

TWENTY ARE HURT AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Alexandria Trolley Turned Over by Locomotive.

PANIC FOLLOWS WRECK

Smash-up Occurs at Southern Railway Crossing.

Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Car's Crew Said to Have Failed to Watch for Approaching Locomotive—Injured Include Many Persons from Washington—Motor-man of Car Seriously Injured.

Between fifteen and twenty persons, many from Washington, were injured in Alexandria last night, when a north-bound Southern Railway engine crashed into a Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon electric car, bound for Washington.

The smash-up was at the corner of Cameron and Henry streets. Nearly every occupant in the motor car of the electric train, which was the one struck by the locomotive, was injured.

The motor car was turned over to an angle of about forty-five degrees. All the passengers were thrown to the floor or against the windows.

When the crash came, there was a mad rush for an exit. Among the passengers were a number of women and children, several of whom fainted.

A partial list of the injured is as follows:

Partial List of Injured.

Miss Floie Bateman, Washington, suffering from shock and bruises about head.

James S. Douglas, seventy-two years of age, 1088 Eighth street southeast, Washington, suffering from shock and bruises.

M. T. Deyer, Alexandria, painfully injured in back.

R. Njapio and young son, 38 L street northwest, Washington, injured about hands and face.

H. P. Larnoch, Washington, eye about head and arm.

Conductor L. H. Bean, cut about hand and arm.

Motorman C. H. Robey, cut on head and arm.

Dr. Peter Fireman, Washington, legs and elbow cut.

John H. Trimmer, Bradock Heights, Alexandria, Centre, leg injured and suffering from shock.

Arthur Morrison, Fat Myer, suffering from shock.

Thirty Passengers on Car.

There were about thirty passengers in the front car. Many before giving their names went to the offices of nearby physicians. Practically every passenger in the car was more or less injured.

The Southern Railway locomotive, in charge of Engineer John Harrington and Fireman Commer, was moving at ordinary speed and the electric train was making about ten miles when they came together.

The engine, which was on its way to the Potomac yards, is a heavy one. It was backing, and the tender struck the motor car. Had the locomotive been traveling rapidly the result would have been much more serious.

Motorman Robey was imprisoned in his car and had to be dragged out. He is, perhaps, the most seriously injured of any. The other members of the crew were L. H. Bean, conductor, and Norman Dove, trolleyman.

None Hurt in Rear Car.

None of the passengers in the rear car was injured. All immediately jumped from the car and lent assistance to the injured.

It is said that the crews of all electric trains have standing instructions to stop at all railroad crossings and flag the train before passing. To-night, however, the train, it is claimed, proceeded without stopping and was caught. It is said by some that the tender of the Southern engine had no light on it. The bell, however, was ringing at the time of the crash.

As a result of the accident, which happened at 10:35, traffic over the road was delayed about an hour, all north-bound trains using the King street track.

The work of moving the wrecked car required several hours.

MAY DEPART EMMA GOLDMAN.

Commissioner Sargent Says Woman Has Forfeited All Her Rights.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Preparations for a special and an unexpected reception to Emma A. Goldman, the anarchist, when she comes to Chicago expecting to speak on March 6, at the German Hotel Carriers' Hall, were ordered to-day by Frank P. Sargent, United States Commissioner General of Immigration, in orders from Washington.

He directed that the Chicago Federal authorities at once take steps to place her under arrest for the purpose of deporting her to Russia.

It was explained that, as an avowed anarchist, who has never been naturalized as an American citizen, Emma Goldman comes within the immigration law barring anarchists from this country.

When she left the United States recently she forfeited, it is said, even the shadow of a legal right to reside here.

DENY ROY IS WANTED.

Paris Police Not Asked to Arrest Man Who Shot Brother-in-law.

Paris, Feb. 27.—No request, either direct or through diplomatic channels, has reached the police here from America to proceed against Roy. Roy's brother denies that Carkins was shot in the back, saying the wound was in his left side. When Roy returned to New York after the tragedy, he continued to exchange affectionate correspondence with his wife. He wanted her to rejoin him and come with him to France.

Plot Against Alfonso.

Paris, Feb. 27.—The Matin says that a plot against the life of King Alfonso has been discovered in Madrid. Two men suspected of complicity in the conspiracy were arrested at Caramanchel while the King was reviewing the troops.

LEAVE RICHMOND SEPARATELY

Labor Agent Goes to New York After Getting Threatening Letters—Falls to Return—Mrs. Sparti, Her Funds Getting Low, Follows—She, Too, Is Missing—Police Suspect Murder.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 27.—After receiving several letters signed with a black hand and threatening him with death unless he agreed to pay the sender a certain amount of money, Andra Sparti, an Italian labor agent, has mysteriously disappeared.

The man is believed to have been done to death by the Society of the Black Hand in New York, whither he went to look into the matter of the renewal of his license, leaving his Virginia business in charge of his wife.

Some weeks later, when Mrs. Sparti had not heard from her husband and her finances were running low, she also left for New York, since which time nothing has been heard from her.

Mrs. Sparti waited for her husband for several weeks. Her funds finally got so low that she found herself possessed of only enough money to pay her railroad fare to New York, where she believed she would be able to locate her husband. She disappeared as completely as had her husband.

It is probable that Sparti, who did not fear the society, was done to death as soon as he arrived in New York, and Mrs. Sparti upon her arrival was also disposed of by the society.

The story of the double disappearance and the presence of the Black Hand letters and the tragic story to be drawn therefrom came to light to-day when Sparti's office was forcibly entered by officers to satisfy a warrant.

TROUBLE ON FRENCH CAR.

Dissension in Crew Results in the Change on Auto Kaeer.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Dissension in the crew of the French car in the New York to Paris race, resulted in the announcement this afternoon that Capt. Hansen would not accompany the car any further. His place will be taken by Emanuel Lascarez, a native born Frenchman, now a member of the Chicago Motor Club.

The German contestant will arrive here some time to-morrow.

The American car will start to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, heading for San Francisco.

The French and Italian cars will wait here until Saturday.

Denial was made to-day that the route of the race would be changed, cutting out Alaska altogether and shipping by boat from San Francisco to Japan, then taking another boat to Vladivostok then running over the Russian postroads to Paris.

ARMENIAN PRIEST GUILTY.

Head of the Hunchakist Must Serve Time for Attempted Extortion.

New York, Feb. 27.—Levont M. Martoogessian, the Armenian priest, who has been regarded as the head of the Hunchakist in this country for a number of years, was convicted in General Sessions this evening of attempted extortion. The jury, which has been hearing the case for three days, took eighteen minutes to agree upon a verdict.

Judge Malone sentenced Martoogessian to not less than two years and two months at hard labor in Sing Sing. The maximum penalty is two years and five months.

Martoogessian was tried for trying to extort $100,000 from Miram G. Karagheusian, a rug dealer. It was brought out also that Martoogessian had attempted to blackmail several other rich Armenian rug dealers.

Keifer Is Renominated.

Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 27.—Gen. J. Warren Keifer was renominated for Congress by Republicans of the Seventh district in convention here to-day. Gen. Keifer and former Senator W. P. Orr, of Piqua, were elected delegates to the national convention and instructed to vote for Taft for President.

Tenth Michigan for Taft.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 27.—The tenth district convention was held at Bay City to-day and elected E. B. Foss, of Bay City, and Nelson Sharp, of West Branch, delegates to the Republican national convention. The resolution adopted endorsed Roosevelt and instructed for Taft. There were 14 postmasters in the convention.

MISSOURI INDORSES TAFT'S CANDIDACY

Republicans Select Delegates to Chicago Convention.

NIEDRINGHAUS BEATEN

Charles Nagel Is Elected a National Committeeman.

Senator Warner at Head of Delegation—Attorney General Hadley Is Indorsed for Governor—Points of Dissension Threshed Out, and the Convention Is Harmonious—Warner Is Made Permanent Chairman.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 27.—The Republican State convention here to-day indorsed Taft for President, Herbert H. Adley for governor; elected Charles Nagel, of St. Louis, national committeeman; elected four delegates-at-large and four alternates to the Republican national convention, and nominated eighteen Presidential electors.

Most all of the points of dissension, except the choice between candidates presented, were thrashed out in the committees, so that when the convention set to work everything moved with the precision of clockwork. Senator William Warner was permanent chairman.

Turn Down Resolutions.

The committee on resolutions in a long session adopted a resolution offered by friends of T. K. Niedringhaus, who was defeated for national committeeman, in favor of the submission of a prohibition amendment to the State constitution. The prohibition resolution was directed at the brewery interests, which Niedringhaus' friends claimed, were backing Nagel. It was offered by C. M. Shafter, former Congressman, of the Fifteenth district.

One of the moves planned by the Nagel-Howe forces and Early-Taft men was to have the four delegates elected by the Howe faction from the Eleventh and Twelfth Congressional districts declared the regular delegates.

The Delegates-at-Large.

The delegates-at-large to national convention are: William Warner, Kansas City; Herbert S. Hadley, Kansas City; John H. Bothale, Sedalia, and John R. Holmes, Joplin.

Alternates: Nelson C. Crews, Kansas City; J. R. A. Crossland, St. Joseph; C. K. Robinson, St. Louis, and H. G. Phillips, Sedalia.

Attorney General Hadley virtually announced his candidacy for governor before the convention this afternoon following the election of himself and Senator Warner as delegates-at-large. Warner introduced Mr. Hadley as the next governor. In fact, Hadley said he hoped that Warner was "not only a great statesman but a true prophet."

KILLS WIFE; SHOOTS PARENTS

Jealous Husband Attempts Suicide, but Is Prevented and Arrested.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—Deliberately murdering his wife Lillian, then attempting to kill her father and mother, and finally trying to take his own life, Jacob Koerber, twenty-five years old, attempted to escape to-day, and was not caught until he had been chased a mile and a half.

His twenty-four-year-old wife died almost instantly from a wound behind the right ear the bullet penetrating her brain.

Rudolph Faber, aged sixty-one years, her father, received injuries from a bullet grazing his nose and cheek, and Mrs. Faber's right hand was badly shattered. She is fifty-seven years old.

Koerber attempted to take his own life by shooting in the right temple, but two shots only lacerated his scalp, and his condition is not serious.

Koerber had been married only eight months, and in that time had many quarrels with his wife because of his jealousy of her parents. For two weeks the refusal of his wife to remove with him to New Jersey is regarded by the police to have angered him so bitterly that he committed the crime.

Returning from a barber shop this afternoon, Koerber joined his wife and her mother in their home, where the two families lived together. He asked his wife for her final answer whether she would move away with him. She emphatically refused, and Koerber drew a revolver from his pocket and began shooting.

COLD WAVE IS COMING.

Prof. Henry Declares We Will Have Still More Winter.

According to Prof. Henry, of the Weather Bureau, the cold wave from the West, which has been predicted, is slowly, but surely, approaching. Thus far no change in the weather is in sight.

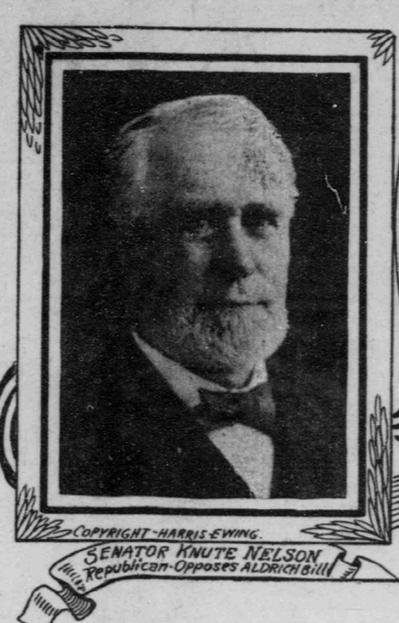

Prof. Henry predicts the temperature, wind and rain, by methods of science, but the river men on the Potomac River use the signs handed down from father to son since the days of John Smith. The boatmen are usually accurate in their prognostications, which is no reflection on the professor.

"As the weather is to-day, so will it be during two-thirds of the days of the next four weeks," they said yesterday.

They forecast the weather weeks ahead by the moon, its shape, and the way it lies in the heavens. The Thursday before the new moon is conceded by them to be an example of two-thirds of the days of the following four weeks. Yesterday was the proper Thursday, for the new moon is scheduled for Monday.

HARRIS TO GET TOGA

Taft Leaders Arrange for Foraker's Successor.

OHIO SLATE IS PREPARED

Attorney General Ellis to Be Promoted to Lieutenant Governor So He Can Step Into Executive Chair When Harris Goes to United States Senate—Cox Is in Good Grace.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 27.—The latest in Ohio politics is that Gov. Andrew L. Harris is the choice of the Taft leaders for the Senate seat now held by Joseph Benson Foraker. This information came to-day, when it was admitted that the men who will control the State convention next Tuesday and Wednesday had decided on Wade H. Ellis, now attorney general, as the State candidate for lieutenant governor.

This selection from a field of ten, among them Francis W. Treadway, of Cleveland, urged by Congressman Theodore E. Burton, a Taft leader, was made at the demand of Walter Brown, boss of Lucas County, and, by virtue of his position as State chairman, in control of the party in Ohio at this time, Brown favored Ellis because the attorney general is best fitted from the Brown standpoint to step into the governorship when Gov. Harris shall be elevated to the Senate next year.

Slate Is Made Up.

The slate for other nominations, for each of which at least three men are contesting and will go into the convention with delegates, is made up as follows:

Attorney general, U. O. Denman, Toledo; a Brown lieutenant; auditor, E. M. Willington, Union County; treasurer, Herman C. Bacher, Cuyahoga County; clerk of Supreme Court, John S. McCord, Clark County; members of Board of public works, William Kirtley, Defiance, and B. W. Baldwin, Lake County.

For the other offices, except State school commissioner, there is no contest. In the fight for the commissionership a definite decision has been reached. J. W. Snyder and F. B. Parson, both of Columbus, being the favorites.

The slate-making conference was participated in by A. L. Vorys, Brown, M. H. Farshner, organizer of the Taft forces; Ellis, and by expression of his views, by George B. Cox, boss of Cincinnati, inveighed against by Secretary Taft three years ago.

That Cox once more is in the good graces of the party was proved in the make-up of the Taft list of State delegates from Hamilton County. Beside the name of Charles P. Taft, brother of the Secretary of War, as a delegate, appeared that of George B. Cox. Near Taft's name was placed the name of a lieutenant and boss of Cincinnati, nominally in the stead of his chief, who has publicly retired to the pursuit of banking.

Brown Gets Two Places.

Brown, who framed the convention which will indorse Taft's candidacy, insisted on naming Ellis and Denman, his lieutenant, giving the others the choice of the other jobs. Vorys held out for some time for State Senator West, of Logan County, for the lieutenant governorship.

West entered the race Monday on a straight tip that he could have the job, and may make a fight in the convention. Ellis has hitherto refused to make the race or permit the use of his name.

Burton, urged into the Cleveland mayoralty fight to aid Taft, is backing Treadway. This will force that candidate into the convention unless he relents when he arrives in Ohio to-morrow. His delegation is for Bucher, however, for the treasurership, and will desert Burton if he is obstinate.

The national convention delegation, the Taft men picked, is made up of Gov. Harris, former Gov. Myron T. Herrick, Haysed by Taft once, A. I. Vorys, and Charles P. Taft. There are five other aspirants.

WANTS BRYAN INSTRUCTIONS.

Alexander Troup Believes New England Should Instruct.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 27.—Alexander Troup, former Connecticut member of the Democratic National Committee, said to-night that he was strongly in favor of instructing every delegation from New England and every other State favorable to Bryan to vote for Bryan. He said he had heard that some Democratic leaders in Connecticut were in favor of uninstructed delegates.

He said: "These men say that Bryan can't win. They are the people who defeated Bryan in 1896 and 1900, and, in my judgment, would not vote for him now. I can't say whether the anti-Bryan movement in Connecticut is promoted from New York, but I have no doubt the particular movement in Connecticut in 1904 was engineered from New York."

In Troup's opinion, 75 per cent of the Democratic voters of Connecticut are for Bryan.

TARHEELS CHEER CANNON

New York Banqueters Decline to Enthuse for Roosevelt.

Dr. Kligo Declares South Is Victim of Decayed Morals—Pleads for Reform.

New York, Feb. 27.—North Carolinians who live hereabouts had some folks from down home to dine with them to-night at the Hotel Astor.

The Tarheels started right off by being political, because, when the President, Walter H. Page, proposed a toast to the other President, Theodore Roosevelt, there was a most profound silence.

That it was explained, was because most of the persons present were in sympathy or affiliated with the American Tobacco Company, which, apparently, doesn't like the President of the United States.

The treatment that toast received was all the more pronounced when compared with the greeting that Uncle Joe Cannon's name got. Uncle Joe is a North Carolinian by descent, and that explains it. There was rapturous applause for him.

Dr. John C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College, in Durham, N. C., to which institution James B. Duke gave $1,000,000 simply because he likes Dr. Kilgo, got up to tell about the growth of prohibition in the South and what it means. Dr. Kilgo pitched into the South good and plenty. He said the temperance movement wasn't due to the W. C. T. U. or the churches, but was a natural movement of Southern citizens to break out of their civic unrighteousness. He characterized the strength of prohibition as due to the desire of Southerners to show that they had an opinion of their own, uncontrolled by parties as a mass.

"The South has allowed its civic morals to decay," said Dr. Kilgo. "The citizens have been forced to act as a mass. Individualism has been lost and conscience has died. There was no interest that was not capitalized in behalf of some unholy ambition. The South now is casting an unfettered vote and every movement that will press home to the South a sense of civic righteousness will be a benefit beyond economic calculation."

William L. Hall, of the United States Forestry Service, showed stereoscopic pictures of the work of preserving the Appalachian forests, a subject in which the North Carolinians are much interested.

EDITOR'S BODY HERE

Many Pay Honor to Memory of Crosby S. Noyes.

FUNERAL WILL BE TO-MORROW

Official, Governmental, and Commercial Representatives Take Part in Cortege from Railroad Station. Met in Baltimore by Special Train. Body Lies in State To-day.

After a trip of nearly 2,000 miles, the body of one of Washington's foremost sons, Crosby Stuart Noyes, editor-in-chief of the Evening Star, who died in Pasadena, Cal., a week ago to-day, arrived in Washington yesterday.

Throng of citizens of the District, including men in all walks of life, were present to pay tribute to the memory of the man who was held in highest respect and regard.

As the hearse passed through the streets, en route to the home of Theodore W. Noyes, a son, men and women who recognized the significance of the procession stood with bowed heads.

Theodore W. and Frank E. Noyes accompanied the body of their father across the continent, while Thomas C. Noyes, the third son, remained in Pasadena with his mother, Mrs. Noyes, who is ill with grip.

Funeral Services To-morrow.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, from St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal Church, Eighteenth street, near Dupont Circle. Rev. C. Ernest Smith, the rector, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the Senate.

The Griddon Club Quartet, consisting of Messrs. Herndon Morsell, Alexander Mosher, J. Henry Kaiser, and John H. Nolan, will render appropriate hymns. The honorary pallbearers were selected from among prominent men representing governmental, commercial, and professional walks of life, as follows:

Vice President Fairbanks, Speaker Cannon, Secretary Root, Secretary Taft, Justice Harlan, Commissioner Macfarland, Ambassador Talbott, Minister Quesada, Gen. John M. Wilson, Col. R. J. Hoeltz, John Jay Edison, H. Ross Perry, E. A. Richardson, William B. Smith, James S. Hays, John K. McLean, Scott C. Bone, Frank A. Munsey, Charles J. Bell, Victor Kaufmann, Edward J. Stillwagon, H. W. Carter, and C. B. Church.

Messrs. Rudolph Kauffmann, Beale R. Howard, George W. Hartree, G. A. Lyon, J. J. Whit Herron, Richard A. McLean, N. O. Messenger, and John P. Miller will be the active pallbearers. Interment will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Friends to View Body.

The body will remain until the funeral at the home of Theodore W. Noyes, 1230 New Hampshire avenue. To-day the personal friends of the veteran editor will be given an opportunity to view for the last time the earthly remains of Mr. Noyes.

The train which brought the body to Washington drew into the Union Station at 4:40 o'clock yesterday. In addition to the large concourse gathered at the station, many citizens and delegates from the various civil and patriotic organizations with which Mr. Noyes was affiliated, who had gone to Baltimore on a special train to accompany the remains to this city. The party included:

President Cuno H. Rudolph, Secretary George H. Harries, and R. H. Warner, of the Board of Trade; Secretary W. W. Reus and J. Edward Lloyd, of the Oldies Inhabitants' Association; President James S. Hays and Secretary John S. Shriver, of the Griddon Club; James F. Hook, of the American Security and Trust Company, of which Mr. Noyes was a director; William V. Cox, William F. Guile, W. F. Van Winkle, and Dr. Franklin T. Howe, of the Alexander H. Shepherd monument committee; Vice President William M. Shuster, of the board of trustees of the Reform School for Boys; Dr. E. M. Gallahue, R. Ross Perry, and F. L. Harvey, of a special committee of the Washington Monument Society; President A. B. Hager, Secretary W. B. Ryan, and John B. Larnier, of the Columbia Historical Society; and A. F. Herriman, of the Noyes Library, Kensington, Md.

Between two long lines of citizens, extending from the train to the gates leading to the station concourse, the casket was carried by eight pallbearers, representing the different departments of the establishment of which Mr. Noyes was a member.
