YESTER NAMES HIS COMMITTEE

Sixty Physicians and 275 Citizens Will Serve.

CHARGED WITH PUBLIC ORDER

Representative Sherman Seeks to Expedite Legislation and Relieve Inaugural Workers—Blue Jackets Will Appear in the Parade—Bids Asked for Reviewing Stands.

Maj. Richard Sylvester yesterday submitted the appointments upon the committee of public order to Chairman Edward Steiwegger, of the inaugural committee, and the list was approved.

This is one of the most important committees among the subsidiary bodies of the inauguration workers. It is charged with making arrangements for the maintenance of peace and order, for security to life, limb, and property, preceding, during, and following inauguration day. This duty embraces the prevention of crime, apprehension of criminals and law-breakers, prevention of fires, treatment of the sick and injured, and other matters pertaining to the good order of the occasion.

Will Promulgate Orders.

This committee will promulgate orders under the District authorities for clearing streets in the line of the parade, and for keeping clear the intersecting streets and avenues. It will have charge of the regulation for safety at the inaugural ball. It will have the temporary management of the hospital and ambulance corps and many other details of the inauguration period.

Maj. Sylvester has named 275 prominent residents of the district upon his committee and 60 well-known physicians. The names of the committee appear elsewhere.

The present week will be a busy one among the committees of inauguration. To-night at 8 o'clock the committee on fireworks will meet. To-morrow night the committee on street decorations will have a session. On Thursday at 11 o'clock the general committee will meet, and Thursday night at 8 o'clock the committee on comfort at the ball will convene.

WILL URGE REFORMATORY.

Woman's Missionary Union Elects Representative for Purpose.

Mission work for foreigners was the subject under discussion at a meeting of the Women's Interdenominational Missionary Union in Luther Place Memorial Church yesterday morning.

Mr. John Newton Culbertson, president of the union, opened the meeting, and read a report by J. Ellen Foster, a member of the foreign work of the organization, who delivered an address on the mission work being accomplished in the prisons. Mrs. Foster was elected representative of the union to urge a reformatory for the District of Columbia before the Senate and House committees.

SLUSH COVERS STREETS.

Meager Appropriation Prevents Removal of Recent Snowfall.

Pedestrians waded through slush yesterday and the snow sweeping question was brought to the attention of the District government pointedly.

The snow and ice fund has now reached the low water mark of $1,500, and the work now going on, meager as it is, will perceptibly diminish this amount. Besides this there is no special appropriation for inaugural contingencies.

"Let Congress give the Commissioners enough money to enforce the law or repeal the law," said Commissioner West yesterday. "A much larger appropriation is essential. In the annual estimates $30,000 has been asked for the work."

POOL GAME HAS SEQUEL.

Three Men Found Guilty of Fleecing a Stranger.

An election night pool game had a disastrous sequel yesterday, in Criminal Court No. 2 before Justice Anderson, when John Clark, Barney Smith and Harry E. Miller, who won all the money, were found guilty of grand larceny by a jury, which took three minutes to decide the case.

Leon O. Wren was the complaining witness. He told the court he engaged in a game with the defendants, and that though they were apparently "strangers" to each other, they fleeced him out of $14.50.

Assistant District Attorney's Perry handled the case for the government. It is said at the district attorney's office that the men have police records in other cities. A motion for a new trial was noted.

Too Lenient with Himself.

Because he was frank in telling the court how he stole a large iron door several days ago, "Henry" Butler was given the option of naming the amount of time he is to serve. Butler asked for fifteen days, but Judge Malloway, thinking he was too lenient, asked him if he did not think he deserved thirty days. Butler acknowledged he was satisfied with the judge's option.

RELIEF IS SOUGHT BY THE COMMITTEES

Business Men Interested in Passage of Bill.

ASK AID OF COMMISSIONERS

Association's President Declares in Letter to Macfarland that Delays Work Great Hardship—Interruption of Traffic Serious and Should Be Remedied—Personal Observation.

Strong pressure is being exerted for the sake of the Virginia commuters who are crying for relief from several evils connected with the business of transporting them into Washington for their day's work.

The mouthpiece of their grievances is the governing board of the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Commuters' Association, with offices at 1325 New York avenue. This organization is striving to have the House of Representatives pass a bill, introduced by Representative Wagner, entitled "An act to provide for eliminating certain grade crossings on the line of the Baltimore and Potomac Railway Company in the city of Washington, and requiring said company to depress and elevate its tracks, and to enable it to relocate parts of its railroads therein."

There are nearly 5,000 of Washington's business men interested in the passage of the bill, and they have written to the Commissioners asking for their support. The letter follows:

Office of the Governing Board of the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Commuters' Association, 1325 New York avenue, Washington, D. C., Jan. 18, 1908.

Commissioner of District of Columbia.

Sir: I am handing you herewith copy of House of Representatives bill No. 2269, and strongly hope that you may see your way clear to give this bill your hearty endorsement.

There are upward of 5,000 of Washington's business men interested in the passage of this bill who reside in the State of Virginia and come daily into the District to pursue their various vocations. A large number of these persons are obliged to reach their places of business at a specified hour, and those who go to work early, and who live at a considerable distance from the District, are obliged to take a very early car for the sole fear that the later car, which, if not impeded in its progress, would land them in Washington for business, may be held up by the opening of the draw in the Highway Bridge, which would cause a delay sufficient to make them late, and in many instances they would be forced to lose an hour or more of their time, even though they were late but a few minutes.

Personal Observation.

From personal observation for the past eighteen months I know of the severe inconveniences which families are put to on account of the delay caused by the opening of the draw and the consequent closing of the smokestacks and flagpoles on a very large majority of the tugboats would be held up by the opening of the draw in the Highway Bridge, and thereby attract a great deal to a large number of persons coming into the District daily.

There will be a public hearing on the bill to-morrow, January 19, before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Sincerely,
HARRY C. BIRGE, President.

Commissioner Macfarland has replied as follows:

Dear Sir: I have your favor and heartily approve the principles of the inclosed bill. I shall be glad if you will say so at the hearing before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce to-morrow morning.

Should Be Oblivious.

I appreciate the great inconvenience to which the members of your association may be put by the delays of your relief, which ought to be entirely obviated, as they are citizens.

It is astonishing that the passenger traffic over the Potomac in the National Capital should be interrupted at this late day in that manner, and it is high time that this cause of delay should be remedied. I understand that the Secretary of War, who has jurisdiction of the bridges, has no power to require that boat smokestacks be lowered, and this bill would give him that power. Sincerely,
H. B. MACFARLAND, Commissioner.

BISHOP McQUAID IS DEAD.

Head of Diocese of Rochester; Consecrated in 1868.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Right Rev. Bernard McQuaid, bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester, died at 9:30 this morning.

Bishop McQuaid was born in New York City, December 15, 1823. He made his studies at Chamblay College, near Montreal, and at St. John's, Fordham, graduating from the latter institution in 1843. He taught there for several years, and then took up the study of theology under the Lazarist Fathers.

He was ordained a priest in 1848. He held several charges in New Jersey, finally being stationed at Newark, where he founded Seton Hall, of which institution he was president for years. He was consecrated bishop in 1888.

McGinnell Will Filed.

The will of Margaret McGinnell, who died December 21 last, was filed for probate yesterday. She bequeathed her house in Singers alley, in the rear of 1311 Twentieth street northwest, to her sister, Bridget Buckley, together with all receipts from her life insurance policy, and her shares of the stock of the Potomac Insurance Company, of the District of Columbia. Mary McGinnell is named as executrix without bond.

Gooding's Body on the Way.

The body of Clarence Gooding, the Washington man who was killed in the Denver and Rio Grande wreck Friday night, is now on its way to this city. Interment will take place here, but the final arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Admiral May Recover.

Rear Admiral William Barnette, in charge of the Naval Observatory here, who has been seriously ill at the Naval Hospital for two weeks, is much improved. He has an even chance of recovery, according to the surgeon in charge.
