Cleveland, May 19.—It was up to either Cleveland or Washington to-day to break the losing streak that each had been carrying along, and much to the delight of the Cleveland rooters, who were about to give up hope, the Naps drew the smiles from Dame Fortune and took the big end of the score, which was 7 to 4.

It was the first time that this flicking jabs had really beamed on the Cleveland team for over two weeks, and the Cleveland fans could not believe their eyes when Bradley speared Delehanty's line drive and doubled Conroy in the first inning, this play being followed in the third by another even more lucky.

Pitchers Hit Hard.

Thus it happened that Washington, the club that knocked Cleveland out of the pennant in 1908, was the goat on whom the Naps wreaked revenge for the six defeats inflicted by Boston and New York. They opened up on Charley Smith, the native son, in the first inning and they kept whacking him to the finish, securing at least one safe hit in every inning except the fourth. Cy Young was also hit hard, but outside of the eighth round, when Washington bunched a single, triple, and a double, he was effective with men on base. It is true, though, that much of his effectiveness was due to the support accorded him by Bradley, Turner, Lajoie, and Easterly.

Those fans that like lots of batting certainly had their wishes well served, for of the twenty-three hits that were made, four were doubles, two were triples, and one a home run.

That the Naps had luck with them was demonstrated in the first inning, when Conroy, after tripping to deep center, was doubled up when Delehanty hit a terrific line right into Bradley's hands. All that Brad had to do was to touch third base, and the side was retired.

A Lucky Play.

The horseshoe play, though, took place in the third round. With one out, Street scratched a hit, and went to second on Young's wild throw. Smith hit a grounder to first that hit Stovall in the foot and bounded right into Lajoie's hands. Young covered first base and secured the put out on one of the most unique plays ever recorded. Then Browne and Conroy followed with singles which scored Street. After that the Washingtons averaged hits to the inning, without scoring until the eighth, when Conroy doubled, Delehanty tripled, and Donohue singled. These three swats, with a passed ball, and an infield out, netted three runs, and gave the Cleveland fans something of a soft ball.

In the Naps had been doing some very effective batting. Right at the outset, Goode scratched a hit and took second on Delehanty's wild throw. Bradley and Turner popped up flies, but Lord scored Goode, and also himself on his home run to center. Lajoie also singled, but Stovall was easy.

Cravath's Star Play.

With one out in the second, Hinchman doubled. Goode walked and stole, and both runners scored when Bradley doubled to right. Turner followed with a single, but Bradley was out at the plate on Cravath's good throw.

Stovall's single, a wild pitch, and Easterly's scratch hit were productive of another run in the third, and then the Naps scored scoring until the seventh. Then McBride's error, Lord's scratch hit, Smith's wild throw to first, and Lajoie's pop single sent two more Clevelanders across the plate.

Parker-Bridget $18 Suits at $18

No, the printer hasn't made a mistake in the headline. We do not say $20 or $25 suits at $18, because WE have suits at $20 which are better than our $18 suits and suits at $25 which are better still. But we DO say "Parker-Bridget $18 Suits at $18."

Taking the values of others as a basis of comparison, we might conservatively say $20 suits at $18—for these suits represent the biggest values in style and quality we or you can find at the price.

We think you'll catch our point—know you will, if you see the suits and compare them with others, "specially priced" or otherwise, at $18.

No better place than our Boys' Clothing Department to outfit little and big boys for summer.

ST. JOHN'S WOLLOPED

Hilltoppers Have It Easy at Visitors' Expense.

SAM SIMON MAKES FOUR HITS

Fast Georgetown Outfielder Cloths Ball for Keeps—Melville, of the Maryland College, Gets a Homer. Devine Pitches Consistent Game for the Blue and Gray.

For four innings St. John's, of Annapolis, had the Blue and Gray batters badly scared yesterday afternoon. Then came the fun. In the fifth the Hilltoppers put seven cool counters in their scoring column, and added five more before the battle ended. The final score was Georgetown, 12; St. John's, 5.

The first two sessions were good ones. With the exception of an excusable error on the part of Melville, of the visitors, the players all did some classy work. Both pitchers were also working well, and prospects for an exciting battle looked good. Two hits and an error let the Annapolis lads get two runs in the third, no other score being made until the latter half of the fifth.

The Fun Starts.

Duffy was up first for Georgetown and fanned. Devine, who followed, got his base by being hit by a pitched ball. A wild pitch a minute later let Devine to third, and from there home; the catcher of St. John's having hurt his ankle while recovering the sphere. It was a bad sprain, but the youngster was game and went back into action, amidst the applause of the spectators. The delay, however, worked havoc among his team mates who went up in the air entirely, letting in six more runs before retiring the side.

In the sixth Melville, of the Marylanders, got a home run, having sent the horseshoe on a line drive over the bank behind the center fielder. Simon got jealous and, when the locals again got a chance at the bat, he tried for a four-cornered one. It was a peach of a swat out toward the sign board between left and center, but try as he would, the ex-captain couldn't make more than three bases on it.

Visitors Score.

A couple of hits netted the visitors two runs in the seventh, these being more than made up for by a bat fest of the Georgetownies in the eighth, which resulted in four more tallies being added to their already great number. The first three men up for St. John's in the ninth were retired in order and the game ended with Georgetown the victor by over twice the runs of her opponent.

The making of errors seemed to be in the air on both sides, seven being made by the losers and four by the victors. Boswell, the visiting twirler, was a disappointment to those who had heard of his work against the Navy, while the team work of the whole Annapolis contingent was ragged in the extreme. The one feature of the day was the hitting of Simon. Out of five times up, this man got four clean hits, one of which was a terrific line drive, which also did well with the stick, getting two bingles out of three times at bat, and a sacrifice bunt. Grove did the star work for the losers, getting two hits and as many put-outs, both of the latter being credited from base catches in the outfield.

BRENTWOOD FORFEITS GAME.

Quit in Fifth Inning After Berwyn Scores Four Runs.

Special to the Washington Herald.

Hyattsville, Md., May 19.—The game here this afternoon between the Berwyn and Brentwood teams, of the Prince George County League, broke up in the fifth inning, when the visitors became possessed of what the sports in a certain popular game call "cold feet."

The home team played excellent ball throughout, and after they had made four runs in the fourth session, the visitors became disgusted and quit the game. Frank Hurd, the sheriff of the county, caught for Berwyn, and did fine work. Brentwyn plays at Hyattsville Saturday. Brentwood will play at Langdon, Riverdale has an off day. Score:
