REV. F. J. GOODWIN INSTALLED PASTOR

Fills Pulpit of Mt. Pleasant Congregational Church.

MINISTERS EXTEND WELCOME

Rev. Dr. Faunce, of Brown University, Delivers Sermon—Charge Made by Rev. Dr. Oliver Huckel, of Baltimore—Rev. S. H. Woodrow Extends Hand of Fellowship.

Before a large congregation and ministers of several faiths, Rev. Frank J. Goodwin, of Pawtucket, R. I., was formally installed last night as pastor of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church.

The installation of Rev. Mr. Goodwin fills the pulpit permanently for the first time in over a year. Since the death of its former pastor, Rev. Mr. Fishburn, it has been vacant, although the church has recently been in charge of Rev. Dr. S. M. Newman.

Rev. S. R. Swift, assistant pastor of the First Congregational Church, opened the services with the reading of the minutes of the council which examined Rev. Mr. Goodwin in the afternoon as to his fitness for pastor, and was followed by the invocation by Rev. Dr. John W. Frizzell, pastor of the Ingram Memorial Church.

Sermon by Rev. Dr. Faunce. Preceding the reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Dr. Franklin Noble, the sermon of the occasion was delivered by Rev. Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown University, Providence, R. I.

During the course of his sermon, Rev. Dr. Faunce touched mostly on hope. Hope, he said, was founded not in circumstances or conditions, but in faith. He applied that characteristic to the home, city, church, and college, and said that although they were often subject to attack and despaired of, they nevertheless formed the most important factors pertaining to a 10-day.

"Though we disdain the things," he said, "we must form a part of them in order to reform them."

Rev. Alexander MacColl, pastor of the South Presbyterian Church of Morris-town, N. J., offered the prayer of installation, which was responded to by the choir, whose singing throughout the services was worthy of much commendation.

The charge to the pastor was made by Rev. Dr. Oliver Huckel, pastor of the Association Church of Baltimore. Among other things, Rev. Dr. Huckel impressed upon the new pastor, as well as the congregation, the essentials of leadership in a pastor.

Owing to present conditions, he said, it was not wise for a pastor to seek leadership in public action, as his congregation demanded too much of his services. For a minister, he said, the essentials in leadership lay in spirituality, in deep sympathy with man and conditions, and in faith.

With these characteristics, he charged, any pastor may be ready to assume his duties under no matter what circumstances.

Friendship of Clergy. Rev. Dr. S. H. Woodrow, pastor of the First Congregational Church, gave the new pastor the right hand of fellowship, following a custom maintained by the church since its establishment in 1825, at Salem, Mass., and showed the friendship of the Washington clergy.

The charge to the people was made by Rev. Dr. S. M. Newman, explaining the duties of the congregation to the church and their pastor, which was followed by the address of welcome by Rev. Dr. S. H. Greene, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, who paid Rev. Mr. Goodwin a tender tribute, coming as it did from a deaconate member of his own church.

He welcomed the pastor to Washington and to the work which lies now before him, extending to him not only his own good will, but that of all the pastors in Washington.

A benediction by Rev. Mr. Goodwin and singing by the choir concluded the services.

Rev. Mr. Goodwin comes to Washington after eleven years' connection with the First Congregational Church, of Pawtucket, and is well known as a speaker of force and conviction. He is living with his wife, Mrs. Grace D. Goodwin, who is prominent in church and literary circles, and two small daughters, Mary and Faith, at 195 Irving street northwest.

The Rev. Canon Austin, assistant minister of St. Thomas Church, has received a unanimous call from the vestry of King George's parish, Prince George County, Md. King George's parish is one of the original parishes founded in 1822. Canon Austin is considering the call. It is thought that he will accept it.

The ladies of St. John's Church, Georgetown, are holding a luncheon to-day at old Masonic Temple, for the benefit of the published accounts of the ceremonies connected with the laying of the corner stone of the Bethlehem Chapel of the Nativity last Thursday to an error regarding the stones deposited in the corner stone itself. It was a brownstone cross from the old East building in the New York Seminary, where Bishop Satterlee was once a student, and it was a piece of the granite foundation stone of the cathedral of New York City which were deposited there. In addition, another piece of stone of singular interest. This was a genuine Roman tile from old Southwark Cathedral, London, England, the present bishop, Dr. Talbot, and Bishop Satterlee having been close friends.

Besides the stones, there was a piece of the old millinery tree under which Leonard Calvert stood and made his contract with the Indians when the ark and the dove came to Maryland.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Pinckney Memorial Church, Hyattsville, Rev. Henry Thomas, rector, is busy preparing for a bazaar and supper to be held on November 6, 7, and 8 in the town hall.

The proceeds will be for the building fund for the new church. As the last bazaar netted $600 after all expenses had been paid, it is hoped that the same good result will be reached this time.

THE HUBBARD SQUASH.

O squash, rich and mellow, with insides of yellow, just list while I sing a few lines; a product that's greater, from beet to potatoer, ne'er grew on a husbandman's vines! A Hubbard squash dinner is always a winner, a solace, a balm, and a boon; it cheers and refreshes and breaks up the meshes of sorrow, and brightens the noon. You slap on some butter and then you can't utter the gladness pervading your breast; you swallow with vigor till three sizes bigger, and then you unbutton your vest. Who was it invented the large, pleasant-scented, and life-saving squash we adore? Let's crown him with laurel and bay leaves and sorrel, and honor his name evermore! And let us inveigle the national eagle to come from his perch (he's absurd!) and put up the Hubbard where long he has rubbeded, and make it the national bird!

ASSOCIATE PASTORS OF THE VERMONT AVENUE CHURCH

REV. F. D. POWER, D. D. REV. EARLE WILLEY.

The new associate pastor of Vermont Avenue Christian Church, Rev. Earle Willey, will to-morrow assume his duties and fill the pulpit morning and evening. For some months, owing to Rev. Dr. Power's impaired health, now much improved, the church has had no regular preacher, but in spite of this fact it has been kept in healthy, growing condition. Rev. Mr. Willey is a man of the attainments, with wide reputation as a speaker, and his acceptance of the call to take up with Dr. Power and continue the great work heretofore done by this church is considered most fortunate and promising.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES.

This has been an unusually eventful week in church circles. History has been made, as on Tuesday at Mount St. Al Blackfoot, Idaho, as a costly lifeline, having occurred among the clergy of the diocese and the clergy of other dioceses coming to this one.

The Rev. Thomas P. Lewis, of the Diocese of Virginia, has just been transferred to the Diocese of Washington, he having become rector of Norwood parish, Bethesda, Md., vice Dr. Duncan, retired on account of age.

By transfer from Connecticut the Rev. George Williamson Smith, D. D., who has been a resident of this diocese for some years past, has become one of its clergy. Dr. Smith was for many years the distinguished president of Trinity College.

One of our clergy, unable to resist the call of the West, has this week left the diocese to become rector of St. Luke's Church, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. This is Charles Curtis, assistant at St. Mark's Church for two or three years past, but before that connected with the work in Idaho under Bishop Funsten. Before leaving for his new field, Mr. Curtis was married in St. Mark's Church to Miss Sarah McK. Appold, of Baltimore.

A call to be rector of Trinity parish, Charles County, Md., has been sent to the Rev. Joseph E. Williams, rector of the Blackfoot, Idaho, in the diocese of Bishop Funsten. It is not known whether the call to the East will prevail.

The Rev. Canon Austin, assistant minister of St. Thomas Church, has received a unanimous call from the vestry of King George's parish, Prince George County, Md. King George's parish is one of the original parishes founded in 1822. Canon Austin is considering the call. It is thought that he will accept it.

The ladies of St. John's Church, Georgetown, are holding a luncheon to-day at old Masonic Temple, for the benefit of the published accounts of the ceremonies connected with the laying of the corner stone of the Bethlehem Chapel of the Nativity last Thursday to an error regarding the stones deposited in the corner stone itself. It was a brownstone cross from the old East building in the New York Seminary, where Bishop Satterlee was once a student, and it was a piece of the granite foundation stone of the cathedral of New York City which were deposited there. In addition, another piece of stone of singular interest. This was a genuine Roman tile from old Southwark Cathedral, London, England, the present bishop, Dr. Talbot, and Bishop Satterlee having been close friends.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Pinckney Memorial Church, Hyattsville, Rev. Henry Thomas, rector, is busy preparing for a bazaar and supper to be held on November 6, 7, and 8 in the town hall.

The proceeds will be for the building fund for the new church. As the last bazaar netted $600 after all expenses had been paid, it is hoped that the same good result will be reached this time.

St. Stephen's Church, Fourteenth street northwest, has been growing so substantially in its membership that plans for considerably enlarging the building have been made and contracts are now being signed. The plans call for an expenditure of about $25,000. When finished the church will be one of the largest and most complete in the city. The present building consists of chancel transepts and two bays of the nave, which were erected in 1862 at a cost of $20,000. The new addition will bring the building to its full limit westward.

The Church of the Ascension, Rev. J. Henning Neils, rector, has just received a gift of money with which to build a children's hall. The building will be of concrete, and will be begun at once. It will be used for the infant department of the Sunday school work. It will also serve as a temporary parish house, and as such it will fill a much-needed want
