CLYDE MILAN REWARDED FOR HIS FINE SHOWING

Nationals' Management Sends Little Outfielder Substantial Check—Other Gossip.

By WILLIAM PEET.
Clyde Milan, the Nationals' great little outfielder, joined the club in Norfolk last March wondering whether Manager Jimmy McAleer was going to keep him on the club or let him out to the minors.

CLYDE MILAN.

Two years ago Manager Cantillon spoiled one of the best outfielders in the business by his bulldog tactics, or, in other words, Cantillon got Milan's "goat," and really made the young man believe that he was not fit for the big leagues.

It all happened early in the 1908 season, when Milan, in one of the Western games, was sliding to base and wrenched his ankle. Word was passed to Cantillon that Clyde had broken his leg, and the former remarked: "I wish he had broken both of 'em; he isn't any good."

This last statement got right back to Milan, and as the boy is keenly sensitive, he carried a small-sized grudge along with him during the remainder of the season. Consequently, the Washington club was not favored with Milan's best efforts.

Last March Milan was in none too amiable a frame of mind, and knowing little of Jim McAleer or his methods was wondering what would happen, figuring that McAleer would possibly use Cantillon's tactics and that he (Milan) was slated for an early berth with the minors.

Not so with McAleer, as Manager Jim during the first week of practice paid considerable attention to Milan, and frequently walked out to the ball park with Clyde. In cheering words he often said: "I know you've got it in you, my boy, and I am counting on you to do a lot for me this season."

All Milan needed was a little encouragement, and McAleer came across with the right stuff; incidentally he made one of the best outfielders in the league out of him, something Jim Cantillon never could have done in 100 years.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Washington club last week, the gentlemen who control baseball in the Capital

DETROIT TIGERS OFF FOR CUBA

Detroit, Oct. 31.—The Detroit Tigers left here at 10:30 o'clock to-night for Cuba, where, under the management of Pitcher George Mullin, they play a number of games with four strong Cuban teams during the month of November. The members of the party are Mullin, Willett, and Summers, pitchers; Stange and Casey, catchers; Tom Jones, first baseman; Herman Schaefer, second baseman; O'Leary, shortstop; Moriarty, third baseman; McIntyre, left fielder; Crawford, right fielder, and Cobb, center fielder.

Hush was to have accompanied the players, but an X-ray developed the fact that the shortstop has a broken bone in one of his ankles.

TENNIS SINGLES STARTED

Bone and Brown Show Up Well in Georgetown Matches.

In the first round of the singles for the championship in tennis at Georgetown yesterday afternoon, no really hard matches took place, as the winners in most of the matches came out easily on top. Both Bone and Brown showed the best form and should be strong contenders for the championship, the latter, especially, who, with Trumbull, won the championship in doubles. Bone took two men yesterday and vanquished them both. The scores are as follows:

First Round: Bone, 6 to 4 and 6 to 2; Brown from Lamb, 6 to 4 and 6 to 4; Mulligan from Lamb, 6 to 4 and 6 to 4; Polan from Carroll, 6 to 4 and 6 to 2; House from McQuillan, 6 to 4 and 6 to 3; DeWitt from Mulligan, 6 to 4 and 6 to 3; Crenin from Gibbs, by default.

Second Round: Bone, 6 to 4 and 6 to 2; Brown from Lamb, 6 to 4 and 6 to 2; Mulligan from Lamb, 6 to 4 and 6 to 4; Polan from Carroll, 6 to 4 and 6 to 2; House from McQuillan, 6 to 4 and 6 to 3; DeWitt from Mulligan, 6 to 4 and 6 to 3; Crenin from Gibbs, by default.

Coach Bill Roper Talks About Princeton's Football Eleven

A criticism of the Princeton football team by Head Coach W. W. Roper was published in the Daily Princetonian last week. It reads as follows: "The policy of the football management this year has been to develop the team slowly, with a view to reaching top form on the day of the Yale game. While it has been realized that, in view of the past few seasons Princeton must win all her games in order to get back on the football map, it is not at all intended to make the offense to the detriment of the final game."

Princeton's Football Eleven

"All fall great stress has been laid on tackling and falling on the ball, two fundamental points as important under the new rules as under the old. The tackling as the season progresses has shown a marked improvement and the men follow the ball well. As yet, however, the offense does not play together well enough and the plays are run off often raggedly."

"The one thing that stands out prominently this year is the splendid physical condition of the team. In every game the men have left the field playing better at the end than at the start, and would have always been able, had they been called upon, to stand another half hour of play for the championship game, where condition often wins or loses the game. The hospital list has been very small. The few injuries received have been entirely of the minor sort, and not in a game this year has a Princeton man left the field on account of injury."

"This speaks volumes for the new rules and for the excellent supervision of Mr. Fitzpatrick. I might add that the players enjoy the game more than ever before."

"To my mind the team at the present date is weaker defensively than offensively. The linemen fail to diagnose the plays quickly, and are often charged back by their opponents. The ends also are weak in protecting the wings from end plays. Of the men who have played regularly on the team so far, I can say honestly that every man is doing his best."

"There are some points, however, which will have to be corrected in order to turn out a finished team as the result of this fall's work. Bluetenthal at center is aggressive, but has a tendency to charge on the defensive before diagnosing a play. In the main, his passing is good, though once in a while he slips up on this important point. On the offense he often fails to charge his man quickly enough."

"Wilson, at left guard, knows the game thoroughly and can be depended upon. At the present moment lack of condition is his greatest handicap. McLean, at the other guard, is one of the hardest workers on the team. On the defense he fails to diagnose the play and is often fooled by the opposing backs. His greatest weakness, however, is his defensive coaching. Macgregor at tackle is a hard worker and knows the game well. His weakness on the defense is stopping line plays directed between guard and tackle. Hart, at the other tackle, is a tower of strength on the offense. His taking a position in the line has quickened the offensive power of the team 100 per cent."

"The backfield is one of the fastest we had in Princeton in years. The backs run hard and keep their feet in splendid style. Their greatest weakness is their open-ended defense and their failure to take men on the interference. Ballou's kicking, so far, has stood out prominently, but as yet he fails to run the team quite fast enough."

"It is hard to make any prediction as to the final outcome of the season, except to say that I believe that the squad as a whole understands what is required of them, and I believe that I am correct in saying that it will be a good team that defeats the Princeton team this fall."

Roanoke College Beaten.
Special to The Washington Herald.
Staunton, Va., Oct. 31.—In the fastest football game of the season Staunton Military Academy won a decisive victory here to-day over Roanoke College. The score was 13 to 8. Kyle and Woolrah played star ball for Staunton, the former making two touchdowns.

An attempt will be made to prevent the importation into the United States of the English starting, which is regarded as an undesirable bid because of its appetite for grain.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Eastern is practicing hard for the battle with Business Friday, and they will go into the fray confident of coming out with the long end of the score.

Business will be minus the services of Capt. Richards and Wilson when they meet Eastern on Friday at the American League Park, as these men have become members of the flunkers' brigade.

Central is hard at work perfecting a play that will break up the interference Tech gives its runners.

Eastern will again put a basketball team in the field this season, but it will be a very light one. The old men who have returned are McCaffery, Roberts, Weaver, and Parker.

Tew will be back in the line-up when Tech meets Central on November 7. This will be the first season with a new man in the majority of the players will be the same as at the first of the season.

Western will be contenders in the championship basketball games this year. They have a big squad out, and Mr. Bristow, who is coaching them, knows the game from start to finish.

Eddie Naughton will play with the Southern Railway basketball team. This will be the first season the former Business High School star has entered into this sport.

Farmar, the former Technical High School star quarter back, played a great game for George Washington Saturday on November 7, when Tech meets Central.

From the outlook at Eastern, it seems that they will not lose a single player when the advisory marks come out.

Bill, of Tech, is showing plenty of stuff this season in carrying the ball and is tackling hard at every chance.

Zappone appears to be one of the best guards in the high schools. He is in every play and tackles hard, seldom leaving a tackle.

The crowd which attended the horse show will be nothing compared with the crowd that will surge to the ball park on November 7, when Tech meets Central to decide the championship of the high schools.

If Rathbone makes the baseball team next season and wins his letter, he will play in the same manner. Peter, aged thirty, took winning letter in all branches of sport at Business—baseball, basketball, football, and track.

HERRMANN SIGNS UP PLAYERS.

Cincinnati Club Owner Challenges Fogel to Show His Hand.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 31.—President Gary Herrmann, of the Cincinnati club, to-day formally challenged President Horace Fogel, of the Philadelphia club, to show his hand in the fight for the possession of players Bates, McQuillen, Moran, and Grant, of the Philadelphia club. Herrmann signed Outfielder Johnny Bates and Pitcher McQuillen to Cincinnati contracts, and it is now up to Fogel to show that they are not the property of the Cincinnati club. Bates came from Steubenville, Ohio, to sign and McQuillen from Newark, N. J. Both expressed relief at getting away from the Phillies and much pleasure at the prospect of becoming Reds. It is understood that both receive a liberal increase in pay.

DIE THE SAME WAY.

Three Brothers End Their Lives by Drinking Carboic Acid.
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—Frank Gie, who committed suicide during last night by drinking carboic acid, is the last of three brothers to end their lives in a similar manner. Peter, aged thirty, took his life a year ago, and Adam, aged forty, four years ago. Frank, who was thirty-three years old, was depressed by the suicidal precedent in his family, by the recent death of his mother, and disappointment in a love affair. He was a pipe fitter.

FIVE KILLED BY AUTOS.

Similar Accidents in California Fatal to Occupants of Machines.
San Francisco, Oct. 31.—Three men were killed and two badly injured when an automobile in which they were riding plunged into a ditch and turned over near this city last night.

Charles Kline, Jack Mahoney, and Peter Pachio, all residents of a suburban town, were dead when picked up a few minutes after the accident by the occupants of another car.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 31.—W. C. Massey, a rancher, and his seven-year-old daughter were killed yesterday near San Fernando when the engine of the automobile they occupied with three others stopped dead near the top of a hill and the machine rushed backward and overturned. The little girl was killed outright, while Massey died last night. The others jumped and were uninjured.

PIMLICO RACES COME TO CLOSE

Consolation Steeplechase a Chapter of Accidents.

Baltimore, Oct. 31.—The fall meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club came to an end with the closing of the races at Pimlico this afternoon, and as the weather was clear and pleasant a large crowd attended. The feature event of the afternoon was, of course, the Bowie Handicap, at two miles, and a field of eleven faced the starter. Everett, an 8-to-1 chance, was returned the winner, and in addition made a new world's record for two miles, clipping one-fifth of a second from the time made in the same race by Fitz Herbert last year, 99 to 1. Quarter Time, 1:34 1/2. Autster and Knight of Lucas also ran.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs, Stinger, 120 (Dugan), 1 to 2, won; Pharaoh, 120 (Dugan), 13 to 5, second; King Pie, 112 (Dugan), 99 to 1, third. Time, 1:24 1/2. Autster and Knight of Lucas also ran.

HENRI DUNANT DEAD.

Founder of the Red Cross Was Nearly Ninety Years Old.
Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 31.—Henri Dunant, founder of the International Red Cross Society, died last night at Heiden, a health resort.

Mr. Dunant was born nearly ninety years ago. In 1859 he witnessed the battle of Solferino, in Northern Italy, where the suffering of the injured impressed him so that he decided to interest all of the nations of the world in a treaty to protect those caring for the wounded in time of war, and also to protect the hospital trains.

Shortly after the battle of Solferino he wrote a poem, "A Souvenir of Solferino," which was read throughout the world, and which resulted in twelve of the nations meeting at Geneva,
