REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND.

Flirting is the gentle art of making a man feel pleased with himself. A man who devotes his youth to ambition and cuts out love finds out that he has been eating the bread of life without any jam on it. Matrimony is a cure for love; and divorce is an antidote for matrimony; then you can begin all over again.

No man knows the shock that a woman receives when she finds that she has got to live up to a standard that is half angel and half cook.

If a man insists on having his own way, simply insist on his having it, and he will turn around and back in the other direction. Eve never offered Adam the apple; she merely told him he ought not to eat it.

It's so easy for a man to get engaged that he is always disagreeably surprised when he finds out how difficult it is to get disengaged.

If the average husband were half as attentive, solicitous, and devoted as his coachman, there would be fewer scandals of the drawing-room-stable variety.

It's so hard to reform a man when he hasn't any great fault, but just a little of all of them.

THE interests of society the past week have been divided between the races at Benning and the tableaux vivants which for two afternoons filled the Belasco Theater with representative audiences of the Capital's smart society.

The tableaux were pronounced by all who saw them the finest produced here. Friends of those who took part and of the two ladies who worked so hard for the success of the entertainment, Miss Boardman and Miss Gwynn, responded nobly to the call of charity. The result is that the Red Cross Day Camp and the Washington Diet Kitchen cleared $2,000.

This means that Miss Boardman, whose interest lies in the Red Cross Day Camp, will be able to build two shacks and that hundreds of invalids and delicate people of the poor can spend the long, hot days of the summer in the open air, and need only go home to sleep.

The camp is to be built in the woods adjacent to the tuberculosis camp, for which Congress has made appropriation. Thus near the camp, it will be in touch with medicinal services that day patients may need, as, of course, physicians will be in charge of the tuberculosis camp.

Fifteen hundred of the two thousand dollars will be put to this use. The remaining $500 will go to Miss Gwynn's pet charity, the Diet Kitchen. She hopes with this financial aid to save the lives of many babies this coming summer, the little ones of the poor, whose lives may be snuffed out as easily as a candle flame during the hot months because their mothers do not know how to feed them.

Through the Diet Kitchen the youngsters will be properly fed and a chance given them to become sturdy, healthy children.

Friday afternoon the tableaux had a rival in the drill at Fort Myer. This was the last drill of the season. Many society folk who had attended the tableaux on Thursday went to the drill the next day.

Every day has been more or less of a gala day at Benning. Grandstand and clubhouse were filled daily with an eager crowd of people who love the sport.

Though the clubhouse has been well patronized every pleasant day, yesterday, of course, drew the greatest crowd. The second race, yesterday, was for the Dinner Stakes.

The event is always of interest to society. Most of the horses who ran are owned by the people of their set. The dinner which follows for the winner is always more or less of a social event.

Last night's dinner was at the Metropolitan Club. The new quarters make it an attractive place for such affairs, and bid fair to take away patronage from the hotels.

Appropos of the Abruzzi-Elkins engagement, which, like Banquo's ghost, will not down, comes another incident, which seems to throw open the doors for more speculation and gossip, and to keep interest alive in the international love affair.

Rumor has it that the dinner which Senator and Mrs. Elkins gave Wednesday night to Cardinal Gibbons was for the purpose of hearing from his eminence some of the salient points about Catholicity. The cardinal himself admits as much. Another poignant fact is that the Italian Ambassador and the Baroness Mayor des Planches were of the company.

The Peruvian Minister and Mme. Pardo and Maj. and Mrs. McCawley were among the dinner guests at the Capital last night, as were also Senator and Mrs. Brandegee and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spaulding.

The French Ambassador, M. Jusserand; Attorney General Bonaparte, and Mr. John Barrett, director of the Bureau of American Republics, were guests of honor Friday night at the banquet and reception of the Municipal Art Society of Baltimore, at their inaugural sculptural exposition.

Mr. Howard Reeside entertained a children's party yesterday afternoon at her home in Nineteenth street, for her son, Harmon Reeside.

The small guests, numbering about forty, attended from 2 to 5 o'clock. Besides such amusements as magic lantern, donkey, and Punch and Judy, there was dancing.

Refreshments were served from a large oval table, where the guests were seated. Each place was marked by favors and crackers, the color scheme of red, white, and blue being carried out in confectionery and other decorations.

Among the guests were little Misses Grace and Helen Cortelyou, Hilda Johnson, Mary Ann Sereno Pugh, Beatrice Carbo, Louise Frazier, Ellen Burkett, Adele Godoy, Dorothy, Virginia, Florence, and Josephine Dixon, Elizabeth Jones, and little Misses Sims and Smoot, and Masters, Landon Dulaney, Joe Davidson, Tom Frazier, Hamilton Warren, William Knox, William Carbo, Thomas Seibert, of Mrs. Stanley Matthews, at her home in I street.

During his visit here, Mr. Watterson will be entertained by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Root and by Gen. and Mrs. Draper and others. Mr. Watterson and Secretary Root are to be speakers at the memorial meeting for Mr. Crosby Noyes, at the National Theater, this afternoon.

The Second Battalion of Engineers at the Washington Barracks will give their last dance of the season in the post gym Wednesday night. The dances this winter have proven quite popular and have been well patronized. The Engineers' orchestra will provide music for the occasion.

ENGAGEMENTS—WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Printup, of this city, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nellie Schermerhorn Printup, to Mr. Rufus King Helphinstine, Jr., also of Washington. The wedding will take place in early June at Jonesborough, Tenn., the girlhood home of Mrs. Printup.

Mrs. and Mrs. Emanuel Victor Wendell, of Chicago, have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter Ruth, and Mr. Sol Henry Ganz, of New York, formerly of this city, on Tuesday, April 14, at 5:30 o'clock, at the Hotel Metropole, Chicago, Ill.

An interesting event of the spring will be the marriage of Miss Jennie R. Artz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Artz, of 219 N street, to Mr. Emory H. Bogley, of this city. It will take place at the West Washington Baptist Church, April 16, at 8 p. m., where Miss Artz has been the organist for some years. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents from 8:30 to 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Colton, of New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Leola Louise Colton, to Edmund Pendleton Tallafora, formerly of Virginia.

Mr. Tallafora is a nephew of United States Senator Tallafora, of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Colton have also announced the engagement of Miss Janet Scofield Hay, a cousin of the late Secretary of State John Hay, to their son, Albert Hay Colton. Miss Hay is a great-niece of former Vice President Coffey.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Italian Ambassador and the Baroness Mayor des Planches entertained informally last night at the embassy, complimentary to Signor Montagna, counselor of the embassy, who is going away on leave of absence.

The Vicomte and Vicomtesse de Martel, of the French Embassy, were Signor Montagna's hosts at luncheon yesterday. To-night his colleague, Signor Contraro, will entertain him at a farewell dinner.

Signor Montagna will leave at midnight for New York. From there he will sail for Italy on the new Italian ship Duca degli Abruzzi Tuesday.

Signor Montagna has been accredited to this post for several years. Fond of America and Americans, he has identified himself with various branches of Washington society, and is accordingly popular.

When abroad last year he was promoted. It was at his own request that he was returned to this post instead of being sent elsewhere. Not only is he a social favorite; he is a rising name in the diplomatic service. Godspeed and a speedy return are wished him by his friends.

Mrs. Hamilton Hawkins, wife of Brig. Gen. Hawkins, of the Soldiers' Home, Gen. Hawkins, director of the Bureau of American Republics, were guests of honor Friday night at the banquet and reception of the Municipal Art Society of Baltimore, at their inaugural sculptural exposition.

Mr. Howard Reeside entertained a children's party yesterday afternoon at her home in Nineteenth street, for her son, Harmon Reeside.
