WINS MANY ADMIRERS.

LEONA AT COSMOS.

From far-away Siberia there has come to us a native of that land, Leona, known as the Siberian song bird, who has been singing at the Cosmos Theater during the gala week just closed.

The wonderful clearness, as well as range, of Leona's voice has excited the admiration of all who have heard her, and by special arrangement she will sing this afternoon and to-night in the Cosmos concert, and the promise has been made that she will appear here in concert again in October.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

"Sonita," a musical play, the book for which was written by Edmund Domes Rheim, Princeton, class of 1911, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Rheim, of this city, was given a brilliant performance on August 23, at Bladgett's Landing, Lake Sunapee. By the college students there. "Sonita" was written for the Princeton boys and given there last season with much success. M. D. Helm, of Georgetown, also of the class of 1911, wrote the lyrics and music.

They had an orchestra of sixteen, and special boats were run from all the landings on the lake. One of the most present soloists in the company was Ildor Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herndon Morse, of this city. Mr. Rheim was urged to go up and take the leading part in his play, but because of the serious condition of his grandmother, Mrs. Rheim, who died last week, he declined. He is very talented in music, which he inherits from his mother, one of the leading singers here. He has written a number of songs which are not published, but which are much sung by his college associates. Mr. Rheim is now with his parents in their Washington home, but will return to Princeton about September 25. He is on the "variety baseball team at Princeton.

Miss Helen J. Williams and Mrs. John Thomas recently returned from Aurora, W. Va., where they filled a summer engagement.

St. Paul's sanctuary choir will resume its regular rehearsals during the coming week. This will inaugurate the seventh consecutive season of this talented body of singers, under the direction of the parish organist, Ernest T. Whitehead, who will remain practically as it was last year, but in this, as well as in all male choirs, there are always vacancies for refined boys between the ages of five and twenty. Such boys are invited to apply for membership at the rectory, 145 V street northwest.

The first high mass of the season will be sung on Sunday, October 1. The choir boys have nearly all returned to the city from various points where they have been spending their vacations. Twelve of the boys spent four weeks camping with their choirmaster on the lower Potomac, and had a great time.

During the summer a girls' choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Dowling, has rendered the music at St. Paul's Church, Fifteenth and V streets northwest.

There are many excellent voices among the younger parishioners of St. Paul's, prominent among whom is Miss Mary Agnes Carroll, the talented daughter of David Williamson Carroll, of the Paymaster's Office, War Department. Miss Carroll has given a large part of her summer vacation to her choir, and her voice has been most favorably commented upon by the congregation.

Mr. Oscar Franklin Comstock has returned from his vacation, which was spent wholly at his home in Flatbush, N. Y., owing to the serious illness of his mother. Mr. Comstock has already begun work with his choir at Trinity Church, and expects to have camped there as usual. Mr. Comstock's plans have been somewhat interfered with by workmen delaying, but he has moved into his new studio.

Miss Mabel Lattimer substituted last Sunday, and will again to-day, in the Calvary Baptist Church for Mrs. Walter Gawler, now Holziar, soprano. Mrs. Gawler, who has been singing in the City with a very bad cold, Miss Lattimer was soloist in the Shrine of the Sacred Heart for many years, until they installed a boy choir there last spring.

Mrs. Roma Devonne Hempstead, contralto in the quartet of the Church of the Covenant last year, went to New York last Thursday, expecting to remain permanently. She spent two months there in the summer, making records for some of the phonograph companies. She then went to visit to her country place at Albionville and to visit friends at Albionville, Va.

William A. Engel, Jr., who went to Europe for a five years' period of study, has settled in Berlin with his mother and sister, after a trip through Northern Germany. Young Mr. Engel has made an enviable record here as a young player, and a brilliant success is predicted for him should he enter the profession, as he is a hard worker and has much talent. Mrs. Engel and her children have an apartment at Charlottenburg, a suburb of Berlin.

Miss Alice E. Burbage, who spent her summer at the Buena Vista Hotel, Buena Vista Springs, Pa., returned on Thursday to her home in Washington. She was kept in good practice during her absence, as she played frequent accompaniments for a charming New York singer, Miss Edna Sands Dunham, who will be a soloist for the Washington Symphony at their November concert. Miss Burbage was joined by her parents at Buena Vista for the month of August.

Mrs. Clarence B. Rheim, vice president of the Rubinstein Club, has returned from her summer's outing at Atlantic City a little earlier than she usually comes, because of the death of Mr. Rheim's mother last week. The late Mrs. Rheim made her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander T. Hensley, and had been ill for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Torney Simon sailed for home September 2, after spending the summer in Wales, London, and Switzerland. They made a short visit to Schevingen, the fashionable seaside resort of Holland, just before sailing.

Miss Angela F. Small, former contralto soloist in the Church of the Epiphany, is now in Dundee, Scotland, visiting in the home of her cousin, Dr. H. A. Millar, the Scottish historian. He is assisting Miss Small in the preparation of a repertoire of the folk songs of the British Isles. Miss Small will make visits to Paris and London before returning home late this winter.

Herman C. Rakemann, concert master of the Washington Symphony Orchestra, has joined his family at Asbury Park, at the Hotel Montauk.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Woods are also at the Montauk.

The Music Study Club has arranged a pretentious program for the season. The executive board held its first meeting last Tuesday in the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Orville H.
