

NOTE INDICTMENT OF BEEF BARONS

Grand Jurors of Jersey City Return True Bills.

CHARGE IS CONSPIRACY

Foodstuffs in Cold Storage to Raise the Price.

Directors of National Packing Company Include Prominent Men in Other Concerns—Armour, Swift, Morris, Meeker, Tilden, and Others Involved—Law Governing Cases is Borrowed from England.

New York, Feb. 18.—The grand jury of Hudson County, sitting in Jersey City, today voted indictments against the directors of the National Packing Company as individuals, with the exception of one member of the directorate.

They are charged with conspiracy, in that they kept foodstuffs in cold storage with the purpose of raising the price. The indictments are to be handed up to Supreme Court Justice Francis J. Swasey next Wednesday.

The directors of the National Packing Company, according to the published records, are: J. Ogden Armour, L. F. Swift, Edward Morris, E. F. Swift, Ira N. Morris, Arthur Meeker, Edward Tilden, T. J. Conners, L. A. Carton, K. K. McLaren, T. E. Wilson, C. H. Swift, L. H. Seaman, Samuel McRoberts, F. A. Fowler, and A. W. Armour.

The exempted member of the directorate is Kenneth K. McLaurin, treasurer of the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey, an incorporating agency, with offices at 15 Exchange place, Jersey City. Mr. McLaurin's place in the directorate is said to be purely nominal and not connected in any way with the active business of the corporation.

New Jersey Corporation.

The National Packing Company was incorporated in New Jersey on March 13, 1903, and it owns the capital stock of the following companies engaged in the business of packing meat products:

The Fowler Packing Company, the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision Company, the Fowler Canadian Company, limited; Fowler Brothers, limited, of Liverpool; the Omaha Packing Company, the Hammond Packing Company, the G. H. Hammond Company, the Anglo-American Provision Company, and the United Dressed Beef Company. Its capital stock was $15,000,000.

The voting of these indictments is believed to be the forerunner of the finding of more true bills by the New Jersey grand jury.

The investigation was started on February 9, when Justice Swasey charged it that if the evidence adduced showed that there existed a combination of individuals or concerns an indictment for conspiracy was justified, provided it could be shown that the combination had for its object "merely to enhance the price of foodstuffs and has no lawful aim."

The law governing such cases is borrowed in the New Jersey statutes from the old common law of England.

FINDS BODIES PETRIEPIED.

Searchers in Cherry Mine Bring Up Mummies from Depths.

Cherry, Ill., Feb. 18.—Eleven bodies of miners were recovered from the St. Paul mine today. To the amazement of veteran mine inspectors, the bodies entombed since last November 13, when brought to the surface, were found to be almost perfectly mummified.

The mummified condition was brought about by the bodies having during the three months been in a part of the mine which was dry and warm, and the bodies were going through a slow process of drying.

Fighting through fire and the deadly black damp, which ever since the disaster has stood between them and the 165 or more bodies still entombed in the mine, the rescuers found the eleven bodies in what is known as the second level.

They were found with their arms stretched forward and face down, having been suffocated as they ran, probably by a gust of heat and gas. Shut in airtight chambers when the mine was finally sealed up, they remained in a kind of oven, in which the temperature was a little above blood heat.

Their clothing was so badly scorched and their features so disfigured by falling rock that identification was difficult.

SEYLERS IN FEAR IN GUARDED JAIL

Crowd Sees Murder Suspects Reach Atlantic City.

Special to The Washington Herald. Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 18.—Fifteen hundred persons gathered at the Pennsylvania Railroad station to-night to get a glimpse of William Seyler and his brother Orvis, murder suspects, when they arrived from Petersburg, Va. When the bridge train arrived at 8:30 o'clock the prisoners were rushed 100 yards from the station to the cells in the city hall.

Detectives Robert Miller and James Malseed alighted from the train with the Seylers while it was still moving. The four were quickly surrounded by a squad of police, headed by Chief Woodruff. The officers formed a flying wedge, which dashed through the curious crowd to the city hall.

The crowd did not get much of a chance to see the prisoners, and expressed no anger. There was a big jam, and the women in the crush made desperate efforts to see the prisoners. In the scramble several of them lost hats.

The jail is guarded to-night, and even police not directly connected with the case are barred from entrance. The Seylers are in different cells, and will be sweated to-morrow. A guard was placed over them to-night.

Not until the train was within ten miles of Atlantic City did the two men show any fear. William Seyler then crouched down in his seat as far as the handcuffs binding him to his brother would allow. Orvis halted his light chatter to his guards. Both prisoners were pale when they arrived.

Mrs. Seyler, wife of William, was denied admission to the jail to-night when she made an attempt to see her husband. She refused to believe the report that Seyler had a wife in Petersburg, Va.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—The persons wounded in the rioting that took place at Frankfurt yesterday, include twenty policemen, who were more or less seriously stabbed, shot, or injured by stones.

Most of the cases of injury were not recorded, as the sufferers preferred to go to private doctors for treatment, rather than to the hospitals.

Such collisions are to be expected so long as the franchise question remains unsettled.

Senator Tillman will be an invalid if he escapes death, and will never walk again, it is now the fear of physicians and relatives.

His right side is helpless from paralysis, with which he was partially stricken on Wednesday. It is the second stroke, and has been pronounced as the "progressing paralysis," which is incurable. Illness Long Standing.

Senator Tillman's sickness began with a partial stroke of paralysis about two years ago. Mr. Tillman canceled all of his lecture engagements, practically retired from active work in the Senate, and as soon as he could make his plans and regain sufficient strength left for Europe, accompanied by Dr. Babcock, where he enjoyed several months' rest and took the Baron Lowenthal von Lman, who is now at Athens. CAIRO MILITIA HAS SITUATION IN HAND

Two Companies on Guard at the County Jail.

NEGRO SENTENCED TO PRISON

Purse Snatcher, Responsible for the Outbreak, Must Serve Twenty-eight Years—Coroner Will Probe Cause of Death of Thomas Halliday, Who Was Shot in Attack on Jail.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 18.—After a trying day in which feeling was very high, Cairo is calm to-night. Gen. Frank Dickson states that he believes the situation is well in hand and that there will be no outbreak. There are ninety armed militiamen here. Two companies of the State militia, arrived to-day to assist in preserving order, Company G, of Effingham, and Company M, of Champaign, while Gen. Dickson, adjutant general of the State, is in personal command.

The jail is heavily guarded, and it is not believed that there will be any attempt to storm it to-night. Popular feeling, directed last night against the negro who snatched the pocketbook from Mrs. Rosa Maloney, is to-night directed by the same class of people against Sheriff Fred N. Nolls and his deputies, who shot into the mob last night.

Sheriff Is Upheld. At the same time, the better class of citizens, the representative business and professional men, feel that the sheriff acted in the only way open to him, and sufficiently warned the mob before firing into it.

This afternoon the negro, John Pratt, who was the cause of all of this outbreak, was indicted by the grand jury, brought into court, and pleaded guilty. Judge Butler questioned him in regard to the facts of his escapade from parole in Clark County, Ill., and got an admission from him that such was the case.

Judge Butler then sentenced him to the penitentiary under the second count of the indictment, the second sentence to be in effect at the conclusion of the first, and the time to be spent at hard labor. The sentence is indeterminate, but if he serves the full term of years he will be there fourteen years under each sentence. It is not believed that any attempt will be made to take the negro away to-night, but that to-morrow he will be removed under guard of troops to Chester to begin his term in the penitentiary there.

Will Probe Death.

Coroner James McMannus stated to-day that he would order a jury to probe the cause of the death of Thomas Halliday, son of a former mayor of Cairo, to-morrow. He said: "I will proceed slowly in this matter, trying to avoid mistakes likely to occur through hasty action.

The body of Halliday was removed to the home of his brother, Parker Halliday, this afternoon. The bullet which killed Halliday was a steel bullet of about 38 caliber. It entered his neck below the right ear and came out under the left shoulder. It severed the jugular vein and the main artery. MAIL BOX FOR EVERY ONE AFTER JUNE NEXT YEAR

Odd Clause of Post-office Bill Prohibits Carrier from Delivering Letters Except in Receptacle Outside of House.

There'll be a commotion from one end of the country to the other when the most interesting provision of the post-office appropriation bill, which was reported to the House yesterday by Representative Weeks, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Committee on Post-offices and Post Roads, becomes generally known.

The measure contains a provision prohibiting any letter carrier from delivering mail at any house unless there is a suitable mail box conveniently placed on the outside to receive it. This radical proposition will go into effect, if Congress approves it, June 30, 1911.

This means that between the passage of the bill and the date when the provision in question becomes effective the mail box manufacturers of the country must make about 18,000,000 mail boxes, which will cost the people of the country more than $20,000,000. The committee expects there will be something of a howl raised, but figures that the government will save $4,000,000 by means of the boxes. After numerous experiments, the committee determined that the average postman spends between fifteen and thirty seconds at each house ringing the door bell and waiting for a response. The committee says the provision will either reduce the number of carriers or greatly increase their service and efficiency.

This year's post-office bill carries $23,512,195, an increase of $5,119,825 over the appropriation for the current year, and a decrease of $3,880,500 from the estimates submitted by the department.

CONNERS PLANNING FIGHT TO A FINISH

Democratic Chairman Issues Defiant Statement.

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 18.—W. J. Conners, the chairman of the New York State Democratic committee, left Palm Beach this evening, bound for New York, to attend the meeting of the committee next Thursday. Conners does not seem in the least worried over the outcome. He says: "They have to show me where they have got anything on me."

"I am going up there to fight, and fight to a finish." When asked about the situation, he answered by saying: "You'll see me back here for the Florida State golf championship in March, and if things break right I'll only be gone about a week or ten days."

He issued the following statement: "In reply to your inquiry with regards to meeting of the State committee to be called next week, and that they have thirty-six members who have signed the call: "Murphy, Gaffney & Co. are anxious to get control of the State organization to use the same policy with the State of New York as in the city of New York to auctioneer the same as has been done with judges in the city of New York. The man that pays the highest price is the man that will be nominated. That is not going to bring reform to the Democratic party."

TAFT COMMENDS NEGRO TO SOUTH

Prosperity Will Solve Great Problem, He Says.

GUEST OF MISS BOARDMAN

President, Thomas Nelson Page, and Dr. Frissell Speak.

Race Segregation Held by All to Be One of the Most Important Factors in the Progress of the Blacks, as Well as the Whites—Dr. Dillard, Formerly of Tulane, Explains the Situation in Dixie.

President Taft sang the praises of Dixie and declared the South, with its growing prosperity, is better able to solve the race question than those who know little of the problem, at a meeting of prominent educators gathered to discuss the uplift of the negro at the residence of Miss Mabel Boardman, 191 P street, last night.

He said the salvation of the black man must come through the intelligent handling of Southerners, rather than through the charity of the North. Philanthropy, he said, at least by inference, should be directed toward educating those who are to be the leaders of the negro race.

"Ultimately," he said, "the burden must fall upon those who pay the taxes of the South. It must come, therefore, from the prosperity of the South itself, and the increase which the statistics show with reference to the increase of the wealth of the South is the most encouraging fact in the whole situation, for we can be reasonably sure that with increase in wealth and increase in that spirit of humanity, interest upon the part of the leading whites in the development of the negro, that in the course of three decades the question will be well nigh solved."

Segregation Is Essential.

Every speaker touched on the growing segregation of the races. It was predicted that with the development of the negro the races will become naturally segregated, each with its own institutions independent of the other.

Thomas Nelson Page presided, introducing Dr. Hollis Burke Frissell, president of the Hampton Institute, President Mitchell, of the University of South Carolina, and Dr. J. H. Dillard, formerly of Tulane University, and now in charge of the rural colored school fund of the South. More than 100 men and women interested in the race problem listened.

President Taft arrived at the Boardman home at 8:30 o'clock, and by his request was not called upon to speak until several of the other addresses had been heard. He remained until 11 o'clock, when Mrs. and Miss Boardman held an informal reception.

The President said, in part:

Example in the Philippines. Charged with the responsibility of educating the children in the Philippines, I was forced into a very serious consideration of the problems of education in the United States. The result is that I believe the problem of the negro and Indian, and Gen. Armstrong to teach some of the most important lessons in the education of the whole race. I heard President Eliot, certainly the foremost educator in the education of the negro, had solved, by making important manual and industrial training, the problem of education in this country, and that he had first illustrated it in a marked way at Hampton Institute.

In the Philippines we first attempted primary education, and then industrial education, and we are working along that way there now. We have an industrial school in every province. We encountered somewhat different problems there from those presented in the education of the negro, or the poor white in the South. We have offered to the young Philippine an opportunity to become mechanics and electricians, and to pursue other trades, and the difficulty we had was that they preferred to be what were called ecclesiastics or clerks at $3 a week than to be electricians at $4 and $5, for the reason that ecclesiastics were called on, gentlemen, and electricians were called on laborers.

Returning to this country, however, and faced with interest in the matter of industrial education, I accepted every opportunity that was offered to look

ALBANY HEARINGS ARE DULL.

No More Names of Legislators Connected with Bribery.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 18.—When Senator Conger left the stand to-day, the indications were he would not connect the names of any more legislators with the bridge bribery funds.

When the Allds trial was adjourned until Tuesday the senate was wrangling to give the names of the members of the legislature who participated in the distribution of the $100,000 handed Jean Burnett.

The presiding officer, Senator Davis, said he would take the question under advisement, and announce his decision Tuesday.

Up to date, the only living member of any legislature since 1
