PURE FOOD DECISION
HARD ON CANDY MEN

Confectioners Hoist by Their Own Petard.

COURT'S RULING IS SWEEPING

So Radical in Its Nature, Head of Chemistry Bureau Tells Audience at Western Presbyterian, that It Will Affect Entire Trade—Manufacturers Evolved Fatal Clause.

A sweeping court decision has unraveled another knot in the enforcement of the pure food and drugs act, according to Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, government "food censor."

It concerns the manufacture of candies and sweetmeats. So radical is its nature that the entire confectionery trade will be affected. Dr. Wiley elaborately explained it to an interested audience in the Western Presbyterian Church last evening.

Three days ago the United States Court of Appeals in New Jersey handed down a decision that the confectionery clause of the pure food and drugs act was to be literally interpreted—a ruling for which Dr. Wiley himself has not contended. The full text of the decision came to the Bureau of Chemistry yesterday afternoon, and after a cursory reading the chief of the bureau declared it one of the most significant interpretations of the law yet given by any jurist. He believes it will be a bomb shell in the ranks of the candy makers.

Hoist by Their Own Petard.

The confectioners are hoist by their own petard. When the pure food act was brought into being constructed with the utmost deliberation the candy manufacturers insisted upon inserting a separate clause relating to their business. Dr. Wiley did not see the value of such a provision, and informed the candy men it might rebound to their detriment.

"They insisted upon placing very strict lines about themselves," he said last evening. "They were entirely honest in their effort to weed out the adulterators from their ranks. Chromium and all mineral substances fell outside the line of legitimate candy making, they declared, and they desired to make their position emphatic by an entirely separate clause. Congress granted them their wish."

"The broad significance of the term, 'mineral substances' now is dawning upon their minds. The court has not adopted the view of the extreme. Salt and water are mineral substances in the eye of the scientist, and if the candy-makers were deprived of these, there would be no candy. But the court will take the view that water is a beverage, and a condiment and article of food, and there is no danger that literal interpretation will reduce the clause to a grotesque absurdity.

Metallic Substances Barred.

"But the text hits hard. It bars out nitrate of silver from all candy making. All metallic substances which enter so largely into the composition of sweetmeats than you would think are barred. The cloud of doubt upon this point has been dispelled. All the silver druggists, or candies coated with some shining mineral, have been condemned to extinction."

"A more effective prosecution, and a surer penalty, will be derived from the decision. Only recently I came across a chocolate cream which had not a speck of chocolate in it. It was thickly coated with oxide of iron. The justice has immeasurably strengthened our hand in dealing with such a case."

The new sublimity of Dr. Wiley is a general merchandise marks act, which is merely a projection of the pure food law into a field embracing all articles of food, and more a sentimental appeal may be made upon the plea of adulteration, and agitation conducted upon this basis is more fruitful. Dr. Wiley believes the true point of attack is indirect misbranding and misrepresentation.

"The most vicious form of lying is that which clothes itself in the garb of truth. When a label is luminous with a falsehood, it must be so carefully scrutinized, no matter how carefully the falsehood is modified and refined and retracted by following explanations. A misleading picture, an epigram which carries with it a misleading inference, and thereby becomes the subtlest form of deception are ruthlessly barred from the label. The label must tell the truth, and nothing but the truth."

"The Clergyman's Boozee."

Dr. Wiley raised a laugh by calling a certain patent medicine "the clergyman's favorite boozee," and added that a man who desires to imbibe alcohol should imbibe it honestly. Asked whether he did not believe Edward W. Bok's editorials were highly influential, he said: "I do not read the Ladies' Home Journal, so I don't know."

When the misbrander and the adulterer are not merely the object of attack from the Bureau of Chemistry, but also from the postal authorities, the champion of "pure food" believes that the crusade will reach its climax. He asserted that higher morality prevails in business but much work remains to be done. The Bureau of Chemistry, he said, has detected more than 1,100 violations of the act since January 1.

CURT WITH REPRESENTATIVE

As Result, District Building Employee Will Get Lay-off.

Madden and Graf, of Illinois, Take Exception to Watchman's Treatment.

Punishment sharp and decisive was meted out to a watchman of the District Building yesterday, who, it is said, was guilty of flagrant discourtesy.

Franklin Build has the afternoon watch at the Fourteenth street entrance to the building. It was after hours when two men passed through the doors Tuesday evening.

"We want to see the Commissioners," one said.

"What do you want?" asked Build, sharply, it is said.

Without further parley, one man brushed by the watchman. The latter made one leap for him, grabbed him by the lapel of the coat, and attempted to bring his mind upon the niceties of the situation.

"Here, didn't I tell you you couldn't go in?" he cried. His captive eyed him calmly enough, but his companion was excited.

"That may cost you something, my man, for we're Congressmen," he replied.

The two visitors were Martin B. Madden and R. V. Graf, both Representatives from Illinois districts. They reported the incident to Capt. Kelly, Assistant Engineer Commissioner. After consultation with Engineer Commissioner Jodson, it was decided that the offending watchman should be punished, but the exact nature of the penalty has not been decided.

At first it was thought a thirty days' layoff would be adequate, but the law has some little provision which precludes so long a term. Dismissal was deemed too severe for the case. It is probable Build will be suspended for four or five days.

BALK AT THE TAXICAB RATES

Companies Oppose Figures Submitted by Commissioners.

Propose Schedule in Return, and This Will Be Taken Under Consideration.

A new schedule of taxicab tariffs was drawn up at the hearing granted by the Commissioners to the two operating companies yesterday. In every case the concerted attempt of the latter to improve their rates was denied.

Final action was not taken, as the taxicab concerns submitted a proposal as to rates which the Commissioners will take under consideration. The nature of this schedule has not been made public.

The draft of rates prepared by Commissioner West included a 30-cent rate for the first half mile or fraction thereof; 19 cents additional for each quarter mile thereafter; 17 cents for each six minutes after that; and 15 cents for each additional minute thereafter. This tariff is the same for one, two, three, or four persons and to be operative night and day.

H. Cornell Wilson, of the Terminal Taxicab Company, proposed a 20-cent rate for the first half mile, an additional charge for three or more passengers, and a charge for going and returning to the garage. The short trips of the cabs, he said, are expensive, and the operation of an empty cab costs as much as transportation of passengers.

Examination of the books of his company was agreed to by Mr. Wilson, but A. K. Cline, of the Federal Taxicab Company, refused it on the ground that it would not furnish the information desired by the Commissioners.

Favor Change of Date.

A resolution, favoring a change in the date of the inauguration until the latter part of April, was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Petworth Citizens' Association Tuesday evening in Pat. worth M. E. Church. The resolution will be forwarded to the District Commissioners. Irregular numbering of houses was discussed and the selection of a public park was advocated by J. I. Painter. I. C. Egan reported the condition of defective property and equipment in the Petworth public school.

Taft Commutes Sentence.

A sentence of dismissal from the army in the case of First Lieut. Frank T. McNarney, Eighth Cavalry, who was tried by court-martial in the Philippines, on charges of drunkenness on duty, and conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, has been commuted by President Taft to a loss of ten tenths in lineal rank, and confinement for six months to the limits of the post and reservation where he may be stationed.

Treaty with Germany Favored.

The Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, at a meeting yesterday, authorized Senator Carter to report favorably to the Senate to-day the treaty with Germany relating to patents. Under the treaty, American inventors are given recognition under the German laws equal to that extended to German citizens by the statutes of the United States.

REVOLT DAYS OVER

IN CENTRAL AMERICA

United States Will Assume a Peace Protectorate.

WARNINGS ARE SENT OUT

Stand Taken in Regard to Revolutionists Regarded as Inevitable at State Department—Zelaya's Representative on Way to United States to Hold Conference with Officials.

The government of the United States is to exercise protectorate functions over the countries of Central America.

This has been regarded as inevitable in administration circles for the last month, and yesterday it was generally admitted by officials high in the councils of the nation that already the peace of the Central American republics depends upon the United States.

Officials in the State Department feel they have a free hand to establish a protectorate government over the little countries of Central America and regard that as the only way peace can be preserved in that part of the world, where revolutions crop out before breakfast and a new man goes in to rule the destinies of his countrymen before luncheon.

The policy of interference by the United States has the indorsement of Great Britain and France, who hold that revolutions will continue in that part of the world until some great power steps in and takes charge of things.

Joined with United States.

Great Britain and France joined with the United States in keeping Cipriano Castro from landing in any of the Central American countries. It was felt that as certain as he landed there was going to be trouble, and it was believed that it would mean the overthrow of the government of Venezuela.

Word has gone forth in several different ways to interested Central Americans from the administration that it was up to the United States to interfere in the destinies of Central America, and officials of the State Department do not hesitate to say that revolutions or internal disturbances of any kind will not be tolerated.

A representative of Zelaya's government is now on his way to Washington, and as soon as he arrives, conferences will likely follow between him and the President and the Secretary of State that will show how the troubles will be untangled.

FOR CENSUS OF UNEMPLOYED.

American Federation of Labor Wants Government to Take It.

The legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor was directed by the executive council, at its meeting yesterday, to make every effort in the direction that the census bill should contain a provision for the enumeration of the unemployed, and that the printing of the official census report be performed in the Government Printing Office.

G. Silverfrund appeared before the executive council in advocacy of a movement for the more general establishment of co-operative citizens' colonies upon the Koreshan Unity plan.

D. D. Mulesky and Mr. William Simpson, president and member of the executive board of the Amalgamated Wood Workers International Union, entered protest against the indorsement of the union label of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

It was decided to communicate with the secretaries of the International Quarrymen's Union, and the Building Laborers' Union, with a view of amicably adjusting the controversy between those two bodies and the local unions of Rock Men and Excavators, of New York City.

Child labor was discussed, and it was decided to urge enactment of laws by the several States for the further protection of children from exploitation. Action was taken to ask Congress for an appropriation providing for inspectors for the enforcement of the child labor law of the District.

Sees for Divorce.

Not yet twenty-one years old, Andrew C. Riley brought suit in the District Supreme Court yesterday for absolute divorce from Mary E. S. Riley. The action is brought by the next friend of the complainant, W. C. McCurdy. Riley says the marriage was performed in Rockville, Md., on November 25, 1907. He is represented by Attorney J. D. Williams.

"Homes of a Hundred Ideas."

Why Home Ideas Are Important.

Every woman seems to cheerish the kitchen as a center of hope in our ideal homes. We have responded generously in this direction, and will gently hint that there are ideas being incorporated in these kitchens that will astonish even some of the cleverest women.

The culinary department does not contain all of the pleasant features of our homes. We contrived to divert interest into other rooms with such success as will prove a revelation to our friends, even as it did to our architect and builder. We always knew there were ideas somewhere that would make a home a charming place. It's very gratifying to be right. The women of Washington did know what constituted an ideal home, and we are ready to prove it.

We are also ready to prove to Washington men that it is the rent he pays which builds up his landlord's fortune and makes him a leading citizen in the community at the tenant's expense. He gets it honestly, easily, far easier than the tenant earns it to pay him.

The house rents in Washington are responsible for keeping the salaried man from providing for his future. We have mastered every point in this question, and we expect to create such an interest in this vital matter of ownership against renting as not only to hold the attention of every house renter, but to cause him to investigate and thus substantiate every statement we have made regarding it.

Another day now and the houses will be ready. The location will be announced within a couple of days by Shannon & Luchs (Selling Agents), 713 Fourteenth street.

"No place like home; no homes like ours."

The Washington Herald has selected for their contest one of our "Homes of a Hundred Ideas." They state that the reason this selection was made was "because of location and of Middaugh & Shannon's (Inc.) known reputation for good architecture, construction, and value, and because they are incorporating in their homes the ideas of the women of Washington."
