guest of Mrs. and Miss White, and a debutante of this season in Boston.

Miss Helen Durant Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Church, was another charming debutante of yesterday. Friends of the family, representatives of smart circles of society, were invited to the Church residence, in Twentieth street, from 4 to 6.

Assisting Mrs. Church and her daughter were Mrs. Monroe Hopkins, Mrs. Thomas Durant, Mrs. James M. Durant, Mrs. William J. Cox, Miss Sallie Garlington, Miss Clabough, Miss Lydia Patch, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Elizabeth Griffith, Miss Gladys M. Wright, and Miss Malroy.

Miss Mary Carlisle, daughter of Mrs. Calderon Carlisle, called yesterday from New York with her aunt, Mrs. Richard Pearson, wife of the American Minister to Greece, to spend the winter with her at Athens.

Mrs. Qualtrough, wife of Capt. E. C. Qualtrough, will entertain at a large bridge party Thursday, December 12, in honor of Mrs. Stewart Taylor, who is the guest of Mrs. Henley Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, who are now in Washington for a brief period, will not open their home here, as they are leaving shortly for Europe to visit their daughter, the Countess Gizecky at the count's estates in Russia.

The Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Bacon entertained at dinner last night complimentary to the visiting delegates of the Central American Peace Conference and the Central American ministers.

Mrs. Garlington, wife of Gen. Ernest Garlington, entertained at luncheon at the Willard Hotel yesterday.

Baron Hengelmueller, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, accompanied by Baron Hymerle, the counselor of the embassy, went yesterday to New York to attend a banquet given by prominent Hungarians last night. Among the guests present were Count Szechnyi, the fiancé of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, and his friend.

DOUBET, JEWELER
1402 14th St. N.W.

Count Apponyi, agricultural commissioner at Broussard and second son of the court marshal of Hungary, who has come to this country to be present at the marriage of his countryman.

Count Szechnyi and Count Apponyi will come to Washington, the latter as the guest of Mrs. Richard Townsend at her home in Massachusetts avenue.

Mr. Edwin Morgan, United States Minister to Cuba, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Boardman. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Koep, of Chicago, are also guests of Mrs. Koep's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Corcoran Eustis have sent out cards for a song recital by Mr. Myron W. Whitney, Jr., at 4 o'clock December 12, at Corcoran House, in H street. Among the patronesses are Mrs. Jussarsard, wife of the French Ambassador; Mrs. Thomas Nelson Pepe, Mrs. Hunt Slater, and Mrs. John R. McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. Eustis have recently returned from their country place in Virginia and opened Corcoran House for the season.

Great interest is being manifested in the lecture to be given by Mrs. Annie Riley Hale under the auspices of the Industrial Educational League of the South at Y. M. C. A. Assembly Hall on December 5 at 8 p. m. The following ladies have consented to act as patronesses: Miss Judith L. Steele, of Tennessee, associate principal of Fairmont Seminary; Mrs. Phoebe Hamilton Seabrook, of South Carolina, principal of Hamilton Institute; Mrs. W. R. Vance, of North Carolina, wife of the dean of George Washington University Law School; Miss Mary Desha, of Kentucky, founder of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. Chambers, of Alabama, wife of Judge William L. Chambers, of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission; Mrs. Thetusa Sims, wife of Representative Sims, of Tennessee; Mrs. Virginia King Frye, of Kansas, past president of the League of American Pen Women; Mrs. Sarah W. Halsey, of Virginia, founder of the Industrial Educational League of the South; Ex-governor Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, is expected to introduce the speaker.

One of the most interesting matrimonial announcements lately is in the news from Chicago of the engagement of Miss Pauline Kohlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Kohlman, to Mr. Potter Palmer, Jr., who was here last week at the wedding of his cousin, Lieut. Grant. Miss Kohlman made her debut a few years ago at the old home of her parents, on the Lake Shore drive. She has lived in Chicago all her life, except for the time spent at a fashionable girls' school on the Hudson River, and when in recent years she has traveled abroad with her mother and sister, Miss Katherine Kohlman.

Mr. Palmer is the second son of Mrs. Potter Palmer, and was graduated from Harvard in 1890. He has been interested in land and banking enterprises in Chicago, and has taken up the same lines of work in Oregon, where Mr. and Mrs. Honore Palmer are living. No announcement is made of the date set for the wedding.

New Posts in Thomas Circle.

Owing to the fact that the heavy bronze lamp posts at Thomas Circle have had a tendency to dwarf the statue of Gen. Thomas, they have been removed by order of the Commissioners. Haloplane globes with incandescent burners will be substituted for them. Negotiations are under way to substitute incandescent burners for the ordinary lamp posts at the corners of the streets surrounding the circle.

GEN. THOMAS DIES IN SOUTH.

Public Official, and One of Last Confederate Brigadiers, New Orleans, Dec. 4.—Gen. Allen Thomas, one of the few surviving Confederate brigadiers, is dead at Bay St. Louis, Miss., his summer home.

Gen. Thomas was seventy-six years old. He was a native of Howard County, Md., and of a distinguished family, that produced several governors. He was graduated from Princeton University, and coming to Louisiana soon afterward, married Miss Bringer, of an old Creole family and he became a large sugar estate.

He was appointed colonel of the United States Mint by President Cleveland during his first administration, and Minister to Venezuela during the second. He was a delegate to three of the Democratic national conventions and twice Presidential elector.
