

OLD DUTCH MARKET SPECIALS

ONLY—FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—ONLY

Butter 29c	Butter 31c	Butter 34c
Prime Rib Roast Per lb. 22c	Smoked Pickles Per lb. 14c
Rib Roast Blade Per lb. 18c	Smoked Hams Per lb. 17½c
Fresh Beef Liver Per lb. 12c	Loin Fresh Pork Per lb. 18½c
Spring Lamb Shoulder Per lb. 18c	Lean Pork Chops Per lb. 20c

21c Home Dressed Chickens 21c

Fresh Fish Specials

Fancy Sea Bass Per lb. 10c	Fancy Rock Fish Per lb. 18c
Or 3 lbs. for 25c.
Red Fin Croakers Per lb. 10c	Halibut Steak Per lb. 18c
Or 3 lbs. for 25c.
Large Butterfish Per lb. 10c	Crab Flakes Per quart 30c
Or 3 lbs. for 25c.
Long Island Potatoes Per lb. 10c	Potomac Salt Herring Per dozen 10c
Or 3 lbs. for 25c.
Salt Water Trout Per lb. 10c	Large Roe Shad Each 70c
Or 3 lbs. for 25c.

Eggs 24c Eggs 22c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

Pink Salmon Reg. Can. 9c	Randall's Grape Juice 10c
Mustard Sardines Per can 5c	Olives, Stuffed 10c size 8c
Shredded Coconut 10c size 8c	Cream Salad Mustard 10c size 9c
Vinegar Cider or White 10c size 9c	Champion Jam 10c size 9c
Fancy Prunes 10c kind Per lb. 8c	Macaroni Egg or Columbia 10c size 8c
Salmon Columbia River Fancy Steak Per can 24c	Howard's Salad Dressing 25c size 23c

Van Camp Beans 15c Corn Flakes Golden Rod 8c

TEAS.	Heinz Pickles 10c size 9c	COFFEE.
Gunpowder, Tulp Brand Per lb. 40c-50c-60c	Japan Rice, Fancy White Per lb. 5c	Fancy Bogota 40c quality Per lb. 35c
Ceylon, Tulp Brand Per lb. 40c-60c	Van Camp's Spaghetti 10c size 7½c	Fancy Blended 30c quality Per lb. 30c
Or 3 lbs. for 25c.	Tahoma Soda Crackers 4c	Fancy 30c quality Per lb. 25c
Mixed, Tulp Brand Per lb. 40c	Shredded Wheat 13c size 11c	Golden Rod 20c quality Per lb. 20c

22c Gold Medal 6's FLOUR 21c Ceresota 6's

Wedding Peas 12c size 10c	Bridgeton Lima Beans 11c can 9c
Blue Label Jam 23c size 17c	Reumert Olive Oil 20c can 19c
Knox Gelatine 15c size 12c	Peaches Golden Scenic 20c can 15c
Cherries, Maraschino Style Per bottle 15c	Apple Butter 3-lb. per can 24c
Domino Sugar 2-lb. carton Per carton 19c	Blue Label Catsup 25c size 20c

Pet Milk 7½c Gosman's Ginger Ale 3 for 25c

FRESH BAKING TWICE A DAY. BAKERY DEPARTMENT FRESH BAKING TWICE A DAY.

Bread Rolls, assorted kinds Per doz. 10c	Kream Krust Bread Regular Size, 3 for 10c
Pan Rolls, per doz. 5c	Large Size, White or Rye, per loaf 5c
Tea Dis-cutta, per dozen 10c	Large Vienna, Weight, 16 to 18 oz., per loaf 5c
Golden Zwickback Per doz. 10c

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Potatoes, New Florida Per ½ peck 25c	Tomatoes, Fresh, Ripe Per lb. 10c
Lemons, Extra Fancy Per doz. 20c	New Peas, Home Grown Per ½ peck 10c
Navel Oranges Per doz. 23c	Pineapples, Fresh, Ripe Each 10c

OLD DUTCH MARKET

320 La. Ave. N.W. 313 14th St. N.W. 178 17th St. N.W. 178 17th St. N.W.

FRIENDS SCHOOL CLOSES SESSION

Honors Conferred on Pupils in Every Class of Institution.

T. W. SIDWELL SPEAKS

Large Assemblage of Patrons Are Present at Commencement Exercises.

In the presence of a large assemblage of students and patrons, commencement exercises were held yesterday at Sidwell's Friends School.

A musical and literary program was given, and Thomas W. Sidwell, principal, made an address, setting forth the aims of the institution.

Honors were awarded as follows: Attendance—High school, Henry C. Kelly, Katherine Chapman, Boyd J. Brown, and Charles B. Weaver.

Intermediate department—Elsie P. Brown, Eleanor D. Eby, and Louise C. Taylor.

Primary department—Virginia Brown, Frederick Lemly, Elizabeth Walter, and Helen M. Townes.

High school—Bertha S. Buckman, Margaret Chapman, Gilbert King, Frances Sidwell, Lucy G. Buckman, and Katherine Chapman.

Intermediate department—William T. Dent, Eleanor D. Eby, Mary H. Roberts, Norman E. Townson, Louise C. Taylor, Esther Wooton, and Beall Woodward.

Primary department—Marion Hall, Albert Thorn, Ralph Tobner, Manix Walker, Laura Bryn, Ruth P. Harding, Margaret W. Lee, and Anne E. Smith.

Thomas B. Sweeney, Jr., Helen M. Townes, Scovell H. Aspinwall, Susan E. Doyle, Fenwick N. Howe, Margaret E. Sharp, Ross W. Stutler, Thomas M. Brown, Dorothy E. Linkins, Daniel J. Mulcahy, and John H. Polkinhorn.

Yearly Certificates.

Fourth & High—Bertha S. Buckman, Margaret J. Chapman, Candace L. Howard, Elizabeth Trueman King and Isabelle Yale Smith.

3 High—Mary Hardwick, Elizabeth A. Hooper, Hilda E. Jensen, King, John Bruce King, Carroll Pierce, Jr., Louise E. Fugh, W. Cameron Roberts and Frances Sidwell.

2 High—Margaret Allen, Jack Beall, Jr., Lucy G. Buckman, Katherine Chapman, Anna Knowles Cooper, Margaret E. Dodge, Adrienne Louise Low, Edna C. Maedel and Margaret Claire Norton.

1 High—Sigmund Bryn, Dexter Euland, Richard King, Estelle E. Reeve, Allen Hunt Roberts, George A. Sacks, Wilhelmina W. M. Spanhoff, and Charlotte G. Washburn.

4 Intermediate—William M. Cushman, Otto P. Dy, Marion T. Fletcher, Percival Hall Jr., Collins McCay Jones, Rudolf Kirk, Chester G. Pierce, Elsie E. Rouch, Burdette Taylor, and Elizabeth H. Tyree.

3 Intermediate—Elsie Palmer Brown, William Chitty, Jr., William Tinsley Dent, Eleanor D. Eby, Lawrence S. Edwards, Julia Benton Hopkins, Edwin H. Pierce, Mary Hunt Roberts, Charles P. Stone, Jr., George Thomas Sumner, Norma E. Townson, Zelma R. Tyree, Elizabeth Jefferson, and Evelyn Yates.

2 Intermediate—Marguerite Bryn, Alice Dodge, Katharine H. Manning, William K. Gilbert, Graham Lovins, Thelma R. I. Reeve, Emma S. Smith, George Edward Shaw, Louisa Carr Taylor, Constance M. Towner, Walter N. Tobner, Esther E. Wooton, and Richard L. B. Yates.

1 Intermediate—Sylvia Hope Anthony, Norton Barber, Joseph W. Byrne, Jr., Wilbur Bowen Fairfax, Patricia Herron, Elizabeth C. Langham, William C. Lemly, Alice S. Vail, and Beall M. Woodward.

4 Primary—Randall Brereton, John G. Bryn, Landan Van Ness Hurt, Herbert M. Cole, Mildred E. Curran, Ruth E. Curran, Clifford Cochran Ewing, Morgan M. Gilbert, Marion Ethel Hall, Elizabeth S. Harrison, Louis E. Jeffries, Jr., Rupert N. Kohlmeier, Frederick von W. Lemly, Charles L. B. Lowndes, Earl S. Smith, Albert Coombs Thorn, Jr., Ralph Z. Turner, Nancy Walker, and Charles Yander Wheeler.

3 Primary—Milton E. Allen, Jr., Laura Bryn, Frederick McLean Bueher, Ruth B. Bueher, Bernard Carter, Henry L. Paul, E. Johnson, Margaret Winfield Leet, Charles H. M. Mosses, Anita Phillips Smith, John V. Sumner, Thomas B. Sweeney, Jr., Helen Marsh Towner, and E. Russell True, Jr.

1 Primary—Scovell H. Aspinwall, Susan E. Doyle, Oliver Herman Gash, Francis Herron, Philip Hichborn, George E. Jud, Fenwick Nelson Reeve, Margaret E. Sharp, Ross W. Stutler, and John McFerran Sweeney.

Primary—Thomas McPherson Brown, Curtis L. Hillyer, Dorothy E. Linkins, Daniel J. Mulcahy, and John Henry Polkinhorn.

'JOHN BULL'S CONTENT; WHY NOT UNCLE SAM?'

Senator Cummins Says Repeal Agitation Was Unnecessarily Stirred Up in United States.

That the United States government under the repeal of tolls exemption to coastwise vessels would concede to Great Britain more than she has claimed at the time of the repeal of the same, in a speech in the Senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Cummins, the only speaker on the canal tolls repeal bill yesterday.

At the conclusion of Senator Cummins' speech adjournment was taken. The early part of the session had been consumed by consideration of the Cummins bill to amend the Interstate Commerce law in regard to the liability of common carriers on bills of lading.

"I am amazed at the spectacle of the Americans giving to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty a more favorable interpretation for Great Britain than she has ever contended for," said Senator Cummins. "This attitude is unusual—it is unprecedented."

Senator Cummins praised Great Britain as a great nation entitled to credit for her efforts in the world, and her interpretation of the treaty as helpful to her commerce.

"I regret that some Americans are not equally jealous of the welfare of their own country," said the Senator.

He quoted Charles Innes, representing the British official view, as saying that the exemption of coastwise vessels of the United States would not be objectionable if limited strictly to coastwise vessels. He intimated that Great Britain had made no outcry on this point and it remained for citizens of the United States to rise in protest.

URGES MORE PLAYGROUNDS.

Auburn, N. Y., June 4.—Better methods of city planning, more playgrounds and public places of recreation for adults were urged here today by Prof. James B. Bray, of Harvard University, in addressing the annual convention of New York State mayors.

LEDYARD DENIES MELLE'S STORY

Tells I. C. C. Latter Made No Sacrifice to Shield Morgan.

IS INTERESTING WITNESS

Reveals Transaction that Puts Serious Phase on Alleged "Doctoring" of New Haven Books.

"I want to say in the most emphatic terms that Mr. Mellen did not go forward and offer himself as a vicarious sacrifice and take on himself the responsibility in order to shield Mr. Morgan," was the declaration of Lewis Cass Ledyard yesterday afternoon, when he had completed an account of the incidents of the Grand Trunk affair at the end of his summarization of his connection as a director with the New Haven Railroad. He gave an explanation of the Billard transaction that seems to put a serious phase on alleged "doctoring" of the minutes of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. From Mr. Ledyard's statement it appears that John L. Billard was sold 10,948 shares of stock by the New England Navigation Company, and that he had made a profit of $23,640.

Mr. Ledyard expressed the opinion that Mellen dominated the New Haven board as much as any one, and he denominated as false statements made by Mr. Mellen in connection with the extension by the Boston & Maine railroad of a contract it had with the American Express company. Mr. Mellen intimated during his testimony that as the result of this extension, the New Haven road after it acquired the Boston & Maine had loaded on it a contract on which it lost $700,000 a year for a period of ten years.

Will Continue Today.

Mr. Ledyard has formally waived immunity, and will continue his statement today.

It was conceded that Mr. Ledyard is by far the most interesting witness that has yet appeared before the Commission in connection with this investigation. He discussed the affairs of the New Haven with the utmost frankness, and said he was willing to stand on his statements as he made them, and that he was willing to make them under oath.

AT THE THEATERS.

NATIONAL.

"Martha."

With a smoothness and ease that bespoke careful rehearsal and complete cooperation between principals, chorus, and orchestra, the Aborn Company last evening presented Folio's "Martha," which will furnish the operatic feast at the National for the remainder of the week. The vigorous style and abundantly flowing harmonies which carry the romantic theme of this old favorite among operas proved as delightful as ever. The cast and excellent and tasteful costumes and scenery helped to make the production enjoyable.

The role of Martha was sung by Miss Elena Kirmes, whose clear and vibrant soprano was heard earlier in the week as Mimi in "La Boheme." In addition to one of the best voices heard recently in Washington, Miss Kirmes possesses decided charm of person, affording an exquisite picture of the English lady of rank who masquerade at a fair leads to romantic adventures. Her rendering of "The Last Rose of Summer" thrilled the audience and aroused high enthusiasm.

Mr. Albert Amadi, whose artistic work and splendid qualities of voice are very familiar, was the Lionel last night, singing in Italian. While he was successful in each of the many opportunities that fall to this part, his singing of the "M'Appari," in the fourth act, was especially well received.

Miss Louise Le Baron's agreeable contralto was heard to excellent advantage in the part of Nancy. Mr. Alfred Kaufman, as Plunkett, displayed an adequate voice, and made the ideal picture of a farmer. The acting of Paul Galasso, as Sir Tristan, gave good effect to the amusing side of the story.

The same cast will sing at the Saturday matinee. Friday and Saturday evenings Miss Johanna Kristoffy will be the Martha. Walter Wheatley the Lionel, and James Stevens will sing Plunkett.

IS EARLY A LEPER? EXPERTS MAY PROBE

Representative Britten's Bill Provides for Special Examining Board.

CONGRESS MAY CARE FOR HIM

Developments came thick and fast yesterday in the case of John Early, the leper now in the Lazar House on the Potomac, who came here as a national example of the present lax treatment of leprosy.

Dr. William C. Woodward, District health officer, yesterday appealed to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to deport Early to Port Townsend, Wash., from where the leper escaped on May 12.

Secretary McAdoo decided that Early could not be deported from the District without his consent and the consent of the States through which he would have to pass en route to a quarantine station in any of the States.

Representative Britten introduced a bill which calls for the appointment of a special board of government experts to determine whether Early is a leper. This board will be composed of the surgeon general of the army and navy and the public health service and if they decide he is a leper, Congress will provide for his immediate and permanent isolation that the public health may be conserved.

Another bill bearing on the Early case was introduced by Representative Johnson, of Washington, which calls for the payment to Hawaii of yearly board of an inquiry concerning the leper, John R. Early.

Special to The Washington Herald.

New York, June 4.—"There are forty to fifty known lepers walking the streets of New York City, attending to their business, supporting their families, and living their lives just as ordinary people do," declared an official of the department of health today. "The department of health does not segregate lepers in this city. It is not necessary. It was decided years ago that the disease is not contagious in this latitude."

This statement was made in answer to an inquiry concerning the leper, John R. Early.

That there are known lepers walking the streets of New York has been a shock to many who have a horror of this disease. That these men are mingling with their fellows, some of them transacting business day after day, may frighten the fearsome ones who have not yet been convinced that this loathsome disease cannot be contracted in northern latitudes.

Notice to the Public:

The Season of the year is now at hand when bread undergoes rapid changes and the food value is thereby affected.

To Meet These Conditions

the Corby Bakery makes 3 separates bakings and deliveries of Fresh Bread daily to all grocers, thereby guaranteeing the people of Washington fresh bread.

The Best Bread

Never Sours
Never Crumbles.
Eat the Best Bread

Corby's Mother's Bread

One Hundred Per Cent Pure

LEDYARD DENIES MELLE'S STORY

Tells I. C. C. Latter Made No Sacrifice to Shield Morgan.

IS INTERESTING WITNESS

Reveals Transaction that Puts Serious Phase on Alleged "Doctoring" of New Haven Books.

"I want to say in the most emphatic terms that Mr. Mellen did not go forward and offer himself as a vicarious sacrifice and take on himself the responsibility in order to shield Mr. Morgan," was the declaration of Lewis Cass Ledyard yesterday afternoon, when he had completed an account of the incidents of the Grand Trunk affair at the end of his summarization of his connection as a director with the New Haven Railroad. He gave an explanation of the Billard transaction that seems to put a serious phase on alleged "doctoring" of the minutes of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. From Mr. Ledyard's statement it appears that John L. Billard was sold 10,948 shares of stock by the New England Navigation Company, and that he had made a profit of $23,640.

Mr. Ledyard expressed the opinion that Mellen dominated the New Haven board as much as any one, and he denominated as false statements made by Mr. Mellen in connection with the extension by the Boston & Maine railroad of a contract it had with the American Express company. Mr. Mellen intimated during his testimony that as the result of this extension, the New Haven road after it acquired the Boston & Maine had loaded on it a contract on which it lost $700,000 a year for a period of ten years.

Will Continue Today.

Mr. Ledyard has formally waived immunity, and will continue his statement today.

It was conceded that Mr. Ledyard is by far the most interesting witness that has yet appeared before the Commission in connection with this investigation. He discussed the affairs of the New Haven with the utmost frankness, and said he was willing to stand on his statements as he made them, and that he was willing to make them under oath.

AT THE THEATERS.

NATIONAL.

"Martha."

With a smoothness and ease that bespoke careful rehearsal and complete cooperation between principals, chorus, and orchestra, the Aborn Company last evening presented Folio's "Martha," which will furnish the operatic feast at the National for the remainder of the week. The vigorous style and abundantly flowing harmonies which carry the romantic theme of this old favorite among operas proved as delightful as ever. The cast and excellent and tasteful costumes and scenery helped to make the production enjoyable.

The role of Martha was sung by Miss Elena Kirmes, whose clear and vibrant soprano was heard earlier in the week as Mimi in "La Boheme." In addition to one of the best voices heard recently in Washington, Miss Kirmes possesses decided charm of person, affording an exquisite picture of the English lady of rank who masquerade at a fair leads to romantic adventures. Her rendering of "The Last Rose of Summer" thrilled the audience and aroused high enthusiasm.

Mr. Albert Amadi, whose artistic work and splendid qualities of voice are very familiar, was the Lionel last night, singing in Italian. While he was successful in each of the many opportunities that fall to this part, his singing of the "M'Appari," in the fourth act, was especially well received.

Miss Louise Le Baron's agreeable contralto was heard to excellent advantage in the part of Nancy. Mr. Alfred Kaufman, as Plunkett, displayed an adequate voice, and made the ideal picture of a farmer. The acting of Paul Galasso, as Sir Tristan, gave good effect to the amusing side of the story.

The same cast will sing at the Saturday matinee. Friday and Saturday evenings Miss Johanna Kristoffy will be the Martha. Walter Wheatley the Lionel, and James Stevens will sing Plunkett.

IS EARLY A LEPER? EXPERTS MAY PROBE

Representative Britten's Bill Provides for Special Examining Board.

CONGRESS MAY CARE FOR HIM

Developments came thick and fast yesterday in the case of John Early, the leper now in the Lazar House on the Potomac, who came here as a national example of the present lax treatment of leprosy.

Dr. William C. Woodward, District health officer, yesterday appealed to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to deport Early to Port Townsend, Wash., from where the leper escaped on May 12.

Secretary McAdoo decided that Early could not be deported from the District without his consent and the consent of the States through which he would have to pass en route to a quarantine station in any of the States.

Representative Britten introduced a bill which calls for the appointment of a special board of government experts to determine whether Early is a leper. This board will be composed of the surgeon general of the army and navy and the public health service and if they decide he is a leper, Congress will provide for his immediate and permanent isolation that the public health may be conserved.

Another bill bearing on the Early case was introduced by Representative Johnson, of Washington, which calls for the payment to Hawaii of yearly board of an inquiry concerning the leper, John R. Early.

Special to The Washington Herald.

New York, June 4.—"There are forty to fifty known lepers walking the streets of New York City, attending to their business, supporting their families, and living their lives just as ordinary people do," declared an official of the department of health today. "The department of health does not segregate lepers in this city. It is not necessary. It was decided years ago that the disease is not contagious in this latitude."

This statement was made in answer to an inquiry concerning the leper, John R. Early.

That there are known lepers walking the streets of New York has been a shock to many who have a horror of this disease. That these men are mingling with their fellows, some of them transacting business day after day, may frighten the fearsome ones who have not yet been convinced that this loathsome disease cannot be contracted in northern latitudes.

THE "KEEP WELL" SOCIETY, FORMED HERE, TO PROMOTE PERSONAL HYGIENIC LIVING; IF YOU HAVEN'T A BADGE YOU ARE "SICK"

Are you a "Keep Well" Show your badge.

What? No? You say you haven't one?

Go home and go to bed, you're a sick man.

Any one roaming about Washington these days without a "Keep Well" button may as well give up; he is designated as sick, if not dangerously ill.

The "Keep Well" society, a newly organized society for the promotion of personal hygienic living, met last night at the home of Dr. Eleanor Folkmar, 1815 N. street northwest, and among other things passed, a measure that all members of the "Keep Well" society shall wear a badge designating their affiliation and the fact that they are well.

The second member feels the slightest symptom of illness or he must hide himself to the nearest place of safety and remove his "Keep Well" badge, thus designating himself a "Get Sick."

There seems to be only one course open to the public of Washington and that is to join the "Keep Well" society immediately and don a button. No citizen is safe on the streets of Washington without one, for any member of the "Keep Well" society may pick you up and thrust you in the first hospital or sanatorium.

The "Keep Well" society is affiliated with the Women's Clinic of the District and lectures will be given in the clinic rooms by prominent physicians all over the city. Each chapter is to have a membership of no less than twenty-five before it can wear the buttons and elect regular officers and enjoy all the privileges of the medical lectures and the Women's Clinic.

Very soon the Women's Clinic and the physicians who were the parents of the "Keep Well" idea, hope to convert the top floor of the Women's Clinic Building in Thirteenth street into an auditorium where the lectures and conferences can be held.

The first officers to be elected in the "Keep Well" Society are Mrs. Arthur MacDonell, president; Mrs. Mary Stevens Beall, secretary; and Miss Dorothy Dent, treasurer.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS TO TALK.

Joseph P. Annin and Others Will Entertain Fellow Club Members.

The real story of the fall of Vera Cruz, and some other stories of the Mexican hostilities will be told by four of Washington's "very own" war correspondents at the Press Club tonight.

Joseph P. Annin, correspondent of The Washington Herald, will be the chief story-teller. Other correspondents who will talk will be A. J. Sutton, A. M. Jamieson, and Winifred Bathon. The racket starts at 8:30 o'clock. "Talk" from the theaters will also be on hand. Next week—"River of Doubt" night.

If you cannot wear your "Keep Well"

Chesapeake Beach

ON THE BAY
Washington's Popular Pleasure Resort

FREE
All Popular Amusements at Popular Prices
EXCELLENT HOTEL AND CAFE SERVICE
Salt Water Bathing Is Refreshing and Healthful.

ROUND TRIP RATES
WEEK DAYS 25c SUNDAYS & HOLIDAYS 50c
Frequent train service, shown in R. R. Column. For additional information, phone Lincoln 1629.

Buy It Today!

THE Touring Edition OF

MOTOR NEWS

An invaluable touring guide for motor car owners.

Price 25c Per Copy

At news stands or address

Motor News

Woodward Building, Washington, D. C.

Strictly Pure

Fruit and Sugar