

THE WASHINGTON HERALD

PUBLICATION OFFICE: 734 FIFTEENTH STREET NORTHWEST. Entered at the post-office at Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

Published Every Morning in the Year by THE WASHINGTON HERALD COMPANY, Under the Direction of SCOTT C. BONE, Editor.

Subscription Rates by Carrier. Daily and Sunday, $10.00 per month; $30.00 per quarter; $100.00 per year.

No attention will be paid to anonymous contributions, and no communications to the editor will be printed except upon the name of the writer.

New York Representative, J. C. WILBERDING SPECIAL AGENCY, Brunswick Building, Chicago Representative, BARNARD & BRANHAM, Boyce Building.

SUNDAY, JULY 24, 1910.

Home News Away from Home

Washingtonians who leave the city, either for a short or long stay—whether they go to mountain or seashore, or even across the sea—should not fail to order The Washington Herald sent to them by mail.

The Human Soul.

In an age that seems to glorify material things and to judge of men largely by what they have acquired, little thought is given to the qualities of the soul.

have to carry, and to carry worthily, so that bravely and happily we may face the end. To all of us is given the duty so to live our brief lives that the soul may be purified and strengthened for eternity.

Fort Monroe Explosion. The fatality at Fort Monroe battle command practice of student officers of the Coast Artillery School is another example of the perils of the system of preparing for war.

Keep Cool. Don't fret," advises the Philadelphia Record. How can the Record expect us to, and it handing out that line?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

When you meet the right man, marry him," says Mary Manning. But suppose somebody beats you to him?

A Little Nonsense. No romantic rescue. Three times the pretty damsel sank, but came no stir.

M. Ohnet continues to appeal diplomatically to the narrowness of the French middle classes, who constitute the bulk of his native clientele.

Notes of the Books. Mr. George Barr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rose in the Ring," which is to be issued by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Notes of the Books. Mrs. Emily Post, author of "The Etiquette Book," has just returned from a few weeks' motor trip through New England.

Mexico's Lost Document. Whereabouts of the Declaration of Independence a Mystery.

Rebellious French Nose. The Association of Suffering Noses—L'Association des Nez qui Souffrent—is the latest organization bidding for popular favor in gay Paris.

Chat of the Forum. The First Drop Precedes the Second.

On Growing Old. Growing old is one of the fine arts—and pretty nearly one of the lost arts.

Wonders of Alfalfa. Alfalfa has found a way into the doctor's office as a curative agent.

An Absorbing Case. From the Baltimore American.

A Little Nonsense.

No romantic rescue. Three times the pretty damsel sank, but came no stir.

M. Ohnet continues to appeal diplomatically to the narrowness of the French middle classes, who constitute the bulk of his native clientele.

Notes of the Books. Mr. George Barr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rose in the Ring," which is to be issued by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Notes of the Books. Mrs. Emily Post, author of "The Etiquette Book," has just returned from a few weeks' motor trip through New England.

Mexico's Lost Document. Whereabouts of the Declaration of Independence a Mystery.

Rebellious French Nose. The Association of Suffering Noses—L'Association des Nez qui Souffrent—is the latest organization bidding for popular favor in gay Paris.

Chat of the Forum. The First Drop Precedes the Second.

On Growing Old. Growing old is one of the fine arts—and pretty nearly one of the lost arts.

Wonders of Alfalfa. Alfalfa has found a way into the doctor's office as a curative agent.

An Absorbing Case. From the Baltimore American.

Daily Book Review

"The Red Flag."

M. Ohnet continues to appeal diplomatically to the narrowness of the French middle classes, who constitute the bulk of his native clientele.

Notes of the Books. Mr. George Barr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rose in the Ring," which is to be issued by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Notes of the Books. Mrs. Emily Post, author of "The Etiquette Book," has just returned from a few weeks' motor trip through New England.

Mexico's Lost Document. Whereabouts of the Declaration of Independence a Mystery.

Rebellious French Nose. The Association of Suffering Noses—L'Association des Nez qui Souffrent—is the latest organization bidding for popular favor in gay Paris.

Chat of the Forum. The First Drop Precedes the Second.

On Growing Old. Growing old is one of the fine arts—and pretty nearly one of the lost arts.

Wonders of Alfalfa. Alfalfa has found a way into the doctor's office as a curative agent.

An Absorbing Case. From the Baltimore American.

The Inferior Races!

Every Old Nation Has Its Standards and Opinions as to Superiority.

But what is an inferior race? Every race secretly believes that most others are inferior to it. China is quite as well convinced that Americans are an inferior race as Americans in general are absolutely different, and that is about all that can be said.

Theoretically, we place more value on life than some other races, but what with its commercial destruction and the private shootings and the lynchings the balance is not so clearly in our favor.

Notes of the Books. Mr. George Barr McCutcheon, having completed work on his forthcoming novel, "The Rose in the Ring," which is to be issued by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Notes of the Books. Mrs. Emily Post, author of "The Etiquette Book," has just returned from a few weeks' motor trip through New England.

Mexico's Lost Document. Whereabouts of the Declaration of Independence a Mystery.

Rebellious French Nose. The Association of Suffering Noses—L'Association des Nez qui Souffrent—is the latest organization bidding for popular favor in gay Paris.

Chat of the Forum. The First Drop Precedes the Second.

On Growing Old. Growing old is one of the fine arts—and pretty nearly one of the lost arts.

Wonders of Alfalfa. Alfalfa has found a way into the doctor's office as a curative agent.

An Absorbing Case. From the Baltimore American.

At the Hotels.

"Eskimos do not have even rudimentary education," said Dr. P. D. Hanbury, of London, England, who has just returned from a trip through the uninhabited regions of the arctic.

The settlements continue year after year at one location. About the middle of October the snow drifts are built, and the walls fall early in May.

The Hudson Bay Eskimos have more conveniences, as they trade periodically with the Hudson Bay posts and the American whalers for guns, ammunition, and hardware.

Martin R. Gregg, of Kansas City, who was seen at the Baller, in speaking of beef, said last night that the quality of beef has been deteriorating.

"The tendency of recent years in the beef-breeding industry has been toward developing baby beef.

The best meat sold now is softer than that sold twenty years ago, or even ten years ago. It lacks the solidity, firmness, and something of the taste that belonged to the older beef of years ago.

The question whether cottonseed meal does not tend to lower the quality of beef has been often raised.

How would you enjoy a pile of wood shavings saturated with a strong solution of pepper as an after-dinner smoke?" asked William F. Quinn, of Portland, Ore., at the Arlington yesterday.

"Strange as this may seem as a substitute for tobacco, it is nevertheless used as such by Indians along the Alaskan coast.

Speaking about the Monroe doctrine and its meaning, Charles W. Turber, a lawyer of New York, who is at the Riedel, said last night: "Misconceptions on both sides of the Atlantic have been due to the current use of the word 'doctrine' for what should be more accurately termed a 'policy'.

No Escape for Him. From the Chicago Record-Herald.

From the Chicago Record-Herald. "Are you in favor of woman suffrage?" she asked.

"Oh, yes! Enthusiastically," he replied. "Now, I wish you would tell me why you think women ought to forget their children and their household duties and get out into the world to mix up in political affairs.

"Good heavens! I beg your pardon. I merely said I was in favor of it to avoid arguing with you. Can't a man be safe on any side any more?"

Astronomical. From the Baltimore American.

Professor—How do you find the right ascension of a star?

Student (absentmindedly)—The quickest way is to look up her backer in Bradstreet's.

Don't Work Together. From the Dallas News.

TO-DAY IN HISTORY.

Our Oldest Railroad—July 24.

The oldest railroad in the United States is the Baltimore and Ohio, having been continuously in existence since 1827, the year it received its charter.

tidewater to the Ohio River. The road originally consisted of iron-plated wooden rails, and a speed of nine miles an hour was considered very wonderful in those days.

July 24, in 1847, the Mormons arrived in Salt Lake Valley. It is the date that Detroit, Mich., was founded in 1701. It is the birthday of John M. Clayton, Secretary of State under Fillmore (1850); John Adams Dix, Secretary of the Treasury and Governor of New York (1785); Alexander Dumas, the novelist (1802); Benn Pitman, the stenographer (1822), and William H. Gillette, the actor (1853).