RULE AGAINST LIQUOR

Good Templars Adopt Resolutions After Debate.

PART OF OFFICIAL REPORT

Guy Hayler, International Electoral Superintendent, Discusses Question—Esperanto to Be Taught in Lodges, So International Business Can Be Speedily Expedited.

Resolutions denouncing the liquor traffic as a "covenant with sin and death," and urging total prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating drinks, were unanimously adopted by the delegates to the international convention of Good Templars, in session at the Pylitan Temple last night.

The resolutions were presented as part of the first triennial report of the international electoral superintendent, Guy Hayler, and were adopted only after debate lasting during the entire afternoon and night sessions.

In presenting his report, the electoral superintendent said: "The liquor traffic is the greatest curse of humanity, casting its blight upon home life, destroying manhood, hindering church and school work, impeding commerce, corrupting all forms of government, and paralyzing our free institutions. The only correct attitude of all good citizens toward this huge iniquity should be one of uncompromising hostility until it is suppressed."

Meets Again This Morning. But little other matters of business were considered during the evening session, other than the adoption of the report of the temperance legislation committee. At 10 o'clock the session adjourned, to meet again this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Acting upon the recommendation of Edward Wavinski, international chief templar, the committee on literature proposed in its report submitted yesterday morning to have the study of Esperanto made a part of the course of study of all lodges of the organization. The report was adopted after little discussion.

The reason given for adopting Esperanto was that it will enable all future international gatherings of the Good Templars to transact business in a uniform language. In approving the action taken by the delegates, Mr. Wavinski, the presiding officer, said: "I think we are taking a step in the right direction by adopting this universal language for our order. Esperanto is an international language, and this organization is an international body, therefore, it is only fair we should adopt it, giving all our members the same chance."

It is the purpose of the international chief templar to give the password of the International Order of Good Templars, in Esperanto hereafter.

Wants International Magazine. Shortly before the morning session adjourned, J. H. Hopkins, of Birmingham, England, presented a brief report as chairman of the committee on juvenile work. He reported flourishing conditions and recommended that an international children's magazine be published in several languages.

No action has yet been taken by the special committee appointed to determine which of the rival factions in the District is acting within the law. While unconfined, it was said yesterday the grand executive committee, recently voted to place the territory and resources of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia under the direct administration of the National Grand Lodge until the annual session in December.

The delegates to the convention will be the guests of the local Good Templars on an excursion to Mount Vernon tomorrow. Monday they will be received by President Roosevelt at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The rest of the day will be spent sightseeing, and Monday evening a banquet will be tendered them by the local lodges at the Driscoll Hotel.

WANTED BY BOSTON POLICE.

Woman Held for Trying to Palm Diamond Indicted in Hub City.

Capt. Boardman, chief of detectives and acting superintendent of police, yesterday received a letter from the chief of police of Boston, Mass., saying that the woman convicted of vagrancy several days ago under the name of Mrs. Paul Matchette is wanted in Boston for the larceny of a diamond valued at $750.

A warrant for her arrest was sent, and extradition papers will be forwarded the first of next week.

Chief Pierce said in his letter that the woman, who is now in the workhouse, is known in Boston as Lee Fitzhugh, alias Ethel Matchette, alias Sullivan. She was indicted by the grand jury this week, and the bill is returnable Saturday. She is charged with taking a diamond valued at $750 from Thomas Long & Co., diamond dealers, at 23 and 41 Summer street, on May 8. A picture sent by the Washington department was identified by the diamond dealers as that of the woman known to them as Lee Fitzhugh, who stole the diamond.

Ethel Matchette, or Silver, as she is known to the local police, was arrested last week by Central Office Detectives Pratt and Farham, after she had failed in an attempt to palm a valuable diamond ring in an F street jewelry store. Two men, giving their names as Matchette, her husband, and Fred Hamilton, a friend, were arrested at the same time.

HOME FOR OLD SOLDIERS.

President Asked to Provide for Veterans of Potomac Department.

Judge Ivory G. Kimball has requested the President to have the government furnish quarters in this city for the Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic.

The old soldiers are dying off so rapidly that it is difficult for them to meet the expenses of maintaining a hall, and Judge Kimball, a former commander of the department, and present acting commander, informed the President that many of the States have already taken the matter up and in some cases have provided quarters for the old soldiers.

President Roosevelt informed Judge Kimball that he would look into the matter. It has been suggested that the old Sixth street station be made use of.

DISTRICT MOVING DAY SET.

New Municipal Building to Be Occupied on July 6.

Moving day for the District government and its employees has been announced as Monday, July 6. On and after that day all District business will be transacted in the new Municipal Building, at Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Commissioner West said yesterday that he will recommend that the District Building be closed to the public after noon on July 2, and 3, in order that the clerks may remove the thousands of records and papers, which must be carefully carried to the new home and arranged in their properly classified places, that there be no interruption in the work of the District business.

The furniture and equipment committee for the new building, consisting of W. C. Allen, electrical engineer, and Marlon Hargrove, property clerk, are hard at work arranging desks and filing cases in the building. Practically all the furniture will be new, in order that it be in keeping with its surroundings.

"JIM CROW" LAW UPHELD.

District Court Recognizes the Virginia Statute.

A suit brought against the Great Falls and Old Dominion Railroad Company by Agnes Carver, colored, was decided in favor of the defendant yesterday in Circuit Court, No. 2, before Justice Anderson, after the jury had been out two hours.

It was alleged by the plaintiff that in August, 1906, while on a car bound for Livingston Heights, Va., she was requested by the conductor to leave the seat she was occupying and take one at the rear of the car behind and among the passengers, on the ground that the Virginia law compels negroes to ride back of the whites in all cars.

Upon her refusal, she was arrested and detained for several hours at Roslyn. It is said that this verdict is the first in the District involving the "Jim Crow" law where the award has been made to the defendant.

CUT PRICES OF LOBSTERS.

Commissioner Bowers Says Culture Lopped Fifty Cents Off Each.

LoBSTERS have been reduced over 50 cents in price on account of the propagation work done by the Fish Commission, according to Commissioner George M. Bowers, who has just returned from the government hatcheries along the Maine coast.

"We propagated 10,000,000 lobsters and turned them loose at the Booth Bay Harbor Hatchery, in Maine, during the past year," said Mr. Bowers. "We began the propagation of lobsters four years ago, when the catches were diminishing, and have annually increased the number of lobsters turned loose to nature."

In Boston, where I stopped on my way back, I went through several fish markets, and found that the price of lobsters ranged from 9 to 14 cents. Four years ago, when we began to propagate, that price ranged from 22 to 26 cents, and was gradually increasing on account of the decreased catches."

MISS SUSAN HETZEL DIES

Charter Member of D. A. R. Passes Out of Life.

MEMBER OF MANY SOCIETIES

Born in Washington, She Helped to Form More Than One Patriotic Organization—One of the Originators of the Mary Washington Association—Funeral To-morrow.

Miss Susan Riviere Hetzel, widely known as one of the organizers of the Daughters of the American Revolution and other patriotic societies, died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, after an illness of four months' duration.

Death was due to a complication of diseases, following an attack of pneumonia. Miss Hetzel was taken ill at her home, 1338 T street northwest, early in February. Later she was removed to Montpelier Manor, the country home of her sister, Mrs. Edmund Pendleton, at Laurel, Md. A relapse necessitated her removal to a private sanatorium in this city.

Miss Hetzel was the daughter of Capt. A. Riviere Hetzel and of his wife, nee Miss Margaret Jack. Her brother, the late Judge Selden Hetzel, was graduated from West Point, but abandoned an army career to enter the law. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Edmund Pendleton.

Native of Washington.

Born in Washington, Miss Hetzel passed all her life in the National Capital. Her private life was associated with the group that have come to be known as old Washingtonians, and her mind was filled with the traditions of social life at the Capital. The work and interest of her later years were in the societies which she helped to found and with which she was actively associated.

She was number 13 of the charter members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, numbering now over 50,000. She was the associate of Mrs. Hetzel, who originated the Mary Washington Association, and carried to successful conclusion the patriotic purpose of resuscitating the grave of the mother of Washington from the auctioneer's hammer, and of building a suitable monument to her memory.

Miss Hetzel was one of the founders, and registrar of the Guadalupe Club, an association of the Daughters of Heroes of the War with Mexico. She was a member of the Colonial Dames of Virginia; she organized and founded the Mount Vernon Chapter, in Alexandria, of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and was its first regent, and she was national registrar of the children's branch of the D. A. R.

She was registrar general of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1888, 1889, and 1890, and historian general in 1893, and she wrote the story of the building of the Mary Washington monument.

Revised Lineage Volume.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at their twelfth continental congress, placed the revision of the first volume of the lineage book in her hands, this difficult and technical work proving a monument to her ability.

Funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal Church, where fifteen pews have been reserved for the various societies of which Miss Hetzel was a member. Internment will be private at Arlington Cemetery.

LAND OFFICE REORGANIZED.

New Places Created as Result of Examination of Systems.

Many important changes have taken place in the General Land Office this week, under the direction of Commissioner Fred Dennett, following the special examinations in this and other offices in the Department of the Interior last summer by a force of expert accountants engaged by Secretary Garfield.

All the changes are in the nature of a reorganization of the office forces, according to modern business ideas. Three new departments have been created by the reorganization. One is under the chief clerk, which office is held by Frank Bond, the duties of which include the keeping of all records and the preparation of maps. The second branch is the field work, and is in charge of H. H. Swartz. The third and most important branch is the new real estate and adjudicating branch, which has been placed under C. B. Ucker.

WILL PRESENT A PETITION.

Army and Navy Garrisons Will Seek Reinstatement.

It is expected the mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Army and Navy Union this evening will be largely attended. The purpose for which the meeting has been called is to announce the report of the committee recently appointed to bring about a settlement of the controversy which resulted, several months ago, in the suspension of the three local garrisons by National Commander J. Edwin Browne.

A petition will be presented this evening to the members of the following committee, which recently consulted with National Commander Browne in Baltimore: Capt. J. Walter Mitchell, representing Barry Garrison, chairman; Dr. Charles V. Pettys, representing Porter Garrison, and Capt. George L. Snider, secretary, representing Roosevelt Garrison.

Coroner Holds Two Negroes.

The coroner's inquest held at the morgue yesterday to inquire into the death of Thomas E. Russell, the picture vendor, who died at Emergency Hospital Wednesday afternoon from injuries received from being struck over the head with a shovel, held Thomas Veney and Walter Johnson, negroes, accused of assaulting Russell, for the action of the grand jury.

MILK DEALERS NOT IMMUNE.

Prosecutions Continue Despite Police Court Ruling.

It seems probable that the milk dealers who are rejoicing over the decision of Judge Mulloy in the Police Court to the effect that the health department has not the legal right to examine and analyze milk for the purpose of prosecution, may have rejoiced too soon.

The Commissioners said yesterday that they think the milk inspection can be carried on with a possible change of the method of analysis and prosecution, and that their endeavors will be continued as earnestly as possible.

At a conference yesterday morning between Commissioner Macfarland and Health Officer Woodward over the decision of the Police Court judge, it was agreed to seek the advice of the corporation counsel. Counsel Thomas advised that an appeal be taken to the Court of Appeals, and that meantime the health department inspectors proceed with their work, and whenever they find violations of the law, prepare cases for prosecution.

This will be done at the request of Commissioner Macfarland, and the corporation counsel will see if there is anything else that can be done to strengthen the position of the Commissioners. After the conference, Commissioner Macfarland said: "We shall, of course, do everything in our power to continue to safeguard the milk supply. The efforts of the District government have been hampered by lack of adequate force, and adequate means, and by opposition from interested parties. Yet they have resulted in a great improvement in the conditions, and this must not be lost in any degree."

WENT TO MEET AN AUNT.

No Basis for Story that Miss Maury Eloped with Mr. Reburn.

The family and friends of Miss George Maury, who was reported to have eloped with William Stewart Reburn, are endeavoring to trace the story, which they believe to have had a mischievous, cruel, and possibly malicious origin.

There was no mystery, they say, in Miss Maury's trip to New York. She accompanied her friend, Miss Carney, who went to meet an aunt, who was arriving in that city in feeble health. Mr. Reburn acted as their escort to New York, and the party went by morning train, where they joined the aunt and returned with her the following day. Mr. Reburn presented them.

There was absolutely nothing in the episode, Miss Maury says, to warrant the story of an elopement or give proper basis for any sensational gossip. Her mother once denied the reported marriage and reiterated the denial yesterday.

BOARD'S RETORT COURTEOUS.

Commissioners Call Attention to Their Effort to Secure Wells.

Replying in a personal letter to R. W. Sheekels, who published a letter in a local newspaper on Wednesday in which he commented on the lack of drinking fountains in this city, and criticized the Commissioners for abandoning the shallow wells without having made an effort to provide deep-driven ones, Commissioner Macfarland yesterday said: "I see by your note that you are not aware of the fact that the Commissioners fulfilled their promise to ask Congress for an appropriation with which to provide deep-driven wells."

"In our estimates, presented to Congress at the opening of the last session, we incorporated an item of $5,000 for that purpose, which was advocated before the Senate and House Committees on Appropriations, but neither of them provided it."

It may be that they simply deferred action because they thought the necessity was not so pressing as in other cases. But, in all events, we kept our word, and did the best we could to secure the appropriation."

GIVES STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.

Rector's Aid Society of Church of Ascension Entertains.

Under the auspices of the Rector's Aid Society of the Church of the Ascension, a strawberry festival was given in the Sunday school rooms of the edifice last evening.

The original plan was to have the affair on the lawn, at 1221 Massachusetts avenue northwest, but on account of the threatening weather, it was decided to hold the festival indoors.

Weather permitting, the entertainment will be given in the open this evening from 7:30 until 10:30 o'clock.

Among those who assisted in the festival last evening were Mrs. S. E. Kramer, Mrs. W. P. Bowie, Mrs. H. J. Gayler, Miss Anne Heiden, Mrs. J. W. Bowie, Mrs. C. R. Gibson, Mrs. Albert Preston, Miss Rosabelle Scott, and the Misses Metz.
