OPEN-AIR SPEECHES TO PROBATIONERS

Judge De Lacy Urges Night School Education.
An open-air meeting, the first of its kind, was held yesterday afternoon when Judge De Lacy and others addressed about a hundred boys and girls who had gathered promptly at 3 o'clock on the lawn in the rear of the Juvenile Court. Judge De Lacy opened the exercises with an address, dealing principally on the good effects of education, urging the boys and girls to attend night schools in the District, which were especially adapted for them. He then made a strong appeal for good citizenship, explaining the help it would be to them in the future, and their duty to their home and country.
He was followed by Mrs. Gertrude D. Darwin, also of the Juvenile Court, who made a report of the girls' department, and spoke on the problems before them. Near the close of the exercises each small child was made happy with a book presented to them by the court librarian, John F. Craven, and singing ended the programme for the day.
Many friends of the court were in attendance, including John Rely, one of the officers, who always makes it a point to attend the meetings, which are bi-monthly.

CHURCH HAS CURE FOR LABOR STRIFE

Rev. Dr. MacLeod Sees Solution of National Problem.

Rev. Donald C. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in John Marshall place, preached at the Labor Sunday services yesterday on "The Cause and the Cure of the Labor Problem." His text was from the second chapter of the Ephesians: "For He is our peace who made both one and broke down the middle wall of partition between us."
Dr. MacLeod said that division existed in human society from the time that sin entered the world, and that our age differs from other ages in only that the division of society has an aspect peculiar to our civilization. In Athens the division was between Greeks and barbarians, in Rome between patricians and plebeians, in Jerusalem between Jews and Gentiles, in the Middle Ages, between the nobles and serfs," said Dr. MacLeod, "and to-day between capital and labor."
He said the antagonism between capital and labor to-day is more dangerous to the peace and prosperity of society than the antagonism in the ages past, and the strain of this antagonism is felt by every one of the 90,000,000 people of the country.
The speaker said capital and labor, as they exist to-day, are recognized by leading political economists as the logical economical product of our age. He quoted from a recent address by Theodore Roosevelt in regard to the great combinations of capital: "It should not be our purpose to undertake to destroy them, but rather to regulate and control them."
In conclusion the speaker said: "Let capital and labor forsake the selfish ambition in which each would destroy the other for his own selfish advancement, and surrender themselves unselfishly to God to be used by His glory in unselfish service for their generation, and then all bitterness and strife will disappear. The medium for this reconciliation between capital and labor is Jesus Christ, the sphere for the reconciliation is the church of Christ. In the church under Christ the capitalists and the laborers will meet together in the same spirit as citizens of the same kingdom, members of the same household of God, and living stones in the great enduring temple of a divine ideal and perfect civilization."

LABOR MEN READY FOR BIGGEST DAY

Thousands to Celebrate at Benning Track.

OSTRICH RACE IS FEATURE

"Cyclone," with Wonderful Speed Record, and Two of Washington's Swiftest Trotters to Meet in Banner Event, While Motorcycle Races Promise to Smash Records.
With everything on the programme from a horse and ostrich race to a baseball game, the annual Labor Day celebration of Central Labor Union, which starts at Benning track at 1 o'clock this afternoon, will be the biggest in years.
The banner event is the race between "Cyclone," a Florida ostrich with a wonderful speed record, and two of Washington's swiftest trotters. "Cyclone" is ten feet high, weighs a trifle more than 400 pounds, and can jerk a sulky over the ground as fast as an eight-wheel locomotive.
The horses will be given a substantial handicap, and the backers of the speedy bird are laying long odds that he will make them take the dust in the stretch.
There are a dozen other big events on the programme. Eleven classic trotting and pacing races are scheduled, and the pick of the Capital's horseraces are entered.
Speed Record Promised.
Another feature of the celebration that will appeal to those who have a taste for something swifter than horse racing is a card of motorcycle events. There will be five races, starting at 2 o'clock. The distance will range from five to twenty miles, and as the races are under the auspices of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, it is expected a record or two will be smashed. Anyway, there will be some remarkable bursts of speed.
While the equine and motor races are going on, field games will be held, with handsome prizes for those who win a place in the sprints and tests of strength and skill. One of the events is a "running egg race" for women, with a parlor chair as first prize and a peek-a-boob shirt waist as second prize.
The Ninth Street Christian Church team will play Columbia Lodge of Machinists, No. 174, and a warm diamond battle is expected. Joe Handbise will umpire, and there are some fast artists in the battling line-ups.
As Labor Day is a legal holiday, and all the stores and business places generally, besides the government departments, will be closed, it is anticipated that there will be a record-breaking attendance at Benning. Extra car service will be provided to handle the crowds.

Large Congregation Greet's Returning Pastor.

In the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church yesterday morning a large congregation greeted Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe on his return from a three months' tour of Great Britain.
He used Paul's greeting to the Romans as the best greeting for pastor and people after any separation, when he said, "I shall come to you in the fullness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ."
Dr. Radcliffe said in part:
"That phrase is a good definition of Christianity. The greeting is a heartsome promise. This divine blessing is not primarily in the message, but in Him who gives the message. The Christianity that blesses is personal. It is too late in the day to tell us Christ never lived. The very fact of a system declares its origin. Its results and experiences are unanswerable. They are not a dream. They do not fall from the clouds. They are not mocking echoes. They are the ravings of illiterate fishermen. They are realities of the divine personal touch upon the human soul. The blessing of the gospel is the pardon, but it is a great deal more than that. We believe the gospel as we limit it to the appeal of a Salvation Army hymn or the emotion of a passing revival.
Word Is Evangelistic.
It is evangelistic, but much more than evangelistic. The emphasis of Paul is upon "fullness." Christ is the fullness of the Godhead bodily. The mission of His gospel is to bring all this fullness to any human soul. Whatever man needs or can develop into, the gospel offers to him.
The gospel is the power of God unto salvation. The touch without lifts the dead, and the Christ on the shore commands the winds and waves. We have not yet given our religion over to the crucible and the surgeon's knife. It is yet supremely supernatural.
It worships God, and believes the clean hearth must be created. The channels of this power it recognizes in Bible and Sabbath and sacraments and holy word and song and office.
Its church will not be superseded. Its gospel will not be added to nor subtracted from. The message is complete, final, authoritative; wide as the universe, precious as heaven, beautiful as Christ, and inexhaustible as the extremities.
It comes with triumph. It puts its symbol upon the diadem of the Caesars. It reconstructs home and society. It breaks chains. It dispels darkness. It enfranchises humanity. It gives stewardship to capital and responsibility to labor. It sanctifies failure and enriches success. It unifies death and immortalizes life.

NOTED EVANGELIST HERE.

Rev. Dr. Hines Occupies Pulpit at Immanuel Baptist Church.
Rev. Dr. W. P. Hines of the First Baptist Church, of Washington, D. C., preached at the morning and evening services of the Immanuel Baptist Church yesterday. The church is without a pastor, since Rev. George E. Whitehouse was forced to leave in March because of his health. Dr. Hines will occupy the pulpit again next Sunday, after which time Dr. Whitehouse's successor, Rev. Herman Spencer Pinkham, of Somerville, Mass., will assume his duties.
Rev. Dr. Hines is a noted Southern evangelist. In the last five years he has delivered over 2,000 sermons in all parts of the South. While in Washington he will ally himself with the Central Union Mission. Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock he spoke at Washington Circle, and beginning to-night at 8 o'clock he will deliver a night sermon at the Central Union Mission for one week.

ICE COMPANY ROBBED.

Burglars Open Safe and Get Away with $40.
When Ford Young, manager of the Home Ice Company, Twelfth and V streets, arrived at his office yesterday morning, he found the safe wide open, and $40, which he had left there Saturday night, missing.
Central office Detectives Cornwell and Bauer and Capt. Doyle, of the Eighth precinct, are investigating. They believe that someone familiar with the safe's combination obtained the money, as the lock had not been tampered with.

Youth Held for Grand Larceny.

Charged by Cora Wilhelm, of 1404 Massachusetts avenue northwest, with taking $44 from her trunk, yla Magruder, twenty years old, of the same address, is held at the First precinct station on a charge of grand larceny. Magruder was arrested yesterday by Detective Harry Warren, of the Central office.

President Perham in Capitol.

H. P. Perham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, spent last night in this city on his way from St. Louis to Boston to attend the Trackmen's convention, in session there this week. Mr. Perham is also eighth vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

PREACHES TO LABOR MEN.

Rev. Dr. Waldron Takes Appropriate Text for His Sermon.
Rev. Dr. J. Milton Waldron, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, last night preached a sermon to the working people, a special invitation to the service having been sent by the officers of the church to a large number of white and colored labor unions in the District.
The preacher took as his text Matt., xiii:55: "Is not this the carpenter's son?" Luke, xvi:7, "The laborer is worthy of his hire," and Luke, xxi:27, "I am among you as one who serveth." His subject was "Jesus Christ and the workman."
SOLDIERS MUST EXERCISE.
Col. Garrard Wants Athletes in His Cavalry Troop.
Col. Garrard, commanding the Fifteenth Cavalry at Fort Myer, has issued instructions to every man in his command that in the future he must indulge in more exercise. He gives as his reason for the order that an athletic man is more proficient in handling service arms.
The exercises will consist of horseback riding, walking, running, tennis, rowing, baseball, and other sports that tend to improve the mind and body.
