

BASEBALL GANLEY'S CONTRACT TRACK MANY WASHINGTONIANS' BOXING LOOKS AS IF JOHNSON IS STILL UNSIGNED IN BALTIMORE MEET IS FOUR-FLUSHING SOME

PUSHED TO THE LIMIT

Manager Cantillon Keeps His Men Hard at Work.

GANLEY, STILL UNSIGNED

Washington Outfielder Carries Top Weight, and is Seeking to Reduce It by Strenuous Practice—Jim Delehanty is Still Among the Missing, Bloomfield Also Among Lost Ones.

Special to The Washington Herald. Galveston, Tex., March 10.—It was cold and windy to-day in Galveston, but that did not prevent Manager Cantillon from giving his henchmen a couple of strenuous workouts. They were not pushed to the limit, but the preliminary soreness is nearly gone now, and he is putting them through a course of sprouts that is not child's play.

The matter of Ganley's contract has not yet been reached, but the captain is working out as if he had already signed. He is over weight and had done no athletic work before arriving here, but he is not a hard man to condition, and will soon catch up with the others. He takes it for granted he is a member of the team, and Cantillon does the same. Delehanty is expected along almost any time, so the only remaining mystery is the whereabouts of the child phenom named Bloomfield, who was signed by Blankenship. That youngster was sent transportation, but no word has been received from him.

BASEBALL NOTES AND COMMENT

Billy Murray has great expectations of Earl Moore this year.

There is a pitcher named Teddy Roosevelt. He has signed with Spokane.

One factory in Cincinnati is turning out $500 baseballs daily, and there are others.

Jim McAleer says the reported price, $5,000, that St. Louis made to pay for "Wild" Conroy is correct.

Charley Chick is not likely to go to St. Paul. Boston would find it hard to get waivers on him.

Eddie Siever, the former Detroit pitcher, who was released by Indianapolis, may land in Montreal. It is reported that Casey wants him and will give him a good salary.

Jesse Beckendorf and Oscar Stanage, two youngsters, will replace Payne as catchers for Detroit and do all the work unless the club makes terms with Charlie Schmidt, who says he has quit baseball for business.

A young Giant recruit named Cochran made ten consecutive base hits in as many times at bat in the first two practice games played by McGraw's team. This is said by the New York correspondents to be a world's record.

Jack Chesbro has so much work ahead at his logging camp on Mount Owen, in Conway, that he says he does not know when he can report for baseball. Chesbro is carrying less weight than for years, and should be in fine condition to play ball.

Tim Murnane says that Ed Karger is in great form already and that the Cardinal, who is with him, is in the best hot-spring extant. Mr. Murnane is at Hot Springs, where the pitchers are working. He knows what he sees when he sees it.

Fred Falkenberg, the Cleveland pitcher, has cut out smoking since last October, and has put on twenty pounds. He stands that twenty and more, and still is a star. Fred is convinced that smoking strong cigars affected his pitching, especially his control. Hence the reform.

George Moriarty, the Detroit infielder, has invented a typewriter attachment, which, it is claimed, will revolutionize typewriting. Moriarty is a typewriter machinist, and has discovered a way by which a whole word may be produced by a single stroke upon the keyboard.

With Lanky George McConnell on his staff, Stallings will have one of the most effective "spits" in the business. McConnell does not confine his pitching to one style of delivery, but alternates between an overhand and underhand delivery. He Mac is also there with the waller when it comes to batting. In a four-game series between Newark and Buffalo in 1907 he peeled off three circuit drives, four triplets, four two-baggers, and two singles out of eighteen chances at the bat.

"Bush has the indelible stamp of a great ball player," says Hughie Jennings. "He didn't play above his speed last fall. You can tell a great ball player by the way he goes after a ball, by the way he handles himself. An ordinary club on the field can make a sensational play, but it means nothing. Class tells, and Bush has it. He showed me more as a ball player when he was making errors than many another man I have seen making those so-called star plays. It's the way he does things. He's one of the great natural ball players."

LOWE AND KELLY DRAW

Crowd Says Washingtonian Should Have Been Given Decision.

Special to The Washington Herald. Baltimore, March 10.—Tommy Lowe, of Washington, and Batting Kelly, of this city, went fifteen hard rounds to a draw to-night before the Arena Athletic Club.

While the decision of Referee Pat O'Connor, of Washington, was approved by the crowd, the keen observers were of the opinion that Lowe was entitled to the verdict, as the Washington lightweight carried the pace to Kelly in every round, while Kelly never made a move to force the fighting.

Lowe, however, lacked the punch to put his opponent away. He landed on the head called repeatedly, who always came back smiling and looking none the worse off from the wallops. Lowe kept his attacks to the stomach during the latter part of the mill, and with these drives he shook Kelly up repeatedly.

Both men were on their feet throughout, and though they fought at catch weights, there was hardly any difference in their weight.

STAR ATHLETE LEAVES CITY.

Harry W. Bell Accepts Offer to Coach in New York.

Harry W. Bell, formerly of the United States Engineer Corps, who has been actively interested in athletics in this city for the past few years, leaves this afternoon for New York City, where he will coach the baseball team of Hamilton Institute. Bell is a graduate of the New York school, and is very enthusiastic over the idea of returning to the scenes of his school days.

He has established a reputation in this city as an aggressive football player. He starred as half back on the strong Warwick Athletic Club eleven of 1907, and last year was the most consistent ground gainer on the crack engineer team which won the championship title of the city.

Bell is also well known in amateur baseball circles, having managed the Engineer Corps nines of 1907 and 1908.

LEN STANLEY HELPS COACH

Looks Over Business High Schools' Pitching Talent.

Stenographers Put in Hard Day of Practice in Anticipation of First Game Friday.

Business High's baseball candidates managed to get in some good links at McDewitt's Field yesterday afternoon in preparation for the first practice game of the season against Gallaudet to-morrow.

In spite of a high wind and soft diamond, the boys were allowed to cut loose a bit, while the pitchers were directed to speed 'em over for the first time in three weeks.

The coach was assisted by Len Stanley, the well-known Washington boy of Eastern League fame. Stanley took charge of the pitchers and handed out many valuable hints. A new candidate in the shape of Brooks loomed up among the twirling team. The list now contains Williams, Greer, Gregory, Rawlings, and Brooks. The first three mentioned will probably work against Gallaudet.

In addition to the foregoing named slammers, the following will be tried out against the Mutes: Catchers, Pegan and Hinwood; first base, Gregory, Schmidt, and Damphier; second base, Donnelly; shortstop, Leahy, Perry, Whitmarsh, and Davis; third base, Keane; outfielders, Neughton and Schram, of last year, and Dodge, Stewart, and Shore.

Business is not making any claims for championship honors. The team contains no such stars as Menefee, of Central; Whitney and Martin, of Eastern, or Dolly Gray, of Tech, but the Stenographers are full of fight and can be depended upon to go the limit. There isn't a quitter in the whole bunch. The nine this year gives every promise of being a credit to the school.

CAPITAL ATHLETES ENTERED

In Fifth Regiment Indoor Games at Baltimore.

G. W. U. Central High, Gurley Athletic Club, and National Guards to Send Teams.

Special to The Washington Herald. Baltimore, Md., March 10.—Everything is in readiness for the big indoor games under the auspices of the Fifth Regiment Athletic Association, scheduled for Saturday evening.

The entry list closed last Monday, but as usual, there were some late comers, and it was only to-night that the entries were in the hands of the official handicapper of the South Atlantic Association. The committee announces that more than 200 entries have been received, a record list for a meet held under the auspices of the association. Twenty relays, with the best schools, colleges, and club teams in this part of the country as contestants, are also on the card.

Among the out-of-town aggregations entered are George Washington University, Central High, the Gurley Athletic Club, and National Guards, of Washington; Tome Institute, of Fort Deposit, Md.; Brown Prep School, of Philadelphia, and probably the Carlisle Indians. The prospects of inducing Coach Warner to send a team from the Indian school to the games are very bright, and if an agreement is reached, the Redskins will undoubtedly be the main attraction of the evening. It is understood that Jack Steyer, of the George Washington University pole vaulter, who broke the South Atlantic mark in the Federal meet, will make an attempt to add a few inches to his record on Saturday night. He will be pitted against several of the Baltimore cracks, who promise to make him go the limit to win.

The Gurley Athletic Club relay team, champions of the South, will probably be matched with one of the Baltimore teams in a mile race. The Washington club is a strong favorite with the sporting public of this city, and has always proved one of the principal drawing cards.

Central High School, of Washington, which made a great showing in the Johns Hopkins games early in the season, will send a squad of seven runners to compete in the various open events. This team has always been a tough proposition for the City College, and the standing of the teams in the final count will be watched with much interest.

Probably the most interesting relay races on the card is the one which will bring together for the third time this season the Fifth Regiment five and the quartet representing the National Guard of the District of Columbia. To date each team is credited with a win, and when they meet on Saturday night in the rubber tie it will be sure to fly.

Madeira A. C. Challenges.

The Madeira Athletic Club has reorganized for the season with a strong line-up, such as Parmelle and Moore, catchers; McGraw, Barry, Murphy, pitchers; O'Barry, first base; Johnson, second base; Pettit, third base; Pierce, shortstop; Norris, Callahan, Young, and Jones, outfielders.

Any teams in the District or Maryland wishing to arrange games address M. Mastan, 605 Twenty-second street.

The Petworths, Langdons, First Builders, and Brunswick (Md.) please write.

Tim Jordan didn't go South with Brooklyn. Unless he reports before the team starts North he will be fined $100 by Ebbitt, and unless he reports before the opening league game he will receive no salary at all. Moreover, if Jordan does go South he will have to furnish his own transportation money.

Bits of District Sporting Gossip

Manager-elect Speer of the McKinley Manual Training School football team for 1909 is already at work on plans for the coming season, which bids fair to be one of the most successful in the history of the school. The team will, with few exceptions, be made up of the same men that won the championship last year.

Candidates for the team will report to the manager at the school on September 13 for practice. The first game will be played with the Maryland Agricultural College at College Park, September 23.

The remainder of the schedule is comparable of games with the same teams that were met last season and a few additional ones which will be announced later.

Work on the new athletic field at College Park for the use of the Maryland Agricultural College is progressing rapidly, and there is a possibility that the baseball diamond will be completed in time for the first game. The college is sorely in need of a new field, as the one now in use is in very poor condition.

The matinee season at the Brightwood race track will start on Easter Monday, with a meet open to members of the club. The elimination of the betting at the suburban track has made it necessary to hold these so-called matinees in order to boost the interest of the general public in the racing game.

Now for the National Guard games on March 27, and the Washington indoor track season will be brought to a close. The National Guards games always furnish excellent sport for followers of track athletics in this city.

C. Buttman and H. Smith, who will coach the Tech baseball team this season, have both seen service on the diamond. The former played shortstop for Cornell in the '90's and the latter has a reputation as one of the best outfielders ever developed at the Worcester Tech School, Massachusetts.

The Business High baseball team took advantage of the favorable weather yesterday afternoon and had some good, hard practice. A new pitcher joined the squad in the person of Brooks, who played on the sand lots around town for the past few seasons. Business meets Gallaudet to-morrow afternoon at the Kendall Green Field.

Here is a chance for some fast church baseball team to enter a strong league. Owing to the withdrawal of the Grace and Wash teams from the Church League, the officials of the league would like to hear from all fast teams desirous of entering. Address applications to C. B. Stokes.

A promising battery was unearthed by the coaches in the first day's workout of the Technical High baseball team yesterday afternoon. The outfit brothers, who last year played with the Garretts, Independents, are the men in question. After watching Pitcher Offutt throw a few of his assortment over the plate, Capt. Gray began to figure on an outfield berth. "Why that fellow can't beat a mile," remarked the captain. But let's wait until he works in a game!

Duffy, the hard-bitting backstop of last year's Georgetown nine, has reported for practice, thus putting an end to all rumors that he will "lay off" this season. Duffy proved a handy man behind the bat for the West End collegians last season and should be a great help in this department.

The coaches at Georgetown Prep made the final cut in the baseball squad yesterday afternoon, fourteen men being retained for the coming season. The team opens its season with a game against Western High on March 24.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL MEET.

Friends School Organization Discuss Plans for Coming Season.

At a meeting of the Athletic Council of Friends School yesterday plans for the coming season were discussed. Chairman Sidwell presided, and in speaking of the baseball situation emphasized the necessity for consistent practice on the part of the candidates in order to make a creditable showing in the first game, against Western High, March 30.

Coach Brooks, of the football team, who has volunteered to take charge of the nine during the coming campaign, promised to exert every effort to put a nine in the field that will be a credit to the school. He issued a call for candidates to report for practice on Monday of next week.

HAVE FIRST WORKOUT

Western High Baseball Candidates Hold Practice.

PROBABLY THE DARK HORSE

Western High baseball candidates had their first workout of the season yesterday afternoon on the field adjoining the school. Twenty answered the first call, including seven of last year's regulars, T. Howard, catcher; Hill, first base; Guy, second base; Hillyer, shortstop, and Robeson and Davidson, outfielders. Roger Bone, who held down the third bag last season, was the only absentee, being unable to play on account of a slight indisposition. He will join the squad within the next few days.

The Western team, in spite of the majority of last year's players, is a decidedly doubtful proposition, and will probably turn out the dark horse of the interscholastic league. Last season the team made a poor showing, which the most ardent followers of the school attribute to a streak of bad luck. Several of the best players on the team were disabled in practice games and unable to play throughout the season. The most severe blow to the team was the loss of its captain, Norris McLean, who was severely injured in a practice game with the Georgetown Preps. These frequent handicaps seemed to discourage the players, who, directly contrary to the general policy of Western teams, went in the games in a half-hearted way.

Arrange Preliminary Games. This season, with a proper share of luck, Capt. Hill claims to have material that before the season is well under way will impress upon the other teams the fact that Western is in the game for keeps. Manager Lampion, in an effort to get the team in condition for a strenuous campaign, has arranged a number of preliminary games with Washington, as well as out-of-town schools. Within the next week he expects to sign a coach who will be put in full charge of the team and given authority to act as he sees fit. The spirit shown by representatives of the Georgetown school in all branches of athletics should go a long way in helping the coach to develop a team which will be a contender for honors from the start.

Western will cross bats with Washington School on Wednesday, March 17, at the Kensington grounds. In this game every man will be given a chance to show his ability in his respective position. Probably the first three practice games will be played to pick the regulars who from that time will constitute the first team. The remaining candidates will form the second team, which will play the utility role for their "superiors."

The complete list of candidates follows: Guy, Stone, Hill (captain), Lampion (manager), R. Howard, T. Howard, Donovan, Robeson, Hillyer, Gray, McLean, Nelson, Mallon, Todd, Shenfield, Rowell, Upton, Taylor, Bone, and Davidson.

CAPITAL MEN OFFICIALS.

For S. A. U. Track and Field Championships in Baltimore.

Baltimore, March 10.—Track and field championships of the South Atlantic Association, of the Amateur Athletic Union, will this year be held May 8, at the new Hopkins field, at Homewood.

Joseph T. England, chairman of the championships, has worked hard to land the event for Baltimore. Washington was a strong bidder for the honor.

Homewood field is an ideal place for the holding of such an event. The running track, which was laid last year, has settled, and is in fine condition for speedy racing. These attractive features no doubt help land the championships for Baltimore.

The championship meet held last year was in June, and unfortunately a day selected was one of the hottest of the season, causing much inconvenience to spectators, officials, and the competing athletes.

The committee in charge follows: Track and field championship—Joseph T. England, chairman; W. C. Stuart, George W. Ehler, George Turner, Latrobe Cogswell, Dr. J. E. Wilber, W. W. Requaard, William H. Hellawell, William Becker, C. E. Beckett, J. E. Tyler, Jr., Joseph J. Rettallata, Dr. W. F. R. Phillips, and C. E. Edwards.

SPORTING SIDELIGHTS

By BILL BAILEY.

Understand that Shotgun is entered in one of the Oakland races to-day. Look out for a killing. This is a joke.

When the George Washington football schedule appears exclusively in the Washington Herald next week it will look vastly different from the tentative draft thrust on an unsuspecting public.

"The Hatchettes are to play the Indians." Old stuff; The Washington Herald announced this more than a month ago.

The Owls are to hold a banquet. We've heard of boiled owls before.

The Salvation Army girls at Kernan's well the preceptor keeps time with the orchestra.

Tommy Burns has again announced he will make his home in Australia. We do not credit the report, but hope it is true.

"Pianos are going fast," says an advertisement. There is one near us that we wish would go fast—and never come back.

Among those who have seen the lights grow dim and the stars come out are the Nationals and "Booster" Bill Squires.

Saw Hypo Reid trying to set his watch by one of the elevator indicators in the Munsey Building yesterday afternoon.

Message from Harry Krauss—Pittsburg is a bum town in spite of what Charley Hickman says.

Now that "Duke" Mess has reported, the uneasiness regarding Georgetown's baseball chances have gone glimmering.

It was noticed last night that our Jimmy Cooper, of the Interior bowling team, wore Gus Wade's straw hat in the absence of Baron Ludwig, who is at present in Pittsburg at the bowling congress. That hat must be a mascot, and maybe Gus will wear it when he plays George Campbell's scratch game of pool. The next game will be played on neutral tables, and the Arions' hall has the preference.

"Pink" Bowls says our poetry is worse than Jack Egley's umpiring. So that settles it. Never again for us.

Come on, now, ye baseball fans. Send in your selections for the correct batting order of the Nationals on the opening day. We have yet to hear from a number of prominent fans.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL IS OUT

Baseball Candidates Work Under Coach O'Shea.

Expect to Put Strong Team in Field. Arrange Attractive Schedule.

Yesterday afternoon a promising aggregation of youngsters reported to Coach O'Shea, of the University School baseball team, for the first practice of the season.

Several members of the candidates' nine, numbered among the candidates, form a nucleus on which a strong team should be built. Last year the "Kiddies" played a creditable game and often made their opponents bite the dust. This year, with the addition of several strong players, the team should get away with the majority of its games.

In the practice yesterday Coach O'Shea spent the greater part of the time giving the players pointers on how to play their respective positions. They seemed to imbibe the words of wisdom and got in some work which if continued will land them well up among the private school teams at the close of the season.

Suits will be provided on Saturday, after which time games will be arranged with several of the prep school teams.
