ATTORNEY GENERAL SEEKS EVIDENCE AGAINST COMBINE OF NEW ENGLAND RAILROAD SYSTEMS.

United States District Attorney Wise will come to Washington to-day to confer with Attorney General Wickham, of the Department of Justice, in regard to the prospective action of the Federal government in dealing with the proposed agreement between the New York, New Haven and Hartford, and the Grand Trunk Railroads.

Following the offer of President Mellon, of the New Haven, and Chamberlain, of the Grand Trunk, to grant access to their books and correspondence to the government officials, Attorney General Wickham sent William A. Benham, a special agent, to New York to go over the records of the New Haven Railroad.

It is probable that several other special agents of the department will also be assigned to the work of going over the railroad correspondence and records figuring in the proposed traffic arrangement. The opinion was expressed yesterday by Jesse C. Adkins, assistant to the Attorney General, who has immediate charge of gathering the evidence for the Attorney General.

Will Depend on Evidence. If the Department of Justice, after completing its inquiry, has gathered what the Attorney General regards as sufficient evidence to warrant legal steps to prevent the two railroads from carrying out the proposed agreement, an application of a temporary injunction will probably be filed either in New York or Boston to enjoin the railroads from carrying the agreement into effect.

Reasons for Suspending Inquiry. Further information was obtained yesterday as to the reasons for the suspension of the proceedings before the Federal grand jury in New York into the railroad case. The officials of the railroads who appeared before the grand jury would have been given immunity from subsequent criminal prosecution. The railroads voluntarily offered to grant to the government investigators full access to its books and records, and in addition the officials of the department believe that they will be able to gather the facts in the case much more expeditiously through their own force of special agents than they could by grand jury proceedings.
