GERMANS TO UNVEIL

Societies Plan for Steuben Ceremony in October.

BARTHOLDT TO BE IN CHARGE

Missouri Representative Will Be Supplemented by Other Distinguished Men, Who Will Make Addresses in Honor of Washington's Drillmaster—Officers Elected.

Representative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri, has been requested by the Secretary of War to take charge of the unveiling of the statue of Baron von Steuben, the drillmaster of Washington's troops, which will take place November 16 at the northwest corner of Lafayette Square.

It is for the purpose of assisting the statesman from Missouri in this task that the United German Societies of Washington, under the presidency of Kurt Voelckner, met yesterday at Beales's Hall to discuss plans.

Congress has appropriated $3,000 to defray the expenses incident to the unveiling festival, and Representative Bartholdt and the German societies have decided that the event shall be a red letter day. There will be prominent German and English speakers, and Dr. E. J. Hexamer, the president of the German-American Alliance, will make the principal German address. German singers and turners and veterans, and other organizations will be represented.

Turners Elect Officers.

The annual election of officers of the Columbia Turnverein, which took place at its hall yesterday, resulted as follows: Alfred Beauder, acting president; Lotmar Roesch, vice president; F. Mann, corresponding secretary; Max E. Kahler, treasurer; Alfred Dietz, librarian; John L. Schaffert, superintendent of hall; Charles Spless, color bearer; Andrew Loeffler, chairman of finance committee; Ernst Gichner, chairman of literary committee; Oscar G. Lange, chairman of the committee on the German school committee; Carl C. T. Schmidt, secretary; Max A. Schmidt, grievance committee; Charles Spless, chairman, Louis Remund treasurer, and William Short secretary of the house committee.

The financial report for the past six months showed receipts amounting to $2,402.22 and expenses $1,828.43, leaving a surplus of $573.79. The committee has admitted to membership yesterday, bringing the roll up to near the 400 mark. The report of the building committee was most encouraging. The committee will soon be in condition to start active work.

The Germania Maennerchor, at its last meeting, elected the following officers: Carl Braun, president; Joe Wondrack, vice president; Fred W. Helbig, treasurer; Adolf Strelitz, recording and corresponding secretary; F. L. Aue, financial secretary; George Fischer, Carl Cusler, and A. E. Hoffmann, board of trustees; Carl Hornischer and Joseph Goetz, color bearers; Peter Matern, librarian, and Fritz Bechler, horn carrier.

The Subban Sick Benefit Society, at its last meeting, unanimously adopted a resolution assessing each member 5 cents as an additional contribution to the Pastorius monument. The Subban Society is the first of the German societies in this city to pass this resolution.

The Arion Gessang Verein, which last year inaugurated the beautiful annual custom to celebrate German Day by making a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon, is making preparations to observe the day in the same manner this year. There is a strong feeling among the members that all the other German organizations should join the Arion in this observance. It has also been suggested that the local Irish societies be invited to join in the celebration of the German Day, this being in keeping with the idea proposed at a meeting in Philadelphia, between the president of the German-American National Alliance and the president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

OUTING FOR MISSOURIANS.

Big Day at Great Falls, Where Picnic Is Held in Pavilion. The annual picnic of the Missouri Society was held at Great Falls Saturday afternoon. About fifty Missourians were in attendance. After a few hours spent in staidly nook, dinner was served in one of the pavilions on an improvised banquet table.

The women of the society had prepared for the hungry. President H. J. Phelps urged the "show-me" folks to make good their reputation. And they "showed" the natives that Missourians know how to eat.

Those present were H. J. Phelps, president; Stanley H. Ridings, secretary, and Mrs. Ridings, Miss Davita Ridings, L. P. Shidy, Miss V. V. Shidy, Miss Esther Klein, Miss Mabel A. Begeman, Miss Pauline Harris, Mrs. Guilford A. Leavitt, Mrs. E. L. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Holt, Miss Mae Wegman, Miss Lulu Adams, Miss Pearl Matthews, Lee T. Robison, Mrs. Robison, Miss Pearl Robison, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lincoln, Miss Edith A. Lincoln, W. W. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Andrew, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Wyatt, H. B. Conkling, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Holmes, Will J. Hill, Miss E. M. Garrison, Mrs. W. H. Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Singleton, and W. S. Cope.

AMERICAN BIDS FAIL

Minister to China Says They Need Expert Representation. William J. Calhoun, American Minister to China, has advised the State Department of the recent failure of American bidders to obtain an order for locomotives for the Chinese railways.

The American bidders, he added, had failed apparently because of the lack of technical representatives to give full explanations of their products.

Dr. Hill to Travel. Dr. David Jayne Hill, American Ambassador to Germany, has been granted leave of absence for a few days to travel in Europe.

A $20 gold piece, beaten into gold leaf, will cover more than sixteen square yards of surface.

Soak codfish one cup and mix it with one egg and washed potatoes twice the bulk of the fish, slice into thin slices, then coat with egg and cracker crumbs and fry.

STAGE EMPLOYEES FIND OPEN HOUSE

Eagles Entertain Delegates to Annual Convention. Open house was held all day yesterday and last night at Eagle Hall in honor of the delegates to the eighteenth annual convention of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, which begins to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock and closes Saturday night.

About 400 delegates from all over the United States and Canada are in attendance, and the president, J. P. Barrett, of Boston, will preside at the opening session. Grand Secretary and Treasurer L. M. Hart, of Chicago, will examine credentials, and after the delegates are seated the convention will adjourn to take a trip by boat to Mount Vernon.

They will return at 6 p. m. and will convene in regular session at 8 p. m. The Washington delegates are H. Sollars and T. I. Trundie. The committee on entertainment is composed of J. T. Hurley, chairman; Leonard Rubie, secretary, and H. Sollars, J. Loftus, and J. Becker. This committee has left nothing undone to make the visiting delegates feel at home. A sightseeing trip will be taken in automobiles around Washington during the week. Wednesday night the annual banquet will be given.

THROUGH AT COLONIAL

Washingtonians Escape Heat at Beach Resort.

MANY COTTAGES ARE FILLED

Boating and Bathing Enjoyed by Women and Children, Who Are Spending Their Summer Where the Breezes Blow and There Is No Rush of Busy People.

Colonial Beach, Va., July 10.—On account of the heat, thousands of Washingtonians thronged the beach and Boardwalk here to-day.

The crowd from Washington was as large as that which visited here on the Fourth, numbering nearly 4,000.

Every boat brought hundreds. A cool breeze that swept across the river afforded relief from the heat and made the day an ideal one.

From early morning until late at night the bathhouses and beach were crowded. Boating was popular, crafts of every description, from rubber launches to catboats, dotted the river until evening.

Many Cottages Filled. The Rett Cottage is occupied again this season by Mrs. Ella D. Adams and daughter, Mrs. Guy Corbit, of Washington.

At the Wise Cottage for the season are Mrs. M. Estler, Mrs. F. Nozke, and Mrs. W. Barnes. Their guests recently were Mr. J. J. Gould and wife, of Washington, and Mr. H. Sinclair, Mr. Barnes, and Mr. Nozke.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Scribner, of Takoma Park, accompanied by Miss Louise Scribner, of Washington, are occupying a cozy cottage on the river front, where they have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Barham, Mr. Norman Daly, Mr. Russell Van Haute, and Mr. Frank Scribner, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. B. Peters have opened their cottage, Althea, and with them are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Keating.

Miss Agnes Barnes, of Washington, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Mabel Barnes, are at their attractive summer home, The Pines. Mrs. George Weaver and children, of Washington, have reopened their cottage on the river front, where Mr. Weaver will join them for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gould and wife, of Washington, are at the Cessa. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Humphries left Tuesday evening for Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson, of Washington, and Mr. Homer Crouch, of Fairmont, are guests at the Maryland Cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thor and children, of Northeast Washington, have reopened their cottage for the season.

At the Wilson Cottage for the summer months are Mrs. G. L. Dun and niece, Miss Regal, of Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher and son, Master Olafon Fisher, and Miss Siegler, of Cumberland, Md.

Miss Agnes Barnes, of Washington, has been stopping at the Francis. Mrs. E. A. Roper and family, accompanied by Miss Effie Wheeler, of New York, has reopened her cottage on the river front drive.

Mrs. William Fisher is entertaining her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, and much Miss Reba Fisher, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Oliver, of Washington, are at the Althea for a short stay. Stopping at the Mann Cottage were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Martin, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Patch, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kesley, Mr. Luther Nelson, Mr. C. H. Rubie, Mr. Johnson, Miss Clara Moore, Miss Niles, Mrs. H. J. Donnelly, and Mrs. Minnie Elcheberger, of Washington.

Miss Regina Fisher, of Washington, and Miss Margaret Fox, of Maryland, are visiting Miss M. Steuart and Mrs. C. Alexander at their cottage on the front.

URGES LAW AND ORDER.

The prohibition of the destruction of the moving pictures or the films of the Reno fight is a secondary matter, when taken into consideration with the dominant mob and riot spirit that threatened the peace of the whole country after the result of the contest was made known. Undoubtedly the rampant lawbreaker is becoming more defiant and dangerous, and unless checked his operations will become such a gigantic proposition that it will require a revolution to subdue him.

Apparently, from the outrageous conduct of the participants in the Fourth of July outbreak throughout the country, a casual observer would believe that the formation and operation of mobs and rioters was a right expression of sympathy for the Constitution of the United States. Those who recently disturbed the peace of the Capital City and the nation by endangering the lives of the citizens and destroying private property should be authoritatively informed that the lawbreakers will not be permitted to take possession of this municipality and the rest of the country under any pretense whatever.

The prevalence of this national disorder has been checked by the promoters of the fight as a result of the Johnson-Jeffries fight is largely due to the failure of the Federal, State, and municipal authorities to enforce the laws against the rapidly developing mob and riot spirit that, by toleration, has become a powerful factor to be dealt with. The rioters should be given to understand in no uncertain manner that the way of the transgressor is hard; that this government is one of law and order, and that no matter what the occasion is, or who the promoters of the principals are, regardless of nationality, race, or creed, lawlessness and disorder such as occurred here and elsewhere on Monday last will not be tolerated in the future, if it requires the combined forces of the Federal, State, and municipal governments to prevent the same. The railroad rate and the anti-trust laws enacted by the Congress, and the prosecution of trusts by the judicial departments of the government, are not nearly as essential to the public welfare as the apprehension and punishment of the ringleaders of mobs and riots.

This is no time for palliating the hoodlums and the riff-raff who started this uncalculated and disgraceful outbreak by the issuance of orders that the moving pictures will not be exhibited here for the fear of a riot, thereby placing a premium on the exponents of lawlessness and disorder. Whether the moving pictures are exhibited here and elsewhere or not, the authorities and the law-abiding citizens have the time and again are rioting in this country shall cease, and defy the leaders and their cohorts, whose acts of violence are threatening the existence and permanency of a republican institution to even suggest or attempt such flagrant violations of the peace of the Capital City and the nation as were committed as a result of the Reno fight.

For instance, suppose the lawlessness that broke out here on the Fourth of July had developed into a general riot, what immediate available protection would have been afforded the law-abiding citizens of the community? None whatever. The police force is the chief protection, and that is wholly inadequate, although the authorities have time and again appealed to the Congress for an adequate and sufficient number of custodians of the peace. The citizens should make a demand at the next session of the Congress for an increased police force and increased salaries for the guardians of the peace, who performed such excellent service the night of the Fourth in breaking up what threatened to be a desperate conflict.

The law breakers should be made to understand that the law is supreme, and that the strong arm of the government will be fearlessly and impartially exercised in order to uphold the supremacy of the law. The law-abiding citizens, white and black, should organize a citizens' protective league at once, so that they may co-operate with the peace officers for the mutual protection of the women, the children, and the property of each other in any crisis that may arise in this community, at least, until the Congress provides a more adequate police force.

ATHEISM IN EDUCATION.

Editor The Washington Herald: Probably the greatest menace to the future of the United States is the atheistic system of education in operation at many of the leading universities and colleges of the country. Since Mr. Bolce's exposures, made about a year ago, proof has piled up mountain high in confirmation of his strong assertions.

It has been demonstrated beyond the possibility of contradiction that the majority of our college presidents and professors do not believe in the existence of God, do not believe in the divinity of Christ, laugh at the inspired writings, and offer in place of what they wish to destroy a system of fantastic belief that lacks all evidence of intelligence.

One particular university, the largest in one of the leading States, is a perfect hotbed of socialism. Some of its professors have written books advocating atheism, while others have advocated the abolition of marriage altogether, openly flaunting their belief in "free love" as the ideal state. Some of the most disgustingly immoral writings to be found in scientific literature came from the pens of teachers connected with a certain very large college in this country.

Just what state of morality the young men and women attending these so-called institutions of learning will arrive at is difficult to imagine. No one can be expected that the pernicious influence of the teacher will permeate the character of the students. It cannot be expected that any of the secular American colleges will turn out a class of One particular university, the largest in one of the leading States, is a perfect hotbed of socialism.
