

TAPEWORM CLUBBINE

Fix New York Political Slate Between Bites.

SHERMAN HOST AT DINNER

Is Charter Member of Speaker Reed's Humorous Coterie and Participated in Conspiracy Last Night to Make Roosevelt Temporary Chairman of Next Convention.

One thing was evident at the dinner of the Tapeworm Club at the home of Vice President Sherman last night, and it was that the New York political leaders gathered there firmly believing that whoever is nominated by the Republican party to succeed Gov. Charles F. Hughes will have the unanimous endorsement of two very prominent gentlemen.

One is Gov. Hughes and the other is Mr. Theodore Roosevelt. The Tapeworm Club was formed in Washington a good many years ago. It had its origin in a committee room of the House of Representatives, where members of the New York delegation used to gather at lunch.

Charter Members on Hand. The dinner last night were Vice President Sherman, Frank S. Black, and B. B. Odell, former governors; Lucius N. Littaur, W. T. Foote, William Barnes, Jr., C. G. Bennett, Secretary of the Senate; Judge T. F. Foote, Representative George N. Southwick, and Representative John W. Dwight, the Republican whip of the House.

Mr. Roosevelt's name was frequently mentioned. It is a pretty safe guess that no important move is going to be made by the New York Republicans until he gets back and they have a chance to consult with him.

Mr. Roosevelt's name was frequently mentioned. It is a pretty safe guess that no important move is going to be made by the New York Republicans until he gets back and they have a chance to consult with him.

Representative Edward B. Vreeland, of Salamanca, who is chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency of the House, was mentioned most prominently as the successor of Timothy O. Woodruff, as chairman of the Republican State executive committee.

"I would have to be shown that there was a great party emergency, and that I was wanted mightily had before I would accept the State chairmanship," was the only remark that Mr. Vreeland would make when asked about the report.

FOOD RECEIPTS DISCUSSED.

Moore Committee Takes Up Storage Problem in Warehouses.

Alfred M. Read, secretary of the American Warehousemen's Association, appeared yesterday before the Moore inquiry committee to give testimony regarding the storage of food products in the District, and voiced his opinion that there would be no objection on the part of the warehousemen to enforcing a fair time limit as to storage, and requiring assignments of warehouse receipts to carry the date of the entry of the goods.

The investigation of food prices were laid aside for the time being, Chairman Moore turning his attention to the subject of warehouse receipts and the length of time banks are accustomed to lending money on them.

Indian Warehouses to Stay.

The House yesterday voted down an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill providing for the abolition of five Indian warehouses, which was proposed by Representative Burke, of South Dakota, chairman of the Committee on Indian Affairs.

THE FLYING DAYS.

Ah, my friends, how Time is sprinting! Winter soon will cease its winting, soon we'll hear the joyous robins singing blithe-some roundelays; soon the summer will be scooting, then the fall goes callyhooting, and before we realize it there'll be other winter days.

TAFT WANTS BUGHER

May Name Him Surveyor of Port in New York.

MANY CALL AT WHITE HOUSE

President Leaves for the Metropolis This Morning to Attend Banquet of the Cincinnati Society—Opposed to Repeal of Corporation Tax Law. Will Attend Unveiling of Statues.

The nomination of Frederick H. Bugher, deputy commissioner of ports of New York, as surveyor of the port of New York, to succeed Gen. James S. Clarkson, will be sent to the Senate by President Taft within the next few days.

DISTRICT LAW FOR CHINA

Taft Urges that Opium Act Be Extended to Consular Points.

Sends Special Message to Congress Containing Report of Commission and Note from Knox.

In a special message to Congress yesterday President Taft transmitted a report by Hamilton Wright, on behalf of the American delegates to the International Opium Commission, which met in Shanghai, China, in February, 1909.

"By permitting the importation of opium prepared for smoking," says the Secretary, "under the existing schedules or treaties under the free list, this government has for half a century unwittingly encouraged the use of this form of opium danger not only of the criminal and defective classes, but of the higher ranks of society."

"Incidental to the restricted importation of medicinal opium, the manufacture of morphia had come to be a monopoly of American manufacture, with an enormous growth in production, so that as a notorious fact large numbers of people in all social ranks had become debauched by the misuse of it."

The Secretary says that local laws were ineffective to control it while it was permitted to go unrestrained in interstate commerce. This state of affairs was corrected in large measure by the law of 1909. But the Secretary adopts the recommendation of the commissioners for uniform legislation among the States to prohibit the manufacture and sale of smoking opium and to impose restrictions to compel the proper use of opium in other forms.

TO AMEND DISTRICT CODE.

Mr. Gallinger Introduces Commerce Chamber's Suggested Changes.

The Chamber of Commerce amendments to the code of District laws, the result of work by the Chamber's committee on law and legislation, were yesterday introduced by Senator Gallinger.

BANKRUPTCY BILL REPORTED.

House Judiciary Committee Also Favors Employers' Liability Bill.

Bankruptcy proceedings will be materially changed and regulated if a bill introduced by Representative Sherry, and formally reported yesterday by the House Judiciary Committee becomes a law. It provides that any person may become a voluntary bankrupt excepting a municipal corporation, insurance, or banking corporation. It also designates the kinds of property which are required to be listed in bankruptcy proceedings, and definitely fixes the fees and charges in that connection.

Blow at Forestry Law Bureau.

An amendment was added to the agricultural appropriation bill in the Senate Committee on Agriculture yesterday which brings all law departments and law bureaus in the various branches of the Agricultural Department service under the Solicitor for the Department of Agriculture, George P. McCabe. The amendment is aimed to abolish the law department of the Forest Service as an independent bureau.

Senate Passes a Railroad Bill.

The bill amending the act promoting the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads, which was reported favorably by Senator Elkins from the Committee on Interstate Commerce, passed the Senate yesterday. The bill has previously passed the House. The bill allows the railroads to haul a defective car to repair shops without being liable to the penalty imposed by law.

Moving Plow Pit Approved.

The Senate District Committee yesterday favorably reported the bill permitting the City and Suburban Railway to move the plow pit on North Capitol street at T street two blocks farther out North Capitol street. The bill has been placed on the calendar and will probably pass without delay.

Overtime on Government Work.

Senator Britton, of Kansas, introduced a bill yesterday directing a readjustment of the pay of laborers and mechanics on government work, to conform to an eight-hour day, and to pay for overtime.

of government officials to run the government. It looked to him as if Congress was giving its consent to the executive branch of the government to attend to bills, while the legislators would arrange a modern system of bookkeeping for the departments.

Aldrich Would Not Serve. "There is no intelligent observer," said Senator Aldrich, in reply, "who does not know that the executive departments of the government are carried on with absolute business methods, or with none at all. At least 10 per cent of the amount appropriated annually can be saved by the adoption of business methods. The American people are not distrustful of any effort to economize. This investigation should be carried on, I don't care by whom. I certainly would not serve on the commission."

"In my opinion, no duty would be so fruitful of results to the government. Every one knows there is duplication in the departments. The cost of investigation would be a small fraction of the amount that would be saved. Changes in the laws as well as an investigation of business methods should be considered."

Senator Money, the minority leader, said the investigation should be conducted by Congress instead of by a commission, part of which was to be named by the Executive. He thought the statement of Senator Aldrich that $200,000,000 in government expenditures could be saved annually a severe arraignment of Republican extravagance in administration.

Congress Too Busy to Do It.

Senator Newlands, of Nevada, expressed the opinion that the investigation should be conducted by a commission to be named exclusively by the President. He said Congress has enough matters on hand to demand its time.

Senator Carter, of Montana, favored the bill. As an instance of the duplication of work in the departments, he said, eight or ten mapmaking concerns are now at work in this city on maps for the several departments.

Senator Aldrich offered an amendment providing that the commission should consist of five Senators and five Members of the House. This met the objection of several Senators, who thought the investigation should be conducted independently of the executive department.

Some of the Democratic Senators prefer to see in the proposed commission a move on the part of the Republicans to strengthen their political fences in the next campaign.

BORAH FOR WOMAN'S VOTE.

Lone Suffragette Applauds Offering of Constitutional Amendment.

Women of the United States can exercise the right of suffrage if an amendment to the Constitution, introduced in the Senate yesterday by Senator Borah, of Idaho, is passed by Congress and ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

The introduction of the resolution was followed with a demonstration by a fair suffragette who occupied a seat in the private gallery of Senators. The enthusiastic young lady, who sat across the bench from the chairs reserved for members of the President's family, clapped her gloved hands until nudged by another of her sex, who seemed to be out of sympathy with her. The Vice President appeared to be oblivious to the effort at applause in the gallery, which was more spectacular than noisy.

Senator Borah's resolution provides that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex." It also authorizes Congress to provide such appropriations as shall be necessary to carry into effect the purpose of the proposed amendment.

SENATE GETS NOMINATIONS.

Appointments in War, Navy, and Other Departments Announced.

The President yesterday sent the following nominations to the Senate: War Medical Corps—Lieutenant colonel to be colonel, Charles Richard; major to be lieutenant colonel, Euclid S. Frick; captain to be major, Wallace De Witt.

Medical Reserve Corps—Citizen to be first lieutenant, William Paul Lamb, of New Jersey.

Justice—To be United States marshal for the Western District of Texas, Eugene Nolte, of Texas; to be United States attorney for the Western District of Texas, Charles A. Boynton, of Texas.

Treasury—To be collector of customs for the district of Annapolis, Md., William W. Sewall, of Maine.

Post-office—To be a postmaster, George D. Heisey, Newark, Ohio.

Navy—Captain to be rear admiral, Sidney A. Stanton; machinist to be a chief machinist, James M. Ober; paymasters, rank of lieutenant, to be paymasters, rank of lieutenant commander, Jonathan Brooks, Franklin P. Sackett, William T. Wallace, John R. Sanford, Eugene F. Hall, David M. Addison, Victor S. Jackson, and Herbert E. Stevens.

OBJECTION BY G. A. R. MEN.

Bill to Loan Tents to Confederates Halted by Representative Scott.

The Senate bill providing for the loan by the government of a number of tents for the Confederate Veterans' Reunion at Mobile in April was reached on the unanimous consent calendar of the House yesterday afternoon, and promptly objected to by Representative Scott, of Kansas.

"Sentiment back home" was the explanation given later by Mr. Scott. It is well known that the G. A. R. is stronger numerically in Mr. Scott's district than in any other section of the United States. Mr. Scott did not desire to pose as a waver of "the bloody shirt," but his position as objector was forced upon him, he said, by his constituents.

PRIVATE BILLS IN SENATE.

The Senate yesterday passed the following personal relief bills: Permitting William Fry White and John B. Lord to put in claims for damages resulting from the changes of grade on streets running to Union Station, they having failed to put in their claims within the required time.

Senator Gallinger yesterday introduced a bill providing for relief in property award cases to Margaretha Weidman, Clarence C. Weidman, and Margerite E. Weidman.

Senator Scott yesterday offered a bill providing for the purchase by the District of the property known as Grace-land Cemetery, at Fifteenth and H streets northeast. It is proposed to create a public park at this point.

NATION SURPRISED BY KING'S SPEECH

criminals," he asked. "Is the government certain it has a verdict against the lords?" he continued. The real opinion of the House of Commons, he declared, was against the government. The ministers should consider how they had won a victory, and also, that not very creditable figure they had cut in the last few days. If finance was to be the exclusive privilege of the House of Commons, there would have to be a definition of what "finance" was, and he was not sure, but that a tribunal would now have to be set up to decide what is and what is not finance.

Lord Lansdowne protested strongly against rushing the veto bill. He said, "There is no disposition in our part to shirk the discussion. We admit that there is a House of Lords question. But we say to you that we do not want a sham, tawdry house. We are ready to cooperate in dealing with the question, but if our co-operation is rejected we will, at the proper time, consider proposals of our own."

Barnes to Speak To-day.

The House of Commons adjourned this afternoon. Barnes, Laborite leader, will be the first speaker when the debate is renewed on Tuesday.

After adjournment there was a protracted conference of the Labor members of the Commons, but they refused to make public the result of their deliberations. It is believed that there were dissensions among them.

Lords to Reform Themselves.

Lord Rosebery, former premier, rising in his place in the Lords, made an earnest appeal for the Lords to reform themselves. This he thought should be done without delay. After remarking that the elections had been a disappointment to every party concerned and that the Irish party avowedly wished to remove the Upper House solely for the temporary purpose of obtaining home rule, he expressed the belief that the Nationalists, having won their point, would take no further interest in imperial affairs.

The present, he believed, was the golden opportunity for the Lords to right themselves with the public, and to put themselves in a position to resist attack, not as the Lords now constituted, but as a second chamber, which would be of infinitely more importance. He could not agree with the suggestions made earlier by the Earl of Crewe and Lord Lansdowne to proceed leisurely.
