IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Miss Taft Is Entertained at the Chevy Chase Club.

MISS BARBOUR AS A HOSTESS

Entertains at Tea in Honor of Her House Guests—Mrs. Porter Has Friends to Luncheon at Chevy Chase Club to Meet Miss Margaret Ide—Charity Sale on Thursday.

Miss Helen Taft was entertained at a large and handsome breakfast yesterday morning at the Chevy Chase Club by Capt. Graham L. Johnson, a military aid at the White House. The table decorations were particularly handsome, of chrysanthemums and orchids. Souvenir pins of gold and corsage bouquets of violets added to the interest of the occasion. The guests asked to meet Miss Taft included Gen. and Mrs. Leonard Wood, who chaperoned the party; Gen. and Mrs. Witherspoon, Mrs. McChols, Mrs. Archibald Davis (nee Colton), Mrs. Louis C. Lehr, Miss Nagel, Miss Colton, Miss Alice Vandergrift, Miss Hester Singer, of Pittsburgh, house guest of Miss Vandergrift; Miss Southerland, Miss Mary Southerland, Miss Adelaide Heath, Miss Catherine Britton, Miss Baxter, of Denver; Miss Mary McCauley, Miss Marjorie Aleshire, Miss Whitting, Miss Garrard, Miss Dorothy Gardner Williams, Miss Murray, Miss Carolyn Murray, Miss Cary Crawford, Miss Olga Roosevelt, Miss Hatch, Miss Boutell, Miss Downing, Miss Drexel, Miss Frances Noyes, Miss Pilling, Miss Louise Cromwell, Miss Valerie Padelford, Miss Ruggles, Gen. Clarence Edwards, Lieut. Commandant, Mrs. Charles H. Mackay, Mr. Matthews, U. S. A.; Mr. Newton Guilek, Commander Ridley McLean, Lieut. Commander Lang, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N.; Mr. Frederick Faust, Mr. Franklin Ellis, Mr. Chauncey Mackay, Mr. Andrews, Mr. Jack Siebert, Mr. Jerome Bonaparte, Mr. William Marrow, and Mr. Carpenter.

Miss Taft will be the guest of honor at dinner on December 23, when the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Nagel will be her hosts.

Miss Marguerite Barbour entertained at a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of her four house guests from Baltimore, Miss Adele Daly, Miss Irene Day, Miss Rose Wood, and Miss Gladys Perin, who will remain with her until Wednesday. Mrs. Frederick Barbour and Miss Jane Sands poured tea. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell Train chaperoned a dinner company of twenty-two last evening by Miss Barbour for them. Among the guests were Miss Katherine Britton and her house guest, Miss Baxter, of Denver and Tennessee, and Mr. Jerome Bonaparte and Mr. I. Townsend Burden, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schoellkops, of Buffalo, are spending a short time in Washington at the Willard, and were the dinner guests last night of Mrs. M. Wheeler, known in the literary world as Hattie Ermie Rivers.

Mrs. Gardner Williams entertained at a tea yesterday afternoon for her oldest daughter, Mrs. William Wallace Mein, who has been in South Africa ever since her marriage three years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Mein, who were married just after the completion of the handsome home near Sheridan circle, built by Mr. Williams, returned here a few weeks ago with their two-year-old girl and three-month-old son, to spend the winter in Washington. They first met in their former homes in California and later on in South Africa, where Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their family have spent many years of their life.

Mrs. Porter, wife of Maj. David D. Porter, U. S. M. C., entertained at a luncheon yesterday at the Chevy Chase Club in honor of Miss Margaret Ide, daughter of the United States Minister to Spain, who is the house guest of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Beckman Winthrop. Among the guests asked to meet her were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kane, of New York; Miss Adele Colgate, daughter of Lady Stratford, who is also Mrs. Winthrop's guest; Commander Retzman, of the German Embassy staff, Mr. Clary Ray, and Mr. A. Platt Andrews.

Miss Eliza McMullin, cousin of Mr. John Hays Hammond, who is spending the winter in the Hammond home here, was the guest of honor at a tea given yesterday afternoon by Miss Alice Wright, daughter of Judge Daniel The Wright. Miss Athlyn Surlis, of Milwaukee, house guest of Miss Wright, received with her, and Miss May Hammond, niece of Mr. John Hays Hammond, also spending the winter with her family; Miss Bartlett, and her hostess, Miss Gordon, and Miss Claire Wright presided in the dining-room. Miss McMullin and Miss May Hammond were presented to society formally by Mrs. Hammond before she sailed for Russia with Mr. Hammond. Miss Alice Wright is also a debutante of this year.

The Danish Minister, Count Moltke, and Countess Moltke entertained at dinner last night in the legation in Sixteenth street. Mrs. Frances K. Stevens, daughter of Assistant Secretary of War Oliver and Mrs. Oliver, who arrived yesterday on a visit to her parents, was among the guests.

Miss Cryder entertained at a musicale, followed by a tea, yesterday afternoon. The short and very artistic programme was given at 4:30 o'clock, and the feature of the afternoon was the introduction of some new music of the Abbe Gabert, who occupies the chair of music recently founded in the Catholic University and who was present as the guest of honor and received many congratulations. Miss Cryder received her guests in a gown of black satin, with pipings of coral velvet and some rich lace. Miss Harriet and Mrs. Cryder poured tea after the programme, which was given by Miss Mabel Roberts, soprano; Miss Hilda Koehler, mezzo-soprano; Mrs. Merchant, guitarist; Miss Ethel Lottier at the piano, and Miss Bryant and Mr. Harry, mandolinists, assisted by Mr. Macfarlane Brockett, tenor. The programme was as follows:

- "Par le Sentier des Roses".....Jemah
- "What Is Sylvia".....Donalson
- "The Bird Who Knew Nothing".....Babusetta
- Mus Mabel Roberts.
- Piano Scene ("Trovatore").....Vardi
- Saxet ("Lola").....Donalson
- Mrs. Merchant, Miss Bryant, and Mr. Harry.
- "How Do I Love Thee".....Abel Gilbert
- "A Psalm for Every Tear".....Ladd
- "You Brought Me Love".....d'Hardot
- Miss Mabel Roberts.
- "Memory".....Henry Leslie
- Miss Koehler, Miss McMullin, Mr. Macfarlane Brockett.

The Misses Minnie and Josephine Conrad, daughters of Mr. W. G. Conrad, of Montana, are at the New Willard for a short visit. They will return to their place, Whitepost, Va., for the Christmas holidays, but will come back to Washington the first of the year to spend the remainder of the season.

Of the many interesting affairs bidding for society's attention this week none will make a stronger appeal to the charity inclined than the sale and tea to be given at Rauscher's Thursday from 3 to 10 o'clock by the Girls' Friendly Society. Miss Alleen Bell will have charge of the musical programme that will be given during the afternoon. Miss Marion Oliver, daughter of the Assistant Secretary of War, and Mrs. Robert Shaw Oliver will sing. Miss Mary Carlisle will be her accompanist. Mrs. Frances Kaspar Lawson, a bride of this fall, will also be heard. Rev. George Fiske Dudley and Mr. Henry Purcell Veazie will each give a number of songs. A number of little folk will give a Lillian folk dance, and Miss Eliza Rauer will give some instrumental selections on the violin.

Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Tuttle will have charge of the tea table, assisted by a bevy of charming girls from the younger set. Mrs. Henry will have a bakery where really good things to eat can be had. The refreshment table will be presided over by Mrs. Ramage and Harbour-Walker. The candy table will be in charge of Mrs. Bratenahl, and Miss McGuire will sell a beautiful assortment of calendars, many of them brought from abroad by well wishers. The useful and fancy articles table will be in the care of St. Margaret's branch, with Miss Phillips in charge. Miss Acker will hold the mysterious grab bag. The sale will continue all the evening, with dancing from 8 to 10.

The faculty and students of the National School of Domestic Art and Science will have a reception and exhibit on Monday, December 12. Their first formal dance will be given December 10.

A series of delightful teas will be given to introduce Miss Edna Louise Snyder, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William Taylor Snyder, to society. Miss Snyder, who is a violinist of merit, finished her studies only last spring. Her maternal grandfather was Gen. John Hammond, of Northern New York.

Representative and Mrs. Victor Murdock are at the Brighton.

Miss McAbo, of New York, arrived here yesterday to be the guest for a short stay of the Misses Southerland, daughters of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Southerland. They will give a dinner in her honor on Tuesday, and a luncheon on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Tuckerman, of this city, will occupy the Maple Cottage at Pinehurst, N. C., this winter.

Invitations have been received here from the Baltimore Bachelors' Cotillion for a series of cotillions to be given at Lehman's Hall during the season. The first date is December 12, and fortnightly thereafter. The invitations were issued by the board of managers, the personnel of the board being as follows: C. O'Donnell Lee, R. Brent Keyser, Clymer Whyte, Robert Garrett, William F. Lucas, Jr., Roger Brooks Hopkins, Robert Oliver Lehr, Allan McLane, and D. Stewart Ridgely. The dates for gowns are December 12 and 20, January 9 and 23, and February 6 and 20.

Representative Dodds, of Mount Pleasant, Mich., and Representative Charles F. Scott have arrived in Washington and are located at the Dewey.

The annual ball of the Southern Relief Society will be given on January 23 at the New Willard. Mrs. Francis D. Chisom has been made chairman of the executive committee.

Representative and Mrs. Edgar Crum-packer, of Valparaiso, Ind., have arrived and are again at the Dewey for the season.

Senator and Mrs. George Sutherland have reopened their apartment at the Highlands for the winter.

Senator and Mrs. Richardson, of Delaware, are at the New Willard for the winter.

Representative and Mrs. Elbert H. Hubbard and family, who have spent the summer at their home in Iowa, have returned to Washington for the winter and reopened their apartment at the Ontario.

Surg. Gen. Charles F. Stokes and Mrs. Stokes entertained at dinner last night in honor of Miss Davis and Lieut. Moore, who arrived here yesterday afternoon. Miss Dorothy Langitt, who will

The prizes, amounting to $5,000, are the gift of former Senator Clark, of Montana.

BUREAU TO NAME DIRECTORS.

Catholic Home Society Meets Tonight in Carroll Institute.

Fifteen directors of the Catholic Home Bureau for Dependent Children will be elected at a meeting of the bureau tonight at Carroll Institute.

The bureau acts in co-operation with the various Catholic orphan asylums, and although but a year old it has met with great success.

The president, Joseph D. Sullivan, will preside, and Rev. Dr. William T. Russell, pastor of St. Patrick's Church and founder of the bureau, will attend the meeting.

TALKS TO PROBATIONERS.

Judge De Lacy Urges Boys and Girls to Keep Promises.

Judge William De Lacy addressed more than 200 probationers at the Juvenile Court yesterday afternoon.

Reports of the progress of the probationers in securing employment and keeping within the law were gratifying to the judge.

Judge De Lacy urged the probationers to keep their promises and obey the law. He advised all who could to go to night school and try to become useful citizens.

Masonic Lodges to Elect.

The election of officers in fifteen out of the twenty-eight Masonic lodges of the District will take place between to-night and December 9. To-night the following lodges will elect officers: Potomac, No. 2, Benjamin B. French, No. 15; Anacostia, No. 21, and Pentapolis, No. 22.

MORNING CHIT-CHAT.

SEVERAL years ago, when I, as a very young newspaper woman, was precariously subsisting on the pathetically small stipend that my first paper designed to consider me worth, a young newspaper man on the same paper came to me, and with great embarrassment, blurted out that he was in a terrible mess financially, "and could I—he hated like thunder to ask it, but he simply didn't know where to turn, and he knew how kind-hearted I was—could I lend him $5 just until the next pay day?"

Now, for several weeks I had been saving every penny that didn't have to go toward my actual living expenses for a suit—the first thing of the sort I was to buy with my own earnings. I had the suit all picked out. It was a dark blue serge and it was to cost $15, and I had $9 saved toward it. The money was in my top bureau drawer, under my handkerchiefs. Now I knew that I couldn't possibly save the other $6 for two or three weeks, and I didn't see any reason why I shouldn't let the poor man have $5 of it, instead of keeping it in that bureau drawer. So I assured him of my great delight at being able to help a brother cub in time of trouble, and gave him the money.

He didn't pay it back the next pay day. Nor for very many pay days thereafter.

You can imagine my anguish of spirit when the purchase of that beloved and much-needed suit—I wish you could see the funny little coat I was wearing—was delayed. But being a little fool, even that anguish wasn't powerful enough to make me go to the man and ask for the money. Finally, several months afterward, he came and told me his father wanted him to leave the newspaper business. He said his family was wealthy, but he had been on the outs with them, and they were going to get him a place in the diplomatic service. He paid me $4 of that $5. I never saw the other dollar. I have seen him twice since, but he never spoke of it.

Perhaps you think this is a queer story to publish, but I'll explain to you how I came to tell it.

I had always thought, until recently, that my experience was a unique one, and that man was set apart by his absolute lack of sense of honor from the rest of the world of men.

But, within the last year, there have come to my ears a half dozen stories of men who have borrowed from women and never paid back the loan.

One young lady was visiting at the home of friends of her family. The son of the house, who entertained her most royally, professed a temporary financial embarrassment, owing to a delayed check, and borrowed 75 cents of her "just for the day."

He never paid it back or even spoke of the loan.

Now I am not one of those people who thinks it the unpardonable sin for a man to borrow money from a woman, and then betrays his unwillingness to refer to the subject by not paying back the loan—well, my dictionary hasn't words to fit him.

And, as for the girl who loans money to a man, I'd like to say two things to her.

First, if it is a large sum, she should take a note. That isn't a sign of suspicion, merely of common sense.

And, second, if he fails to pay it back within a reasonable time, I think she should ask him for it, and if that does no good, I think it is her absolute duty, for the safety of other women, to pillory him by telling what he has done.

SPECIAL MUSIC RENDERED.

Large Congregation Attends High Mass at St. Aloysius Church.

Special music by the sanctuary choir marked the 11 o'clock high mass yesterday at St. Aloysius Church, which was attended by one of the largest congregations of the year. Rev. Eugene De L. McDonnell, S. J., rector of the church, preached the sermon.

Arrangements have been completed for a moving picture performance to be given on December 30 in Gonzaga Hall, under the management of Rev. John B. Pittar, S. J., for which excellent reels, including the review of the Eucharistic Congress at Montreal and the consecration of St. Patrick's Church, Washington, have been secured.

Rehearsals for a three-act comedy, to be presented by the Aloysius Club shortly after the Christmas holidays, will begin this week.
