Mrs. Woodrow Wilson received the Russian Ambassador and Mrs. Bakshmetoff yesterday afternoon at the White House.

Miss Margaret Wilson returned last night from a visit to New York and Philadelphia. In the latter place she gave a concert for the benefit of the Northern Liberties Aid Association, before a capacity audience at the Bellevue-Stratford. The invitations to the wedding of Miss Jeanie Wilson and Mr. Francis Bowes Sayre were issued yesterday.

Lady Spring-Rice, wife of the British Ambassador, reached Washington yesterday from Dublin, N. H. This is her first visit to Washington since her husband's appointment to the post of Ambassador, as on her arrival in this country last summer she accompanied her husband to the embassy which was then established at Dublin for the summer months.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice is spending a few days at Lakewood, N. J., before joining his wife and children at the embassy in Connecticut Avenue, which is being put in order for the winter.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized last night at St. Margaret's Episcopal Church when Miss Eugenie Dent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Addison Dent, and Mr. William Albert Draper, were united. A large gathering of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Herbert Scott Smith.

Chrysanthemums and Bride roses made a very effective decoration for the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of white chiffon velvet with bodice of Duchesse lace, and a graceful court train. Her trousseau was arranged with a cap of Duchesse lace and caught in place with orange blossoms and pink roses. A shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. James E. Wilson, wife of Capt. Wilson, U. S. A., wore an exquisite gown of pale pink charmeuse, with chiffon tunic and shadow lace. She carried Mrs. Taft roses.

They were becomingly attired in broad-crimpe crepe de chine with tulle of pink roses, and carried bouquets of pink roses.

Much interest is being taken in the "farewell drift" which will be given by the Fifteenth Cavalry at Fort Myer, in connection with the departure of the ship on November 14, at 2:30 o'clock for the benefit of the Army Relief Society. Refreshments and dancing also will be an attraction at Fort Myer.

It is expected that Mr. Shidehara will leave for his new post some time next month.

Mr. Haniel von Haimhausen, counselor of the German Embassy, sailed yesterday from New York for Germany. He will join Mrs. Haniel von Haimhausen at their winter home and will be absent from Washington until midwinter.

Mrs. Murray Cobb, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. George Huff, at her home in Greensburg, Pa., has returned to Washington.

Mrs. John A. Logan and her daughter, Mrs. Tucker, will go to New York for the wedding, on November 25, of Miss Edith Logan, daughter of the only son of Gen. John A. Logan and Mrs. Logan, who died in the Philippines, and Doreen W. Dilworth. Mrs. Logan is now in the Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital for treatment of her eyes, but will probably scientifically recover to attend the wedding.

Hutterly-Fitzsimmons

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church was the scene last night of a lovely wedding when Miss Margaret Fitzsimmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hutterly, and Mr. William U. Hutterly were married, the Rev. John T. Huddle officiating.

The interior of the church was attractively decorated with palms and huge clusters of chrysanthemums. Before the entrance of the bride party a delightful musical program was rendered. Miss Elizabeth J. Leckie sang two solos, "Perfect Love," and "O Promise Me."

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome gown of ivory charmeuse draped with princess lace, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Welsh and Miss Marie Sanner were the two bridesmaids. They looked charming in pink crepe meteor draped with Chantilly lace and chiffon. They carried an armful of pink chrysanthemums and were pearl and tulle hair ornaments.

Mr. Andrew J. Hutterly was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. L. N. Snowden, an uncle of the bride; Mr. Otto G. Raymond, Mr. George E. Sullivan, and Mr. Nelson McKernon.

An informal reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the church ceremony. Palms, chrysanthemums, autumn leaves, and ferns were used in decorating the house.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, mother of the bride, received her guests in a gown of pink crepe meteor draped in handsome lace, and she wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Grant Stockham, of Baltimore, who was gowned in blue silk and chiffon, and the latter's daughter, Miss Geraldine Stockham, who was attired in white crepe de chine draped with pink lace.

Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom departed on their wedding trip, the former wearing a smart dark blue traveling suit and a hat to match and a set of gray furs.

Among those from out of town who attended the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Ira C. Harris, of Braddock, Pa., uncle and aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. George I. Gallinger, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. H. H. Snowden, of Pittsburgh, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Conrad Hutterly and Miss Ida Hutterly, great-aunts of the bridegroom, of Stubeauville, Ohio.

PENNSY AND CORNELL TO DEBATE WITH G. W. U.

Challenges issued to Teams Throughout Country—Minimum Wage for Women Will Be Discussed.

A marked revival of interest in debating at the George Washington University this fall has resulted in the formulation of plans for an extensive program of intercollegiate contests.

Challenges have been sent to the debating teams of many of the large universities of the country, and arrangements already have been made for debates with the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell University.

It has been planned to hold two debates with the Phi Kappa Phi Society, one to be staged in Washington, and the other to occur in Philadelphia. The subject for the first debate will be submitted by the University of Pennsylvania.

The second debate will be completed for a debate with Cornell University. This contest probably will be held next April. The subject for discussion submitted by Cornell is as follows: "Resolved, That the States should adopt the principle of minimum wage legislation for women and children employed in stores, shops, and factories, and by public service corporations and the State itself."

The Debating Council of the local university is composed of Prof. Leslie C. McNamee, of the College of Arts and Sciences; Prof. Merton L. Pearson, of the law department; H. G. Satter, of the Columbia Debating Society; and H. C. Bickel, of the Needham Debating Society, and president of the Delta Sigma Iota Debating Fraternity.

The George Washington University debating teams have had a brilliant history. During the years from 1905 to 1907 the university entered six intercollegiate debates without encountering a single defeat. Since then sixteen debates have been held, eleven of which have been won by the university.

TEMPERANCE WORKERS TO VISIT WASHINGTON

Delegates from World Congress, Recently in Session at Brooklyn, Will Spend Several Days Here.

PRESIDENT TO GIVE RECEPTION

Representing every section of the United States and several foreign countries, more than 200 women temperance workers, delegates to the World Temperance Congress recently held in Brooklyn, N. Y., and the convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, held at Astor Park, N. Y., will arrive in Washington this afternoon for a visit of several days.

President Wilson probably will receive the visitors at the White House Friday or Saturday. Arrangements for the reception are being made by local temperance workers. While in Washington the delegates will be entertained at the W. C. T. U. headquarters.

Local temperance women returning from the national convention declare they were impressed by the marked increase of suffrage in the ranks of the delegates to the convention. Not one dissenting vote, they declare, was cast when the resolution favoring suffrage was adopted by the national body, demonstrating that many of the temperance women have been won over to the cause since the last national convention.

If any delegate in the convention was opposed to suffrage she did not voice her protest," declared Mrs. E. S. Henry yesterday. "The convention received with elation the news from Illinois, which recently has granted the ballot, that many of the towns in the State have gone dry. Mrs. Henry declared the national body has always urged eugenic marriage-legislation requiring contracting parties in matrimony to present certificates of health.

Mrs. Theresa A. Williams, another officer of the local branch of the union, also declared the principal feature of the convention was the absence of opposition to suffrage. She said the members of the national body realized that if the liquor question was to be solved in the hour it would have to be brought about in a great measure by women, who, by use of the ballot, could do much to uplift conditions generally.

Woman Overcome by Gas

Miss Nellie Hicks, fifty years old, living at 1008 Tenth Street Northwest, was overcome by illuminating gas last night in her home. She was found unconscious by another person in the house and removed to Emergency Hospital where the pulmotor was used to resuscitate her. A disconnection of a jet and rubber tube caused a leakage of gas.
