

TAFT DISCUSSES VIRGINIA POLITICS

Taking Keen Interest in the Gubernatorial Contest.

WANTS STRONG TICKET NAMED

Representative Slemm, with Other Virginia Leaders, Calls at White House—Member of Cabinet Will Address Newport News Convention—Will Aid State Party.

President Taft and the national administration will extend a helping hand to the Republicans of Virginia in the gubernatorial campaign this year.

Representative C. Bancroft Slemm, of the Ninth Virginia district, who is chairman of the State Republican committee, with J. L. Crupper, of Alexandria, S. Brown Allen, of Staunton, and C. L. Pritchard, of Front Royal, the recent Republican candidate for Congress in the Seventh district, called at the White House yesterday and discussed Virginia politics with the President.

"The President is taking a keen interest in the Virginia fight," said Mr. Slemm after the conference. "He will help us whenever it is possible to do so. He expressed the hope that strong and high men will be nominated for governor and other State offices."

The Republican State convention will be held at Newport News July 23, and the President promised to send a Cabinet officer there to address the convention.

The Virginia gubernatorial election will be the first election held in the South since President Taft's election last fall. The two leading candidates for the Republican nomination are L. P. Summers, collector of internal revenue for the Western Virginia district, and A. P. Gillespie, the Tazewell lawyer and business man. Gillespie will be chosen, it is said, if he is willing to accept the nomination.

HODEL TO FIGHT CHARGES.

Allegany County Sheriff Retains Strong Array of Counsel.

Cumberland, Md., April 29.—Sheriff William E. Hodel has retained former Judge Ferdinand Williams and Capt. J. Philip Roman as counsel to assist Dr. Warren H. Reynolds in his defense on the three indictments for perjury brought by the grand jury yesterday.

It is understood that Sheriff Hodel will put up a stiff fight to clear himself of the charges, which involve swearing to false entries in bills of supplies bought for the jail. Sheriff Hodel has a number of friends who offered him assistance when he was being sought.

TWO SEEK MAYORALTY.

Falmer and Magruder Nominated at Hyattsville.

Hyattsville, Md., April 29.—Acting Mayor John Falmer, Jr., and William T. Magruder were nominated for mayor of Hyattsville at a citizens' convention in Masonic Hall to-night. The election takes place Monday, and there will be a warm time.

St. James Wins Marathon.

Hagerstown, Md., April 29.—In a five-mile race, participated in by Webster Price, of St. James School; William Hines, of Shepherd College, and Robert Thompson, of the Martinsburg High School, Price won. The time was thirty-one and one-half minutes. Hines was a close second, being only eighteen feet behind Price when the flag fell. Thompson dropped out at the end of the fourth mile. Price was awarded the silver cup and Hines a five-dollar prize.

Wedding in Danville.

Danville, Va., April 29.—Miss Gena Trent Salzman, daughter of Otto Salzman, and William Yarborough Miner, of Richmond, were married here to-night at the home of the bride. Dr. W. R. Laird, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Mrs. Roscoe C. Brown, of Clarksville, W. Va., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Gilmore Miner, Jr., was best man. The bridegroom is connected with the Owens & Miner Drug Company, of Richmond.

Danville's New Presbyterian Church.

Danville, Va., April 29.—At a meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church it was decided to begin the canvass at an early date for funds for the erection of a new and handsome church building on the corner of Main street and Sutherland avenue. The Presbyterian church has purchased the property of Mrs. James A. Henderson, for $13,500. The residence will be torn down and a church erected. The present church in Jefferson street is not large enough for the growing congregation.

Hallstorm in Western Maryland.

Hagerstown, Md., April 29.—Portions of Western Maryland were visited by a severe hailstorm to-day, followed by a decided fall in the temperature. In the northern part of the county hail pellets were as large as small hickory nuts, and considerable damage was done to fruit and vegetation.

NEGROES LEAVING VIRGINIA

Going North by Hundreds to Work in Factories.

Farmers in Danville Section Complain of Alarming Scarcity of Labor.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Danville, Va., April 29.—Negro laborers in large numbers are leaving this section, and if the rate at which they are being exported to the Northern factories continues, an alarming situation promises to develop in the rural districts.

Representatives of brick factories at Newburgh and other places in New York State have been at work in and around Danville, and have taken away in the neighborhood of 1,000 laborers.

Tickets for the negroes are purchased from the railroads in blocks of from 1 to 20, and special trains have been provided for their transportation. By far the larger percentage of the negroes were secured from the rural districts, and consist of the best class of colored labor in this section.

At the present season of the year labor is badly needed on the farms, and many of the farmers are complaining of their hands leaving them without notice and their inability to secure help.

Reports from other Southern points indicate a similar condition of affairs, which promises to create a scarcity of labor in the South and a subsequent increase in wages.

WANTS BOYD'S PLACE.

Former Washington County State's Attorney in Judicial Contest.

Hagerstown, April 29.—Charles D. Wagaman, former State's attorney of Washington County, and for years recognized as one of the leading members of the local bar, will be a candidate before the Republican judicial convention for the nomination for chief judge of the Fourth circuit.

Friends of Mr. Wagaman, with the latter's knowledge and consent, to-day made formal announcement of his candidacy to succeed Chief Judge A. Hunter Boyd. Mr. Wagaman has been a life-long Republican, always active in the support of Republican measures and policies. As a man, a citizen, and a lawyer, he stands in the foremost rank and has the esteem of the people of the Fourth judicial circuit.

It is asserted that Washington County will be sold for the nomination of Mr. Wagaman, and those in a position to know claim the strong following he has in Allegany and Garrett counties will be ample to insure his nomination. He is in close touch with the sentiment in Western Maryland, and as a candidate for judge will be acceptable to all Republicans in the circuit. Possessed of the qualifications necessary to the proper performance of the duties of a judge, Mr. Wagaman, his friends feel sure, if nominated and elected, will vindicate their confidence in his ability and his character.

Charles Dahlgren Wagaman is a native of Washington County, and was born at Beaver Creek, January 26, 1854. His father was the late John Wagaman, for ten years prior to his death superintendent of the Washington County Home for Orphan and Friendless Children.

Not Indorsed by Anti-Saloon League.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—It was learned to-day that the monster temperance meeting planned for Saturday next in the Academy of Music, for the purpose of offsetting the meeting held by the merchants of the city, at which the local option fight to repeal prohibition was precipitated, has not the support of the Anti-Saloon League, nor is it being held with the sanction of the Ministers' Association of the city. Dr. James Cannon, recognized head of the Anti-Saloon League, is by no means favorable to the meeting, and several ministers who have been asked to make addresses have declined.

Carolinas, Maryland, and Virginia News

Political and Otherwise.

Bluefield, W. Va.—What is believed to be the largest tree in West Virginia was a poplar felled by Everett Curtis at Raleigh County. Its trunk was cut into five logs, each twelve feet long. The stump measured eight feet across one way and nine feet the other. The logs averaged seven feet in diameter.

D. G. Courtney, of Charleston, offered Mr. Curtis $500 for the logs on the railroad. The offer was refused. It is believed the age of the tree is 500 years. The poplar therefore was a large tree when Columbus discovered America; when Harold fought the battle of Hasting's have been a sapling of considerable size.

Charleston, W. Va.—The hearing of evidence in behalf of this State on the debt litigation between Virginia and West Virginia. It was announced, will begin at Richmond on next Thursday, May 4, before Charles E. Littlefield, special master. West Virginia will be represented by John G. Carlisle, John C. Spooner, and former Gov. W. M. O. Dawson.

Hagerstown, Md.—Following the theft on April 29 of about $2,000 worth of railroad tickets from the office of the Western Maryland Railroad Company here, Detective Burnett and other officers recovered practically all the loot in the barn on the farm of H. A. Myers, along the old National pike, about four miles west of Hagerstown. Myers discovered the stolen tickets while handling hay, and notified the officers, who took work on clues which they believe will lead to the arrest of the thieves. The tickets were mostly for summer resort places in the North. Access to the tickets was gained by cutting a hole through the partition, and then through the cabinet containing the tickets.

Hagerstown, Md.—Leonard Vogel, aged seventy-eight years, while trimming trees in the orchard at his home, at Smithsburg, fell twenty feet from the top of a ladder and sustained injuries that probably will prove fatal. The ladder tumbled, and Vogel fell to the roof of a wash-house and thence head foremost to a stone walk. His false teeth and eye-glasses were demoralized, and in addition to cuts and bruises and the shock, he is believed to have sustained internal injuries.

Norfolk, Va.—Michael J. Brennan died at his home, 235 Hibernia street, after a long illness. He was sixty-five years of age, a native of County Cairn, Ireland, but had lived in Portsmouth fifty years. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Rev. James A. Brennan, assistant pastor of the Catholic church at Fair Church, Va.; Michael P. John, A. Joseph Brennan, and Mrs. William W. Murphy, Misses Margaret, Rose, and Loretta Brennan.

Eschbach, is pastor. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Eschbach, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. Spangler Kieffer, of Hagerstown.

Richmond, Va.—Arthur Whitlock, a well-known barber, who went out with a party on a fishing trip, was drowned, the boat from which they were fishing capsizing. After a narrow escape the other three were rescued. The current was swift, and Whitlock's body was carried down the river, and has not been recovered. Whitlock was thirty years of age. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bacon Whitlock, of Fulton, a suburb of Richmond.

Salisbury, N. C.—With more than sixty ministers and lay delegates in attendance, the 16th annual session of the North Carolina Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church convened yesterday at Faith, Rowan County. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. V. E. Bouze of Cabarrus County, who is president of the synod. The synod will remain in session two days.

Lynchburg, Va.—Evangelist Charles Rejn Scoville, who was to have conducted a month's revival here next month, under the auspices of the Christian churches, has advised the ministerial association that he will be unable to keep his appointment because he and his assistants are a month behind in their work in meetings in Des Moines, Iowa. The evangelist will go to Evansville, Ind., and would have come here in June, but that month was not deemed a proper time for the meeting.

HONOR TO JOHN CALVIN.

Lexington Presbytery at Harrisonburg Discusses His Teachings.

Harrisonburg, Va., April 29.—The feature of the third day's session of the Lexington Presbytery was an address delivered by Rev. G. B. Strickler, professor of theology in Union Theological Seminary, at Richmond, Va., subject being "The five points of Calvinism." Elder Frank T. Glasgow, of Lexington, made an address on Calvin's influence upon the political development of the world.

To-morrow night an address will be made by Rev. A. M. Fraser on "How may the principles of Calvinism be rendered more effective under modern conditions?" This series is in celebration of the 40th anniversary of the birth of John Calvin. The presbytery declared itself opposed to the overtone favoring rotary eldership.

He was junior warden of Winchester Hiram Lodge of Masons, also a member of John Dove and Royal Arch Lodges and of the Knights Templars. For a number of years he was secretary of the Friendship fire company. A wife, who was Miss Maggie Baker, and two daughters survive.

Lynchburg Grocer Assigns.

Lynchburg, Va., April 29.—C. W. McCarthy, a grocer, assigned to-day for the benefit of his creditors. The liabilities are placed at $1,500, and assets at $200.

SHOT IN ODD MANNER.

Pistol Falls from Man's Pocket and Is Discharged.

Danville, Va., April 29.—A. B. Huyler, superintendent of parks, of this city, was seriously and probably fatally wounded to-day as the result of the accidental discharge of his pistol.

He was working over a bed of flowers in Ballou Park this morning when his pistol fell from the holster, the weapon striking against a rock and exploding. The ball entered his right breast.

BIG GRANITE FIRMS MERGE.

Companies Near Salisbury Combine with Over a Million Capital.

Salisbury, N. C., April 29.—An amalgamation of the Balfour Pink Granite Company, the Rowan Granite Company, and the American Stone Company, three of the biggest granite companies in the South, was effected this week, when A. H. Price, of this city, applied to the State of North Carolina for a charter for a new concern, to be known as the W. A. Balfour Granite Company. The paid-in capital of the new company is $1,250,000, and more than 2,000 workmen will be employed in developing the quarries three miles south of Salisbury. The main offices will be in this city, while branch offices will be established in New York, Philadelphia, Toronto, and other cities.

TAKES GUNS FROM POLICE.

West Virginia Anti-pistol Toting Law May Aid Lawlessness.

Charlottesville, W. Va., April 29.—The State anti-pistol-toting law, which goes into effect in a few days, prohibits even police and other officers from carrying weapons unless a bond of $500 is given. Officers all over the State are greatly exercised over the law, as bonding companies refuse to go on their bonds, claiming that on account of the character of many officers "the risk is too great."

FAIRFAX NOT AN ASPIRANT.

Loudoun Farmer Refuses to Be "Insurgent" Candidate.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—Henry Fairfax, the former corporation commissioner and State senator, to-day declared he is not a candidate for governor, and will not make a "bid" as what would be known as the "insurgent" candidate. It is not believed now that the "insurgents," or that element in the Democratic party dissatisfied with the attitude and campaign of Mr. Tucker and Judge Mann as the candidate for the Democratic nomination, will be able to find a candidate. This element among the Democrats appears to be very large, but it is generally believed that any candidate announcing now for governor will have little chance to capture the nomination unless he makes a whirlwind campaign.

SLIPS FROM HOUSE; ENDS LIFE.

Norfolk Girl Drowns Herself in a Creek.

Norfolk, Va., April 29.—Mary Corbell, twenty-two years old, daughter of William Corbell, deranged by long illness, committed suicide to-day by stealing from the house while other members of the family slept and drowning herself in a creek.

Her father found the body, clad in a red robe, in only three inches of water. She was seen reading her Bible up to 1 o'clock this morning.

WADE CASE WITH JURY.

Opinion Prevails a Verdict Will Not Be Reached.

Lynchburg, Va., April 29.—The Wade case was given to the jury at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, and at 7 o'clock the jury, being unable to agree, was sent to supper. The indications now are for a hung jury, despite the prevailing opinion that a verdict of guilty would be rendered quickly. At 10 o'clock to-night Judge Christian locked the Wade jury up until to-morrow morning. During the evening the jury asked the court if a second degree verdict could be rendered. The court's reply was a simple explanation of what constituted first and second degrees of murder.

CHEAP RATE DISCUSSED.

Richmond to Washington May Get a 2-cent Fare.

Richmond, Va., April 29.—An informal conference took place Wednesday between the State corporation commission and the officials of the Richmond-Washington line on the subject of a passenger rate for that line. Information regarding the conference is given to-day.

The proposition discussed, if put into effect, will give to the traveling public between Richmond and Washington, or other stations on that road, and returning in seven days, a 2-cent rate, and to the remaining small number of Virginia passengers going only one way a 2 1/2-cent rate when using a round-trip ticket only one way, the said rate of 2 1/2 cents being the same which has been ordered for other roads in Virginia by the commission.

Million Pounds of Tobacco Unsold.

Lynchburg, Va., April 29.—Well-informed tobacco men of the city express the belief that considerably less than 1,000,000 pounds of dark tobacco will be disposed of here during the remainder of the present season. The sales now aggregate, in price, 3,200,000 pounds, and they will go only to the value of 1,000,000 pounds. This has been one of the most satisfactory seasons here in some years, and the offerings are nearly 7,000,000 pounds in excess of the season of 1907-8.

Will Sift Brownsville Affair.

It is likely fully 100 of the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, dismissed from the service for participation in the so-called Brownsville affair, will be sent to the court of inquiry soon to assemble. Information has been sent as far as possible to all of the men affected by President Roosevelt's order of dismissal, and they will have an opportunity to show reason why they should not have been punished as they were.

KILLS GIRL STUDENT

Dartmouth Graduate Ends Romance in Tragedy.

REJECTED BY HIS FIANCEE

Crime Committed on College Campus. Just Before Opening of School, Shocks Hundreds of Friends of the Young Woman—Gardener Witnesses the Shooting.

Northampton, Mass., April 29.—For the first time in the history of Smith College, whose alumni number thousands and whose undergraduates have counted more than 1,000 a year for a decade past, murder and suicide horrified the college community to-day, when Helen Arer Marden, of Somerville, Mass., a senior, was shot to death by her discarded fiance, Porter McDougall Smith, of Chicago, who was graduated from Dartmouth in the class of '08, and for many months a traveling salesman.

Smith engaged the girl in conversation after he had met her near one of the entrances to the college campus, returned with her to the college grounds, and walked a short distance to the broad pavement in front of the students' building. He and the girl stood for a few seconds and then there came the report of a pistol, a muffled report, for the shot was fired at very close range. The young woman swayed with a wound in the right temple, and was falling to the ground when another shot was fired and the ball missed her. She fell on her face on the pavement and as she lay there Smith stood over her and drove a bullet into her back.

Gardener Sees Shooting.

The college gardener saw the shooting, and ran to disarm Smith, but as he approached Smith pressed the smoking muzzle of the new .32-caliber pistol with which he had fatally wounded the girl to his left temple and blew out his brains. He fell to the ground dead, and his body lay within four feet of that of his victim, who had lost consciousness and whose blood mingled with his in a dark and widening pool of red. Miss Marden lived until 11:30 o'clock, when she died in the room in the students' building into which she was carried after the shooting.

Two in Conference.

The busiest hour of the Smith College day was chosen by Porter Smith for his interview with the girl, who last year promised to be his wife and who at Christmas broke the engagement. He left his room in the Hotel Draper wing at 8 o'clock, and went to the college campus, where he waited for the girl to appear.

Helen Marden was within sight of her lodging house when she met Smith on the walk. The girl and the man were seen to talk for a minute, and then both crossed the street, side by side, to the campus gate and entered the grounds. They were walking slowly, engaged in conversation, and went along until they reached the front of the students' building, when they stopped.

Edward J. Canning, the college gardener, and a number of men who were assisting him in the mowing of the lawn, saw the couple approach and stop. Suddenly there was a report of a pistol, and the little group of men heard the girl scream and saw her sway. As she was reeling to the pavement there was another shot, and a bullet went singing through the air.

The girl had fallen to the ground and was lying on her face when Smith fired the third shot and buried a bullet in her back, causing sprang forward when the second shot was fired, and was crossing the green lawn when Smith, after firing

COLLIER'S WILL AIDS CHARITY

Employees of Publishing Company Remembered by Rich Employer.

Seton Hall College Receives $5,000, and Several Hospitals Are Mentioned.

New York, April 29.—The will of Peter Fenelon Collier, filed for probate to-day, provides for an annual income of $40,000 for the widow and leaves the residue of the estate together with the publishing business to his son, Robert J. Collier. Several charitable institutions receive bequests, while a number of old employees are also remembered.

The petition states that the value of the real and personal property is over $1,000,000, but it was said that the total value of the estate is about $500,000. The will is dated November 18, 1908, and names the son as sole executor, to serve without bond.

The will leaves to St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Hospital at Syracuse, the Hospital for Incurable Consumptives, in the Bronx, and St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Seminary at Cincinnati $200 a year each for ten years.

The will provides that if the son shall die without issue the residue of the estate is to go to establish a nonsectarian orphan asylum in Monmouth County, N. J., the trustees of the asylum to be the Roman Catholic Bishop of Trenton, and the pastor of the Catholic church in Monmouth County.

Fearing that his father and mother might have been harmed in the revolution in Constantinople, Jack Carpenter, a son, in this city, called his father and has in response a message reading, "All well."

THE POLE HUNTERS.

One man goes South to find the Pole, and then returns, and writes a scroll, which, published in the magazines, will stock him up with pork and beans. One man goes North, the Pole to find; the journey is a beastly grind, and he comes back with frozen feet, and whiskers full of snow and sleet, and writes flapdoodle for the press, and draws a nice fat check, I guess. Of stories of the arctic waste I've read so much that I can taste the polar bears and Eskimo, and walrus grease and uncooked snow; and though I'm tired, I'm glad, at least, that there is no Pole in the East; and gladder still, be it confessed, that there is no Pole in the West.

"Homes of a Hundred Ideas."

Buying a Home as a Means of Saving Money.

The man who accumulates is the man who understands how to spend with profit. Economy does not only mean saving; it also means wise expenditure. The salaried man who buys his own home makes present expenditures result in future accumulation.

Our purchase plan, whereby one of the "homes of a hundred ideas" may be bought at $37.50 per month, all interest included, enables the rent which has been wasted in the past to become a profit in the future. It only requires $850 cash to take advantage of these remarkable terms.

Our terms are economical, but our nine-room homes are enviably ideal. In every part of our new home the ideas of the women of Washington add that thoughtful touch inseparable from a woman's conception of an ideal home. How little ideas increase the convenience of a kitchen! A shelf for the clock, for instance—there are few kitchens where one will be found.

Nine rooms; each alternate building of different design, the structural plan being so modified as to present a variety in front elevation, assuring individuality in each home. The plan is a radical departure from the old method, with the dark dining room and middle bedrooms. Broad porches; lots 20x140 feet.
