

HEAVY TECH TEAM DEFEATS WESTERN IN THIRD GAME

Red and White Eleven Unable to Withstand Attack of Manual Trainers.

THREE PLAYERS ARE INJURED

SCHOLASTIC SERIES.

Table with 3 columns: Team, Points, Goals. Rows for Business, Tech, Eastern, Western.

By C. W. SWAN.

Tech's heavy football team made its initial appearance in the scholastic series yesterday at Union League Park, defeating the light Western eleven, 19 to 6.

The Manual Trainers outweighed the Red and White ten pounds to the man and the result was never in doubt. The Western forwards could not stop the smashing attack of the Tech backs and tackle, most of the Blacksmiths' gains coming on plays through a tackle or through center.

Western did not have a chance after the first period to score, while Tech should have run up a total of thirty points in the second and third periods.

Howard is injured. Buck Howard, Western's plucky captain, started the game at right half and lasted until the close in the third period, when he was forced out of the game by a kick in the head.

Tech's first touchdown came in the first period. Tech kicked off, and recovered the punt. Eckendorf and White kicked the line for a first down, and the Blacksmiths started a march down the field.

In the third period Davis carried the ball over only to drop in, and it was not until the close on this period did Tech score again. McKinley tore around right end for 30 yards and a touchdown. White missing the goal.

The final touchdown came in the last period. Tech took the ball up the field by a series of line plunges, and McKinley, on a plunge through the line, scored the points. This time Eckendorf kicked the goal.

Buck Howard, Gilbert, and Fuller were injured, the former being kicked in the head, Gilbert being thrown to the ground, and Fuller having a ligament in his leg torn. Gilbert is the only one who will be out of the game more than a week or two.

TECH-WESTERN NOTES. Coach Farrow has developed a drop kicker who will startle the high school critics Friday when the Stenographers tackle Eastern. Hunt, the Orange and Blue quarter back, has been booting them over the bar from the 20-yard line eight out of ten times in practice.

Pete Lynch, former Tech football and baseball star, stated yesterday before the game that the Manual Trainers would win the title this year. After the game he was not so confident. Pete says Tech has some good players, especially the line.

In the third quarter, Fuller, Western's little half back tackle, Eckendorf so hard that he strained a ligament in his side. Fuller is one of the lightest players in the high school series, and that he fought the Tech team so hard is a wonder. The Blacksmiths were Glants compared to the light Western.

White, Tech's big tackle, went through the Western line time and again for good gains. This play proved to be Tech's one best bet yesterday, but it will be stopped quick by the Central line.

Another Shift at Penn. Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—There was another shift in the Pennsylvania varsity football team to-day and the coaches are hopeful that at last they have hit upon some one to satisfactorily pilot the eleven on the field. Craig was tried out at quarter back and gave the signals and did so well that the chances are that he will be the Quakers' skipper in the game with Pennsylvania State, which is being played yesterday, but it will be followed by the Red and Blue adherents.

Wolgang Reaches New Orleans. New Orleans, Oct. 23.—Wearing diamonds as big as baby fists and carrying a jewel-studded cane, Ad Wolgang, former champion light-weight of the world, and his wife, accompanied by his manager, Tom Jones, and Mrs. Jones, took a stroll in the business district here to-day. They were followed by 2,000 cheering women, and children.

Wolgang meets Joe Mandot here Monday in a ten-round bout.

BASKET-BALL MEETINGS SCHEDULED NOV. 9

There will be a meeting of the faculty advisory committee on the basketball of the District of Columbia, on November 6, in the gymnasium of the U. S. Army Department. At this meeting the basketball week for the coming winter will be discussed.

WILL QUIT CUBS, SAYS JOE TINKER

Shortstop Through with Chicago. Likely to Manage the Reds.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Joe Tinker, shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, will become manager of the Cincinnati Reds next season, if a suitable trade is made for him by President Murphy and Manager Evers of the West Side team.

If such a trade is not made, Tinker will quit the game definitively and finally to-day to the newspaper men. "I will never play with the Cubs again," Tinker told Evers in Milwaukee Sunday.

Tinker and Garry Herrmann, principal owner of the Cincinnati Reds, have come to terms regarding all the details of the proposed scheme of having Tinker on Hank O'Day's old job next season.

They settled everything between them in a three hours' conference yesterday. President Murphy has gone East, and it is believed he expects to make a triangular deal with Philadelphia and Cincinnati whereby Mike Doolan of the Phillies may come to Chicago.

He will give an outfielder and an infielder for Tinker, said Herrmann, and under no conditions will I let go of either Bob Becher, Mike Mitchell or Dick Hoblitzel. Also under no circumstances will I part with any member of my present pitching staff.

Will Consider Herrmann's Proposition Regarding Trade for Joe Tinker. Chicago, Oct. 23.—John Evers, new manager of the Cubs, is in absolute charge of things for one day. President Murphy, his boss, left this afternoon for New York and Johnnie will set out for his home in Troy to-morrow evening.

Before his departure he will ponder over Garry Herrmann's ultimatum regarding the trade for Joe Tinker. If, after due consideration, he comes to the conclusion that he will benefit by such a deal as Garry proposes, Tinker will be free to take the management of the Cincinnati Reds.

Herrmann's terms are unfair from a Cub standpoint, Tinker will be retained or sent to some other city than Cincinnati. Joe has announced that he is in charge of the team, but he has a chance to get a boasting job with the Reds and believes it the duty of President Murphy to let him go because of long years of service here. John holds that Tinker is a valuable asset in the National League and adds that he won't part with him unless he can get Mike Doolan of the Phillies in some sort of a three cornered swap.

President Herrmann insists that he will give any two of his infielders, or any two of his outfielders, or one outfielder and one infielder for Tinker, excluding the names of Hoblitzel and outfielders Marsans and Becher.

BOARD TALK FOR HARVARD. Coaches Prepare Team on Detail of Princeton Attack. Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23.—A long backboard talk occupied the greater part of the Harvard varsity's afternoon work to-day. The big board was presided over by Head Coach Haughton and the Blue quarter back, has been booting them over the bar from the 20-yard line eight out of ten times in practice.

Pete Lynch, former Tech football and baseball star, stated yesterday before the game that the Manual Trainers would win the title this year. After the game he was not so confident. Pete says Tech has some good players, especially the line.

HA WILTON WINS FEATURE EVENT AT LAUREL TRACK

Takes Handicap from Good Field, Including Superstition, Carlton G., and Dr. Ducaner.

GOLDEN CASTLE HOME FIRST

Special to The Washington Herald. Laurel, Md., Oct. 23.—Favorites did not fare so good to-day as yesterday, only an even margin of the card being successful.

The weather was bright and balmy and the course was thronged with spectators, many New Yorkers being present, including some of the most familiar faces on the American turf. Insurance Man, who was sent around on Saturday last as a real good thing, "came across" to-day and annexed the first race. He was third choice, but ran to-day like a real race horse.

Golden Castle, who has been right up close lately, came to-day and won the second event, while Hamilton won the feature, a handicap at a mile and seventy yards. He beat a good field, including Superstition, Dr. Ducaner, Carlton G., and Chieftain. This is Hamilton's second straight win. He won the stake last week, beating a good field in a heavy track, and his performance to-day shows conclusively that he is not particular what kind of a track he runs on.

Bonnie Eloise annexed the fifth race, while Be was second, and old Lad of Langdon was third. The latter has done so considerably in the last month and is not running in his regular form. Stake Race Thursday. On Thursday the American Grand National Stakes, worth $5,000 added, will be run. It is an event at a mile and one-eighth, and the best horses in the United States are entered in this contest. It will be a race that will be worth while going to see. T. C. McDowell, the Maryland trainer, expects to have an excellent chance, although he has 127 pounds up—quite a burden with a fast let. Frog Legs will also go in this event, and he may redeem himself for some of his recent defeats.

The management of the Marlboro track were at Laurel Park to-day making arrangements with the horsemen to ship their horses to this track following the opening of the season. Arrangements with a number of the cattle exhibitors to ship their live stock to Marlboro. A fair will be held in conjunction with the racing, and it is the desire of the Marlboro people to make this a great feature.

Sixty horses arrived to-day from Indiana Springs, Ind. They were immediately sent to the Marlboro track where they will await the opening of the meeting, which starts November 13 and runs ten days.

The card offered to-morrow is an excellent one and should attract a large crowd. In connection with the opening of the meeting, which starts November 13 and runs ten days.

LONG SHOTS IN FRONT

Brace Rye Lane Favorite to Win at Latonia. Latonia, Ky., Oct. 23.—Long shots all but swept the card this afternoon, only one favorite succeeding in catching the Judge's eye first. This was Brace Rye, winner of the closing race.

Bad starts and worse jockeyship caused the defeat of many of the first choices. There is talk among the horsemen of getting up a petition urging the management to replace the starter, Mrs. C. McCafferty, with another man. "Breaker" in the fourth and feature event brought about Meridian's defeat, he and Royal Tea being left at the post. The winner of the race, Presumption, galloped all alone and paid his backers 25 to 1. His owner, James MacManus, is credited with having bet $500 on him, thus cleaning up nearly $12,500.

Oliver Will Handle the Tyree String at Norfolk

John McCafferty to Sever His Connection with Well-known Stable, and Former Trainer Will Replace Him.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 23.—John McCafferty the former jockey, will not after all bring the stable of Dr. J. R. Tyree, of Washington, to Norfolk this morning. According to advice received from Laurel, McCafferty is to sever his connection with the Tyree stable on the first of the month and William Oliver is to succeed him. Oliver and Tyree are old friends of the Yorkshirer and handled the stable of the Washington chemist for three years before McCafferty took hold and developed Yorkshirer Boy and Astrologer (about More York were old friends of the horse out for Dr. Tyree a year ago last spring at Pimlico. Oliver has always had great faith in the Yorkshirer Lad and Star Shoot three-year-olds, and he prefers the latter to the former. He is the smartest distance runner probably hereabouts before the horses go South and West in December.

If Oliver has his way the Tyree horses will not leave Norfolk this year. Tyree will winter right here and be ready up in March and April for the big game on the Eastern circuit. From the looks of things just now, there will be plenty of good horses to handle for Dr. Tyree. Beside the three-year-olds and the youngsters, McCafferty will turn over to him, the best of the Tyree string. Oliver will have a big bunch of horses to handle for Dr. Tyree.

Dr. Tyree purchased these youngsters early in the spring. There are six at them, two by Votey, the sire of Ballot and The Manager; one by Hastings, and the others by sundry other stallions in the Blue Grass country. Dr. Tyree thinks well of one of his "foster" colts and in England as a successful trainer. He has never had the handling of a really great horse because he has never had a wealthy backer. It has been his fortune to dub along as best he could with a few prizes, and he has had no success in the big stakes. Since Dr. Tyree will have one of the biggest stables in the country next season, it behooves Oliver to stir about and secure a first-class jockey. He is an expert on the look-out for a good rider of light weight, and it is possible that he may sign up with little Andy Ferguson, Ferguson would do well under Oliver's tutelage. The veteran trainer is a good hand at bringing out budding riding talent.

Neither is for sale. Mr. Kohler owns the $30,000 Star Shoot stallion, Uncle, which he has at the stud in the Ramapo Hills, in New Jersey, and he wants the mare for breeding purposes. Last year he is a half sister to Peep 'o' Day, a good race horse and a successful sire, and the Adam end of Ballymena's pedigree makes her particularly valuable for stock purposes. Adam, a son of Flying Fox and a grandson of Orme, was imported to this country from France at an expense of $5,000 by Francis C. Bishop, of New York, and after a couple of years' service in the army, was shipped abroad again and sold for $7,000.

Mr. Bishop could not keep the horse after the Legislature of New York put a stop to the importation of horses from the State. That the American breeding industry suffered irreparable loss when Adam was shipped away the performance of Zeke and Hasht and Adams Express, who were among the best of the State, have demonstrated. Zeke was the smartest three-year-old out last season, and Adams Express, now the property of H. C. Hallenbeck, of New York, and a prospective competitor for Norfolk in this fall, is the cleverest distance runner handicapped in America to-day.

Basht, the swiftest two-year filly of 1909, brought $2,500 at public auction at Saratoga and won races in England in 1911 and 1912. She is coming back to this country and may race here in November. Mr. Kohler is the biggest manufacturer of pianos in the world. He is an enthusiast in student of breeding, and is laboring zealously to restore the prestige of racing in New York and New Jersey. It is the unanimous opinion among the horsemen of America that Mr. Kohler is a student of breeding, and any he may have at Norfolk will give general satisfaction.

YALE WORKS HARD. First-string Men Trim Scrubs in Lively Scrimmage. New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—Head Coach Arthur Howe, of the Yale eleven, sent the first-string backfield upon the gridiron this afternoon for the first time since the Washington and Jefferson match Saturday, but today the Yale eleven were forced to fight through the backs were rested the second half. All the regulars were in uniform except York, Hendon, and Harshaw, who are sent into the signal work, but retired upon the call for scrimmage. The varsity kicked off twice and the scrubs failed to kick-off for the first 30-yard advance. Aside from this the scrubs gained first down but once during the afternoon.

CARDINALS TO PLAY. Meet Strong Fort Washington Team to-morrow. To-morrow at 4 p. m. the Cardinal Athletic Club, of Alexandria, will play the strong post team from Fort Washington at the baseball park on North Alfred Street.

The Cardinals have just organized for the season and this will be their first game and they have been practicing hard during the last week and expect to trim the soldier boys by a large score. This game will prove what they are made of, so that they will be in condition to play their best game Saturday against the strong Meridians of Washington.

Nationals Practice. The National Athletic Club football team, formerly the Hall Stars, will practice this afternoon at 5 o'clock at Fifth and Streets Southeast. All members of the team are requested to attend. The Nationals would like to arrange games with any 100 pound team in or out of the District. WILL RESUME RACING

Mineral Springs, Ind., Oct. 23.—Racing will be resumed at the Mineral Springs track Friday or Saturday. This was the statement of A. F. Kozick, president of the Mineral Springs Jockey Club. The troops that stopped the meet there recently have been withdrawn and the officers of the club began preparations for racing. There are a number of horses still at the track. Purses of from $200 to $500 will be hung up.

The track officials say that Gov. Marshall has not stopped racing. The only way in which he can prevent the running, they assert, is by keeping his troops there all winter. Nothing but a court order will close the track, they assert.

John Gavitt, one of the track officials, says the fifteen-day meet will be completed if it takes until next spring to do it.
