COLONIAL BEACH IS CAMPING PLACE

Washingtonians Pitch Their Tents Along River.

HOTELS ARE FILLING RAPIDLY

Revenue Cutter Onondaga in Harbor for Several Days to Patrol Course for Motor Boat Races, Which Were Postponed Because of Inclemency of the Weather—Other Notes.

Colonial Beach, Va., July 30.—A week of delightful weather here has brought hundreds of Washingtonians, who are making the most of the out-of-door life and salt water sports. Along the river front are many camps of every size and description, while the cottages and hotels are fast filling up. In another week the capacity of lodging places will be taxed to the limit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Balderston, of Washington, spent the week as guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lippard.

F. W. Alexander, national president of the P. O. S. of A., has returned, after several weeks' visit to the Middle West.

Mrs. Annie McCabe left the beach recently to accept a position in the Census Office. She will make her home in Washington.

The St. Johns will make the trip to the beach every Saturday afternoon during the remainder of the season, leaving at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. F. W. Walcott, who has been suffering from a nervous attack, is fast recovering.

Public Printer Donnelly was a guest at Cedar Croft recently.

Miss Etta Wilson, of Washington, is spending her vacation with her mother at their pretty river-front home.

David F. Weaver and family returned to their home in Washington Tuesday after an outing at Cedar Croft.

Police Boat in Harbor. The James River, a Virginia police boat, commanded by Capt. O. W. Hudson, was in harbor at the beach several days last week. She is patrolling the lower river and Chesapeake Bay in the interest of the oyster fisheries. Capt. Hudson is accompanied by his wife.

Capt. J. P. Lawrence, U. S. N., and Mrs. Lawrence have been guests during the past week at the Colonial Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Kelsor, of Bethesda, Md., are at the beach for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. C. E. Worthington is again occupying her cottage, at the corner of Losing avenue and Vernon street, where she is entertaining Miss Nellie Stockett, of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Shannon, of Bloomingdale, accompanied by their nephew, Floyd Campbell, are enjoying a two weeks' outing at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Higham and baby, of Capitol Hill, are spending their vacation at the Navy cottage.

Mrs. T. B. Harrison, accompanied by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Harrison, returned to her cottage at the beach after an absence of a few days in Washington.

Dr. A. B. Johnson is recuperating at his summer home, Rosedale, after a severe attack of acute indigestion.

The Misses Louise and Irene Cusick, of Lurene cottage, left Sunday for a few days' stay in Washington.

For several days last week the United States revenue cutter Onondaga, detailed from the Norfolk Navy Yard, was anchored off the beach for the purpose of supervising a series of motor boat races. Inclement weather prevented the races from being held and the Onondaga returned to Norfolk. Among the officers aboard were First Lieut. Walter A. Wiley, Lieut. Chester Hardy Jones, and Mr. William Elliott Macconn.

Lawn Fete Given. The lawn of the Stewart cottage was a pretty sight last Saturday evening, when a lawn party was held for the benefit of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. The sum of $90 was realized by the fete.

Mrs. Albert Goodier, of Washington, is the guest of Mrs. Ella D. Adams at her pleasant river front cottage.

Mrs. Allan Scrivener has been hostess during the past week to Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hayes, of Washington, and Miss Phoebe Gilliam, of Cleveland Park.

Mrs. G. W. Forsberg, of Washington, is occupying the Humphries cottage for the season. Her house guests during the past week were Miss Mary Miller, Robert Miller, Miss Anna Forsberg, and Miss Olga Forsberg, of Washington.

Mrs. Charles Fisher, who is spending the season with her mother-in-law, Mrs. William Fisher, left the beach for a short trip to Gettysburg, where she will join her husband, Charles Fisher, of the Ambulance Corps, D. C. N. G.

Dr. and Mrs. Seneca B. Bain, of Washington, are sojourning with Miss Caroline Dashiell.

Miss Madeline Dowler, of Mount Pleasant, has reopened her cottage at the corner of Losing avenue and Weems street. Her guests include Miss Edith Sammons, Miss Nettie McCarthy, and Master Victor Beauchamp, all of Washington.

Crown Castle Guests. Among the Washingtonians at Crown Castle are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hanback, Jerome Hangar, J. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Frazier, Mrs. A. Frazier, Miss Ida Frazier, Mrs. Blum, and S. Clark, of Berwyn, Md.

Guests from Washington at Stewart cottage include Misses M. E. Middleton, Lena Mudd, M. Gardner, S. C. Gardner, and E. J. Edelen.

Recent arrivals at Vernon House are Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Walker, F. E. Gatewood, Miss Dorothy E. Wolfe and Miss Mae Gould of Washington.

Mrs. Grandfield, wife of the Washington postmaster-elect, has been a guest at Cedar Croft.

A party of Washingtonians are enjoying a week's outing at the beach as guests of Mrs. H. J. Whitsett, at the Mann cottage. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. Phelps, Miss Sadie Householder, Mrs. K. Hamilton, Mr. M. S. Bowen, and Dr. Henry N. Kearney.

Recent arrivals at Jersey Cottage from Washington are Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Sweeney and children, Helen and James; Miss Emma Payne, Carroll Trumble, and O. N. Bogdalin.

At the Alvin Smith Memorial Home are the following Washingtonians: E. A. Brown and family, Thomas Brown, Miss Cora E. Decker, Mrs. J. N. Milstead, Mrs. Alvin Smith, Mrs. Russell Taylor, A. Hartin, S. W. Armstrong, J. Goucher, Herman A. Myers, Charles Thaden and family, Miss Hazel Moyer, Clifton Hodgson, and Mrs. Lydia Hodgson.

Cedar Croft, on the river front, is the stopping place of the following Washingtonians: Mrs. J. F. Medberry and family; Mrs. B. C. Yorks, Miss N. A. Yorks, Miss Elizabeth Tomalin, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Beal, H. I. Elwood and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ingersoll, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Veldt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tracey, Miss Reba Campbell, R. T. Trueworthy, A. V. McKee, N. S. Gallagher, Robert Campbell, C. Dunnington, S. L. Brooks, F. N. Southworth, J. E. W. Cochrane, E. F. Price, Charles Wood, J. N. Medberry, and B. F. Judson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Keefe and son Ralph, of Washington, are occupying the Weaver cottage for the season. With them is Mrs. Emma G. Cullison, mother of Mrs. Keefe.

Registered at the Johnson House from Washington are J. F. Hardesty, Walter E. Hardesty, Mrs. John Richter, Miss K. Richter, Mrs. M. Medford, Miss J. Donegan, Peter Tierney, Mr. Heck and wife, Frank Eckert, E. D. Johnson and son, Henry Johnson, S. Glenn, E. C. Lynch, and S. A. Lyles.

JACK GLEASON EXHIBITOR

Assisted by Al Kaufman He is Drawing Thousands from Boardwalk—Washington Faces Familiar Among the Gay Summer Throngs Who Visit the Seashore.

Special to The Washington Herald. Atlantic City, N. J., July 30.—Thousands of visitors to this old stand-by summering place are being entertained nightly at New Inlet Park, where the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures are shown.

As yet the mayor, police chief, nor any other city official has made no move to put the lid on the views, which have been barred in hundreds of cities. It's an odds-on wager, too, that the local exhibitors will not feel the hand of the law, as it appears that the Uplift Club and Reformers' Guild have given up hope.

Gleason Master of Ceremonies. Jack Gleason, one of the men who staged the argument at Reno, acts as master of ceremonies at the picture show here. He is ably assisted by Al Kaufman, who fits about through the audience, telling how the fight was fought.

Al winds up his talk with the announcement that some day he is going to take all the glitter out of Johnson's "golden smile."

As for the pictures, there appears to be nothing brutal in the contest that would stir even the reformist reformer. The spectator sees two giants, a white man and a negro, in ring costume and wearing gloves.

When the bell sounds, they "mix" in a scientific way, backing to their corners at the end of each round. When the fifteenth session rolls around the black man ends his "kidding" tactics, and wades into the boldermaker. A left to the jaw sends the white man down, and as he rises he steps a similar punch in and son, Leo Rubens, Mr. and Mrs. Gray Walters, S. H. Murray, A. Keating, Joseph C. Murray, Margaret S. Underwood, Miss Aris Middleton, Miss Dollie M. Edelen, Bertie E. Baden, Helen E. Middleton, and H. N. Gwynn.

At Woodlawn are Mr. and Mrs. C. Wood, Miss Clara Plager, Mr. and Mrs. Velt and son, Mr. and Mrs. Daly, Miss Mabel Daly, Mrs. Fred Sunenau and children, Mrs. J. A. Fox, Charles Weeks, F. S. Wright, George S. Buchanan, M. J. Smith, E. Roller, Clara Plager, Ruth Plager, Alice E. Plager, C. S. Bower, G. Hopkins, J. B. Cook, A. P. Gant, and Walter Collin.

Registered at Byrd Hotel are F. G. Favorite, Miss Esther Ramsey, Miss Beattie Ramsey, George M. Ramsey, George R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Strong, Miss A. G. Strong, and Frank Strong.

The Washingtonians at Bentley's Pavilion are S. E. Fowler, W. T. Royer, R. H. Hansford, Mary Robinson, H. Beagle, and H. H. Armadix and wife.
