DR. ELIOT ADVISES HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Harvard President Delivers Address at Central.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO JEFFERSON

Dwells Upon Educational Development in the South During the Last Ten Years—Urges Students to Train Powers of Application and Senses and Acquire Practice of Thinking.

More than three hundred professors and boy students of the Washington high schools filled the main hall at the Central High School yesterday to listen to an address by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard University.

The educator addressed his remarks to the boys, and his words of advice and instruction received rapt attention and were eloquently applauded.

Dr. Eliot paid tribute to the first director of public education in Washington, Thomas Jefferson. He also development of the rapid educational progress made in the South in the last ten years.

"The great strides made in the Southern States to obtain a greater and more efficient system of public education and the results already achieved, especially in the secondary institutions, has been the most instructive feature of my trip," said Dr. Eliot.

Pays Tribute to Jefferson. After Prof. Stuart had closed his introduction by saying that the school system in Washington has been ever linked with the development of the national government through the efforts of Jefferson, Dr. Eliot began his address.

He said in part: "That great man, Thomas Jefferson, has not ceased to act upon our school system and the principals first inculcated in his own university still exert a wonderful influence on modern education. I refer especially to the two distinct essentials, universal education and the procedure of teaching from the top downward. These were precious thoughts put into operation at the University of Virginia by Jefferson and he added another conception that is by no means unessential—freedom of choice among students.

To-day we still retain that elective system. Our universities still maintain that a student shall pursue the studies he prefers and shall not be tied to a curriculum. I always like to acknowledge this debt to Jefferson whom I regard as one of the greatest geniuses our country ever produced.

"It is his great principles that you enjoy in the high schools of Washington. It has been my delight to see that in those beautiful States of the South the children are to have the privileges which you have always enjoyed. A great educational evolution that will result in much good, is now in progress in the Southland.

Gives Advice to Scholars. "Allow me now to impart a few words of instruction particularly to the boys. We are not content with the manner in which the boys pass hurriedly through the schools; they do not remain long enough. This fault may lie in that they do not find the institution sufficiently interesting or that they do not see the advantages which arise in after life. I would advise that you obtain in these high schools the power of intense application, that is to exercise your mental power to learn a lesson in ten minutes instead of an hour. This faculty cultivated in school life will stand you in good stead when you enter into the world.

"My second admonition is that you make better use of your senses. All the laboratory work and various courses are included in your curriculum to make you think and to teach you to make correct observation of facts. The process of knowledge to arrive at truth depends upon an accurate use of the senses.

"Practice in thinking is another thing you may acquire in this school. Give up all mechanical methods in pursuing your studies.

Plea for Power of Expression. "The fourth great accomplishment open to you is that you acquire some power of expression. One may pump rhetoric and grammar into a boy or girl for years, and although there may be some advantage, still the process is similar to wetting a sponge and then squeezing the water out.

"You must by dint of study obtain that power of expression, and you must do things yourself, not read about them in descriptive treatises. The student should write themes and compositions frequently if he would acquire a freedom of style. The medical training in vogue illustrates how a student must individually acquire skill in his own operations.

"My advice to you is that you write, recite, play instrumental music, act in plays, and do anything that uses the mind, so that you may enter this new movement of education. By this means you will gain some power of giving pleasure to others. Many of you boys will perhaps enter college after your graduation here. To 'get in the swim' you should be able to be cheerful and merry, and show that you obtained all the benefits of education.

Urges Study of the Past. "Allow me in conclusion to urge each one of the students here to obtain that broader outlook in life and human society. Study with love the histories and literatures of nations and apply yourselves to the study of the progress of the human race and to what forces we owe that progress. The first method of arriving at truth is by getting an insight into a particular subject and learning a little bit at a time. The right tendencies of the present age are best appreciated by a study of the past.

"Each of these opportunities are at your disposal in the Washington high schools and it is better appreciated by mastering the principles taught in these institutions.

When Dr. Eliot had concluded, Prof. Stuart asked for a viva voce vote of thanks, and the boys responded by a hearty cheer that left no doubt of their appreciation.

LICENSE CASES CONSOLIDATED. Those Involving Two Clubs and Saloon Will Be Heard Together.

Justice Wright, with the concurrence of Chief Justice Claiborne, yesterday consolidated the equity proceeding to enjoin the closing of the Chamberlin Club, the Bartenders' Union Club, and the saloon of James Stevens with the mandamus proceedings to compel the issuance of new licenses to the three complainants.

The consolidated cases will be heard on Thursday, the temporary restraining orders being continued in force until that time.

Answers to the Injunction Proceedings in All Three Cases and to the Stevens Mandamus Suit were filed yesterday by the excise board through Corporation Counsel Thomas. Mr. Thomas holds that the exercise of discretion as to club licenses given to the bars by the excise act is not reviewable by the courts.

PLEA FOR HATTERS

Trade Union Label Convention Promises Support.

APPEAL MADE TO THE PUBLIC

Strike Discussed and Referred to Committee Which Reported Important Declarations—Men Out of Work and Their Families Made Subject of Appeal for Aid.

The Trade Union Label convention formed a union label department of the American Federation of Labor in Washington yesterday. Officers were elected, the secretary-treasurer, under salary, to devote his entire time in furtherance of his department. Thomas F. Tracy, of Boston, was elected to that office. The other officers are: President, John B. Lennon, Bloomington, Ill.; first vice president, John F. Tobin, Boston; second vice president, T. C. Parsons, Washington, D. C.; third vice president, Max Morris, Denver; fourth vice president, Owen Miller, St. Louis; fifth vice president, John J. Manning, Troy, N. Y.

The strike of the hatters was discussed and referred to a committee, consisting of James O'Connell, Washington, D. C.; John F. Tobin, Boston; James M. Lynch, Indianapolis; George W. Perkins, Chicago; Frank Duffy, Indianapolis; Jacob Fischer, Indianapolis; Thomas Reibart, New York; J. Probstle, Cincinnati; John B. Lennon, Bloomington, Ill.; Frank Morrison, Washington, D. C.; Samuel Gompers, Washington, D. C.

Declarations Reported. The committee reported, and the convention unanimously adopted the following declaration: "Ten thousand hatters and 5,000 hat trimmers have been on strike for the last twelve weeks. There are, therefore, 40,000 men, women, and children involved. The hatters have been and are made the target of the concentrated attack, not only of the hat manufacturers, but of the Van Cleave National Association of Manufacturers. In the first instance the suits at law were brought against the United Hatters of North America for $200,000, and now a conspiracy and an attack has been made upon their union label.

"We recognize the attack of the hat manufacturers' organization as not only an attack upon the organized effort of the hatters, but as a blow aimed at the heart of the organized labor movement of our country.

"We recognize the struggling hatters in this contest as the vanguards in the battle waged against the rights and interests not only of themselves, but of all the toiling masses. Therefore it is the duty of every worker, organized and unorganized, to render every possible assistance that greed, chicanery, and tyranny may be thwarted.

"We urgently request that every wage-earner contribute the sum of 10 cents on Saturday, April 17, that if an adjustment is not reached on or before Saturday, May 14, another contribution of 10 cents be made, and that a similar contribution of 10 cents be made on the Saturday nearest the middle of each succeeding month so long as the contest shall continue.

Ask for Food Products. "We urge upon sympathetic and liberty-loving Americans the contribution of food products.

"We urge that all city central bodies be urged to add in carrying into its fullest effect the purpose of this appeal, and to select committees to secure contributions of funds and food products.

The union label digest was authorized to be prepared and printed, covering the labor laws and decisions of the various States. Officers of the new department were authorized and directed to secure offices in the same building with the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor.

At 7:30 o'clock last night the convention adjourned to meet in Toronto, Canada, in November at the same time the American Federation of Labor convention is to be held in that city.
