ARTISTIC DESIGNS IN WOMEN'S WEAR

Woodward & Lothrop's Fall Opening Described.

Woodward & Lothrop must have bribed the weather Man yesterday with a tip in advance, for the day was ideal for their autumn opening of the departments devoted to women's ready to wearables. The third floor of the big shop was like an autumn day in the woods, the variegated tints of this most beautiful of all the seasons appearing everywhere in wreaths of autumn leaves and flame-colored poinsettias, against a background of ferns and waving pumas grasses.

Scarlet tulips and white chrysanthemums contributed their contrasting tones to the general color scheme of fall, and framed in this setting there were exhibited the newest creations of Worth, Callot, Camarey, Crisanson, and other Parisian designers.

Hobble Skirt in Modified Form. The comic papers have all had their fling at the hobble skirt, holding it up to ridicule, so that it seemed doomed to the depths of innocuous desuetude. But the display yesterday evidenced the popularity of this style in a modified form, even some of the smartest wraps showing a tendency to hobble. One in particular, which is quite exclusive, is of oyster white broadcloth in a new cape design, with the cloth banded at the front and graduating into the hobble bottom.

Latest French Design. A very smart model, showing this modish touch, is a copy of a gown which created a furore at the recent French races. The foundation is of white chiffon, with an overdress of black chiffon in tunic form. The sleeves show the kimono style, which has not outlived its usefulness by any manner of means, as many predict, and a duchesse lace bertha outlines the neck and shoulders. An odd little tie of satin in the new royal or king's blue shade appears at the throat, and a ribbon of the same extends to the bottom of the skirt, being caught at the waist with a dull silver and sapphire ornament.

A magnificent gown, showing several new features, is of broadcloth of gold with a detachable coat train, forming a Watteau pleat from the waist in the back. The skirt is in one piece and edged with fur. An elaborate garniture of gold and pearl passementerie trims the waist in bertha fashion.

One of the things upon which the firm of Woodward & Lothrop prides itself this autumn is the custom-made tailored suit, which is shown in broadcloth, zibeline, boucles, and other nobby weaves of the season. Suits at $9 have all the earmarks of the best man-tailored garments. The linings have all the little niceties of the exclusive models, all pockets being on the inside, and the protectors covered with silk or satin to match the linings.

Some very modish confections are noticed in the French waists this year. A smart model of Camarey's designing is of dark blue crepe miter, with a small yoke back and front of terra cotta satin, outlined in dull gold lace braid, with kimono sleeves. Fancy ornaments formed of satin cords appear at the bust line, and on the shoulders. Some of the waists designed by Americans seem almost as pretty as those of the Parisian modistes.

The lingerie blouses are charming conceits. Cotton voiles, marquisettes, wash chiffons, and fine batistes and lawns are designed on simple lines, which always mean good form, but are beautified with exquisite embroideries done by hand, combined with ely, Valenciennes, Irish, and other laces. Smart little touches are added by a dainty tie of ely, the ends caught in ornaments of Irish lace, and other attractive conceits. An entirely new note is seen in waists of black batiste stitched all over in white and trimmed simply with narrow black lace at the neck.

Handsome Fur Coats. It would not do to close this article without a mention of the handsome fur coats which are exhibited. Many have bands of the same fur set on at the bottom of them, while one of the most expensive coats seen was slashed up the sides, and trimmed with graduated bands of a contrasting fur in the same color. The beauty of the coats this year lies in their close fit, which prevents clumsiness. Skunk fur will be one of the most popular kinds used this season, and also one of the most expensive. While the idea seems not so attractive, yet women will doubtless adopt this latest fashion. Pony fur, caracul, white lamb, black fox, mink, ermine, white fox, and the usual kinds will be in demand for coats, peleries, stoles, scarfs, and muff.

Watch for a City at Randle Highlands. Estate Goes to Children. The will of Margaret Kritchett, who died October 1 was filed for probate yesterday. Her estate, which is valued at $5,000 is to be distributed among her three children, Mary C. Welfman, Margaret E. Kritchett, and Frederick W. Kritchett. The son is named as executor of the estate. In addition to these bequests, she bequeathed $100 to St. Ann's Infant Asylum.

Woman Dies of Burns. Mrs. Catherine Benson, fifty-five years old, who was burned by an explosion of gasoline while cleaning a waist in her room at the Arizona Hotel Sunday afternoon, died yesterday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock at Emergency Hospital. She had been badly burned on the head, body, and arms.

Lecture on Westminster Abbey. The Junior Guild of St. Andrew's Church will give an illustrated lecture on "Westminster Abbey" by Rev. J. J. Dimon, recently appointed rector of St. Andrew's, October 21, at 8 o'clock, in the parish hall.

Biophotogenesis and peroxide reaction will be subjects of discussion by Prof. F. Alexander McDermott and H. H. Buzel at the meeting Thursday night at the Public Library of the Chemical Society of Washington.

Patent Auction. The success of the first public auction of United States patents, held Friday and Saturday in the auction room of the Patent Exchange, demonstrated the effectiveness of such a means for enabling inventors in all parts of the country to bring their inventions before representatives of manufacturers and others who are interested in marketing for domestic and export trade articles of commerce protected by patents. The management of the Patent Exchange expect their next auction sale of patents to be attended by an increased representation of manufacturers and exporters.

John S. Farrell So Makes Provision in His Will. John S. Farrell, whose will was filed for probate yesterday, provides that $3.75 worth of flowers be placed on his grave twice every year for a period of twenty years.

He made bequests of $250 each to St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum and the Little Sisters of the Poor. He also left $50 for the president and directors of Gonzaga College for masses for his soul. The remainder of the estate is bequeathed to his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Farrell, who is named as executrix.

MRS. ANNIE LOCKHEAD DEAD. Born in Ireland, but for Many Years Resident Here.

Mrs. Annie O'Neill Lockhead, for many years a resident of this city, died yesterday morning at her home, 41 Maryland avenue southwest, after an illness of several months.

She was the wife of James Lockhead, a well-known plumber, and is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. R. O. Royall, and four sons, Charles, Robert, Frank, and James Lockhead, Jr.

Mrs. Lockhead was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1845, marrying Mr. Lockhead when but fifteen years old. They came to this country shortly after and made their home in this city. She was a member of the Catholic Church. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

MODEST FRIENDS HIDE NUDE STATUE IN SCHOOLS URGED

Shield It from Public Gaze by Draping It. Northeast Citizens Advocate Examining Board.

Stricter censorship for moving picture theaters and a board of dental examiners for the public schools were subjects discussed at length last night at a meeting of the Northeast Citizens' Association in Northeast Temple.

Resolutions bearing on the questions were adopted. Dr. Starr Parson was appointed to visit other citizens associations with a view to having them endorse the dental examination idea.

The question of moving pictures was discussed at length, and it was the idea of some members that the matter should be left to parents and the Personal Liberty League to decide what shows should be attended. A motion to lay on the table was defeated.

A special committee, consisting of W. J. Prizzell, W. M. Lintow, and A. H. F. Holsten, was appointed to look after the further paving of streets in the East End.

The following officers were elected: Evan H. Tucker, president; Dr. L. D. Walter, first vice president; Dr. Starr Parson, second vice president; A. H. F. Holsten, treasurer; S. Soverbutts, secretary, and W. G. Lang, financial secretary.

Chief Wagner Suggests Purchase of Swift Engine. Stating that the fire protection of the business section of the city was inadequate, Chief F. J. Wagner, in his annual report, submitted to the Commissioners yesterday, asked for high-pressure service and motor-propelled fire apparatus.

Chief Wagner said that the most important addition to the fire protection of the District would be a gravity high-pressure system. He requested the Commissioners to make every effort to have such a system installed in the downtown business district.

The report stated that 1,062 fires caused a loss of $221,319 in the District of Columbia during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910. The buildings and other property damaged by fire were insured for $1,288,520, so that the actual losses represented only about 7 per cent of the total insurance.

It also stated that $50,000 was required to pay the pensions of the seventy-nine former members of the fire department now on the pension roll.

Business Men Plan Celebration for To-morrow. Invitations were extended yesterday for the opening of Engine House No. 2, Twelfth and G streets, tomorrow afternoon.

WILL FIGHT THE TEST. Milkmen to Take Their Case Into the Courts.

The Milk Producers' Association of Maryland and Virginia authorized their executive committee to employ counsel to file a test case in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to question the authority of the regulation recently made by the Commissioners and health department of the District requiring the tuberculin test, at a meeting held at 516 Ninth street yesterday.

John Thomas, president of the association, called the meeting to order. Several of the dairy farmers in attendance said that if the tuberculin test is applied to their cattle and any of them are condemned, they will be forced to go out of business, as the profits are small now, and many of the farmers are disposing of their cows as rapidly as possible. This was given as the cause of the shortage of milk now, and no relief is in sight immediately.

High-priced milk from New York is being brought in to relieve the local situation, but still the demand is greater than can be supplied. The members of the association feel that the regulation is a discrimination, as it is not required of the wholesalers in New York, who now ship milk here, and they have employed Attorneys D. W. Baker and Eugene H. Waters to make the legal fight.
