

POST WARNINGS IN CHINESE LAUNDRIES

Proprietors Want No Repetition of the Sigel Case.

FOLLOW EVERY MURDER CLEW

New York Detectives Redouble Efforts to Locate Leung Lim-Thorough Search in New Jersey, but Others as Far North as Boston and as Far South as Washington.

New York, June 28.—In almost all the Chinese laundries of this city and territory abutting have been posted placards warning Chinamen to leave white women alone.

Laundries owned by individual Chinese are few in these parts. Most of them are controlled by big companies, and it is these companies that have caused the warning posters to be displayed in the back rooms of the laundries.

Threaten to Punish.

The print is Chinese and the language pointed. It says that conversation between white women and employes must be restricted to the year, and, nay, or of business. The gist of the orders is that the laundrymen's job is knocking the spots off soiled clothes, and must stop there. The warning says that disobedience will be punished by their own people.

To-day Inspector McCaffery, chief of the detective bureau, relieved himself of the first extended interview he has given since the search began for Leung Lim to the man who killed Elsie Sigel on June 9. A dozen Central Office men, McCaffery said, have recently been sent to New Jersey to follow the best lead as to the whereabouts of Leung, who has developed since that wily Sunday school boy was accused of the murder. They are now in Hackensack, Newark, Passaic, Paterson, and smaller towns.

As Far South as Washington.

In addition fifty other detectives from the home office have been distributed among the larger cities of the East. They are scouting as far north as Boston and as far south as Washington. McCaffery does not know that any of the fifty has a really first-class clew, but they're all plugging at something. The hunt has reached a point where hardly a rumor is deemed too fishy for an able-bodied Central Office sleuth to put in his best legs on.

McCaffery believes that Leung Lim is alive and that he cannot escape capture.

New Clew Is Found.

An expressman appeared at the West Forty-seventh street police station to-night and said that on the morning of June 9 he got a trunk from the top floor of the building at 78 1/2 Eighth avenue, where Elsie Sigel was killed, and carried it to a Chinese laundry in East 126th street run by Wah Lee. It was on the morning of June 9 that the Sigel murder took place.

The expressman started to show the West Forty-seventh street lieutenant a note book which he said was a record of the trunk transaction, but the lieutenant hustled him over to the office of the fourth branch detective bureau in charge of a detective who there the two started for police headquarters.

It was reported that Capt. Carey had gone to the laundry of Wah Lee in East 126th street, closed it up, and caused a police lock to be placed on the door.

Arrest Chinaman in Boston.

Boston, June 28.—The police took a Chinaman from an inward bound Worcester car to-night and conveyed him to station 14, where he will be questioned in regard to the Elsie Sigel murder. He is said to have been talking freely about the crime.

KILLS HUSBAND'S SLAYER.

Widow Takes Law in Her Own Hands in Black Hand Case. New York, June 28.—While several thousand girls and women were on their way to their West Side homes to work in the West Side loft buildings, there was a shooting in the thick of the hurrying crowd at Spring and Sullivan streets.

With five bullets, all of which entered his body, Mrs. Louisa La Barba, a widow, twenty-five years old, of 113 West Nineteenth street, shot Domingo Versagia, nineteen years old, of 71 Sullivan street. No one in the crowd was hurt, but the girls and women, screaming, fled into doorways, while Morris Becker, of 106 Spring street, sprang upon the woman and disarmed her.

Versagia was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he died this afternoon. Mrs. La Barba declared that her victim was a Black Hander, and that he had shot and killed her husband in the hallway of their home last June. She said she had tried for a year to get Versagia punished, but all her efforts had been in vain, so she decided to take vengeance on the Italian with her own hands. She was locked up in the Macdonald street station.

A police records showed that on June 21, 1908, Bruno La Barba was found lying at Varick and Downing streets with a long knife in his heart. The man was identified, but no clew was obtained as to his-taking off.

MUNYON SUEED AGAIN.

Third Wife, Bride of a Year, Wants Divorce—Younger Than Husband.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Prof. James M. Munyon's third matrimonial venture, essayed through his marriage of April 9, 1908, at Jersey City, to the beautiful Miss Neff, daughter of Col. D. J. Neff, dean of the Blair County bar, has not proved a success. His bride has sued him for a divorce in the Court of Common Pleas, charging, among other things, that she was ordered from their home at Fifty-fourth street and Columbia avenue on June 12.

P. F. Rothel, Jr., counsel for Mrs. Munyon, will only acknowledge that the suit has been brought, and refuses to discuss its details. Mrs. Munyon is sojourning at Atlantic City to-day. Dr. Munyon is also out of town.

Mrs. Munyon, who is twenty-five years old, first met her sixty-one-year-old admirer in Florida a year before their marriage. He has one of the finest homes in the State there. Mrs. Munyon was secretly married seven years ago to a Mr. Metzgar, in Santa Fe, New Mexico. She secured a divorce from him in 1906, and later went on the vaudeville stage for a few years, quitting it a short while before her marriage to Dr. Munyon.

PEACE MEASURE IS UP.

Resolution Introduced by Representative Barthold, of Missouri. Another measure looking toward international peace and amity was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Barthold, of Missouri, chairman of the American Group of the International Parliamentary Union. It came in the form of a resolution directing the President to appoint two commissions, one of which shall be known as the Committee on Permanent International Court Arbitration and the other as the Commission on the Limitation of Armaments.

Each commission is to be composed of three persons, who shall receive a salary of $7,500 a year. The resolution requests the President to ask all the powers signatory to the Hague Conference to make a report on the subjects with which they are to deal at least two years prior to the date of the next Hague Conference.

PROTESTS AGAINST HENEY VANDERBILT AS AUTOSPEEDER

Attorney for Calhoun Wants Special Prosecutor Barred. No Bondsman Present, So Magistrate Has Pity on Him.

It is Charged that He is Prejudiced and in the Employ of the Federal Government. Policeman Says Machine Was Going Up Madison Avenue at 24 Miles an Hour.

San Francisco, June 28.—Attorney Stanley Moore, for Patrick Calhoun, to-day presented in court long affidavits to support his motion that Special Prosecutor Francis G. Heney is incompetent to try graft cases because of his prejudice against Calhoun and other defendants and also because he has violated the State statute by accepting pay for services from Rudolph Spreckels while he was receiving money from the government for his advice in land fraud cases in Oregon.

Moore showed that Heney was paid $88,25 by the government, of which $15,000 in excess of orders by the Attorney General. This sum seems to have been ordered paid by former President Roosevelt. The motion recited all the facts brought out in the recent trial of the employment of Heney by Rudolph Spreckels, and of the partisan spirit in which prosecution has been conducted.

The judge took the motion under advisement. It was intimated by the prosecution that on Thursday it would ask for further delay in beginning the second trial of Calhoun. Heney is away on an automobile tour of the Coast. "I have no bondsman in court," remarked Mr. Vanderbilt. Magistrate Finn then looked at the papers again and said: "Well, you are Cornelius Vanderbilt. I guess that you are good enough, and if I parole you, you will produce bonds here to-morrow morning."

"Most assuredly I will," replied Mr. Vanderbilt. "Thank you, judge, you are, indeed, kind." "We try to be as kind as we possibly can. Will you be here to-morrow," again asked the magistrate. "I certainly shall. This is my first experience in court," replied Mr. Vanderbilt, and after again thanking the magistrate, he hurried from the court room.

MRS. CLEVELAND TESTIFIES

Defense in Brandenburg Case Rests After She Is Heard.

Attorney for Defendant Intimates that Political Forces Are Working Against His Client. New York, June 28.—Mrs. Frances Polson Cleveland, widow of Grover Cleveland, came down from the ex-President's former summer home at Tamworth, N. H., to-day to appear as a witness against Broughton Brandenburg, who is on trial in the Supreme Court on a charge of obtaining $500 by false pretenses through the sale to the New York Times of an article purporting to have been written by Mr. Cleveland. She was escorted to the criminal courts building by the attorney, Finley, of the City College, and Dr. Bryant, Grover Cleveland's physician.

Mrs. Cleveland's actual testimony took only about ten minutes, but she was forced to sit through long legal wrangles before being allowed to say "Yes" or "No." Assistant District Attorney Nott wishes to show by her that though she had been with her husband at the time when, according to the legal charges, Cleveland wrote the article in question, she never heard him mention the matter. Justice Fitzgerald ruled out this testimony. After testifying, Mrs. Cleveland appeared to take great interest in the proceedings.

The defense rested in the forenoon. Oswald Jacoby, summing up for Brandenburg, intimated that very powerful political forces had been working against the client because of the attack upon Bryanism included in the article. The case will go to the jury to-morrow afternoon.

TAFT BRAVES THE HEAT.

In Spite of the Temperature, He Plays a Game of Golf. Although it was one of the hottest days of the season in Washington, President Taft played golf yesterday afternoon. The weather was partly cloudy and rain threatened, but the heat was oppressive. Since the present heat wave arrived until yesterday the President has taken his daily recreation in the form of motor trips in the suburbs of Washington, instead of playing golf on the links at Chevy Chase.

MAPS OUT TAFT'S ITINERARY.

Gen. Henry Completes the Railroad Schedule for Celebration. Albany, June 28.—Adj. Gen. Nelson H. Henry to-day completed the railroad schedule for the trip of President Taft and Ambassadors Bryce and Jusserand to the Lake Champlain tercentenary celebration next week. President Taft will start from Norwich, Conn., Ambassador Bryce from Bar Harbor, and Ambassador Jusserand from Washington. They will meet in Albany to make the journey to Fort Ticonderoga, where they are to participate in the exercises.

Adj. Gen. Henry, representing New York, and Col. W. D. Nutt, for Vermont, will meet President Taft in Albany and act as his escort during the trip. Ambassador Bryce's escort is to consist of Maj. Oliver B. Bridgman, of Squadron A, of New York, and Gen. B. R. Noble, of Vermont. Commander R. P. Forshaw, of New York, and C. D. Nelson, of Vermont, will act as escort to Ambassador Jusserand.

Exposition of Aerial Craft.

Boston, June 28.—A national exposition of aerial craft will be held in this city early next spring. The Wright brothers, Prof. W. H. Pickering, of Harvard; A. H. Forbes, vice president of the Aero Club, of New York; Hiram P. Maxim; Prof. H. H. Clayton, Capt. Thomas Baldwin, of New York; Charles J. Glidden, of Boston; George H. Curtis, of Hammondsport, N. Y., and others are interested in the affair.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU

Alexandria, Va., June 28.—The city Republican committee held a meeting at Armory Hall to-night, at which ten delegates were chosen to attend the State convention, which will be held at Newport News, July 28 next. Each delegate will have the power of selecting his own alternate, and at the convention they will be entitled to one-half a vote each.

The meeting was presided over by J. Armistead Egghorn, city chairman, and Charles W. Hancock served as secretary pro tem. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the administrations of President Taft and State Chairman C. Bascomb Slomp. The following is a list of the delegates chosen: Park Avenue, L. Crupper, J. A. Egghorn, W. H. Kelly, Donald Atcheson, J. Frank Clark, Harry B. Quinn, William Luckett, W. P. Graves, and Charles W. Hancock.

When the cases of George Peverill, a Free Methodist preacher, and Morgan Moore were called in the Police Court this morning to answer a charge of disorderly conduct and fighting, both men were acquitted. In acquitting the parties all parties concerned were sorry. It is not necessary to parade the law, it is necessary to draw any lesson, and better to deal less in personalities, and more in generalities. No good can be accomplished by such talk. Peverill was warned that a repetition would result in his arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Peverill told the court he got the worst of it, but did not desire to prosecute. His remark, he said, was: "Prepare to meet thy God; wake up; judgment day is coming." In conclusion, he claimed, he said: "Respect the young lady down the river." Peverill said that he was, then struck on the face and kicked twice by Moore.

Moore, in his own defense, said Peverill pointed to the house of the young woman who was drowned on Decoration day, remarking: "This is the house where the young lady lived who was carried down the river and drowned." He also said that Peverill had passed the place for the last three consecutive Sundays, and made somewhat similar remarks. He asked that Peverill be bound over to keep the peace. Following the acquittal of both men Peverill shook the hand of Moore as both left the court room.

ISRAEL W. DURHAM EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Continued from Page One. mate of which was probably when several hundred Philadelphians worked up to a high pitch over the street car franchise situation, called at his house one night and made a threatening demonstration. Durham was cool throughout, and was not frightened into changing his course, although at that time the hot heads were shouting to hang the alderman and the bosses. Durham proved his staying qualities in the long run by retiring Weaver and electing an organization man mayor.

Controlled the Patronage.

As Republican leader of Philadelphia, Durham held the city entirely in his grasp. If he suggested the removal of a place holder, the latter was immediately discharged by telegraph. Millions of dollars were distributed in the way of franchises, and other millions through impossible contracts during his reign. No person connected with the organization or the city government was permitted to speak except those duly designated for the purpose, and for six years no man sitting in city councils dared utter a word of protest.

This six-year period took in the entire administration of Mayor Ashbridge and the first two years of the administration of Durham kept both of these men in line, and through them held fast to a grand army of 10,000 officeholders and 6,000 division workers, who, combined, cast all the votes representing the fabulous majority of the rank. He was a follower of the late Senator Quay, and a friend of Senator Penrose.

BOMB MYSTERY UNSOLVED.

Mayor Busse Demands Vigorous Action on Part of Police. Chicago, June 28.—Mayor Busse to-day demanded vigorous action on the part of the police and all other city departments in the detection of the bomb explosion in the downtown district.

The explosion has aroused the greatest concern and indignation among business men. Resulting, as it did, in probable fatal injuries to one man, more or less injuries to a score of other persons, putting 1,000 telephones out of commission, and causing damage exceeding $100,000 to surrounding property the infection of excitement spread through the Loop district, and the streets in the vicinity were crowded all day with persons viewing the shattered windows and discussing the affair.

Police officials, after twelve hours of investigation, are still of the opinion that labor troubles of the Chicago Telephone Company are responsible for the outrage.
