MANY INJURED ON ICE

Huntington Wilson and Senator Perkins in Bed.

OTHER VICTIMS AT HOSPITAL

Early Morning Walkers Sustain Various Bruises by Falling on Slippery Streets and Sidewalks—Horses and Mules Also Participate—Ice Melts Away to Everybody's Relief.

Persons who did not slip on the icy pavements on Wednesday and Wednesday night, waited until yesterday morning to participate in the popular exercise. Horses and mules did likewise.

The ice was melted from the sidewalks and streets before noon yesterday, however, much to the satisfaction of everybody.

As a result of injuries received by falling on ice, Huntington Wilson, Assistant Secretary of State, and Senator Perkins, of California, were confined to their beds yesterday. Mr. Wilson will probably be able to return to his office to-day or tomorrow. Physicians do not know how long Senator Perkins will be laid up.

Sustained Face Bruises.

The diplomat was injured on Wednesday night, while alighting from an automobile in front of the Willard Hotel, where he intended participating in the Bachelors' Cotillon. He sustained a laceration of the face, bruises on the body, and shock. Mrs. Wilson, who started to the aid of her husband, fell on the ice, but was not injured. The couple were removed to their home, 1908 K street northwest.

Senator Perkins fell as he was leaving his apartments at Stoneleigh Court, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. A negro ran to the aid of the Senator, and assisted him to the office of Dr. G. Lloyd Magruder. Senator Perkins sustained bruises and wrenched his back.

While leaving her home at 1331 Clisselle street northwest, shortly after 7 o'clock in the morning, Mary Johnson, forty-six years old, slipped and fell, sustaining a fracture of the left ankle. She was removed to Georgetown University Hospital in the seventh precinct patrol wagon.

Walking in the street before the National Theater, about 8:30 o'clock in the morning, A. L. Simpson, thirty-five years old, of 209 I street northwest, fell to the ground, receiving a contusion of the head and injuries to the back. He was removed to Emergency Hospital.

Falling on ice at Tenth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, about 9:20 o'clock in the morning, Nichole Kehlos, thirty-five years old, of 365 Jackson Hall alley northwest, fractured his left leg. He was removed to Emergency Hospital.

Suffers from Injury.

Edward Percell, seventy-two years old, of 1045 New Jersey avenue northwest, walked to Emergency Hospital about 9:30 o'clock in the morning, suffering from a fracture of the arm, caused by falling on the icy streets. About 10:30 o'clock William H. Holbrook, thirty-two years old, of 629 New Jersey avenue northwest, slipped while walking along the south front of the Capitol and sustained a laceration of the scalp. He was removed in an ambulance to Emergency Hospital.

C. E. Lane, thirty-nine years old, residing at Chesapeake Junction, walked to Emergency Hospital about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, suffering from a sprain of the right hand, sustained by a fall.

DEATH CALLS NOTED WOMAN

Flora Adams Darling Was Founder of the D. A. R.

Stricken with Apoplexy at Home of Brother in New York After Long and Patriotic Life.

New York, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, founder of the Society of the Daughters of the Revolution and the United States Daughters of 1812, died suddenly to-day of apoplexy, at the home of her brother, John Quincy Adams, at 153 West 117th street. She was seventy years old.

Mrs. Darling will be buried in Lancaster, N. H., where she was born. She was a daughter of Harvey and Nancy Dustin Adams, and the widow of Gen. Edward Irving Darling, of the Southern Confederacy, who was killed in the civil war. In 1861, she organized in this city the Daughters of the Revolution, of which she became director-general, and she was one of the three founders of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was also vice president of the Lampert School of Music, and founder and a director of the Edward Irving Darling Musical Society, which she organized in memory of her son, a composer. She was the author of "A Wayward, Winning Woman," "Was it Just Verdict?" "The Bourbons Lidy," "Mrs. Darling's Letters; or, Memories of the War," "A Social Diplomat," "The Senator's Daughter," "Senator Athens, C. S. A.," and "Memories of Virginia."

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

Department of Justice Anxious to Test Net Income Tax.

If any of the 400,000 corporations in the United States subject to the tax of 1 per cent per annum on its net income, would like to go through the courts with proceedings to determine the constitutionality of that measure, the Department of Justice is ready and willing to aid.

There have been hundreds of letters received at the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which has charge of the collection of the tax, asking about its provisions and there have been scores of objections.

The Department of Justice would hasten it to the Supreme Court as fast as possible and would endeavor to have it settled by June 7, when the tax becomes collectible.

FIRE DAMAGES CHURCH.

Grace M. E. House of Worship Has Overheated Furnace.

Fire in the basement of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Ninth and S streets northwest, yesterday afternoon, resulted in $100 damage. The loss is covered by insurance.

A pedestrian, who saw smoke coming from a window in the basement, shortly before 5 o'clock, sounded an alarm. Firemen had little difficulty in stopping the flames.

The fire originated near a furnace believed to have been overheated. There was no one in the church, and the flames gained headway before the blaze was discovered. When firemen entered, the flames were burning through the ceiling to the auditorium.

Fire in a closet in the residence of Mrs. M. M. Burke, 4 Iowa circle, was discovered about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and extinguished before it gained headway, causing a damage estimated at $10.

GIVES TALK ON PRAYER.

Commissioner Macfarland Addresses Mt. Pleasant Church Men's Club.

Commissioner Macfarland addressed the Men's Club of Mount Pleasant Congregational Church at its first meeting of the new year, last night. It was in the nature of a prayer meeting, the annual custom of the club.

John B. Sieman, Jr. introduced Mr. Macfarland at the close of the opening prayer.

Mr. Macfarland spoke on the essentials of prayer, dealing with its significance. "We are alarmed to-day," he said, "because the old-time custom of praying is fast being lost, and so is God. Prayer meetings are a regular time for praying, and the former all-day prayer meetings are things of the past. When we pray for things for ourselves only, we are not with God. It is when we pray for our own spiritual welfare that God is watching over us and will hear our prayer. The best and holiest of all is the prayer for the sister, the brother, or the neighbor, for these come from the truest depths of the heart, and are recognized above all others.

"It is the constant, earnest, consistent prayer that works most good. All such prayers are answered. God will do for us just what we would have Him do were we as wise as He. If we say them truly, He will do far more than we realize."

The meeting closed with hymns and spontaneous prayers by various members, Commissioner Macfarland offering the final.

SEEKS LIMITED DIVORCE.

Eliza G. Uhler Charges Her Husband with Habitual Drunkenness.

Eliza G. Uhler yesterday entered suit for a limited divorce and alimony against William M. Uhler, charging habitual drunkenness.

Mrs. Uhler in her petition alleges they were married November 27, 1901, at Alexandria, Va., having removed to this city recently, where they reside at 294 Fourteenth street northwest. There are four children, aged seven, three, and two years respectively, and one eight months old. Mrs. Uhler claims that it would be unsafe for her or her children to longer live with Uhler because of his mental condition caused by alleged excessive and long continued use of intoxicants.

It is further averred by Mrs. Uhler that her husband is the owner of, or is considerably interested in, a mercantile business conducted by himself and his father at Seventh and K streets southwest.
