CHICAGO FACES BIG LABOR WAR

Employers Lock Out 27,700 Men of Building Trades Council.

BOYCOTT DUE TO STRIKE

Other Workers Are Affected and Serious Situation Threatens, It is Admitted.

Chicago, June 19.—Twenty-seven thousand seven hundred men were locked out on incompleting buildings in Chicago in the boycott against the Building Trades Council, instituted today by the Building Construction Employers' Association. Work on buildings costing $20,000,000 was stopped when contractors on all buildings in the course of construction were notified that the lockout exists. The lockout was the result of the failure to settle the strike of 150 stonemasons on the new Continental and Commercial National Bank building. President C. W. Gindala, of the employers' organization, had passed word to every employer that the union men were to be kept off their jobs this morning. He said the other members of the executive committee of the employers sent warnings to the officers of the union that unless the strike of the stonemasons on the bank building was amicably settled, a lockout would be declared against the Building Trades Council and the men would be forced into idleness.

Big Labor War Certain. Every member of the Employers' Association is under bonds to obey orders of the executive committee and keep the men from working as long as the committee desires.

The declaration of the lockout by the employers admittedly will cause a labor war of large proportions. It will involve thousands of workers in addition to the 27,700 automatically forced out of employment. The contractors are backed by the lumber dealers and others who furnish building supplies. Any contractor who violates the lockout order will forfeit a bond and suffer a penalty of blacklisting by the other contractors in the organization.

LOWRY TELLS OF "COMMITTEE"

which he had selected the chairman, was not a spontaneous organization of the wholesale grocers of the United States, but simply the creation of his own active mind and that of Claus A. Spreckels, president of the Federal Reserve Company. Mr. Lowry went on to explain his own activities in behalf of the free sugar propaganda.

Senator Cummins produced bulletin after bulletin, issued by the committee of wholesale grocers, which Mr. Lowry identified as his own work. Finally, a little green leaflet stating the position of the free sugar men and bearing across the back the legend, "Vote for Wilson and Marshall," was produced. "Who published this?" asked Senator Cummins. "I furnished the matter for that, but it was published by the National Democratic Campaign Committee during the 1912 campaign," replied Mr. Lowry. "On whose authority," demanded Senator Cummins.

Secretary Daniels Mentioned. "Why, I furnished the matter for that, but it was published by the National Democratic Campaign Committee during the 1912 campaign," replied Mr. Lowry. "On whose authority," demanded Senator Cummins.

"Mr. Daniels said he thought he would print about a million of them," said the witness.

It had previously been discussed that in the Republican campaign text-book used in 1912 the sugar beet industry and the other leaders of the sugar interests who desire protection furnished all the matter dealing with the sugar question. In order to balance matters Senator Cummins questioned Mr. Lowry with regard to the authorship of the Democratic text-book's section devoted to the sugar protectionists.

"Therefore, the Democratic text-book was written by the free sugar crowd," questioned Senator Cummins. "Yes, and the Republican text-book by the sugar protectionists," he answered. "Well, they went to the people who knew, anyhow," said Senator Nelson. Mr. Lowry explained that his expenses for the past four years in pursuing the free sugar propaganda were in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Spreckels Gave to Democrats. C. A. Spreckels had contributed $100 to the Democratic fund in 1912, but it was a voluntary and personal contribution. Senator Nelson was anxious to know what the result of Mr. Lowry's own idea of 40 cents per hundredweight tariff on sugar would be.

"How would this be received by the sugar protectionists?" he asked. "They like that less than anything," answered Mr. Lowry. "For in reason that they could exist on that, but not make the huge profits they do now. They would rather see free sugar, for according to their notion, free sugar would close the best sugar factories, spread wreck and ruin in its train, drive the Democratic party out of power, and restore the Republicans with their high tariff views."

Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, next called, related the circumstances of the organization of the Michigan Sugar Company and explained to the committee how the ownership of shares in that organization came to be held by the Michigan Sugar Refinery Company, the Sugar Trust, so called.

Trust Reduced Holdings. The holding of that company, Mr. Warren said, had been in the neighborhood of 45 per cent of the total capital stock of the organization up to 1912. Then there had come about a reduction. The trust's holdings had been absorbed by himself and other officers of the company.

The interest of the American Sugar Refinery now in the Michigan Company was about 35 per cent. Slightly over that Mr. Warren thought. The reduction had been made as the result of numerous conferences. The trust had not wanted to give up its holdings in Michigan sugar, but had thought it best to comply with the generally accepted interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law that ownership of less than one-third in a corporation did not mean infringement of the law.

It was to Mr. Warren that the letter suggesting the acquisition of the Chicago Inter Ocean as the organ of the best sugar interests was suggested in a letter discovered among the papers of Mr. C. C.

DOMESTIC SUGAR BULLETIN NO. 33

They Say that when "Free Sugar" comes the Domestic beet and cane factories will close only for effect.

The Facts Are that Mr. Underwood's report accompanying the Free Sugar Bill of last year places the average cost of producing refined beet sugar in Germany at 2.415 cents and in the United States at 3.54 cents. Show these figures to a business man and ask him what "Free Sugar" would do to us. Get the Facts.

ENVOYS OF WEST REACH CAPITAL

Eight Young Women of Pacific Coast Come East to Plead for Liberty Bell.

SEVERAL ARE VOTERS

Mayor of Philadelphia Receives Delegates and Expresses Himself as in Favor of Scheme.

For the purpose of arousing enthusiasm throughout the East in the project of having the Liberty Bell sent to the Pacific Coast for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, eight young women arrived in Washington last night, after a trip across the continent, and are stopping at the Elbette.

The young women, who were selected because they had shown special skill in different pursuits of life, are taking the trip at the expense of Philip S. Bates, publisher of The Great Northwest, one of the largest farm papers in the West.

Many of them have interesting experiences to relate of life in their part of the country. The majority of them are over twenty-one, and enjoy the privileges of voting in Oregon, which is a woman suffrage State.

The fair delegates left Philadelphia yesterday, where they laid their proposition before Mayor Blandenburg. He (Blandenburg) expressed himself as being in accord with the movement, and remarked that he would do all in his power to have the bell sent West, according to Mr. Bates. The City Council, in whose hands the final decision lies, was also appealed to at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Bates stated last night that before he and the girls appeared before that body there were but few members who would cherish the thought of having the historic bell removed from its resting place in Philadelphia. After their plea had been presented, it was stated, there were few who opposed the project. However, it is the present Council which will pass judgment in the case, but the one which is to be elected next November.

The girls left Portland, Ore., on Sunday for Chicago. From there they will go to Battle Creek, Mich., Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Boston, New York, and Philadelphia were visited in turn. Before reaching Chicago on the return trip Pittsburgh and South Bend will have the party as their guests. They will reach Portland on July 25.

While in this city it is planned that the young ladies call on President Wilson. The different points about the city will be seen. The party leaves here Saturday night.

The following comprise the party: Marvel Ramey, Newport, Lewis County, Idaho; Laura M. Dawson, Voltaire, Harney County, Ore.; Ethel M. Hutchcroft, Yamhill, Yamhill County, Ore.; Nettie B. Drew, Klamath Falls, Klamath County, Ore.; Belle C. Nelson, Yreka, Colusa County, Ore.; Mabel Morrison, Colfax, Whitman County, Wash.; May Springer, Walla Walla, Walla Walla County, Wash.; Sara A. Mossley, Hinkleton, Klickitat County, Wash.; Mrs. G. L. Barkley, chaparral, Elberta County superintendent of public instruction.

Story Crowded Out. This story was given out at the time President Taft was in San Francisco, the world series of baseball games was in full swing, the automobile races were going on at Santa Monica, Cal., and the McKim trial was reaching its crisis. The Hamilton interview, which was new, had been crowded out of the papers. On behalf of the Associated Press Mr. Stone had carefully explained the circumstances of both interviews to Mr. Hamlin and had suggested to him that the next opportunity for the best sugar men to obtain any legitimate publicity would be at the time of their coming Chicago conference.

Mr. Stone was excused until a later date. When he is recalled he will be cross examined with regard to the attempt of lobbyists and legislative agents to gain publicity through the medium of the Associated Press.

SENATOR CULBERSON ILL.

Texas Said to Be in Serious Condition from Nervousness.

Senator Charles A. Culbertson of Texas is ill at Atlantic City, suffering from a nervous breakdown. The Senator has been absent most of the present session. The attack is a recurrence of an illness which came upon him a year or more ago and kept him away from Washington most of the session of Congress. At that time he was under treatment at a sanitarium at Watkins, N. Y.

Senator Culbertson's friends in the Senate are much concerned over his condition, which has not shown the desired improvement during several weeks devoted to rest and careful nursing.

SONS OF VETERANS MEET AT CAMPFIRE

Representative Willis Is Speaker and Tells of Healing of Civil War Wounds.

A campfire meeting in Grand Army Hall, at which Representative Frank H. Willis of Ohio delivered an address, occupied the attention of members of the Maryland Division, Sons of Veterans, who are holding their twenty-seventh annual convention here. Mr. Willis confined himself to patriotic remarks, telling how the breach between the North and South had been healed.

Proceeding the meeting a banquet was held in the Hotel Sterling. The meeting in the morning was opened with an address by Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph, to which Silas E. Robb, commander of the Maryland Division, responded. Nothing but routine matters came before the body in the morning.

The auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans met in an adjoining room at the same time as the parent organization was in session. Mrs. Edith R. Munsen, division president, occupied the chair. The convention will adjourn today with the election of officers.

Salvation Army to Celebrate. The twenty-sixth anniversary of the Salvation Army in Washington will be celebrated tomorrow and Sunday at 330 Pennsylvania Avenue and the First Presbyterian Church. John Marshall Place, respectively.

Col. Richard E. Hoik, of Philadelphia, will officiate at all the services, and will be assisted by Brigadier and Mrs. William Escott, of Baltimore; Maj. and Mrs. Irvin, of Washington; Maj. Wells, of New York; Staff Capt. W. Myles, of Baltimore, in addition to the officers of the local corps.

CONGRESS IS ASKED FOR EIGHT MILLIONS

Secretary of Treasury McAdoo Says This Sum is Needed to Cover Deficiencies.

Deficiency and emergency appropriations aggregating more than $8,000,000 are requested in supplemental estimates sent to the House today by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. The larger portion of this sum is for deficiencies for the current fiscal year.

Secretary McAdoo asks $1,500,000 for the expenses of the Interstate Commerce Commission during the next twelve months in its investigation of the physical valuation of railroads. Congress authorized the valuation, but failed to provide the funds.

Approximately a million dollars is requested for the War and Navy Departments to repay the amounts expended for the relief of the Ohio River flood sufferers at the time of the Dayton floods. The estimates also ask $320,000 for the new Department of Labor, of which amount $100,000 is for the Commission on Industrial Relations. The Treasury Department needs $1,500,000 to continue work on buildings, for which appropriations have been exhausted.

A total of $1,822,000 is desired by the Department of Commerce, and the White House has a deficiency expense bill of $1,500. Secretary McAdoo estimates that it requires $3,000 to conduct examinations of fourth-class postmasters, who are to be put under the civil service.

Four-year-old Bitten by Dog. Charles F. Wilmetts, four years old, of 210 Hall Place Northwest, at noon yesterday, was bitten by a dog thought to have been suffering from rabies. Policeman T. E. Lipscomb of the Seventh police precinct later killed the dog and had its head sent to Dr. Mohler at the Bureau of Animal Industry for examination.

Mrs. Catt Again Suffrage Head. Budapest, June 18.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of New York, was today re-elected president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance.

MAN ATTACKS WOMAN.

Screams Drive Away Assaultant of Mrs. Sophia Christ.

The police department is searching for a young white man, who last night at 7:30 o'clock on Central Avenue, between Seventh Street and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad track Northwest, attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Sophia Christ, of 1013 Kearney Street Northeast. Mrs. Christ, in the struggle with the man, had her clothing badly torn.

Frightened by her screams for help the assaultant ran. More than fifty policemen and detectives are searching for the man. Mrs. Christ gave the police a fair description of her assailant, and says she can identify him if captured.

At the spot where Mrs. Christ was assaulted is a stretch of woods. She had been over to see some friends several blocks away and was returning home when attacked.

Mrs. Richard Sylvester at midnight offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest of the assailant.
