BELMONT MEET ENDS

Fauntleroy Is Victorious in the Champagne Stakes.

CANDLEBERRY THE FAVORITE

Grasmere Rushes to Front, Closely Followed by Fauntleroy and Kingship, with First Choice Last—Race in This Order to Furlong, Where McCahey's Mount Draws Away.

New York, Oct. 11.—Fauntleroy, Jimmy McLaughlin's 100 colt, a horse once owned by Richard Croker, was victorious in the Champagne Stakes, for two-year-olds, at Belmont Park, where the fall meeting came to an end to-day. There were only four starters. Candleberry was regarded as a sure winner. But his price receded to 4 to 5 because of the support accorded to Fauntleroy and Mrs. Livingston's Kingship.

At the start Grasmere rushed to the front, closely attended by Fauntleroy and Kingship, with Candleberry last. They raced in this order to the last furlong pole, where McCahey let Fauntleroy down, and the colt drew away to win easily by three parts of a length. Kingship took the place from the disappointing Candleberry.

ARRAS JOINS SQUAD.

Star Half Back Will Play at Kendall Green.

The Gallaudet varsity football outlook was brightened yesterday afternoon, when William Arras, the heavy plunging right half back of the 1908 team joined the squad. He was placed at full back.

The varsity team had a hard scrimmage with the scrubs in a driving rain-storm. Quarter back Maxson drove the team at full speed, and twenty-two points were rolled up on the scrubs.

Last evening a bad abscess developed on Capt. Hower's left arm, and unless it heals in time to permit the star player to get in the Frederickburg College game at Kendall Green next Saturday, Bailey may be switched back to left half. Mosey going back to right half.

On account of Battiste's brilliant performance in previous games, the Indian has the left end job cinched as long as Capt. Hower plays at left half, in order to insure a speedy and aggressive back field.

FAST WORKOUT FOR TIGERS.

Princeton Coaches Put the Squad Through Stiff Practice.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 11.—The Tiger football squad made a better showing in practice to-day than it did any time last week. There was a slight shake-up in the back field, and Dawson was used as second back, with Christie at end, but Meigs and Gill were used in the scrimmage, and Waller was also given a day off. McCreag taking his place at guard.

PUNTS AND PASSES.

Dartmouth has only two veterans on its line. Brushbe, at center, is the greatest loss.

If Kilpatrick's knee doesn't bother him he will be a great help to the Blue this fall.

Michigan has adopted a rule that not more than 31 shall be charged to witness any football game.

Houser, of Carlisle, who was a good player before the war, is practicing the art of drop kicking.

West Virginia proved a harder game for Penn than many expected. The Virginians played a pretty husky team.

Not one of the "Big Five" has shown form worth talking about as yet, but Yale appears best at this writing.

The name of O'Flaherty doesn't seem to go right in a Harvard livery. He's a good one, too. Should be at Holy Cross.

Swarthmore misses Eberle greatly. The defeat by F. and M. is to be attributed greatly to his absence from the team.

Risher, the little quarter back, is having a hard time holding his place at Dartmouth; in fact, it looks as if he would lose out.

Princeton finds it a difficult task to find quarter back the equivalent of Dillon Dawson and Christie are showing up very well for new men.

If able coaching courses, there is no reason why Pennsylvania should not turn out a winner. Penn has the most aggressive staff in years.

Taking everything into consideration, the weakest part of Penn's play is the handling of punts. No one seems to be able to catch the oval with any degree of certainty.

C. U. PREPS PLAY WESTERN.

Embryo Collegians and High School Eleven in Second Contest.

Despite the rain, the Georgetown Prep football team got in some hard practice yesterday afternoon as a final preparation for their game to-day against the Western High School eleven.

At St. Kerwin, who has been on the injured list for some weeks past, was out yesterday in a suit for the first time. He is fully recovered and will be in the game to-day. His regular position is full back, but that he may not be worked too hard, he will go in at right tackle.

The game will be played at 4 o'clock on the "varsity" field, and judging from the last encounter, the Georgetown boys will find Western a pretty stiff proposition.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL TO MEET.

Authorities at G. W. U. to Decide on Coach for Football Team.

A meeting of the athletic council of George Washington University will be held in the office of Athletic Adviser McRae this evening, at which time the matter of the retention of the present football coach or the appointment of a successor will be finally decided.

The poor showing of the team in its recent games with the Eastern College and Western Maryland University has caused considerable comment among the followers of athletics at the downtown institution. The general opinion is that the failure of the team to make good is directly responsible to inefficient coaching.

COY REJOINS SQUAD.

Yale Captain Takes Charge After Long Lay-off.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 11.—Capt. Coy did his first playing of any sort this year this afternoon at Yale Field. He insisted on going into the signal drill; and the captain's voice in Yale football is absolute. For forty-five minutes he was at full back in the signal drill, and said he came off the field feeling fine. He did little punting, but did not attempt to go into the scrimmage.

Two touchdowns were made in to-day's practice. Both were the result of the work by Lilly in his new position at right guard. The first time he blocked Holtz's kick and knocked the ball into Logan's hands, who went 20 yards for a touchdown. The second touchdown he made himself on an on-side kick from Deming.

Laurel Organizes Football Team.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Laurel, Md., Oct. 11.—The Laurel football team has been organized for the coming season with the following players, and wishes to arrange a game with any team whose average weight is 120 pounds: Harry Merson, full back; S. Meeds, right half; S. Lanthorn or George Duvall, quarter back; E. Chaney, right end; R. King, left end; Arthur Phelps, right tackle; Samuel Leisner, left tackle; C. Leisner, left guard; C. Babylon, right guard; and E. Merson, center.

PIRATES CAPTURE BATTING CONTEST

In the seventh, so that Matty McIntyre could strike out for him. Works started out finely, but when rain began falling in the ninth he experienced difficulty in controlling the sphere, and the Pirates got to him for a pair of runs, sufficient to give them the decision.

The Tigers made fewer hits off Maddox than the Pirates gleaned off the deliveries of Summers, Willets, and Works, and for the third time the National Leaguers had the edge on their adversaries' infield.

Hans Wagner made a brilliant debut before a Detroit crowd, and lived up to his reputation of being the greatest baseball player in the world. The Traction team made four singles and stole a quartet of sacks. It is hardly necessary to say that Charley Schmidt was Detroit's backstop, Jennings, for some reason, still imagining that the coal miner is a good pecker and a better man to have behind the bat than Stange.

Tiny Owen Bush, who only celebrated his twenty-first birthday on the afternoon the world's series started, divided the batting honors of the conflict with Wagner. The diminutive Tiger, like Hogan, binged safely three times, and was among those present in the two rallies made by the Juggernauts.

"De!" Also Rats Welld. Jim Dehanty also was spirited slugging in the early part of the controversy, and led the attack on Maddox in the seventh inning that resulted in Detroit's scoring four times. The former Senator, however, ended the game by skying to Clarke, Cobb being left on third.

To Cobb made the star fielding play of the game when he caught Jack Miller's low fly in the ninth inning. The Georgian had to turn a somersault to make the catch, but one came up with the ball in his hand. Other good catches were made by Clarke on Crawford in the fourth inning, and by Crawford on Leach in the same session.

For the first time a world's championship game was umpired by three men. The extra official was Billy Klem, who did patrol duty in the right field, on account of the crowd, to judge the value of hits out that way. Klem's duties were nil, as not once was he called upon to make a decision.

Though the Pirates have won two games to the Tigers' one, the Juggernauts showed in the last three innings to-day that they are far from out of the series, and that if Mullin and Donovan repeat their excellent box tricks of last Friday and Saturday the world's honors may fall to the Detroitis.

INTERLEAGUE GAME OFF.

Rain Calls Halt in Boston-New York Championship Contest.

Boston, Oct. 11.—Owing to rainy weather, to-day's game between the Red Sox and Giants was postponed. The decision was reached at a conference at the Boston club's office between President Taylor, of the Boston club; Secretary Knowles, of the New York club; and Frank Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati club, who is representing the national commission in the post-season series.

Although it was originally intended to play in New York on Thursday, it was decided to play the game here instead on account of to-day's postponement, and also because the outlook for to-morrow is not good.

RAIN AT CHICAGO AND BOSTON.

No Games Played in Other Cities in Post-Season Series.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—The local National American League championship game scheduled for to-day has been postponed on account of wet grounds.

Boston, Oct. 11.—The game between the New York National League team and the Boston Americans, scheduled for to-day, has been postponed on account of rain.

The shutting down of boxing in New York has caused a change in the plans of both Jim Driscoll and Owen Moran, who planned to return to America this fall, and they are reported to have again signed articles to box for the feather-weight championship of Great Britain, at Mountain Ash, Wales, during October.

KETCHELL IS PICKED

Speedy Westerner's Friends Confident of His Ability.

FASTER THAN JACK O'BRIEN

Showing in Bout with Philadelphia Whirlwind Leads to Claim that He Has Advantage in Speed—Johnson Claimed to Be Inferior in Several Ways—Ketchell a Great Hitter.

New York, Oct. 11.—Is Jack Johnson a better all-round boxer than Philadelphia Jack O'Brien? Friends of Stanley Ketchell, who will fight Johnson at Colma next Saturday afternoon, say no, and use the statement as an argument that Ketchell can win. They say Johnson is no faster on his feet or more scientific with his hands than O'Brien, but is the latter's superior physically and in defensive tactics. Taking O'Brien as a line on the big fight, Ketchell's followers insist that the young white man will find it just as easy to keep on top of Johnson, and in that way gradually to beat the big negro down.

Fast Work in O'Brien Bout.

Before O'Brien met Ketchell, it was generally conceded that the former was the fastest boxer in the ring—fully as fast as J. J. Corbett—and in a class by himself as a ring general, yet Ketchell had speed enough to follow O'Brien closely enough to land knock-out blows. Ketchell rushed incessantly, taking all the blows that O'Brien could deliver, and by means of a whirlwind attack so bewildered the crafty Quaker that his clever defensive tactics and the resistance of these punches, Ketchell was the first pugilist to put O'Brien away. The latter, up to that time, had taken part in more than 100 fights, including among his opponents the famous "Kid" McCoy, Burns, and others, but he had never been on the verge of a knock-out.

Yet Ketchell, lacking first-class ring knowledge, managed to get him in over-whelming fashion. It is true that O'Brien, thirty-one years old, was on the down grade at the time, but it is also true that in a six-round bout in Philadelphia last May Johnson was ordered to put him to the floor with a blow. Johnson will be in better training next Saturday than he was last May.

Ketchell a Great Hitter.

Ketchell's admirers argue that Johnson has never met a hitter like Ketchell before, and that his gameness has never been tested. They admit that his defensive work may prove a puzzle to the Michigan Lion at first, but say the latter will finally poke through and administer a few terrific punches that will make the champion stop.

Ketchell's adherents cannot make themselves believe that Johnson can hit hard enough to hurt him. Ketchell says he intends to fight Johnson just as he went after O'Brien in the Philadelphia bout. If Ketchell keeps his word it is almost certain he will run against a right-hand uppercut, Johnson's best blow. It will simply be question how much Ketchell can stand without going to the boards.

According to late information, Ketchell will weigh 167 pounds and Johnson 205 or a trifle less.

HARD PRACTICE FOR G. U.

Hilltoppers Work in Rain—Miller Will Not Join Squad.

Coach Newman was not especially pleased with the showing made by the Georgetown University team in its game against Washington College on Saturday last and from now on he will have his charges working to the limit.

Because of the closeness of the score last Saturday Newman could not take any chances in putting in any new men who had come out during the week. Ed Miller, captain of last year's team, stated definitely yesterday that he would not play under any circumstances this year.

Hopeful of a half back on the "varsity" fall in line, but his parents have objected to his playing.

It is probable that Pallen, the sturdy half back, may be out before long. He has recovered fully from his recent illness, and with him in the lineup Georgetown would have a consistent ground gainer.

NICHOLLS A BENEDICT.

Athletic Shortstop, Wife, and Child Surprise "Home Folk."

Boyd, Md., Oct. 11.—Simon B. Nicholls, the shortstop of the Philadelphia American League baseball team, and son of Mr. George T. Nicholls, of near Boyd's, was married a year ago in Philadelphia to Miss Marie McLean, of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls kept the story a secret until last week, when father Nicholls was asked to go to Philadelphia and visit them. He left from Boyd's, and upon arrival there was surprised with the statement of his son's marriage.

It is understood a child, a few weeks old, graced the occasion of the grandfathers' visit, and happiness reigned supreme.

Simon is well known in Washington and Baltimore and also in other sections of the State, and has been in the home light in baseball circles for the past five years. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls, after the visit of the team West, will come here and make their home, it is understood, this winter near Germantown.

SCRIMMAGE AT PENN.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—In to-day's scrimmage game with the Scrubs, Miller was shifted to right half on the "varsity" as both Ransdell and Marks were given a rest for the day. In the latter position the little captain handled himself very well and hit the line off tackle for long gains.

With Summers, Miller, and Hutchinson in the backfield, the "varsity" had little difficulty in penetrating the scrub line for big gains. Summers, shortly after the first kick-off, broke loose on a play off tackle and ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Hutchinson, at full back, was a great improvement over his work against West Virginia. With his left sprained ankle, Thayer could do little more than hobble about.

Considering the condition of the players, Mike Murphy allowed the scrimmage to last but fifteen minutes.

BOXING GOSSIP.

Joe Thomas has been matched to box Harry Mansfield, at Baltimore, October 20.

Packey McFarland and Ad Wolcott have been matched to box in Los Angeles, October 12.

The bout between Johnny Frayne and Lew Powell, which was to take place at San Francisco, Oct. 10, has been postponed till October 15 because Frayne is laid up with rheumatism.
