YOUNG STOWAWAY FOUND.
Mite of Girl on Lake Steamer Wanted to Visit Her Father.
Buffalo, Sept. 14.—When a deckhand was making the circuit of the upper deck of the steamer City of Elys, en route from Cleveland to Buffalo, early to-day, he discovered the youngest stowaway ever found on the Great Lakes. It was a mite of a girl asleep in a chair in a secluded spot.
He aroused the child, learned that her name was Ethel Tarr, of Cleveland, and that she had slipped aboard the boat at that port last night. She said she wanted to go to Florida to see her father. Ethel was turned over to the purser and was taken to the Franklin Street station here.
The Cleveland police were notified.

Five Miners Injured.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 14.—Five men were seriously burned in a gas explosion at a mine at the West End Coal Company at Moccasinu today and Mrs.
Alonso Russell, wife of one of the victims, who has been ill, upon hearing the news, died of shock. The injured were all laborers.

CHAMPION'S WIFE BURIED.
Mrs. Jack Johnson's Funeral Attracts Mobs to Home.
Chicago, Sept. 14.—With her mother, Mrs. David Terry, of Brooklyn, and her sister, Elaine Terry, here, the funeral of Mrs. John Arthur Johnson, self-styled wife of the negro champion, was held today.
Although efforts were made to make the ceremony as simple as possible, the curiously seekers were on hand long before the hour set for the cortege to leave the home of Mrs. Tiny Johnson, Jack's mother, and take its way to St.
Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church, where Rev. J. Robinson preached the funeral sermon.
Mrs. Terry and her daughter will return to New York immediately after the burial at Graceland. Mrs. Terry asked that she be allowed to take the body to New York for burial, but Johnson objected. He said that the woman had been dearer to him than anything on earth, and he desired to keep her here.
Mrs. Terry said Mrs. Johnson was insane, and says a childhood injury was the cause.

An improved almost bullet and armor has been installed by one of the prominent generals of the United States Army, which can be operated by four men, and will shoot one to two miles a day.

NEW DANGER THREATENS STAR OLYMPIC ATHLETES.
New York, Sept. 14.—An aftermath of the Olympic games of which little is known by the general athletic enthusiasm is the fight being made by the committees of the various competing countries to prevent the spread of professionalism among the victorious athletes. The effort made by professional promoters to secure the names of Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finnish distance runner, and K.
McArthur, winner of the Marathon race, caused much dissatisfaction and discussion among the members of the international Olympic committee.
The American contingent did not escape in the bidding either, and several of the American shield bearers who won sensational contests were openly approached and asked to name their price for a tour of several countries wherein they were to meet the best professional athletes in their specialties. In every case these alluring offers were refused, and it was due to the advice in several cases of the American authorities that the promoters' efforts failed.
So serious did the situation grow toward the close of the Stockholm meet that the international committee dis-

GOVERNOR WILSON
TO INVADE WEST
Democratic Presidential Candidate Announces Speaking Dates for Next Two Weeks.

NEW ENGLAND INCLUDED
Sagitt, N. J., Sept. 14.—Gov. Wilson to-day gave out the dates for his second speaking tour. This will carry him through Connecticut and Massachusetts after he has held a long-standing engagement to speak at Scranton. The Governor will go to Scranton on September 23. This is the date set for the notification of all State Democratic candidates. Two weeks ago the Governor promised A. Mitchell Palmer, the Democratic State committeeman from Pennsylvania, that he would be present when the State candidates were notified. The campaign committee, unaware of this engagement, proceeded to book the Governor to speak at Pittsburg on that date.
The conflicting engagements have now been reconciled and the Governor will visit Pittsburg at some future date. On September 24 the Governor will return to Princeton to vote in the primaries.
The balance of the week will be devoted to New England. On September 25 he will speak at Hartford in the afternoon and New Haven in the evening; and on the 26th there will be three meetings—Springfield, Mass., in the early afternoon; at the agricultural fair at Barre, Mass., later in the afternoon; and at a big rally at Boston in the evening. September 27 Mr. Wilson speaks at Bridgeport and one other town to be decided upon later.

This will make a busy week for the candidate. He will use the special car that has been engaged for the balance of the campaign, and will carry his secretary, two stenographers, and nine newspaper correspondents.
The Governor devoted himself to-day to the preparation of speeches for the Western trip, to begin to-morrow. His special car will leave the Pennsylvania station at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon and will arrive in Chicago at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, continuing West at 6 o'clock. The speeches are to be made as follows: September 17, Sioux City; 18, Minneapolis and St. Paul; 19, Milwaukee, and St. Columbus. It is probable, also, that some rear end speeches will be made from the train at way stations along the route.
The Governor would not discuss the Syracuse incident further to-day, excepting to deny a report from Syracuse that he had been urged by Gov. Dix and others to keep William J. Bryan out of New York State during the campaign.
Bryan's name was not mentioned at any time while the Governor was in Syracuse, either by Gov. Dix or any of the State leaders, so far as Gov. Wilson recalls. Mr. Bryan will suit his own fancy about coming to New York. He will outline his own itinerary and speak where he pleases.

Prison Guards Wound Man.
Jackson, Mich., Sept. 14.—An undentified man is lying in the hospital to-day unconscious and fatally wounded from a shot fired from the rifle of a militiary man guarding the State prison here.
Since the recent prison mutiny the authorities have feared attempts to dynamite the structure. A military guard has been maintained and the soldiers have been ordered to shoot and kill anyone prowling about the walls who refused to halt instantly when commanded to do so. The man was seen about the wall shortly before daylight. They refused to halt, and the soldiers fired.
One fell, the other escaped.

ACCEPT STRAUSS' RESIGNATION.
Arbitration Board in Railway Case Acts on Nominee's Request.
New York, Sept. 14.—The resignation of Oscar B. Straus as chairman of the arbitration board, which has under consideration the demands of the engineers of fifty railroads for more pay and better working conditions, to-day was accepted by the board. Dr. Charles R.
Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Straus returning his membership on the committee.
Mr. Straus offered his resignation some time ago, but at that time it was refused. At to-day's meeting he urged its acceptance, stating that he did not have sufficient time to give to the work of the committee, owing to the fact that the majority of his time will now be consumed with his campaign for the governorship of New York, for which post he is the nominee of the Progressive party.

SCHOONER SAVES EXPLORERS.
Shipwrecked Arctic Party Picked Up by Sealing Boat.
St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 14.—The sealing steamer Neptune arrived here to-day from Hudson Bay, where she was chartered for exploration and survey work by the Canadian government.
She brought with her the crew of the Steamship Algonquin, which was wrecked on Famine Point, Basin Land. The Algonquin was chartered by a party of explorers and mineral searchers. They were in a lake of water between two ice floes, which the tide suddenly moved together and cut the bottom out of the ship like a pair of scissors. The crew and explorers had barely time to land a few bags of bread and four tins of canned meat, when the vessel sank. The crew and surveyors landed on a desolate island. There they lived six weeks on a pound and a half of food apiece, when the Neptune boys in sight and took them aboard.

JAPAN STIRRED
BY SUICIDE OF
NOGI AND WIFE

By Baron Chinda, Ambassador from Japan. He said:
An Inspiring Example.
"The tragic death of Gen. and Countess Nogi is sad in the extreme, and is to be profoundly deplored as an irretrievable loss, not only to the large circle of his friends and admirers, but also to the whole nation. At the same time, it will be regarded as a lofty and inspiring example of intensely stoical devotion and loyalty to his august master under whom he played an conspicuous role.
"It is an eloquent testimonial how the true spirit of the Samurai can flourish even in the atmosphere of modern mat-erialism and individualism. While the lamented general's great military talents and his courage, both moral and personal, are indeed a chapter well known to the world in the history of the Russo-Japanese war, his eminent ability as a civil administrator and especially as a most powerful molder of the sentiments of the rising generation in Japan is comparatively unknown to the foreign public, being eclipsed by his brilliant military achievements.
"But his well-earned reputation in those fields of peaceful activities is highly appreciated among his own countrymen. The highly successful government of Formosa is much indebted to the administrative ability which he manifested as the governor general of Formosa in the days when the affairs of the newly-acquired island still required statesmanship of the highest order.
"Of recent years he has devoted his energy to the education of the Japanese youth, especially of patrician extraction, in his high position as the president of the Peers' College, to which responsible post he was appointed by the special orders of his late majesty.
"In military science and all branches of learning connected with his profession his education was absolutely up to date, he having spent some time in Germany in his younger days.
"But he was by no means a man of the sword alone, but of the pen as well. His profound scholarship in the Japanese and Chinese classics, coupled with his noble personality, qualified the general in a most pre-eminent degree as the ideal educator, who can at once be the model and the inspiration for the minds and hearts of the Japanese youth.
"Cheerful Companion.
"As a man, he was mild, modest, and generous—in short, a gentleman every inch. The most distinguishing trait in his character was his strong sense of devotion to duty. Almost intense in this sense, to the point of being absolutely stoical, he was never known to be cynical. He was always so cheerful and agreeable as a companion that one could scarcely believe that the whole-hearted general had passed through the almost job-like ordeal in being during the Port Arthur siege the witness of the deaths of his two sons, the only staff in his side.
"On the day of his triumphant return to Tokyo he composed a famous poem, in which the scholarly general sang with an indescribable pathos lamentations over the fate of the soldiers whose lives he had to sacrifice before the gate of the invincible Port Arthur at the altar of patriotism and devotion to duty. That pathetic poem shows in a nutshell the lamented Count Nogi as a great general and as an ideal gentleman."
