CROWDS AT SEASHORE

Thousands Pace Boardwalk at Atlantic City.

WINDS TOO COOL FOR BATHERS

Noon Hour Saves Day for Bath-house Barons, and They Do a Land Office Business—Baseball Game Played at the Inlet—Visitors Enjoy Free and Easy Sunday.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 4.—With 100,000 people pacing the boardwalk and as many more scattered over the beach and other parts of the resort, Atlantic City had the biggest Fourth of July ever known on the Atlantic coast.

The final rush on morning trains brought nearly 20,000 late comers, including the one-day excursionists.

The rush to work marked the end of three days' pilgrimage that lifted the population of the city from 50,000 to four times that number. Constant streams of people overflowed street cars. Great busses and other vehicles lined up to convey them to hotels and boardwalks, while the remainder made up a parade that stretched for blocks over avenues leading to the beach.

The chilly north winds of the early morning halted the frenzied rush for the breakers, but the bath house barons mourned when they ran out of bath robes about noon. They had to employ at the work of drying out returned robes to provide for the afternoon bathing crowd.

Saloon side doors swung easily. Political managers of the local baseball teams who paid fines for running a game three weeks ago took a chance on another Sunday contest at Inlet Park, and reaped a good sized harvest without interference from the reformers, who were caught napping.

An official ban on Sunday fireworks halted attempts of overpatriotic visitors to celebrate in advance, but most of the crowd will stay over to-morrow to work off their Independence Day enthusiasm.

REV. J. L. ALLISON SPEAKS.

Union of Religion and Patriotism Tople at Open-air Service.

The Sunday afternoon services under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association were held yesterday in Franklin Park. The opening prayer was made by Dr. G. P. Wilson, of the Northminster Presbyterian Church, and Rev. John Lee Allison addressed the meeting. His subject was patriotism. He pointed out that it is impossible to have true patriotism without some form of religion.

At the services which were inaugurated yesterday at Lincoln Park Rev. John Weidley, pastor of the Church of the Reformation, delivered the address. He said the church and state were inseparable, and that the country cannot exist for any length of time if religion and the teaching of sound moral principles are not made a substantial part of the government.

The former counselor of the French Embassy and Mme. des Portes de la Fosse, now at Tunis, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mlle. Giulia de la Fosse, to M. Henri de Rousseray. They are all in Tunis, which is one of the newly added countries to the French possessions. Mlle. de la Fosse was one of the best known of the young people in Washington society in the last few years. She made her debut at Newport several years ago, and her great popularity followed almost at once. One of the last times she was seen at a large gathering here was at the reception of President and Mrs. Roosevelt in the White House on last New Year's Day. She and her mother left Washington for France shortly afterward and the counselor joined them there later. Her fiancé is wealthy and comes of a distinguished French family of prominence.

The French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand will leave Washington to-day for Lake Champlain to participate in the festivities of the tercentenary and will return here immediately afterward. Their time of departure for France is not yet determined, but it will be close to the adjournment of the extra session of Congress.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Meyer and their daughters accompanied by Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and Miss Eleanor Sears, of Boston, who have been at Newport on the Dolphin, returned to the Meyer home at Hamilton for the celebration of July 4. The retiring United States Consul General to London and Mrs. Robert J. Wynne will sail for their home in this country July 10 and return to Washington.

Mrs. John W. Garrett, wife of the first secretary of the United States Embassy at Rome, who has been ill, is recovering, so that she will soon go to her charming Villa Barberini at Castelgandolfo for the summer.

The United States Ambassador to France and Mrs. White will have their Fourth of July celebration in Paris to-day, when they will hold their customary public reception for Americans in Paris.

Mrs. Wiborg and her daughters, who spent the winter in Washington and who are now abroad, have gone from London to Ireland. The youngest of Mrs. Wiborg's daughters was presented at the last season. Mrs. Wiborg is a niece of Gen. Sherman. They will go later to Schwalbach.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond, who are building a splendid home in Washington for the winter season, are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sloan, at Elm Court, their Lenox place.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Brodie and Miss Barbara Brodie, of this city and Mexico, sailed on Saturday for Europe for the summer. Mrs. Brodie is a daughter of the late Gov. Alexander R. Shephard, of this city, and has lived most of her married life in Mexico. Miss Brodie came to Washington with former Ambassador and Mrs. Cress. She was on her first trip, and was presented to society a year ago by her grandmother, Mrs. Shephard.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Richardson Clover and their daughters, who have been in London for some weeks, are now in Paris, but will go to Carlsbad this week.

Mrs. Porter, nee Mattingly, wife of Maj. David D. Porter, who is traveling abroad accompanied by Miss Marguerite Barbour, is now in Berlin. Maj. Porter, who has recently returned from a trip South, will join them in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sewall, son-in-law and daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Robley D. Evans, have gone to Bar Harbor, where they will occupy the Biddle cottage in Acadia lane, for the summer. Admiral and Mrs. Evans are at Newport, the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Taylor Evans, at the training station.

Mr. S. W. Woodward, of this city, whose family is established in their summer home at Stockbridge, Mass., is in Portland, Ore. He has recently been elected president of the Baptist Missionary Union. He will go to Seattle to the exposition, where he will be joined by his son and daughter, Donald and Margaret Woodward, and will visit the Yellowstone Park and Grand Canyon before returning to their place in the Berkshires.

Rear Admiral F. M. Ramsay, retired, is at the Corson cottage, at Newport, for the season.

Miss Gwynn is with Mrs. E. H. G. Slater in the latter's place, "Hopewell," at Newport.

The Austrian Ambassador and Baroness Hengelmueller and their daughter, Baroness Milla, will arrive at Lenox September 24, from Europe, where they have been since March 4, and will spend the month of October there.

Senator Frye, of Maine, will open his camp, opposite Haines Landing, in the Rangeley Lake region, in Maine, early this month, and his grandson-in-law and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, and their child, with Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, sr., will be there for the season as usual.

FEW DEATHS SO FAR CANCELS PARIS FETE

Scores of Large Cities Escape Without Loss of Life.

"SANE" AGITATION A SUCCESS RUTHERFURD PASSES AWAY

Toy Pistols Claimed Nine Victims Yesterday and All Other Causes Six, Whereas a Year Ago the Fatalities Numbered Fifty-six—Total of Injuries So Far Reported is 328.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Chicago, July 4.—The agitation for a sane Fourth of July, which was begun by the Chicago Tribune eleven years ago, bore fruit to-day in a greatly decreased number of dead and wounded victims of the annual celebration. Up to a late hour to-night there had been reported from all over the country only fifteen fatalities and 328 persons wounded, as against fifty-six dead at the same hour on the previous Fourth.

Scores of large cities which in previous years have returned death lists running into the dozens to-day escaped without the loss of a single life, and in some there was not a serious injury reported.

Summaries of tables of dead and injured and fire loss, 1909:

Dead, 15. By fireworks and resulting fires, 2; by cannon, 1; by firearms, 2; by gunpowder, 1; by toy pistols, 3.

Injured, 328. By fireworks, 123; by cannon, 37; by firearms, 48; by gunpowder, 40; by torpedoes, 6; by toy pistols, 48; by bomb cases, 5; by runaways, 14.

Fire loss, $93,650.

In Chicago—Dead, none; injured, 7.

LARGEST FLAG UNFURLED.

Banner 180 Feet Long and 90 Feet Wide Flies in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, July 4.—The largest flag in the world was thrown to the breeze here this afternoon between the Allegheny courthouse steeple and the Frick Building. The flag is 180 feet long and 90 feet wide. It is suspended from a two-inch steel cable, which has one end fastened around the courthouse steeple and the other passed clear through the massive Frick Building.

The flag, when unfurled, reaches nearly to the ground, and it is estimated that a twelve-mile-an-hour wind will pull on the steel cable which holds the flag a pressure of sixty tons.

Instead of one flag being unfurled there were really 50,000 flags unfurled at the same time, for at the top of the great flag 50,000 small flags were so connected that with the dropping of the great flag they, too, were unfurled.

New York, July 4.—No music marked the raising this morning at the Battery of one of the biggest flags in the world on one of the tallest and handsomest flagpoles that has ever been seen in this or any other neighborhood.

The flag floats from the topmast of the old Constitution, the Yankee sloop built to defend the American's Cup. Park Commissioner Smith superintended the flag raising. The dimensions of the banner are 40 by 60 feet, and its weight is fifty-six pounds.

WARNS AMERICANS OF FATE OF JUDEA

Bishop Williams in Scathing Evangelistic Sermon.

EMULATES JOHN THE BAPTIST

Episcopal Prelate Declares Nation Cannot Tell Difference Between Bigness and Greatness—Says Cities Are Too Materialistic—Demands Better Laws for Protection.

New York, July 4.—John the Baptist never preached a more scathing sermon in the wilderness or anywhere else against an Israel that was satisfied with itself because its father was Abraham, than did the Rt. Rev. Dr. Charles D. Williams, Bishop of Michigan, at St. Bartholomew's Church to-day against the American people. He admitted that it was an odd sort of Fourth of July sermon.

Bishop Williams took for his text two quotations, one from John the Baptist and the other from Jesus Christ. In both instances the prophet and teacher of old had upbraided the Jews, and in both they had replied that they did not fear taunts from such sources. They were sons of Abraham, and that was sufficient. Said Bishop Williams:

"Even on the anniversary of the nation's birth, and at the risk of being counted sensational, I shall venture to mention some things wherein Americans commit the sins against which John the Baptist and Jesus Christ preached. One thing is that of our wealth. We are more crudely materialistic than any other people on earth.

Bigness, Not Greatness.

"We cannot tell the difference between bigness and greatness. Bigness is material. You can measure it with a tape. Greatness is spiritual. It is that which God alone can measure. We call New York and Chicago great cities. Are they? They are big, monstrously big, but have they the civic conscience that is necessary to greatness? Compare them with Athens of old, with some of the small cities of Europe of the present day, whose real problems of humanity are being worked out.

"As a people we are big, on land we are big, in enormity we are big, but in any of these are we great? What are our national ideals? Have we any? I say we have not. We are so individualistic that the nation has hardly an existence. The state seems to exist to take care of persons, especially rich persons. Congress is just now spending its time looking after particular interests. It is the individual, and if he is cared for, the devil can take the general public.

"We have no social solidarity. It is material wealth that is producing public and private ills. If we as a people and a nation can escape the doom of others who have gone over this road, it will be because a miracle is performed in our behalf.

Dislike Being Sentimental.

"We are inhuman. We care little for art for sentiment or for anything that cultivates humanity. We have a horror of being called sentimental. Our universities teach trades, not the higher life. We turn out graduates fitted to get rich, and when they get rich they don't know how to use, much less enjoy, their money. We are inhuman. The doctors kill thousands each year and say nothing. In the protection of life and property we are busy behind the scenes of Europe.

"In laws protecting women and children, especially those who labor, we are classed with barbarians. On this very point two nations cannot be put on the honor roll. These nations are Russia and the United States.

"The Yankee in Europe is often more shrewd than honest, and when we happen behind him and hear of his tricks we are apt to laugh rather than to blush with shame, as we ought to do."

Concluding, the bishop said that he saw signs of improvement, and that he believed that if Christian people would support prophets who dare to tell the truth, they are busy behind the scenes of Europe.

STILL SEARCH FOR LEUNG.

Chinaman Locked Up in Oklahoma Not Elsie Sigel's Slayer.

New York, July 4.—Arrests of suspects in the Sigel murder case continue in far-off corners of the country.

In Chandler, Okla., a town not far from Oklahoma City, a Chinese was locked up in the belief that he was Leung Lim. His description was telegraphed to New York, and the police here sent back word to let him go, that he was not the man.

A bulletin board on North street bears a big placard advising the Chinese to be quiet over the Fourth. It is signed by the consul, Wingshiu S. Ho. Notwithstanding that the streets were filled to-night with patrolmen and plain clothes men. There was a policeman about every twenty-five feet.

INVITES CRITICISM OF ROADS.

Harriman Expects Traveling Salesman to Feel Public Pale.

Chicago, July 4.—An example illustrating the extent to which E. H. Harriman intends to keep in touch with the desires of the traveling public has just come to light through an informal order that the operating and traffic officials of the Harriman lines attend the meetings of traveling salesmen in their territory as much as possible. This is on the theory that the traveling man probably are in a better position to know and voice publicly the merits and faults of railroad service.

AUTOMOBILE UNCLAIMED.

Mystery of Plunge Over Embankment Has Not Been Solved.

The identity of a man and young woman who plunged over an embankment in Fourteenth street, near Taylor street northwest, Saturday night in the police has not been learned by the police.

An investigation of the accident was made yesterday by police of the Tenth precinct under direction of Lieut. Slatery, but nothing was learned which was not known Saturday night. It is probable the investigation will be continued until the identity of the occupants of the automobile is ascertained.

The machine was not removed yesterday. It is at the bottom of a sixty-foot embankment. When owners of the automobile claim it the police will make an effort to clear the mystery.

The automobile was originally owned by Lieut. Thomas C. Hart, U. S. A. It is said Lieut. Hart sold it to a man named Brady. The police have been unable to locate Brady. There is no official record of the sale.

USHERS PREVENT PANIC.

Twelve Hundred Theater Patrons Flee Out of Burning Building.

Cleveland, July 4.—Fire this morning destroyed the World Theater's moving picture auditorium at Euclid Park Beach, a resort on the lake shore east of Cleveland.

That some of the 1,200 patrons of the show present when the fire was discovered were not injured or killed in a panic was due to the prompt action of the ushers. The cries and example of the ushers halted what for a moment promised to be a disastrous panic. Under the guidance of the ushers, the audience quickly left the building through the half dozen exits, which were speedily thrown open. In three minutes the building had been emptied. One big man rushed toward an exit. He was thrown to the floor by two ushers and the incipient panic was over. The loss was $10,000.
