THE tide of summer travel will be homeward from to-morrow. The change will be perceptible almost on the first day of September, and many Washington residences will be opened within the following week. The cold has already driven scores of visitors from the mountains and the seashore. The official hostesses of some years are apt to return much earlier than their younger sisters, as they like to get their winter homes in order before the men arrive. If there are children in the family, they wish them prepared for school while there are no social duties to take their time. All of these conditions will cause the uptown sections to be less deserted than they have been for the past three months.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt will return while September heads the calendar, and the members of the Cabinet even now are preparing for flight to Washington with their families. Some of them, indeed, are on the way. The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Metcalf are traveling eastward, and will reach here some time this week, after an absence on the Pacific coast. The Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Cortelyou have an ideal place at Huntington, with five acres, upon which are tennis courts, golf course, boats, horses, autos, dogs, and fishing tackle, in fact, everything which delights the hearts of the children and makes the older people comfortable. They are enjoying life in earnest.

It is much the same sort of a summer which the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Garfield spend, with their four boys, on the famous farm at Mentor where former President Garfield, father of the Secretary, spent many of his happiest and most prosperous years. This is their favorite spot, more enticing than the gayest of seashore resorts or the wildest of mountain camps.

Rumors of the return to this country of Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture, are again rife. In spite of her recent successful appearance in a public concert in Paris, Miss Wilson has been absent for more than three years, and has been a hard and diligent student of music during all that time.

The Attorney General and Mrs. Bonaparte will remain a few weeks longer in Lenox, and then come down to their country place, near Baltimore, for the fall season.

One of the most interesting visitors to Washington this year was Mrs. Locock, wife of Capt. E. A. Locock. She visited her sister, Mrs. A. B. LeP. Mesny, in her apartment in the Ontario. Capt. Locock is a member of the British Army Reserves, and was formerly of the "Princess of Wales' Own" regiment. His father, the late Lord Edward Locock, was British minister to Serbia, and his grandfather was formerly attached to the household of Queen Victoria. Capt. and Mrs. Locock have made a tour of the world, traveling many miles in a summer motor car. Mrs. Locock is a famous beauty of England, and is an enthusiastic and clever horsewoman. She used to race in England under the name of Mrs. Alton. She and Capt. Locock are both accomplished linguists, and go in for sports, particularly yachting and racing, although they have taken recently to motoring. Mrs. Locock was especially enthusiastic concerning the beauty and hospitality of Japan, and interested her friends here greatly with little incidents of her visit there.

Among the Washingtonians who were staying at Owyatt Lodge, in the Adirondacks when it was burned recently, were Mrs. O'Connell, wife of Capt. O'Connell, U. S. A.; Mrs. Ross, wife of Capt. Ross, U. S. A.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byram, Miss Marjorie Folin, Miss Florence Keene, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Goodman, Miss Coleman, and Miss Deen.

Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant entertained an interesting company at luncheon last week in their quarters at Governors Island. Their guests included Baron Schlippenbach, the Russian consul general to New York, formerly of Chicago, who is a frequent and well-known visitor in the Russian Embassy here; Col. William C. Langitt, commandant of the Washington Barracks; and Mrs. Langitt, and several other army men and women.

Mr. Eugene Savoyard Newman, of this city, is spending a few weeks in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rothchild returned from Atlantic City on Saturday, and have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simon, of Monticello, Va.

Miss Rose Frankel and Miss Jeannette Vint, of Bridgeport, Conn., are the guests of the Misses Hirsch, of Kenyon street.

Mr. S. N. Meyer and Miss Juliette Meyer returned on Wednesday from a European tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Steinberger have returned from Forest Glen, and are located at 187 V street.

Mrs. George M. Whitaker and her daughter, Miss Lillian, who are residents of Washington now, have been visiting Mrs. Whitaker's father at Southbridge, Mass. Mrs. Whitaker was formerly president of the New England Women's Press Association, and of the Boston Press Women's Club.

Mr. Frank Du Puy, formerly of this city, now of New York, passed through Washington a few days ago and made a short visit, en route to his former home, in Texas, where she will spend some time with her mother.

Mrs. Jonathan Bourne, jr., wife of the Senator from Oregon, who was in Washington for his first season last winter, has returned from a trip around the world, and has gone on to Hot Springs, Va. The trip began nineteen months ago, the party starting from Portland, Ore. Mrs. Bourne's only companion was Mrs. J. F. Fairbank, of San Francisco. They had their own servants with them, and made tours of Japan, China, India, Russia, and visited the principal cities of Europe.

Miss Leona Stern, of Norfolk, Va., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Helene Stern, of the Cliffbrook.

Miss Lizzie Jandorf, of U street, will return home to-day from a visit of several weeks in New York State.

Miss Camille Leaman and Miss Lottie Albright, of Jackson, Miss., are the guests of relatives, and will remain until October 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Emmich, of Europa, Miss., are spending a few days in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley, of New York, who will occupy their new house in Dupont circle next season, have with them their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Shipman, the former rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest in New York, on a cruise on their home-boat, the Alonida. They are in Alexandria Bay, at the Thousand Islands, this month. Mrs. Shipman has but recently returned from an interesting trip abroad, where she was the guest in London of Mrs. Cloman, wife of Capt. Sidney A. Cloman, military attaché of the United States Embassy there, and of Mrs. Gibbons, wife of the naval attaché of the embassy. She was presented at court by Mrs. Reid, wife of the Ambassador, and was constantly entertained throughout the London season.

Mrs. J. Eakin Gadsby, who went to Capon Springs a fortnight ago, was joined there a few days ago by Miss Helen Worley, of Baltimore, whom she will chaperone during the remainder of their stay there. Mrs. Gadsby entertained at a charming card party on Thursday evening, and on Friday gave a chafin dish supper party for Miss Worley. Mrs. Gadsby is particularly well known in the city, and is an afternoon tea on the lawn at a pretty house, which was quite a unique affair, and an innovation in Capon Springs functions.

Mrs. F. J. Dieudonne has closed her home for the summer, and will not renew her afternoons until winter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mercer and two sons, of 282 Thirtieth street, are having a delightful stay at Newport, R. I. Miss Iris Masters, of Washington, is with them. They will return to Washington October 1.

Miss Lota Robinson, of Baltimore, who is equally well known in Washington, is being entertained in Bar Harbor. She spends much time in Washington with her husband, and has been entertained by her in Bar Harbor frequently this season.

There was a large number of rich and rare gifts received by this popular young couple, among them being a solid silver tea service from the officers and women of the navy yard. The bride and bridegroom made the first stage of their wedding trip in a navy yard tug, which took them from the navy yard to Seattle, where they boarded a steamer for British Columbia. Capt. Potts has been ill for some time, and because of this, the wedding guests were few and very intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. The family is well known as very popular in Washington, where Capt. Potts was stationed for some years, and where his interesting family of daughters become of a notable family that gave many distinguished officers to the Revolutionary army, and has been known in the affairs of the country for generations.

A Wednesday wedding of much interest in Washington was that of Miss Florence A. Knode and Mr. Richard M. Webster, which took place at Fairmont, Minn. The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and intimate friends by the Rev. Albert E. Fillmore, of St. Martin's Episcopal Church, and immediately afterward the bride and bridegroom left for St. Paul, Duluth, Mackinac Island, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and Toronto. The bride and bridegroom will make their future home in Washington. The bride is the only daughter of the late Thomas J. Knode. Her mother is now the wife of Mr. Thomas Bottomley, of Winnebago, Minn. She has made her home for several years with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cole of this city, where she attended school and graduated from the George Washington University. She is a member of the Pi Beta Phi fraternity, and has been connected with the Post-office Department for some years.

Mrs. Lillian Trueworthy and her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Trueworthy, who are spending the month of August in St. Mary County, Md., returned last week to their home in Dumbarton avenue, after a visit of several weeks in Atlantic City.
