

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Many Local Items in Measure Carrying $112,000,000.

RAINEY AND MCKINLAY OUT

Illinois Congressman Charges that Speech of Californian Was Prepared by the Attorney General, Which is Denounced as "Unqualifiedly Utrane"—Mann's Plea Stands.

The sundry civil bill, passed by the House yesterday, carries an appropriation of approximately $112,000,000. It was a lively day in the House. Representative Mann, of Illinois, presiding as chairman in Committee of the Whole, reproved members for not observing the rules.

The lecture on the rules was provoked by the action of Representative Kendall, an Iowa insurgent, in appealing from the decision of the Chair on a ruling that sustained a point of order against an amendment offered by Mr. Kendall, which prescribed an eight-hour day on all public works authorized by the bill.

Mr. Kendall appealed from the decision of the Chair, whereupon Mr. Mann made a speech, reproving members who do not abide by the rules.

He declared that the rules are made by authority of the Constitution, and that "every member, before he assumes the duties of his office, holds up his right hand and swears that he will observe the Constitution, and the rules made in accordance with the Constitution."

House Sustains Mann.
"It is suggested," Mr. Mann continued, "that individual members are not bound by the rules. The Congress makes the laws for the District of Columbia.

"It may change the law to-morrow in reference to stealing; but does any one contend that a member of Congress has any more right to steal in the District of Columbia in violation of the law of the land than any one else has?"

"Is there a peculiar quality in being a member of Congress which permits him to violate the law, or the rules made under the Constitution?"

The appeal from the decision of the Chair was lost, 51 to 95.

Sundry civil bills were again brought before the House by Representative Rainey, Democrat, of Illinois. He reiterated statements previously made that Attorney General Wickesham, prior to his acceptance of office under the government, was connected with a firm that appeared as counsel for the sugar trust.

He also charged that a speech, made in defense of Mr. Wickesham by Representative McKinlay, of California, was prepared in the office of the Attorney General.

Replying, Mr. McKinlay said this charge was "unqualifiedly untrue."

District Provided For.
The sundry civil bill passed authorizes the closing of D street southwest, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, for use in connection with the erection of the new building for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. It also makes an appropriation of $100,000 for repairs to the Treasury Department building.

An appropriation of $20,000 is made for the construction of a storehouse for the District naval militia, and for repairs to the Government Hospital for the Insane at St. Elizabeth's Island.

For the maintenance of Howard University the bill contains an appropriation of $53,200, and for tools, books, and improvements sums aggregating in total for the university $20,000.

An item of $5,500 is given to Freedmen's Hospital.

DISTRICT BILLS IN HOUSE.

Senate Amendments to Local Measures Are Agreed To.
The House yesterday noon agreed to the Senate amendments to the sundry civil bill providing that neither the United States nor the District, nor any of its officers, shall be required to give bond to perfect any appeal or to obtain any injunction, writ, or process, for which bond is now or may be required by law or rule of any court.

The Senate amendments to the bill authorizing the widening of First street northeast were also agreed to on motion of Representative Smith.

When the bill regarding telegraph companies in the District to pay taxes on their gross receipts was taken up Mr. Smith moved to nonconcur in the Senate amendments. The motion was agreed to, and the bill was sent to conference. Representatives Smith, Pearce, and Cox being named as conferees on the part of the House.

BILLS FAVORABLY REPORTED.

Commissioners' Measures Acted on by District Subcommittee.
Several bills which the Commissioners have advocated were favorably reported by a subcommittee of the House District Committee yesterday. One of these was the Commissioners' bill providing for certain amendments to the fish and game laws. The bill to amend the law relating to the licensing of drivers of passenger vehicles and the bill providing regulations for the lighting of vehicles in the District were reported.

The subcommittee also favorably reported the Cary bill for the testing of electric meters was taken up, but not acted upon. At the request of George H. Harries, a hearing, it was announced, will be had on this bill next Saturday.

Union Station Elevators.
The House District Committee yesterday received from the Commissioners a favorable report on the bill of Representative Spayden, of Texas, requiring the installation of passenger elevators in Union Station.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS.

(JUNE 4, 1910.)

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session yesterday.

HOUSE.

The House yesterday passed the sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying approximately $112,000,000.

An effort to secure the application of the eight-hour day to government contracts, made by Representative Kendall, of Iowa, failed.

Stirred by a speech in defense of the Attorney General, inserted in the Record by Representative McKim, of California, Representative Rainey, of Illinois, again aired his charge against Mr. Wickesham in regard to his alleged former connection with the sugar trust.

The House adjourned at 5:10 p. m., until to-day (when memorial services will be conducted in honor of the late Representative William C. Lovings, of Massachusetts).

SMOOT SAYS TAFT BEATS ROOSEVELT

More Radical, Senator Declares in Speech.

Boston, June 4.—That President Taft has actually accomplished more radical reforms in the short time he has been President than President Roosevelt ever suggested, was the declaration of United States Senator Smoot, of Utah, at the home of Henry Howard, in Brookline, where he spoke to-night on "Mormonism" before the Thursday Club.

Senator Smoot also declared that Massachusetts will make a great mistake if it does not return Senator Lodge to the Senate next year.

It was while discussing the administration railroad bill that he made the statement comparing Taft's work with Roosevelt's.

"The administration railroad bill just passed is a step in the right direction substantially strengthened by the amendment which was adopted," said Senator Smoot. "I regret that section seven was struck out. That section would have permitted traffic agreements between railroads to have them, even if illegal. If the people take this railroad bill and analyze it, they will find it is a step long in advance of anything ever suggested by Roosevelt."

Concerning the Payne-Aldrich agreement, Senator Smoot said: "People of the Middle West cannot see why New England protests the tariff bill now in operation. They believe it was made for New England."

TYPOS RE-ELECT J. M. LYNCH

Votes of International Union Tabulated at Indianapolis.

Frank Morrison is Elected with Three Others as Delegates to American Federation.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 4.—The work of tabulating the votes of the members of the International Typographical Union has been completed at international headquarters, and shows that James M. Lynch was re-elected international president by a majority of 6,127. George A. Tracy, first vice president, by a majority of 4,672, and J. W. Hays, secretary-treasurer, by a majority of 9,554. Mr. Lynch received 22,000 votes, while his opponent, William M. Reilly, of Dallas, received 9,532 votes. For first vice president, George A. Tracy, of San Francisco, received 20,424 votes, while his opponent, Charles H. Govan, of New York, received 16,222 votes.

For secretary-treasurer, J. W. Hays received 23,163 votes, while his opponent, Robert C. Albrook, of Denver, received 13,959 votes. Frank Morrison, of Chicago Typographical Union, No. 16; Max S. Hays, of Cleveland; Hugh Stevenson, of Toronto, and T. W. McCullough, of Omaha, receiving the highest number of votes, were elected delegates to the American Federation of Labor. By virtue of his position as international president, Mr. Lynch will also be a delegate. The vote for delegates to the A. F. of L. stood as follows: Frank Morrison, 30,119; Max S. Hays, 22,232; Hugh Stevenson, 21,085; T. W. McCullough, 17,623; Edgar A. Perkins, Indianapolis, 14,077; Sam De Nedrey, Columbia, 11,641; Charles W. Fear, Joplin, 12,539; Alexander McLean, Waterbury, 9,562; Thomas McCaffery, Colorado Springs; Michael Powell, Ottawa, Canada, and Walter H. McKee, New York, were elected trustees for the Union Printers' Home. As president of the international, Mr. Lynch is the president of the board of trustees, and J. W. Hays as international secretary-treasurer is secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees. In addition to these, there are two hold-overs, Miss Anna C. Wilson, of Washington, and L. C. Shepard, of Grand Rapids.

Switzerland has 14,717 miles of telegraph and telephone lines. In 1908 the 2,255 telegraph offices handled 4,912,000 telegrams, producing a revenue of $69,000.

SPEAKS ON ALABAMA

Emmet O'Neal Says Conservatism Is Gaining.

GUEST AT BANQUET HERE

Tells Delegation from His Native State Why His Campaign for Prohibition Succeeded and How Prohibition Figures in the Future of Alabama's Welfare.

"The keynote of the campaign just closed in Alabama was the restoration of conservatism against radicalism, and what I will recommend to the legislature will be along that line."

Emmet O'Neal, who was nominated for governor by the Democrats of Alabama, and will be elected in November, spoke above last night. He was guest of honor at a banquet at which Representative Underwood, dean of the Alabama delegation, acted as toastmaster.

The campaign in Alabama was fought out on the prohibition issue and under the leadership of Mr. O'Neal "the efforts to control the private habits of Alabama" were defeated.

"Local option," said Mr. O'Neal, "had been the accepted law more extensively above last night. He was guest of honor at a banquet at which Representative Underwood, dean of the Alabama delegation, acted as toastmaster.

The campaign in Alabama was fought out on the prohibition issue and under the leadership of Mr. O'Neal "the efforts to control the private habits of Alabama" were defeated.

"Local option," said Mr. O'Neal, "had been the accepted law more extensively above last night. He was guest of honor at a banquet at which Representative Underwood, dean of the Alabama delegation, acted as toastmaster.

"Not satisfied with the act creating State-wide prohibition, the extra legislature of 1890 passed a law more extreme and radical on the liquor question than those on the statute books of any other State. In addition to this, they not only undertook to prohibit the sale of liquor by constitutional amendment, but sought to regulate and control the private habits of a citizen. The result was a bitter and acrimonious campaign, and the amendment was overwhelmingly defeated, carrying only six counties in the State. Under the rules of the Democratic party, delegates were elected to a State convention, and after a few days of session, the convention declared in favor of local option as the wisest method for the solution of the liquor question. While the recent convention for government engendered some bitterness, that ended with the announcement of the party's verdict.

Party Makes Big Majority.
"There may be some disaffection on the part of the extreme and radical prohibitionists of the party, but every indication points to one of the largest majorities the party has received in many years.

"From all the clash of opinions and ideas on the liquor question, I am convinced that if liquor is allowed again, to be sold in any part of the State, it will be under some system by which admitted evils will be minimized as far as possible by careful and conservative legislation.

"In the campaign just closed, Mr. Malloy, my opponent, represented the extreme prohibition sentiment of the State, and it was generally believed he would win. He was defeated, and the State accepted any county from the operation of the general prohibition laws. While he never made any direct statement to that effect, his speeches created that impression. While I stated I favored giving the laws a fair trial, I said that I would not veto any act of the legislature excepting any county from the operation of the general law of the State, which expressed the thoughtful sentiment of the people."

GAME CAPTIVATES MRS. TAFT

President's Wife Learns to Play Auction Bridge.

Departs Cincinnati with Sister, Mrs. Laughlin. After Visit to Her Father's Sick Bed.

Cincinnati, June 4.—Auction bridge parties probably will play a large part in the informal amusement of President Taft's summer home, at Beverly, Mass., this season as a result of Mrs. Taft's study of the new game in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Taft took three lessons in auction bridge while visiting there this week from Miss Kate Wheelock, whist expert, who said that her pupil is now able to play the game unaided.

Cincinnati society women living on exclusive Grandin street, where the residence of Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. Taft's sister, is situated, are eager to learn the fashionable game, which, according to the teacher, has broken all records for popularity.

"The game is having a tremendous run," she said. Mrs. Taft took her lessons with other members of a class, so I cannot judge her playing very well, but I understand that she is an excellent bridge player, which should make her proficient in the new game."

Mrs. Taft and her sister, Mrs. Thomas Laughlin, of Pittsburg, who came to Cincinnati because of the illness of their venerable father, John C. Herron, left Cincinnati to-day. Mrs. Taft will go to Washington and her sister to Pittsburg. The President's wife has attended several informal affairs.

Immigration into this country reached the high-water mark during 1907.

MADRIZ MEN AGAIN ROUTED IN BATTLE

hill from which Pittman was operating his electric switch, and before Pittman realized his danger he had been captured and packed off to Lara's camp, where he was kept a prisoner throughout the ten days' fighting around Bluefields. It was the Boston man who was captured in the manner of his capture was reported. It was said Pittman had gone to Kama to mine Mena's operations. However, it is generally accepted to-day that Pittman is in the hands of the enemy.

He May Be Executed.
No statement was forthcoming from Gen. Irias, Madriz's personal representative on the Atlantic coast, as to what would be done with Pittman other than the laconic answer that he "would be treated as a prisoner of war." Whatever the belief of Bluefields may be worth, gossip here is generally as authentic as official statements, and the current rumor in Bluefields is that Madriz will be executed if he is not returned to the Madriz prisoners of war will meet with sudden and unexplainable death. Besides this, it is understood that Consul Moffitt has been authorized from Washington to convey a reiteration to Irias that the State Department will hold Madriz personally responsible for any harm that Americans may sustain.

The members of Post F. Travelers' Protective Association, at 8 o'clock to-morrow night will attend special services at the Second Presbyterian Church. Rev. J. H. Sevier, pastor of the church and chaplain of the local post, will deliver a sermon. The members of the post will assemble at the rooms of the chamber of commerce at 7 o'clock and march in a body to the church.

An official notice of the execution of Henry Smith, who was electrocuted at the State penitentiary yesterday for complicity in the murder of Walter E. Schultz, was received to-day from Superintendent Wood, of that institution, by N. S. Greenaway, clerk of the Corporation Court.

Capt. A. J. Fair, one of the best known river men in the city, is critically ill tonight at his home in Wolfe street. Capt. Fair is about seventy-six years old and spent most of his life on the water. Owing to ill health, he retired from active work some time ago. His last employment was captain of the tug Brewster, which transferred the Baltimore and Ohio barge, in which service he engaged, for twenty years.

Free Methodist Quarterly.
A quarterly meeting is in progress at the Free Methodist Church. It is being conducted by Rev. George Eskins, of New Jersey. There will be preaching to-morrow at 11 o'clock and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. A love feast will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Ambrose C. Wyckoff has purchased from Jessie V. Armstrong a three-story brick dwelling house on the north side of Prince street, between St. Asaph and Pitt streets. A deed for the same was recorded to-day.

In the Corporation Court to-day a decree for divorce on the grounds of desertion was granted to Mrs. M. J. Grant.

General Says Her Illness in Chicago Is Not Serious.
Chicago, June 4.—Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, wife of Gen. F. D. Grant, who is ill at the Michael Rees Hospital, where she was taken yesterday, was resting well to-day.

"Mrs. Grant went to the hospital," said the general, "and hoped to leave again shortly without any one being the wiser. She is much distressed that news of her illness has been printed and sent about the country. It is not a serious case."

King Calls on Chamberlain.
London, June 4.—King George visited Joseph Chamberlain at his London residence this afternoon. He remained over an hour and took tea. Mr. Chamberlain was unable to meet the King at the door.

President Madriz Warned to Use Humane Treatment.
Secretary of State Knox took prompt steps yesterday to protect William B. Pittman, of Boston, who is reported to be awaiting trial by court-martial by the Madriz government for laying mines during the recent battle near Bluefields. Although no official confirmation of the report was received at the State Department, instructions were sent immediately to the American consuls at Managua and Bluefields and to Commander W. W. Gilmer, U. S. N., commanding officer of the gunboat Fuchs, ordering them to investigate and make prompt report to the State Department.

The press dispatches alleged that Pittman had been captured in a hot fight while he was engaged in operating the mechanism for exploding the mines which he is said to have planted.

Secretary Knox's Dispatch.
The instructions sent to the American consuls and to Commander Gilmer were as follows:

"There is a newspaper report from San Juan del Sur to the effect that William B. Pittman, an American citizen, who is alleged to have laid mines while operating with the Estrada forces has been made prisoner of the Madriz forces, and is about to be tried by court-martial. It is unnecessary to point out that this government will jealously scrutinize the treatment accorded him which must be humane and regular. You will immediately make inquiry and report to the department."

Madriz Forces in Retreat.
"Yesterday Gen. Mena defeated Gen. Chavarria at El Reorco, completely destroying the enemy. We expect that Gen. Mena will capture Gen. Chavarria and his staff who are in flight up the river at El Muelle de las Buelas. Gen. Mena is making troops overland to head off the retreat while the fugitives are being followed up the river by Capt. Coton and an armed force."

Dr. Castriello said the provisional government intended to follow up its victory over the government forces and to gain control of the whole country.

The State Department received a delayed dispatch from Thomas P. Moffat, American consul at Bluefields, saying that the Madriz forces were in full retreat, leaving their dead and wounded on the field. Gen. Mena, one of the leaders of the Estrada forces, he added, is pursuing the government forces.

Candle Causes $25 Blaze.
The tipping over of a lighted candle left in a room at 955 Rhode Island avenue caused a $25 blaze yesterday. Wearing apparel lying on a bed and the mattress were consumed.

Ill Luck Follows Auto.
Ill luck follows the auto owned by C. A. Warnick, 303 O street northwest. The machine was partially consumed by fire several days ago, and an alarm sent in yesterday brought the firemen there in time to see the last wheel go up in smoke.

NOTABLES ENLIVEN CHEVY CHASE CLUB

Vice President and Senator Depew Are Visitors.

Vice President Sherman and Senator Depew visited the Chevy Chase Club yesterday afternoon and enlivened an interesting gathering there.

The Vice President arrived in an automobile with Mrs. Sherman shortly before 6 o'clock, and departed after greeting many friends and acquaintances.

He had merely called to say good-by temporarily.

Senator Depew was an early arrival. He occupied one of the tables under a tree near the golf course, paying but little attention to the golf play, and spending the whole time in quiet and earnest conversation with a few friends.

At one stage he was treated to a deplorable discourtesy on the part of Old Sol; a discourtesy rather than made his Senatorial toga—used to the soft, gentle touch of the Senate atmosphere—quiver with humiliation.

While he was deeply engrossed in a conversation, the sun god dropped in a few degrees on the horizon and penetrating under the friendly shelter of overhanging branches, shadow-fall and impulsive on the Senator. He moved his chair half a turn to the left.

Shortly afterward, down dropped the sun a few more pegs. Again the Senator twisted his chair to leeward. The sun repeated the same old dodge, when, becoming, evidently, disheartened at the immobility of the universe, the Senator yielded the "floor" to Sol, and retreated behind the trunk of the tree, accompanied by his two companions.
