

FOURER SPOUSE
EATON TRIAL

Daniel Henry Ainsworth to Take Stand Against One-Time Wife.

EXPERT AIDS DEFENSE

Doctor Says Poison Was Taken on Day the Defendant Was Away from Home.

Plymouth, Oct. 28.—Daniel Henry Ainsworth, first husband of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, on trial for the murder of her second husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, is being brought here by State detectives and will be called as a witness against his former wife, according to a report tonight.

The taking of testimony in the case closed today, but District Attorney Barker will endeavor to have the case reopened and the testimony of Ainsworth admitted. Mr. Barker would not say whether Ainsworth's testimony will be used in an attempt to convict Mrs. Eaton of the crime, or whether it will be used to determine the defendant's sanity.

At 12:45 o'clock today Mrs. Eaton resumed her seat outside the bar enclosure, after having been on the witness stand for sixteen hours. The defendant appeared calm and cool and looked at her attorney, William A. Morse, with a content smile.

Expert Helps Defense.

All in court agreed that Mrs. Eaton had been an excellent witness in her own behalf, and the manner in which the prosecution indicated their close left no doubt in the minds of the spectators that he State had failed to break down the woman's testimony. During the last two hours of cross-examination Mrs. Eaton was forced to again rehearse the scenes of the admiral's last hours.

Dr. Arthur Everett Austin, of Boston, a medical expert testifying for the defense, declares that the arsenic which killed the admiral was taken in a single dose on the Wednesday preceding his death. Dr. Austin thought the arsenic had been taken either at the noon meal or shortly afterward on Wednesday. The admiral died Thursday night. On Wednesday Mrs. Eaton spent the day with her daughter, Jennie Ainsworth, at the latter's home in Morford.

Admits Conversation.

Mrs. Eaton admitted she had the conversation with June, overheard by June's husband, Ralph Keyes, in which the laughter told of the admiral's proposal to put Mrs. Eaton and Keyes on a trip to Europe. She also admitted going home the next day, but said she hurried because of the statement she was certain the admiral was either crazy or had been taking drugs.

Boy Hurt in Collision.

An automobile driven by Dr. Jesse Houder, of the Roland Apartments, Second street and Maryland Avenue Northwest, collided at Ninth and B Streets Northwest yesterday afternoon with a cycle ridden by Edward Lyons, eleven years old, of 1239 Crittenden Street Northwest. Lyons was slightly injured on the face. The front wheel of his bicycle was damaged.

Patent Examiner Reinstated.

Lucie Sam's kindness to his employer has demonstrated yesterday through an "order" under the name of Selton J. Soughton, an assistant examiner of the Patent Office, with pay during a long absence from his office because of illness. Soughton resigned in August, 1911, to leave for Colorado to fight a tuberculosis affection.

Aid for American Women.

The State Department moved promptly yesterday in the interests of Mrs. Lucille Land, daughter of former Gov. Henry T. Lutz, of California, who is under arrest in Dublin, Ireland, on the charge of kidnapping Irish children. Secretary Bryan asked to Ambassador Page, at London, instructing him to investigate the case.

For Constitutional Amendment.

Representative Hobson of Alabama introduced a resolution in the House yesterday providing for an amendment to be constitutionally made in order to give national laws to prevent the sale, transportation, manufacture, or exportation of alcoholic liquors in the United States.

A Good Appetite Is A Glorious Thing

And Any Person Can Have a Rip
Roaring One If Stuart's Dyspepsia
Tablets Are Used
After Meals.

The secret of appetites lies in a healthy and normal desire for food on the part of the stomach and other digestive organs. Your digestive apparatus always wants more food than it is normal. I want all kinds of food, too heavy, too light, sweet and sour. These qualities are needed by man's blood, and so the system craves them. This craving is appetite.

"Ever Since I used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I Simply Delight in Food."

The real value in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets consists of their instant acting digestive ability. They do not irritate the stomach very quickly, stop fermentation, rest the stomach and when the nourishment of the food is taken into the system they go with it into the blood and thus replenish the digestive fluids. Thousands of men and women in this country have proved, to their complete satisfaction, the great digestive and curative values of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is so powerful that one grain of it will digest 3,000 grains of food and it is given in a glass tube without the aid of man's stomach. Just think what this means, when your stomach is raw and filled with harmful acids and acids. The rest will receive will be priceless. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists everywhere. Obtain a box, 25 cents, today and take a tablet after your next meal just to prove how easily you can digest that meal.

INCREASED SERVICE NEEDED.
Judge Lattimer Pleads for More Probationary Officers for Court.

Need of additional probationary service for the Juvenile Court was the keynote of an address by Judge Lattimer at the annual meeting of the Georgetown branch of the Associated Charities held at the Curtis Building last night. This need was also voiced by Walter S. E. Ford, secretary of the Associated Charities.

The Rev. Dr. P. B. Howden, of St. John's Church, Georgetown, president, Miss Margaret Simpson, agent of the Georgetown branch, spoke of the cooperation existing between the Associated Charities and the Juvenile Court. C. W. Skinner, of the Industrial Home School, said more probation officers are needed to segregate the child delinquent from the adult.

SCHMIDT'S CHUM
IS FOUND GUILTY

"Dr." Muret, Friend of Murderer of Girl, Convicted of Counterfeiting.

DEFENDED BY "PRIEST"
Attorney of Man Pleads for Mercy on Ground of Alleged Illness.

New York, Oct. 28.—Ernest A. Muret, pseudo dentist and chum of Hans Schmidt, the self-confessed murderer of Anna Amidiller, was found guilty of counterfeiting tonight before Judge Hunt in the United States District Court.

The jury reached its verdict after four hours' deliberation, and in spite of the testimony of Schmidt, "the priest," that he had no knowledge of the conspiracy to make false currency.

Muret faces a thirty-year term and a $10,000 fine. He was found guilty on both counts of the second indictment, charging the making and having possession of counterfeit plates.

Muret, expecting an acquittal, was the coolest man in the room when the jury filed in, but at the word "guilty" he clasped his hands to his head with a groan.

GRABS $10; PULLS REVOLVER.

Negro Tries to Continue Alleged Theft He Wouldn't Depart.
Henry McLean, colored, of Crystal Hill, Va., early last night pulled a revolver out of his coat pocket to confront William Newkirk, of Forresterville, Va., that he could not prevent him from taking the Norfolk boat.

Newkirk came to town yesterday along with Luther Logan to "shadow" McLean, who Newkirk claims stole a $10 bill from him. McLean was traced to the Norfolk boat wharf. When he presented a $10 bill for a ticket to Norfolk, Newkirk grabbed the money. McLean, according to the police, pulled a revolver. There was a merry scramble among wharf hands and passengers to get behind places of protection. Newkirk managed to escape with McLean's hands.

GRAND COUNCIL PAYS ANNUAL VISITATION

Oriental Congratulated at Old Masonic Temple on Work Done During Year—Entertainment Held.

REGENT G. B. YOUNG HONORED

A large number of members were present last night in the hall of Oriental Council, Royal Arcanum, Old Masonic Temple, the occasion being the annual visitation of the officers of the Grand Council.

Accompanying Grand Regent Glendon B. Young were Supreme Sentries Claude R. Zappone, Supreme Representatives Sidney I. Besseler and Harry G. Lenz, Grand Officers Regent M. Barton Mercer, Grand Officer E. A. Niess, Grand Treasurer George M. Copenhagen, Grand Chaplain Frank S. Parks, Grand Guide J. H. Ruth, Grand Warden James W. Bond and Grand Sentries W. Buckley. Among the members of the Grand Council present there were C. D. Shackelford, John L. Beattie, R. E. Logan, W. A. Jack, George M. Evans, J. H. Beitt, J. E. Swaine, W. W. Chase, E. B. Ryan, J. R. Gibburne, C. B. Matthews, A. T. Selden, and C. J. James.

For the entertainment of the grand officers a class of new candidates were initiated, and the work of Oriental's degree team indicates they are making a determined effort to win the prize of $5 offered by the grand regent for the greatest improvement in this work during the year. Grand Regent Young congratulated Oriental Council on the good work done during the year, and called for the cooperation of all members in promoting the interests of the order in Washington. The city is now the largest council in the order, having over 900 members. A handsome cut-glass water service was presented by Oriental Council to Dr. Young as a mark of their esteem and in appreciation of his work as grand regent. The presentation speech was made by Regent Taigler, and was suitably responded to by Dr. Young. M. Barton Mercer, the grand vice regent, made the principal address of the evening, the subject being "The True Waterfall." Messrs. Swaine, Rodis, and Niess contributed vocal and instrumental numbers to the program and their songs and recitations were served in an admirable manner. The next grand visitation will be to Capital City on their fall in Plymouth, Tenn., on Thursday evening, November 13.

'GREETERS' GIVE FINE RECEPTION

Six Thousand Visitors Welcomed by Capital Hotel Clerks.

"RAMBLE BALL" IS HELD

Vandeville Entertainment Precedes Grand Match, Led by President and Mrs. Spees.

"The Greeters of America," the national organization of hotel clerks entertained 6,000 persons at a reception, ball, and vaudeville performance at the "Greeters Raffle Ball" given at Convention Hall, Fifth and K Streets, last night, under the auspices of the Washington Hotel Clerks' Association, Chapter No. 21, of the national association.

The ball had been transformed into an appropriate setting for the occasion. Flags, hunting-palms, and flowers were used to best advantage in the decorative scheme.

Guests from abroad and this city thronged the huge place and were welcomed by Edgar C. Spees, president of the Washington chapter, president of the national organization making the response.

The vaudeville performance which followed went across the boards with success and received the enthusiastic applause of the members and guests.

Program of Vaudeville.
The program was selected by A. Julian Brylawski and a committee, and was as follows:
Overture, "Faust," orchestra.
Cretone Trio, singing and dancing.
Wagner and Palmer, in a comedy sketch, "Nearly a Job."
Six Sunny Songbirds, a sextet of clever juveniles.
Brooks, Delmore, and Brown, in "A Night on the Dock."
Intermission.
The Four Musical Halls.
Ethel Golden and her song "Yvette."
Lawyer and Futtler, singing comedians.
William Morris, the trick cyclist.

At the conclusion of the vaudeville performance the guests formed a grand march led by President Edgar Spees and Mrs. Spees, and dancing was enjoyed the rest of the evening.

James A. Stokes, of Philadelphia, president of the Greeters of America, was at the head of a large delegation of visiting Greeters from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, as they arrived yesterday morning. They were welcomed at Union Station by committee of the Washington Chapter, who escorted the guests to hotels. Yesterday afternoon was devoted to sightseeing.

It is expected that the Greeters will enrich the treasury of the local organization with about $6,000, which is to be used in equipping clubrooms for the Washington Chapter.

WILSON'S POLICY IS RECOGNIZED

Continued from page one.

Developments, or whether he has placed himself in a position where he is forced to promise something for nothing, was a much debated question yesterday. Critics of the administration declared that Europe finally had forced the President's hand as was to be expected from the outset. Europe, they say, has made no concession, beyond promising to keep off until the President can tell her of his plans. She has not promised to agree to these plans or to leave the Mexican problem to the United States.

On the other hand, such a promise hardly could be expected officially from any government, and recent semi-official statements of the United States Foreign Office indicate clearly that Great Britain will not run counter to the wishes of the United States in settling the Mexican trouble, particularly as long as the United States safeguards the lives of British subjects.

Safeguarding of Life.
Through his public utterances on Mexico, the President has defined his position as against the endangering of life or civic rights for the benefit of material interests. But he has made it clear that life must be safeguarded, and it is worthy of note that there has been almost no loss of life to foreigners in Mexico since the break with the Huerta government.

A promise to protect the lives of foreigners in Mexico to the best of our ability is believed to be the only pledge of that nature to which President Wilson will lend this country, and to the President's refusal to risk American lives or to permit foreign governments to jeopardize the constitutional rights and political integrity of Mexico in order to protect material interests of foreign investors, Europe is morally bound to yield. These points and more the President is expected to make plain in his forthcoming note.

President Wilson returned to Washington from Mobile late last night, and immediately went to bed. Secretary Tompkins did not meet him at the train, as there was no urgent business to be attended to. Whether the note to the powers will be dispatched today or shortly, or whether the President will await the assembling of the Mexican Congress and its revelation of the election returns is not known. As matters shaped up yesterday, it did not appear that the actions of the Huerta-elected Congress could affect the definition of policy which the note contains.

American Is Charged
With Conspiracy by Mexicans and Jailed

Mexico City, Oct. 28.—The report that Felix Diaz had taken refuge on the United States gunboat Wheeling at Vera Cruz created a sensation at the palace today. When the report was made something about the incident, he replied that he knew nothing at all about it. He declared that he had nothing at all against Diaz, and that the refugee had absolutely nothing to fear either from him or the people of Mexico. The declaration was made from authoritative sources that if Diaz had taken refuge on the gunboat, as reported, the Mexican government would make no effort to have him returned to Mexico. It was pointed out that there was no charge against him of any kind. However, the action of Diaz in putting himself under the protection of the United States is being severely criticized by Mexicans of all parties. Leopold Elber, an American horseman, was brought here today from Vera Cruz, together with four deputies. All were charged with conspiracy and locked up. Elber was a great friend of Felix Diaz. American Consul G. A. Fisher O'Bligh, however, is making an investigation. Michael Madero, a cousin of the late President who had been arrested in Monterey, charged with conspiracy, was also brought here this morning and placed in the Santiago military prefecture. Official returns of Sunday's election were given out tonight by Minister of Gobernacion Alcala. They show that the Flores-Blanquet ticket carried the States of Tlaxcala, Jalisco, Guerrero, Mexico, Guanajuato, Campeche, Chiapas, Morelos, and Queretaro. Ezequiel Brogava, has been appointed Minister of Hacienda.

MEXICAN COMMISSIONERS ARE ARRESTED AT HAVANA

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.
Havana, Cuba, Oct. 28.—The Mexican commissioners to Japan, who arrived this morning on board the gunboat Zaragoza, and prisoners, and are to be returned to Vera Cruz immediately. This announcement was made authoritatively but without further explanation.

DICTIONARY AIDS
WAR ON TAMMANY

J. A. Hennessy, in Speech, Reads Alleged Confession of Stilwell.

PLANS TO "GET" MURPHY
Spends Day in District Attorney's Office, and Grand Jury Probe Is Promised.

New York, Oct. 28.—John A. Hennessy tonight in his speech at the Murray Hill Lyceum read from the dictaphone records sensational portions of former Senator Stilwell's alleged confession to him made in Sing Sing prison. It was the most scathing chapter of Hennessy's exposure of Tammany corruption and Murphy rule.

Stilwell, convicted in the criminal courts as the record read, declared he had saved the life of the late Senator Sing after giving evidence in Washington he would be murdered. In this speech Hennessy also renewed his accusation that McCall had paid for his Supreme Court nomination.

Salzer Answers Murphy.
William Sulzer, the deposed Governor, tonight replied to Murphy's statement that the latter returned Anthony N. Brady's $25,000 campaign contribution by saying:

"Mr. Murphy, you say you returned it to Mr. Brady. He is dead and cannot call you a liar and a scoundrel, and Brady were not on speaking terms at the time."

Hennessy spent more than an hour at the District Attorney's office today in connection with the investigation being made of Hennessy's charge that Edward E. McCall, Tammany Mayorality nominee; Charles F. Murphy, another Tammany politician; trafficked in judgeships in the Supreme Court.

Stilwell is void.
It is understood that Hennessy tomorrow will produce documentary evidence of some of the allegations he has made. This evidence, together with the testimony of witnesses, who will be called to testify at the hearing before Magistrate McAdoo, is expected to furnish the basis for the contemplated grand jury investigation.

It has been ascertained that the affidavit in which Charles F. Murphy denied to Mr. Brady any such money in return for the nomination of Judge McCall for the Supreme Court, will figure prominently in the coming investigation. It was said today that as the affidavit was sworn to on Sunday the effectiveness of the document as a legal denial was completely nullified.

BALTIMORE WEDDING INTERESTS SOCIETY

Miss Suzanne Howell Carroll and Maj. John Philip Hill Complete Romance.

A wedding of much interest to Capital society took place yesterday morning in Baltimore, when Miss Suzanne Howell Carroll, daughter of Mrs. J. Howell Carroll, and Maj. John Philip Hill were married at Grace and St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church.

The ceremony was marked with the utmost simplicity. The Rev. Dr. Arthur Hiers, pastor officiating in the presence of Mrs. J. Howell Carroll, Mrs. Tucker Carroll, the bride's grandmother, and Mrs. Guy Steele, of Westminster, Md., the bride's aunt.

The bride wore a chic mauve colored suit, a small black velvet hat, and a corsage bouquet of orchids. The marriage yesterday morning was the climax of a romance that started six years ago. First officiating in the presence of Mrs. J. Howell Carroll, Mrs. Tucker Carroll, the bride's grandmother, and Mrs. Guy Steele, of Westminster, Md., the bride's aunt.

The bride is a lineal descendant of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, and is related through her mother to the oldest and most representative families in this country. Maj. Hill is the son of Charles E. Hill, and is United States District Attorney for Maryland. He is a descendant of Col. Ebenezer Bancroft, of Massachusetts, and is a member of the Society of Cincinnati, of that State, said to be the most exclusive order in America. He is a member of the Maryland Club, of Baltimore; the Metropolitan Club, of New York; and the Metropolitan Club, of Washington.

The quietness of the wedding was due to the recent death of Mrs. Grafton DuLany Rogers, maternal grandmother of Mrs. Hill. Directly after the wedding Maj. Hill returned to Baltimore for an extended wedding trip.

Only a "Spook" Story.
Police of the Tenth precinct know nothing of a reported "spook in the moans," seen flying about at night by residents of Brightwood and Takoma Park. According to one report, the object "is a bird as big as an elephant," while another report has it a well-lighted acrobat.

Sidelines in Police Court.
Commissioner Siddons was in Police Court yesterday as a witness for the prosecution of D. Watson, colored, driver of a motorcar which narrowly escaped striking a carriage in which the Commissioner was riding. Judge Millway decided Watson was guilty of violating the traffic regulations, but at the request of the Commissioner, no sentence was imposed.

CAUTION!

The great popularity of the clean, pure, healthful is causing unscrupulous persons to wrap rank imitations that are not even real chewing gum so they resemble genuine WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT. The better class of stores will not try to fool you with these imitations. They will be offered to you principally by street fakirs, peddlers and the candy departments of some 5 and 10 cent stores. These rank imitations cost dealers one cent a package or even less and are sold to careless people for almost any price.

If you want Wrigley's look before you buy. Get what you pay for.

Be sure it's WRIGLEY'S

OWEN CONFIDENT BILL WILL PASS

Continued from page one.

Rather than go upon record as standing at an impasse on the first day of the secret sessions it was determined to take no vote. The committee has decided, therefore, to take up the paragraph-by-paragraph consideration of the Glass bill. They will discuss amendments in the order in which their needfulness may appear, with the belief prevailing that the details of the bill, in which many changes are deemed necessary, can be rearranged without resort to partisan consideration, and with, in many instances, the unanimous action of the committee.

It is believed that a compromise proposition shortly will be presented. This will be for the concentration of the capital stock in a single governmental enterprise. In other words, the member banks of the United States will be called upon to contribute their share of money to the purchase of stock in the regional banks, but not upon a bank-by-bank basis. The capital subscription is to be $50,000,000 and the regional banks are to be branches of the Federal reserve system without separate capital stock designation.

Following the session of the committee last night Chairman Owen seemed well pleased. He said that he believed the committee would shortly get together and bring out a bill which will be acceptable, first to the Senate, later to the conference, and finally and most certainly, to the President.

Senators Reed and O'Gorman took a leading factor in the commercial progress of the world is the International Congress of Refrigeration. The first assembly of this body was held in Paris the second in Brussels, and the third held its session in Washington and Chicago last month. The coming of this congress to the United States recalls the part played by our country in the early days of the ice industry.

The first United States patent for the manufacture of ice was granted to John Gorrie, of New Orleans, La., May 6, 1851, for a process of artificial production of ice, and the original patent and papers are on exhibition in the National Museum.

Dr. Gorrie's early method of making ice, and his refrigeration system, was by the indirect process, that is, the cooling of an uncondensable liquid which, in turn, cooled other substances. Power is Recovered.
The power thus contained in condensing the air, is, to a considerable extent, recovered, at the same time that the desired frigorific effect is produced, by allowing the air to act with its expansive force upon the piston of an engine, which by a connection with a beam, helps to work the condensing pump. This engine is constructed and arranged in the manner of a high pressure steam engine. When the air cooled by its expansion escapes from the engine it is made to pass round a vessel containing the water to be converted into ice, etc. through a pipe for effecting refrigeration otherwise, the air while expanding in the engine being supplied with an uncondensable liquid whose heat it will absorb, and which can, in turn, be used to absorb heat from water to be condensed.

LOANS HORNING

On Diamonds, Jewels, etc. S. E. Corcoran Sixth and D Sts.