WEARABLES FOR WOMEN.
National Style Show to be Triumphant in Latest Modes.
One of the most notable displays of high-grade wearables for women is promised in the exhibition at Rauscher's ball-rooms, Connecticut avenue and L streets northwest, October 23 to 25. This display, known as the National Style Show, is held under distinguished patronage, and with a particular view to demonstrating in a practical manner that Washington can lead the world in creating artistic sartorial effects.

Emphasis is laid on the fact that Washingtonians can shop at home to better advantage than elsewhere. Purveyors of women's goods in the Capital often lament the fact that some of the more opulent residents go out of town to buy wearables, on account of a fancied notion that they can secure more "style" and at a less expense than the same goods can be had at home.

It is announced that the exhibition at Rauscher's will be carried out along the most refined lines. A large number of live models will be employed for the display of evening gowns, millinery, and walking suits. The appointments of the exhibition will be unique. Patrons will be served tea at small tables afternoons and fruit punches in the evenings. An orchestra will give a fine programme throughout the exhibition hours.

SEEKS $5,000 DAMAGES.
Boy Says Street Car Conductor Pushed Him from Vehicle.
Ralph A. Fugitt, a minor, through his next of kin, Charles Fugitt, yesterday sued the Capital Traction Company, to recover $5,000 for alleged personal injuries. Through Attorneys W. E. Ambrose, J. S. Easby-Smith and R. B. Fleahy, young Fugitt says he was a passenger on one of the company's cars at Eighth street and Pennsylvania avenue, July 22. He charges that without provocation the conductor pushed him off so that he fell directly in front of a car going in the opposite direction, suffering severe injuries.

ANACOSTIA.
Congress will be asked to appropriate sufficient money at its next session to put the newly constructed road through Stevens farm, connecting Congress Heights with Washington Highlands, in proper shape, as it is felt that this is the only way that this road can be kept in good condition. In the act authorizing the Commissioners to acquire this ground, the property of the government, and part of the insane asylum, no provision was made for placing it in a good condition, but a permit was granted private parties to make it safe for travel. However, under this condition it is hard to keep it in shape, and it is believed that systematic work should now be done.

According to the present outlook, building operations in Anacostia and its vicinity will be steadily on the increase for the next few months, as has been the case during the past summer. Several homes in Anacostia are undergoing repairs, including W. J. Latimer's residence on Talbot street; E. V. Lawrence, at Sixteenth and V streets; Charles Walsh, on Maple View place; Harry Knott, Walcott Hill street; James Meyer, Nichols avenue, and John Hiball, Thirtieth and W streets. Charles Lohr has completed the erection of residence on Trenton street. Congress Heights, Mr. E. E. Craven is erecting a dwelling for Andrew Over, on Alabama avenue, Garfield, D. C., and James Masson has just completed the home of James Talbert, at Silver Hill, Md.

The fall schedule at the Anacostia Baptist Church will go into effect to-day. It will permit of more singing by the choir, and the evening service will be changed from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. Rev. Frank L. Bardens, pastor, has announced also that hereafter, all meetings, and entertainments, and affairs not of a purely religious character, will be held in the basement hall of the church, which has been completed sufficiently for its use. Only the church services and meetings of the Sunday school will be held in the body of the edifice.

Rally day will be observed to-day in two of the Sunday schools in Anacostia. At the Garden Heights school, the program in Minnesota avenue, a special programme has been arranged, and will mark the opening of the fall term. At Emmanuel Episcopal Church, similar exercises will be held, and each-child presented with a badge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tobey, formerly of Anacostia, who have spent the last few years in California, have returned to Anacostia, and will make their home here for a short time before moving to Mount Rainier, Md., where Mr. Tobey will conduct a business.

Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, of Anacostia, is visiting her son, Mr. Henry Allen, of Landover, Md.

A jolly party of Anacostians went on a straw ride last evening to Forestville, Md., where a dance was held and a supper served. The same affair was given last year, and so much success attended it that it was repeated this year. In the party were Miss Bessie Pyles, Miss Florence Pumphrey, Miss Minnie Padey, the Misses Harrison, Samuel W. Pumphrey, S. W. Frazier, George W. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simpson, and Dr. Clayton Beale.

SEEK AT CLOSE RANGE.
Bliss Electrical Students Observe Fire Alarm Mechanism.
One hundred and ten students of the Bliss Electrical School made their annual visit to the District Building yesterday. After being addressed by Commissioner Rudolph, they visited the electrical department, where J. J. Murray, assistant inspector, explained the operation of the District fire alarm system. In the afternoon the students were the guests of the Y. M. C. A., at the G street building, where they were addressed by Henry B. F. Macfarland.

WARNING TO PARENTS.
It is risky to feed raw milk and cream to children or invalids under any conditions, and it is at the farm which produces the milk the utmost cleanliness is observed at all times, particularly during milking; that the employees are thoroughly healthy and clean persons, that the cows are free from diseases, that the water used for rinsing is of undoubted purity, and that the milk is quickly cooled and kept cold and covered until delivered to you.

Raw milk often produces Tuberculosis, Scarlet Fever, and other intestinal diseases.

We can guard against infection by properly pasteurizing milk or by home pasteurization.

Properly pasteurizing milk (and cream) by keeping it at 140 deg. F. for twenty to thirty minutes does not affect its nutritive value nor its digestibility. Quick or commercial pasteurization, however, is unreliable.

You can home pasteurize raw milk by heating it to near boiling, then cool, and keep cold and covered until used.

Most indigestion in babies is caused by milk too rich in cream.

Society for Prevention of Sickness.
E. BEHLING, Secretary.

Museums Await Exhibits.
Richard Rathbun, director of the National Museum, announced yesterday that the Sunday opening of the new building is being delayed because of the large amount of vacant space. As soon as exhibits fill the space, the Sunday schedule will become effective.

8-YEAR-OLD GIRL MAKING LONG TRIP

Parents Stay on Coast—Child Crosses Continent.

From the Los Angeles Express.

Little Miss Eleanor Wildis, eight years old, was in Los Angeles to-day, on route alone from San Francisco to Philadelphia. She stopped here from 8 o'clock this morning until 1 o'clock this afternoon, and she was as interested and happy as any other Los Angeles tourist, notwithstanding the fact that she kissed her mamma in San Francisco last night and started on a 3,000-mile journey across the continent alone.

That it was alone so far as any former friend or relative was concerned, but she was in the care of C. G. Hendley, a tourist agent of the Washington-Sunset line. Mr. Hendley has some little girls of his own and he therefore understands them if anybody does—and the diminutive traveler was as lassy as could be this morning as she visited the Los Angeles office of the Washington-Sunset route, where she made friends with T. F. Fitzgerald, the district passenger agent, and afterward saw her rights.

She will go through to Washington without having to change cars, and from there on the distance is short to her final destination.

Mr. Hendley has made more than 40 round trips between Washington and San Francisco by this route, and in that time he has learned something about traveling with children. Therefore, the little traveler was happy on her journey.

Mr. Hendley did not give her time to get homesick and he saw that the other passengers did not feed her too much candy. He helps her comb her hair in the mornings and otherwise looks after her comfort. And they are great friends.

DEATH OF GENERAL'S WIDOW.
Mrs. Catherine Armstrong Darr to Be Buried in Arlington.

Mrs. Catherine Armstrong Darr, widow of Gen. Joseph Darr, late of the War Department, died in Cincinnati Thursday morning. The body will be brought here and taken to Arlington Cemetery, where interment will take place at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning, beside the remains of her husband.

Father B. J. St. Matthew's Church, will officiate at the grave. Mrs. Darr was formerly a resident of Washington, but left here soon after the death of her husband seven years ago. Her daughter, Mrs. Blanche Darr Hart, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Jennie Darr White, of St. Louis, will accompany the body to this city.

GREEDY POWERS WATCHED.
Italy and Turkey May Clash Over Control of Tripoli.

State Department officials are watching with keen interest the movements of European powers to further partition the states of Northern Africa, and the fear is entertained that sooner or later war will result from the greed of the foreign governments.

The latest conflict of interest is that between Italy and Turkey over the control of Tripoli. Both of these powers are claiming the right to extend a protectorate over this small but rich state, and the reports that reached the State Department yesterday indicated that war was a possibility.

Already France and Germany are deadlocked over the Moroccan issue, although war between these powers is not now looked for.

PUSHED BY CREDITORS.
Oswald E. Camp, Builder, Alleged to Be Bankrupt.

Four creditors of Oswald E. Camp, builder and contractor, with claims against him aggregating $125,000 for material and labor, yesterday filed a petition in the District Supreme Court to force him into bankruptcy. It is alleged Camp committed an act of bankruptcy August 9, by concealing $15,000 from his creditors with intent to defraud.

The complainants and their respective claims are: William A. Pierce, $80,000; George M. Barker, $24,000; T. J. Williams, $24,000; and A. C. Eno, $11,000.

The rope of a lifeline to be shot from a gun to the roof of a burning building to rescue persons in peril has been fire-proofed by a New York inventor.
