

PILOTS TO STEER DISTRICT AFFAIRS

Berger, Socialist, Placed on House Committee.

BUSINESS BEGINS AT ONCE

Fourteen Democrats, Six Republicans, and Socialist on Quora—Six Veterans Remain—Nine New Representatives—De Forest Asks for Place—Only Assignment for Berger.

THE DISTRICT COMMITTEE:

- Ben Johnson, chairman, Kentucky; Wyatt Aiken, South Carolina; John H. Rothemel, Pennsylvania; James A. Hamill, New Jersey; John A. M. Adair, Indiana; Carl C. Anderson, Ohio; Martin Dies, Texas; William A. Oldfield, Arkansas; George F. O'Shaunessy, Rhode Island; Henry George, Jr., New York; E. J. Stack, Illinois; C. O. Lobeck, Nebraska; William C. Redfield, New York; George Koenig, Maryland; J. Hampton Moore, Pennsylvania; Julius Kahn, California; William J. Cary, Wisconsin; Cyrus A. Sulloway, New Hampshire; Leonidas C. Dyer, Missouri; Henry S. De Forest, New York; Victor L. Berger, Wisconsin.

The new House District Committee, composed of fourteen Democrats, six Republicans, and one Socialist, will be in action this week.

Chairman Johnson plans to hold a meeting of the Democrats of the committee tomorrow morning to outline the general policy of the committee and the work it is to take up. The complete committee will be called to meet possibly on Friday to make a beginning on the large number of District business already introduced in the House.

Only Six Remain. But six members of the committee of the Sixty-first Congress remain on the new committee. These are Johnson, Aiken, and Rothemel, Democrats, and Moore, Kahn, and Cary, Republicans. Nine of the present members are newly elected representatives.

Representative J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, whom Minority Leader Mann selected as ranking member of the minority of the committee, has been prominent in the doings of the committee heretofore. His bill regulating the cold storage of produce in the District was one of the features of the last session.

Representative Kahn, of California, who is reappointed to the committee, was one of its hard-working Republican members of the last Congress.

William J. Cary, who continues on the committee, is one of the radicals of the House. He is to be the force already at this point with several bills relating to District affairs.

Cyrus A. Sulloway, of New Hampshire, is one of the giants of the House, both physically and mentally. He accepts the District Committee assignment in addition to a place on the Committee on Invalid Pensions, of which he was formerly chairman.

Representative Leonidas C. Dyer is a Missourian, who formerly lived in Washington. He served for several years as an employee of the Treasury Department, and participated in the Spanish war as a member of one of the District regiments. Although he has lived in Missouri during the last few years, he is conversant with the affairs of the District.

De Forest is Placed. Henry S. De Forest, of New York, who has grown rich through his sagacity in real-estate deals, applied for service on the District Committee. Mr. De Forest will bring his family to Washington.

Fulfilling exclusive prediction in The Washington Herald two weeks ago, Victor L. Berger, of Milwaukee, was given one of the District Committee places, which ordinarily would have gone to a Republican. The District Committee was the only assignment he received.

There was some surprise noticeable among the friends of Representative Samuel W. Smith, of Michigan, yesterday, when it was found that, although former chairman of the District Committee, he retained no membership on that body.

Chairman Johnson yesterday endeavored to secure permission for the District Committee to sit during sessions of the House, on the plea that the business of the committee promised to be very heavy. Representative Moore, one of the members of the committee, objected to the request, and the project was abandoned.

ASSAILS MR. WICKERSHAM.

Rainey Introduces Resolution to Probe Department of Justice. Representative Rainey, of Illinois, yesterday introduced a resolution providing for an investigation of the Department of Justice by a committee of nine members of the House, six Democrats and three Republicans. Fifteen thousand dollars is appropriated by law resolution, which directs the ascertainment of whether the Attorney General now has any outside employment which disqualifies him from holding his office. Also the resolution inquires how many anti-trust cases have been begun and dropped, and why.

House Adjourns Early.

The House adjourned at 2:30, following a point of no quorum by Representative Clark, of Florida, intended to prevent consideration of a resolution called up by Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, providing for the re-establishment of a joint commission to revise the laws. Speaker Clark was unable to see a quorum on the floor, and then the House adjourned.

NECESSITIES TO GO ON THE FREE LIST

House should go ahead in its own way to legislate in the manner desired by the public. They proposed that the free list bill should be attached to the reciprocity measure as a rider and sent over to the Senate in that shape. There was much warm debate, but it was apparent that the faction which opposed the views of Clark and Underwood was in the minority.

Members Withdraw.

A number of members requested that they be excused from participation in the caucus action, declaring they were previously pledged to their constituents against reciprocity. Among these members were Representatives Webb, of North Carolina; Doughton, of North Carolina; Gudgeon, of North Carolina; Rucker, of Colorado; Hammond, of Minnesota; Ashbrook, of Ohio; Pajo, of Louisiana; and Wickliffe, of Louisiana. Mr. Hammond is the only Ways and Means member included among those who protested against the programme of the leaders.

Other members demanded that additional items be added to the free-list bill. They urged that the list be presented to the caucus by Chairman Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee, was not sufficiently comprehensive. They contended that other manufactured articles should be added to the number mentioned, in order to compensate the farmer for the loss entailed by the placing of so many of his products within the reciprocal zone. There was a disposition on the part of the majority of the caucus, however, to accept the judgment of Mr. Underwood and his associates.

Measures Decided Upon.

It was practically decided that the reciprocity, the free-list bill, and the woolen and cotton schedules should be the only propositions upon which the Democrats should caucus. This means that while there will be no party caucus on the election of Senators by direct vote of the people, the publicity of campaign contributions, and the other items of the general legislation programme already introduced by the caucus immediately preceding the convening of Congress, these measures may come into the House at any time and be acted upon as general propositions of party policy in the regular way.

The proposition to make reciprocity the first thing on the programme was carried by a large majority. The vote was 125 to 29, six members voting present. An additional paragraph was added to the reciprocity bill requesting the President to expand the negotiations with Canada with respect to reciprocity—in other words, to include other articles in the agreement.

Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, proposed to strike out this last paragraph, but he was decisively beaten. He pointed out that this was unnecessary; that President Taft was already inclined to make the reciprocity blanket cover, as possible, and that the instructions along this line from the Congress were necessary. He said, after the adjournment of the caucus, that he had made this motion largely to bring about a vote on reciprocity, inasmuch as the discussion had shown no signs of terminating.

The only significance of this additional paragraph is to indicate that the Democrats are apparently willing to vote for complete free trade between the United States and Canada and take this method of notifying the Chief Executive to this effect.

The blanket tariff bill proposed by the Democrats, while intended to bring relief to all classes, is designed primarily to help the farmers and to offset concessions which are demanded of them in the reciprocity agreement. The move to help the farmer is a clever maneuver on the part of the Democrats, and the ground from under the Republican insurgents and regulars who have been raising their voices against the sacrifice of the farmers to the interests of the soil without any adequate return.

CITIZENS CHANGE DATES.

Petworth Meetings to Be Held on Third Tuesday of Month. A new constitution and by-laws were adopted at the regular monthly meeting of the Petworth Citizens' Association held in the Petworth church last night. President Paul Leeb presided. It was decided to hold meetings on the third Tuesday of each month. The date of the next meeting is changed from January to September.

AIRSHIP MAKES TRIP.

Flight of 180 Miles Made Down Rhein to Berlin. Berlin, April 11.—Count Zeppelin's airship Deutschland II arrived at Düsseldorf this afternoon after a trip of 180 miles along the Rhein. The airship crossed the distance in 2 hours and 15 minutes, with passengers. Some difficulty was experienced in landing, and it was nearly an hour after the arrival at Düsseldorf before the passengers were safely on the ground.

NEGRO DEMOCRATS NOTIFIED.

Will Hold Convention in Indianapolis on May 27. Democrats of the negro race were notified by circular sent out yesterday by the National Negro Democratic caucus committee, of this city that conventions will be held in the various States on May 27 for the election of delegates to the national convention of negro voters, to be held in Indianapolis on May 27.

All colored men who are qualified voters and are known to be Democrats are eligible as delegates. The chairman of each Congressional committee is instructed to certify to the names of the successful candidates and forward them to the executive committee not later than May 30.

The officers of the National Negro Democratic executive committee are J. S. Greene, president; H. W. Grant, corresponding secretary; J. S. Greene, H. W. Grant, H. B. Pugh, and Charles Brown, executive committee.

Hatpin Blinds Gateaux.

Omaha, Neb., April 11.—A long hatpin cost William Peppers, gateaux at the Union station, an eye this morning, and came near piercing his brain and killing him. Peppers was punching tickets at the gate when a fashionably dressed woman attempted to squeeze through the crowd gathered about it. She pushed her way through the gate, the pin in her hat catching in the corner of his left eye, lacerating it badly. The sight of the eye was destroyed.

made for the school children, and what were known as 'school tickets' were sold by the traction company.

If the Chamber of Commerce is the representative body it is supposed to be, it is honestly representing and looking after the best interests of the people of the District—this resolution will be adopted.

Pending Legislation Unpaired.

Charles C. Lancaster opposed the proposition on two grounds: First, that it would be unfair to the corporation to dictate what its policy should be, without previous knowledge of how such a policy might affect its financial condition; and secondly, that it would detract from the solid support of the public utilities commission bill.

In answering Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Burr said that the carrying out of his resolution by the committee would not put the proposed reforms into effect, and that Congress, with which would rest the final action, would give the companies involved every opportunity to point out any injustices the changes would work.

The presentation by friends in the Chamber of an extremely handsome hall clock to William F. Gude, chairman of the Chamber, brought forth eloquent testimonials of the esteem Mr. Gude commands from his co-workers. President Oyster and others spoke at length of the valuable work Mr. Gude had done for the Chamber and for the organizations that preceded it. The clock is of French exterior design. An Secretary Grant drew across the folds of the American flag, the timepiece greeted the Chamber by tuneful chimes, announcing the hour of 9:30.

Inebriate Hospital Urged.

The report of the committee on law and legislation, urging the Chamber to work for an inebriate hospital in the District, was unanimously adopted. President Oyster was authorized to appoint a committee of five members to cooperate with like committees from other organizations working for the same end.

The Chamber voted not to affiliate with the American Association for Highway Improvement, a proposition which was referred back to the Chamber by the board of directors as a question of policy. The Chamber received, with a vote of thanks, the present of a handsomely framed picture of the Union Printers' Home, in Colorado Springs, Colo., which was presented on behalf of Columbia Typographical Union No. 101, by Secretary George Seibold. Mr. Seibold sketched the work of the union and advanced several arguments against the detractors of union labor. He was followed by the president of the local union, F. C. Roberts, who urged a friendly attitude toward Isaac Gans, for the membership committee, reported that the work of collecting dues from delinquent members was progressing even more rapidly than had been expected.

COMMISSIONS TO GOVERN.

Legislation Provides Initiative and Referendum. Trenton, N. J., April 11.—Assemblyman Walsh's bill, providing for a commission form of government in cities, was passed in the house today. In its final form the bill provides for the initiative and referendum, but the provision for recall was nullified by a provision that no officer should be dismissed until the expiration of his term. Another amendment provided that the act should not become operative in any city until it had been endorsed by at least 60 per cent of the vote cast at the last preceding election.

Bank Robbers Caught.

Panama, April 11.—A dispatch from Colombia to-day says three men, supposed to be the ones who robbed the Panama Bank recently, had been captured there. Another dispatch provided that the act should not become operative in any city until it had been endorsed by at least 60 per cent of the vote cast at the last preceding election.

Street Improvements Favored.

A committee was appointed to ask the Commissioners to open Pennsylvania avenue in Radio Island at a meeting of the Congress Heights Citizens' Association last night. The improvement of many streets and the addition of electric lights will also be reported. The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday in May.

MINORITY LEADER ANNOUNCES SLATE

Republican Members of Committees Made Public.

With the presentation yesterday of the Republican committee assignments made by Minority Leader Mann, the House found the main part of its machinery complete and ready for action.

Upon motion of Representative Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, the majority floor leader, the House proceeded to adopt the Mann list of Republican designations and the Democratic assignments made by the Ways and Means Democrats, sitting as a committee on committees, and approved by the Democratic caucus held two days prior to the convening of the special session. The Democratic list has already been published in full.

In his effort to harmonize the two factions of the Republican party in the House, to make the minority efficient and cohesive, and bridge the chasm between the recently warring elements, Mr. Mann went out of his way to be fair to the insurgents.

Representatives Madison, of Kansas, and Lennox, of Wisconsin, two men who fought the Cannon organization all through the last Congress, received two of the four minority places on the important Committee on Rules, balancing them with two genuine insurgents, Representatives Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, and Wilson, of Illinois.

Cannon Gets Place.

Former Speaker Cannon goes to the Appropriations Committee, as ranking Republican member. He was a member of the body for years and later its chairman for a number of Congresses before his election to the Speakership, more than eight years ago.

Victor Berger, the Socialist from Milwaukee, Wis., and Theron Akin, the Independent Democrat from New York, who campaigned successfully with an anti-party platform, and a litany of broken promises, are included in the minority designations, although the Democratic caucus gave instructions where they appear in the Mann list, leaving Mr. Berger assigned to the Committee on the District of Columbia and Mr. Akin to the Committee on Education and Enfranchisement.

Mr. Mann did not assign himself to any committee at all, thus smashing all precedents in this connection. Instead he appears in the committee list merely as "chairman of the minority conference." This gave him a committee room in the Capitol and an employee or two.

THIRD DAY'S TOUR NOW ARRANGED

Pathfinding Trip of the Four Leaf Clover Run.

On the first two days of the pathfinding trip for the "Four Leaf Clover" run, to be given by the Automobile Club of Washington, it either snowed or rained. Yesterday, however, the gods were propitious and on the third leaf of the pathfinding trip which is to be via Leesburg, Va., with Hagerstown, Md., as the noon control, a distance of 150 miles for the round trip, the weather was all that could be expected.

Long before the sun was up the pathfinder, with Clarence Barnard behind the wheel of his Stoddard-Dayton, and including The Washington Herald's auto representative, was on its way. All during the day the sun shone on the party, and it had barely set out before its members were back at the starting point, the Graton Hotel, which is the official morning and evening checking station for each day's run. The roads, despite the heavy weather, were generally in fine condition. From Washington to Leesburg, Va., the worst of the route is encountered. Though this road from Falls Church extends over 20 miles, it is the worst of the route. From Washington to Leesburg, Va., the worst of the route is encountered. Though this road from Falls Church extends over 20 miles, it is the worst of the route.

Turning to the right through Leesburg, the route leads out to Point of Rocks, Md., across the Potomac. For five miles from the time the river is left behind it is a steady climb up over a range of the Blue Ridge, but no one will regret it, for the scenery is unsurpassed in this section of the country. Passing through Jefferson, Md., and into Middletown, Md., the route leads along the edge of the Middletown valley, which contains some of the most beautiful scenery more than favorably with the Shenandoah. At Middletown the Frederick-Hagerstown pike is met, and it is plain sailing into Hagerstown to the Hamilton Hotel, which is to be the noon control.

Returning from the noon control, the route doubles back to the Middletown valley, through Braddock Heights and into Frederick. From this point the return trip to Washington is made by way of Newmarket, Damascus, Laytonsville, Washington Grove, and Rockville. There are a few nasty mud-holes en route, but by careful driving no one should experience the least trouble in negotiating them, regardless of its size, should be able to average more than twenty miles an hour for the day's running time.

Automobile Club Meeting.

At the meeting of the board of governors of the Automobile Club of Washington, held last night at the Hotel Garfield, the following new members were elected: J. T. Rose, F. Mertens, Jr., Ira S. Franey, Charles A. Mason, Clayton Graff, R. A. Deal, F. J. Geyer, James Orms, E. B. Stocking, Richard J. Bell, Jr., Frank Boyd, P. W. Caffee, J. H. Nolan, Roy De Neals, Franklin Hilton, Frank Fickling, F. K. Barbour, Charles Wegner, Charles Sonne, W. D. Conkright, G. G. Hammer, W. F. Holeman, M. A. Bayles, Frank Stewart, Charles T. Miller, Thomas Stuberfield, E. S. Holmes, Charles Jacobson, Thomas Milton, J. E. McDonald, and E. B. Martin.

The date for the opening of the clubhouse was postponed from April 15, the date originally agreed upon, to a later date to be decided upon at some future time. A late spring is the reason for postponing the opening of the clubhouse. A vote of thanks was also extended to Clarence Barnard and his Stoddard-Dayton for volunteering to lay out the pathfinding trip over the Clover Leaf Run, for which more than thirty entries have been assured.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

WRITTEN BY WILLIAM C. FREEMAN

Within a space of five days it was my pleasure to meet the members of the BUSINESS ASSOCIATIONS of the Joseph Horne Dry Goods Company, Pittsburg, and John Wanamaker, Philadelphia.

These associations exist, primarily, to do TEAM WORK for their respective stores—to discuss ADVERTISING AND SALES-MANSHIP—to become thoroughly familiar with the POLICIES of the stores, thereby EFFECTIVELY co-operating with the executive staffs.

If employees in a business do not improve each shining hour—if they are not ENTHUSIASTIC—if they do not have FAITH in their employers—if they are not heartily in accord with the policy of the business—then good work cannot be accomplished.

Mr. J. B. Shea, of the Joseph Horne Company, addressed his associates at their business meeting in a most impressive manner. He told them how much he appreciated their loyalty and co-operation; how the whole organization depended on them—in their enthusiasm and confidence.

In speaking of the advertising of the store, he said he wanted it to be ACCURATE, because he regarded it as "Personal Publicity"—the passing of the PER-SONAL WORD OF HONOR from managers of all departments of the store to the people, and that means keeping, literally, one's promises.

Mr. John Wanamaker addressed his associates as personal friends—mingled among them, called them by name, told them how much easier it was to build a great business with their loyal assistance, AND THANKED THEM FOR PERMITTING HIM TO BE PRESENT AT THEIR MEETING!

Mr. Wanamaker had breakfast with the heads of departments in his store at 7:45 a. m. that same day—had talked all day long—worked hard in planning a greater work to be done in the near future—attended the business meeting in the evening, and afterward kept another engagement, which used up the time until midnight. The next morning, bright and early, he was on his way to his New York store. Yet he soon rounds out fifty years in business.

The two men—Mr. Shea and Mr. Wanamaker—and their organizations are doing a wonderful work in a general and pronounced BUSINESS UPLIFT, and they are putting personality and honest merchandising into their advertising with wonderful results.
