WILL COME TO WASHINGTON FOR EASTER FESTIVITIES.

MISS HARRIET ANDERSON. MISS KATHERINE ANDERSON.
Nieces of Mrs. Taft and guests at White House early in the season.

WASHINGTON'S Holy Week will be a dull period, so far as social affairs are concerned. There will be dinners and other gayeties, but no one wants to be chattered as entertaining during this season of solemnity and penance. The churches, dressmakers, and milliners are the busiest lot. There will be services several times a day in the Episcopal and Catholic churches, and the gowns and bonnets for Easter must be finished.

This has been a remarkable March in the matter of hats, for the streets, the churches, and the theaters are quite as gay with Easter hats as though it were long past that festival. There never was a year when women were so inconspicuous as this season, when scores of them have on their straw hats trimmed with bright flowers, and at the same time are wearing furs. It has caused much comment among men. The few conservative women systematically wait until Easter morning.

Mrs. Taft and her sister, Mrs. More, spent the week shopping in New York, and on their return here last night were all ready with their spring clothes. President and Mrs. Taft recalled the invitations to the Christmas dance in the White House, and disappointed scores of school girls and college boys, because of the sudden death of Mrs. Horace Taft, but have decided not to postpone the Easter dance because of the sad death of Mrs. Taft's brother-in-law, Mr. Laughlin, in Pittsburg.

A great wave of sympathy has been extended Mrs. Laughlin, who has made many friends in society here by her charming manners and personality, in her two visits to the White House. It is hoped that eventually Mrs. Laughlin will spend her winters here, where she would be a factor in the winter resident circle and join the colony of charming wealthy widows in Washington.

Mrs. More will remain with Mrs. Taft for several weeks. Miss Harriet Anderson, niece of Mrs. Taft, will come to the White House next week for an Easter visit, and her sister, Miss Katherine Anderson, will be the guest of the Misses Southernland, daughters of Capt. W. H. Southernland, U. S. N. Many entertainments have been planned for these attractive girls, who are already well known in Washington's smart society.

The horse show is now an assured event for the first week in May, and will draw out the smartest people round about. It is planned to hold it on the Speedway in Potomac Park, and the time chosen being the most beautiful time of the year in Washington, this scene will be well worth seeing.

And now will come the realization of the great calamity to Washington in the loss of the thousand or so Japanese cherry trees sent over last fall to ornament Potomac Drive, and which were burned because of the importation with them of a destructive insect which could not be eliminated.

The smart young people will indulge in their favorite sport of a paper chase today, starting from way beyond Sheridan circle and pursuing a route toward Chevy Chase, where luncheon will be served, with a number of additional guests who will motor or drive out.

The goal is the catching one of the three leaders, the hare, as they are called, who start fifteen minutes ahead of the party and scatter small scraps of paper from bags hung round their necks. This marks their trail, and the object is to follow after them as fast as possible, and finally catch up with them before they reach their destination.

It looks almost as if the Humane Society had put in some of its good work on the hunting sport.

The spring engagements promise to be interesting ones. Two of last year's debutantes have already announced their intentions to be brides in the spring. They are Miss Edith Sutherland, daughter of the Senator from Utah, who will be married to Robert Elmore in May and Miss Margaret C. C. Brooks, daughter of Mrs. E. C. Brooks, who will wed Mr. Lucius Warren Johnson, U. S. N., in the same month. Their engagements were announced within a few weeks of each other. Mr. Elmore is now in California, where he has been most of the winter, and Dr. Johnson is with his ship, the Minnesota, with the Atlantic fleet. Both engagements had been well guarded by the young people and came as a surprise to their friends.

The number of charity entertainments grows every day, all to be given during the spring season. Among them is the most interesting theatrical to be given at the New Willard for the Working Boys' Home on April 12, and the entertainment on April 16 for the Boys' Club, or Washington Juvenile Club for Boys, in the home of Mrs. F. B. Moran. Both of these charities appeal strongly to mothers, as they are for the help and the good of boys, the "men of to-morrow."

The management of each entertainment sincerely hopes the hostesses will set no functions on those evenings, as they wish to make these affairs pronounced successes.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The managers of the Washington Juvenile Club have arranged an excellent entertainment for the benefit of the boys, to be given on the evening of April 15, in the beautiful new mansion of Mrs. Francis Berger Moran, 2315 Massachusetts avenue, at 8:30 o'clock.

Local talent has been obtained, including Miss Green, niece of former Senator Teller, and one of the most beautiful singers, and the Madrigal Quartet. Others will be announced later. The patronesses are Mrs. Sherman, wife of the Vice President; Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Dickinson, Mrs. Ballinger, Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German Ambassador; Mrs. Aldrich, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. A. M. Blair, Mrs. Edson Bradley, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Murray Crane, Mrs. Crowsfield, Mrs. Denby, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Ely, Mrs. Farnestock, Mrs. Fairchild, Mrs. Fassett, Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mrs. Richard Harlow, Mrs. George F. Huff, Mrs. Hansen Jennings, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Lowden, Mrs. McCauley, Mrs. McElheny, Mrs. Walter McLean, Mrs. Moran, Mrs. Newberry, Mrs. Neale, Mrs. Theodore W. Noyes, Mrs. Henry Oxnard, Mrs. Benjamin F. Plison, Miss Patten, Mme. Ritter, wife of the Swiss Minister; Mrs. Rodgers, Mrs. Cuno H. Rudolph, Mrs. Peyton Russel, Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, Mrs. Alexander Shepherd, Mrs. Alexander Stewart Talbot, Mrs. Joseph Thropp, Mrs. Richard Townsend,

Mrs. Norman Williams, Mrs. Jesse Wilson, and Mrs. Nathaniel Wilson.

Rehearsals are now being held for the theatricals to be given for the Working Boys' Home, at the New Willard on Tuesday, April 12. The young people on the committee, headed by Miss Grace Bell and Miss Abercrombie-Miller, are doing all in their power to assure the success of the entertainment. Miss Gladys Hinckley, Miss Mary Chew, Miss Mary McCauley, Miss Margaret Cotton Smith, and Miss Laura Merriam, assisted by a number of other debutantes, will sell flowers, candy, and programmes, and Mrs. Richard Harlow will have charge of refreshments to be served between the acts and after the performance.

The entertainment consists of two plays and wonderful fancy dancing by Miss Dolly Lynch, of Lakewood, who will be the guest of Mrs. Evan Sinclair Cameron. Mr. Fortescue and Mr. Evans will act in the first play, "The Outpost," written by Mr. James Archibald, and given with success on the New York stage last winter. The second play, written by Miss Hammond, sister of Mr. John Hays Hammond, is a clever comedy entitled "A Happy Medium." It has been given before with much success, and several of the members of its original cast are to act in it here. They will be ably assisted by pretty Mrs. Evan Sinclair Cameron, Maj. Horton, Mrs. Merriam, and Mr. Cady.

A number of tickets have already been sold, and, as the small ballroom at the New Willard holds only a limited number the financial success of the entertainment seems assured.

Miss Nancy Johnson, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, of Kentucky, christened the new Pacific steamship Kentucky of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company at noon yesterday at Sparrows Point, Md. The party traveled in a special train, and luncheon was served to them on board the steamship. The artists will include Rev. George Fiske Dudley, rector of the church, tenor; Miss Lillian M. Lewis, soprano, and Mr. Percy Veazy, of Baltimore, baritone.
