

REEL OF CHARGE
OF ST. BLOOMING

Miss Stephens Accuses Man of Pro-fessing Love and Getting $27,000 from Her.

MADE MANY "QUICK TOUCHES"

Baltimore, Md., June 15.—Accused of a charge which in his human interest, for turns discounts most of the cases which have come before the United States postal inspectors for some years, Latimer S. Glessner, thirty-nine years old, a strikingly dressed young man living at 2303 Fremont Street, is to-day in the custody of the United States marshal's office, charged with using the mails for a fraudulent purpose. Specifically, Glessner is charged with obtaining $27,000 from Miss Lulu Stephens, of Carlisle, Pa., in the four years from 1908 to 1911, by making representations of love and affection to her through the mails.

Glessner's alleged love-making and flatterings combined almost set the record for all similar affairs which have come before Maj. Hooton, chief of the postal inspectors here. The letters produced by Miss Stephens for the evidence to the authorities are said by her to have obtained for his display of sentiment on paper an exceptionally handsome return, sums of $1,000 to $7,500 have been given by Miss Stephens to Mr. Glessner in response to his appeals for financial aid at various times in the four years. Every loving and tenderly couched letter brought in return a substantial installment of cash either for alleged student's fees or medical operations or for business opportunities.

Met at Carlisle.

Glessner is a married man and has several children. He was formerly a drug clerk in this city and worked for Street's Pharmacy, at Charles Street and Mount Royal Avenue. Miss Stephens told the inspectors she and Glessner had met at Carlisle, Pa., in 1908, but the period of twenty years elapsed before she again met him in 1908. She did not know that he was married, and when he made a friend of her, she accepted his promises of marriage and she and he were engaged. He continued to live in Baltimore and she in Carlisle.

SON-IN-LAW HAS BANKER ARRESTED

Father of Wife Charged with Assaulting Chauffeur Who Married Daughter.

New York, June 15.—John W. Lushear, President of the North Ward National Bank of Newark, is accused by his one-time chauffeur, Conrad Eysoldt, of keeping the latter's wife, who is the banker's seventeen-year-old daughter, Dorothy, from her husband. Mr. Lushear also faces formal charges of assault with intent to kill on that part of his son-in-law, who asserts that he was attacked, beaten, and threatened with a pistol by the banker president and his son at the time the young wife left him, as Eysoldt declares, against her will.

Suspicious Aroused.

A little later, Miss Stephens says, she was notified by her fiancé that he had been left a fortune in property by his stepfather, but that the taxes and expenses incidental to get the estate would require more ready cash. She gave him $500 at one sitting. All the while the letters from Glessner were coming, addressed in the most endearing terms and suggesting future happiness in marriage. Miss Stephens suspected nothing wrong. During the past year she gave Glessner, she says, $2,000.

Then, when Miss Stephens went to sell some of her property, the suspicions of relatives were aroused. It was found that the woman had given all her money away except about $5,000. Her brother-in-law communicated with the authorities here, and an investigation was begun which led to Glessner's arrest this morning by Deputy Marshal Zimmerman.

He will be given a hearing before Commissioner Bond next Thursday, and in the meantime Glessner expects to be released upon bail.

Miss Stephens is about forty years old. The money she claims to have given Glessner was left her some years ago by a relative.

CAPITAL VISITORS AT MARYLAND HOTEL

Large Number of Washingtonians Registered at New Hostelry in Braddock Heights.

Braddock Heights, Md., June 15.—The Braddock Heights Hotel was opened for the season on Wednesday. A concert was given from 3 to 5 p. m. Dinner was served from 6 to 8 p. m., nearly 300 guests being seated during those hours, and from 9 to 12 p. m. there was dancing in the peristyle. The hotel was beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers, and the dining room was brilliantly lighted. A number of guests were present from Baltimore, Washington, Hagerstown, Frederick, and nearby towns.

Last night the alumnae of the Girls' High School also held its banquet at the hotel.

The Avalon has had two enjoyable dances given by the Pleasure Club, of Frederick, and a dance given by Miss Mary Reed Meyers to her young friends.

Miss Mildred Landauer, of Frederick, gave picnic at the Heights, in honor of her guest, Mrs. Lewis Berkenwald, of Baltimore.

Rev. L. M. Bennett, of Baltimore, has been visiting his mother at her cottage, Breeze Point.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gundersdorf, of Walt and son, of Baltimore, are stopping at Doll's cottage.

A MODERN JUGGERNAUT.

100-Ton Machine to Roll Through Lower City.

New York, June 15.—A railroad will be built along Battery Place to Greenwich Street, thence to Church, and finally to Morris Street, to move the 100-ton hoisting machine from Pier A, at the Battery, to Broadway and Morris Street, where it will be used for caisson building. The machine was brought from the Brooklyn Navy Yard to Pier A yesterday in a Merritt-Chapman barge, and preparations were at once begun to haul it to its destination. Part of the work was done last night.

The heavy machine is on a steel car and horses will be employed to haul it along the tracks. One hundred feet of track will be used. All sections that have been passed over being taken up and replaced in front of the car until it is being hauled to its destination. It is expected that the work of moving the heavy machine will take more than a day.

IMPRISONED TURKEY LAID HER OWN FOOD

Reading, Pa., June 15.—Thomas Brozman, a prosperous farmer of Sinking Spring, drove into the city yesterday carrying with him a turkey which he does not tell to everybody because he fears it will put him in the "nature fever" class.

Brozman owns a flock of turkeys. Two months ago one of them disappeared and he supposed it had returned to the wild state. The other morning Brozman was dining around an old haystack when he heard a faint noise. He dug into the stack and eventually reached an emaciated turkey, which he recognized as the missing member of his flock.

Scattered around the turkey were the shells of forty-two turkey eggs. Brozman says he counted them. When the turkey became hungry she simply laid eggs and ate it. According to Brozman's version, this particular fowl could have gone on living forever through the perpetual motion she had invented.

CYCLONE SWEEPS KANSAS CITY

Two May Be Dead in Wreckage of Apartment House—Property Loss Big.

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—A cyclone swept across Kansas City at 6:15 p. m., striking out in the Southwest section, and leaving a path of destruction across the heart of the city, ending at Forest Park, in the extreme Northwest section. In the wreckage of an apartment building, at Seventh and Woodland Avenues, the ten-year-old son of Mrs. Elma Wilkinson is reported to be dead, and her eight-year-old daughter is reported to be dying. Miss Theima Treadway, who was also in the building, was taken to a hospital, where it is said she cannot live.

Thousands of trees were blown down. Hundreds of apartment buildings were unroofed, plate-glass windows in the business section were broken, and hundreds of the signs were torn down.

The wind was accompanied by a hard rain and some hail.

SON-IN-LAW HAS BANKER ARRESTED

Father of Wife Charged with Assaulting Chauffeur Who Married Daughter.

New York, June 15.—John W. Lushear, President of the North Ward National Bank of Newark, is accused by his one-time chauffeur, Conrad Eysoldt, of keeping the latter's wife, who is the banker's seventeen-year-old daughter, Dorothy, from her husband. Mr. Lushear also faces formal charges of assault with intent to kill on that part of his son-in-law, who asserts that he was attacked, beaten, and threatened with a pistol by the banker president and his son at the time the young wife left him, as Eysoldt declares, against her will.

Dorothy was a pupil at Miss Townsend's School for Girls, in Newark, Eysoldt, as chauffeur, lived in the Lushear home, 556 Sumner Avenue, and became friendly with the girl while driving her to and from school. Their marriage by Alderman James J. Smith last Monday came out when this banker was arraigned on the assault charge before Justice of the Peace Pierson, in Morristown, N. J.

On Chauffeur's Trail.

Miss Dorothy left the Lushears' summer home in Mount Tabor a week ago, and three days later, Eysoldt says, he and his bride, then staying in the Hotel Navarre, Newark, asked the forgiveness of the parents of the girl by telephone. A short time later Herbert Marsh, cashier of the bank, and Herbert Lushear, Dorothy's brother, drove up to the hotel in a taxicab and induced the bride couple to enter. They were driving down Broad Street, when Mrs. Eysoldt became suspicious and insisted on returning to the hotel. The cab stopped and she got out. Mr. Marsh followed, but before he could do so, Eysoldt says, his brother-in-law slammed the door and the chauffeur at a word of command put on speed. Eysoldt says he overpowered Lushear easily and jumped out. He found Mr. Marsh trying to hold his wife, he says, while she struggled to come to him. The Eysoldts returned to the hotel.

"The next day, believing we would be forgiven, we went to my wife's home by taxi," said Eysoldt. "Mr. Lushear and his son pushed me into a room while my wife cried, 'Please, father, don't hurt Connie. I love him. Then the next day we went on an automobile trip against her will. But I have engaged counsel and she shall be returned to me."

MAY DIE OF CHANCE BULLET.

Real Estate Dealer Who Was Shot for Another Is Sinking.

New York, June 15.—Physicians in Gouverneur Hospital said this morning that Herman Wisner, the real estate agent of 497 Miller Avenue, the Bronx, who was shot yesterday while on the Manhattan end of the Williamsburg Bridge, had but slight chance of recovery. Wisner was shot by an unidentified man, the bullet entering his body between the seventh and eighth ribs. As he did not have any idea why he should be shot and no enemies as far as he could remember, the police considered that the real estate dealer had got a bullet intended by one gangster for another. The man who fired the fatal shot escaped after a chase down Attorney Street.

Magistrate Barlow, of the Essex Market Police Court, yesterday held for General Sessions, without bail, Frank Hart, Albert Leonardo, and James Martello, the gunmen charged with shooting Charles Lewis and Anthony Angerasio, alleged members of the Zelig gang, on the early morning of June 5 at Ninth Street and Second Avenue. The other victims, Angerasio, is still in Bellevue.

The hearing was marked by the presence of about fifty rival gangsters, but as there were about as many detectives there nothing was stirred. Lewis said that he did not know Hart and the other two men; that he had never seen them before the morning of the shooting. Patrolman Thompson, of the Fifth Street Police Station, who found the wounded man, related what he knew of the affair. He said he did not know Lewis and Angerasio were wounded until he placed them under arrest.

Earthquake in Costa Rica.

San Juan, Costa Rica, June 15.—The village of Naranjo, Costa Rica, has been destroyed by an earthquake, according to reports received here to-day. It is feared that many persons were killed, although the exact number is not known. Fifty persons had been hurt. The river flowing by the village was thrown into a new course by the quake, carrying away ten houses.

The most densely populated of all the countries of the world is Belgium, with 68 inhabitants to the square mile.

WOMEN ON "HUNGER MARCH"

Wives and Children of Striking Dockmen Paraded, Asking Aid.

London, June 15.—Several thousands of wives, children, and children of the striking dockmen and transport workers to-day paraded through the streets from the East End to Trafalgar Square on a "hunger march."

They solicited funds along the route and collected considerable contributions.

The striking dock workers in London to-day decided not to resume work but to continue their walkout until the proposed joint board is established and the transport workers' general federation is recognized by the authority of the port of London.

Despite the lack of support in the provinces and the half-hearted responses to the general strike order, the London men at to-day's meeting said they would stick.

Walk Out—Vote Being Taken on the Question.

700 LOCAL MEN AFFECTED

As a climax to a controversy which has existed since last July, a strike of 2,000 railroad conductors, engineers, firemen, and trainmen on the eastern lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad now seems inevitable. The strike would affect about 700 local employees of the railroad.

A strike vote is now being polled by Pennsylvania Railroad employees throughout the East. It is expected that 90 per cent of the railroad men will vote to walk out. The vote will be cast and the decision will be reached within ten days. For the purpose of learning the results of the local vote, a mass meeting will be held Tuesday evening in the hall at the northwest corner of Fifth and O Streets Northwest.

The railroad men threaten to strike because of the alleged failure of the railroad to adhere to the terms of a long-standing agreement between the men and its employees. The railroad men ask for redress in regard to six specific matters. One of the most important of these is the company's reduction of the pay of certain grades of the municipality and rates on the Monongahela Division, resulting in a decrease of salary amounting to from $1 to $1.50 per day.

Strike Circulars Distributed.

The "electric question" with the railroad employees is the company's substitution of Hudson and Manhattan Railroad employees for Pennsylvania men on the place track leased to the Hudson and Manhattan Company. In strike circulars, which have been widely distributed throughout the East among Pennsylvania employees, nine reasons are presented why the substitution of employees should not be made.

Among the other points involved in the controversy are the allowing of minimum day payments to extra passenger conductors, and the assignment of track foremen to the position of work-train conductors.

The railroad men say that under existing conditions their positions are in jeopardy. The strike circulars set forth the complaints against the company are, signed by the members of a board composed of representatives of the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, and other employees in the train, yard, and engine service of the Eastern lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The local strike matters are being handled by a committee consisting of H. G. McComas, representing the engineers and firemen, John Dawson, representing the trainmen, and John Ward, the conductors. It is reported that ten special detectives have been employed by the railroad to keep close tab on the strike leaders.

The first count of the Philadelphia strike vote yesterday showed that 1,000 men were in favor of walking out and not one opposed the proposition.

WOMAN BLINDS MAN WITH ACID

She Dashes Fluid in Companion's Face and Then Makes Escape.

New York, June 15.—While the physicians in Gouverneur Hospital are trying to save the sight of Israel Levine, twenty-eight years old, of 115 Attorney Street, into whose face the contents of a twelve-ounce bottle of sulphuric acid was thrown by a woman, the police of Clinton Street station are trying to locate Anne Paris, of 450 Grand Street, who, she alleges, is responsible for his condition.

According to the story the police were able to gather, the acid was thrown after efforts at a reconciliation between the two, who had been sweethearts in London and this city, had failed. The Paris girl, who is good looking, boarded with the family of Joseph Sattin at the Grand Street address. She lost her position a month ago. A few days later she and Levine had a dispute that ended their romance.

She became very despondent. After she had gone out for a walk in the evening she returned to her room, where she was accompanied home by Levine. The girl and he seemed cheerful. Several of the Sattin family talked with the two during the evening. There was no suggestion of anything being amiss. Even usually Miss Paris suggested that refreshments be obtained, and she went out to get them.

Levine was taking a drink she had handed him, the police state, when the girl dashed the sulphuric acid in his face.

WIPING OUT THE BLACK HAND.

Telephone Assures Chicago Police of Extinction of Band.

Chicago, June 15.—Assistant Chief Schuetzler, of the Police Department, has been watching a schedule of murders work out and half-anticipates other capital crimes which have been planned to prevent. Six weeks ago he received a telephone message, presumably from an Italian, informing him that there were six Black Hand members living in Chicago, but that there need be no further fear of Black Hand letters or crimes in the city, as the men were marked for death.

Schuetzler answered that he might be talking to a crank. He was reminded of several mysterious murders on the South Side and the disappearance of blackmailing letters. He was told that activities were about to start on the North Side, and to keep "tab" on what happened.

Two Italians have since been marked on the North Side under mysterious circumstances. Schuetzler has said he had been keeping close watch on the situation, and that he was working out about as he had been told it would. If information given to the assistant chief is reliable, there are at the present time in Chicago only four members of the Black Hand Society, and these four are marked to die.

War in Balkans Likely.

Paris, June 15.—There is prospect of the Turkish-Italian war operations being shifted into the Balkans, according to a dispatch from Constantinople to-day. The telegram stated that the Turkish government, in fear of an attack on the fortifications at Jafiar, is concentrating a army of 10,000 men at Gallipoli, and that several hundred Turkish machine gun artillery are being hurried to Gallipoli from the Turkish capital. Gallipoli lies at the northeast entrance to the Dardanelles, 122 miles from Constantinople.

Of Berlin's 8,000 cars, about 2,000 are motor driven, nearly 300 of them being electric cars.

JAY NOVA IS DIVORCED.

Orchestra Leader Must Pay Wife $1,300 a Year Alimony.

New York, June 15.—Supreme Court Justice Kelly to-day granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Mrs. Bertha Nova from Jay Nova, a well-known musician and orchestra leader, with $1,300 a year alimony in weekly installments. This alimony, the decree directs, shall be paid to the plaintiff for life, or until she remarries again. The parties were married in 1887. The new firm of Wood & Molloy represented the plaintiff and the case was tried before Justice Kelly on June 13. No defense was put in by Nova.

STRAUS OPENS MORE MILK DEPOTS

New York Philanthropist Widens Campaign Against Infant Mortality in New York.

New York, June 15.—Nathan Straus to-day opened ten additional pasteurized milk depots, making eighteen in all, as his part in the campaign against infant mortality which he started twenty years ago, and in which the municipality and a number of private agencies are now co-operating.

These summer stations will be located in City Hall, Battery, Seward and Central Park, and at recreation piers at Third, East Twenty-fourth, East Eleventh, Barrow and West Fiftieth Streets, and in the Educational Alliance roof garden.

The year-round stations are at the Straus Laboratory, 348 East Thirty-second Street, 57 Market Street, 40 West Thirty-seventh Street, 35 Macdougal Street, 222 East Fifty-ninth Street, 303 East Eleventh Street, and in Tompkins and Mount Vernon Parks.

These stations are maintained by Mr. Straus to prevent digestive disorders among babies, and to protect them from tuberculosis, typhoid and scarlet fevers and diphtheria by supplying pasteurized modified milk in nursing bottles at least ten cents.

At the stations in the parks and on the piers in summer pasteurized milk is also sold at a cent a glass for the benefit of the children playing there. The opening of the summer season of this charity is marked this year by the erection in City Hall Park of a recreation spot designed under the direction of Park Commissioner Stover, who has taken a deep interest in this work for the babies.

He hopes to make these life-saving stations in the parks or on the piers as useful as the erection of the parks by the erection of artistically designed buildings at each of the public playgrounds.

RATS ATTACK BABY AS IT LIES IN CRIB

Six-months-old Infant Bitten and Gnawed During Mother's Absence.

Philadelphia, June 15.—Left alone by his mother all afternoon and evening, six-months-old Frederick Brogden, colored, was attacked by rats as he lay in a crib at his parents' home, 239 South Warwick Street.

The puny struggle the infant was able to make proved to be little protection against the vicious rodents, and when his mother, Mrs. Mary B. Brogden, finally returned she found her baby with the ends of five of his fingers chewed off, both ears gnawed, and his body lacerated by the teeth of the rats, several of which jumped from the crib and scamped across the floor as she entered the room.

Mrs. Brogden's cries attracted the attention of neighbors, who, on learning what had happened, summoned an ambulance and in the infant, semi-conscious from pain and loss of blood, and in a serious condition from shock, was removed to the Jefferson Hospital, where it was said to-day he would recover.

KOSHER SHOPS TO BE CLOSED.

500,000 New York Consumers Will Be Affected by Butchers' Strike.

New York, June 15.—When the Jewish Sabbath ends at sunset to-day the kosher butchers of Brooklyn will keep their doors closed, and by doing so will follow in the footsteps of their brethren in Manhattan. It is impossible for the retailers to get a supply of meat which would warrant their efforts to carry on business. The supply has been very scarce and in many cases it has been more than eight days since meat could be obtained.

The step to be taken by the butchers is the result of a meeting that was held yesterday in Eagle Hall, First Avenue and Forty-second Street, Manhattan.

Over a hundred butchers who attended the meeting to protest against the high price of meat, there were only two who would not consent to strike.

It is said the strike will affect some 600 kosher butchers in Manhattan and 500,000 consumers will be deprived of the privilege of buying kosher or even chicken until the promoters of the strike issue further orders.

TO PICTURE AFRICAN FOLK.

Arts, Industries, Religions, and Lore to Be Caught on Film.

Chicago, June 15.—Prof. Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago, left last night on a six months' scientific expedition to West Africa. Harry Foster Dean, who has made several similar trips into Africa, and Campbell Marvin, who has just been graduated from the university, accompanied him.

The party will sail from New York City and will carry with them facilities for extensive photography, including moving picture apparatus. They will spend a short time in Belgium, Holland, and Germany, and then proceed to Africa.

Special attention will be paid to native arts and industries, religions, and folk lore. Prof. Starr is the special commissioner of the Panama Exposition of 1915.

WOMEN IN CONVENTION.

Chairman Mack Promises Seats at Democratic Assembly.

Baltimore, Md., June 15.—The Baltimore women suffragists have arranged to make a demonstration next Thursday, when several thousand plan to march in a big parade. The services of the Women's National Democratic League were offered to the National Committee in the ongoing campaign by a delegation of women who called at the committee headquarters yesterday. Chairman Mack promised to arrange for seats for a subcommittee of the league in the convention.

FOREIGN TRADE SHOWS INCREASE

Bureau of Statistics Makes Report on Imports and Exports for Year.

According to a statement of the Bureau of Statistics, the foreign trade of the United States in May exceeded, in both imports and exports, that for the corresponding month of any earlier year, and this is true also of the figures for the eleven months ending with May. Imports amounted to $13,670,724, against $12,914,109 in May, 1911, the former high record for the month of May. Exports were $115,985,225, against $118,132,333 in May of last year, the former high record for May.

MAN BURIED TO HIS NECK.

Digger Under Sidewalk Caught in Cave-in, but Dug Out.

New York, June 15.—Thomas Alfano, a laborer, was at work in the excavation for a building at 157th Street and Third Avenue, fifteen feet below the street level this morning, when the sides of the tunnel in which he was working caved in. A large bowlder crashed down on him, pinning his left foot fast. Earth followed the rock, and the man was buried up to his neck. Two others were at work with him, but escaped to the street. They called Patrolman Loughran, of the Morrisania station, and then returned to dig Alfano out.

After ten minutes' work, the policeman called Truck Company No. 32, of the Fire Department, and the man was finally freed. The heavy rock had fastened his left foot so that it had to be dug free before he could be moved.

At Lebanon Hospital, to which the man was removed, it was said he was suffering from a fractured left leg, while there might also be internal injuries.

BROUGHT A SMALL ZOO.

Tiger, Orang-Outangs, and Python Aboard the Burmese Prince.

New York, June 15.—There was a small-sized private zoo aboard the steamship Burmese Prince, which arrived last night from Singapore. Prof. Herzig, an Austrian naturalist, had aboard a tiger, three big orang-outangs, and a giant python. After the ship had been out about a month, sailors discovered the big python half way out of his cage at sunrise one morning. Prof. Herzig was called and put a rope around the reptile. Then everybody pulled on the rope, but the python didn't budge. Finally food was placed in the cage and the python went back in.

CALL MAYOR AN ENEMY.

Striking Waiters' Leader So Regards Mayor Gaynor.

New York, June 15.—Edward Hochlinger, secretary of the International Hotel Workers' Union, has issued a letter in reply to the Mayor's criticism of the efforts of the strikers to break up the banquet given to the officers of the German fleet at the Waldorf last Monday. Mayor Gaynor says he has not yet received the letter. The letter is given out by the waiters' leader is as follows: "Referring to your letter of June 11, regarding the investigation of the Waldorf outrage, I might suggest that it will be wiser in the future to prevent such outrages, for we, the people, never forget these things."

The Chinese city of Hankow, which was almost totally destroyed by fire last year, will be rebuilt on a plan of perfect geometrical regularity.
