WAKE UP, UNCLE, SAVE YE COTTON

Prominent British Spinner Who Visited U. S. Sounds Warning.

"METHODS INEFFICIENT"

Handling of Industry a Disgrace to America, He Asserts—India and Egypt Ahead.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald. Paris, June 23.—"Unless America awakens very soon to the fact that its cotton industry is fast dropping behind, while the same industry in other countries is rapidly forging ahead, it will shortly find itself deprived of its present hold upon the world's cotton markets by more up-to-date nations." Sir Charles Macare, president of the Industrial Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association, said today. Sir Charles, who is heading a delegation of representatives from the cotton associations of the world, which was received by President Poincaré this week, continued: "American methods of handling cotton are grossly inefficient and a disgrace to the country which claims to be foremost in industrial and commercial matters. Even India and Egypt are far ahead of the United States."

Antagonized by Conditions. "During my tour of investigation in 1907, I was astounded at the conditions prevailing there, and those conditions still exist. The cotton industry of America is run by trusts which, pursuing a shortsighted policy, prefer to retain antiquated methods of ginning, packing, storing, and shipping to going to the expense of improving their plants. "It is no exaggeration to say that at least $25,000,000 is yearly wasted because of these slipshod methods. A comparison of the industry in America and England reveals startling facts, which are no credit to the former country's business enterprise. "England doesn't grow one pound of cotton, and yet has 40 per cent of the cotton machinery of the world, and imports sufficient to supply the home and still export 30 per cent of its total cotton manufactures."

Make Itself Dependent. "The United States, on the other hand, grows five-eighths of the world's supply of fiber, yet has only one-half as much cotton machinery as England, and exports only 5 per cent of what it manufactures, while thousands of bales of American cotton go to England yearly to be spun or woven into finished fabrics and returned to America for consumption. Thus, by a lack of home enterprise, America makes itself dependent upon the foreign manufacturer. "It is my contention that cotton is one of the finest banking securities in the world. If properly graded, packed, and stored it cannot depreciate with age as wheat or other agricultural products, and if financiers would realize this they could do much to help along small cotton growers, many of whom, under present conditions, are obliged when the market is slack, to place themselves at the mercy of money lenders, who accept their poorly baled, badly stored cotton as security only at exorbitant rates of interest. "America must become more up-to-date. Not until the trusts have sent their ancient methods and senile equipment to the scrap heap will America regain the prestige it has been steadily losing."

START FIGHT ON LA FOLLETTE.

Madison, Wis., June 23.—James G. Monahan, former collector of internal revenue, was today named as temporary chairman when the first Republican State convention in many years was called to order. The gathering was one of old-line Republican conservatives called by a special committee to plan a fight against La Follette and Progressives at the September primaries by naming a conservative ticket pledged to low taxes. A full State ticket and a candidate for the United States Senate will be named.

STRIKERS ACCEPT MEDIATORS.

Pittsburgh, June 23.—Striking employees of the Westinghouse works at East Pittsburgh and Turtle Creek, today agreed to accept Patrick Gildera and Charles W. Mills, representing the Federal Department of Labor, as mediators of the differences existing between them and their employers.

DOES NOT LIKE UNITED STATES

Special Cable to The Washington Herald. London, June 23.—Sir Philip Burne-Jones, the world-famous artist and author of "Dollars and Democracy" has taken up the cause of the lonely girl in the ballroom, and claims to have found a simple cure for the unhappy "wall flower."

GALLANT ARTIST IN AID OF "WALL FLOWERS"

Sir Philip Burne-Jones Urges Making "Informal Introductions" Fashionable. "Talking to an interviewer one day this week, he said: "Society has ceased to be a small, exclusive colony in which everybody knows everybody else. As a matter of fact, many girls and young men have a bad time leading in the corridors, while the real fun of an affair is confined to a mere handful because they are familiar with each other's names. "Asked as to what he thought of the American plan of young people introducing themselves without ceremony, Sir Philip said: "I spent a year in the States and made many most charming friends, but I have never been able to get rid of the impression that Americans are not civilized. "I was glad to get back and I am not likely to cross the Atlantic again. Nevertheless, I can't see why guests under the same roof should be squeamish about making each other's acquaintance. "Why shouldn't such great hostesses as, say, the Countess of Derby, Lady Salisbury, or Lady Strathford make such introductions fashionable? It would save many a maiden from distressing humiliation. "Such a hostess can't find time to introduce everybody. She could just ask a number of her friends to assist, with the result that she would make her dances much brighter and more successful."

OFFICER'S AUTO STOLEN.

Brig. Gen. G. P. Scriven Charges Former Chauffeur with Theft. Special to The Washington Herald. Rockville, Md., June 23.—At the instance of Brig. Gen. George P. Scriven, chief signal officer of the army, warrants have been issued charging John P. Lanham, former chauffeur for Gen. Scriven, and a man named Franklin with the larceny of a Cadillac automobile belonging to the general.

According to a statement made by Gen. Scriven, the machine was taken from a garage at Chevy Chase last Saturday afternoon.

LINER LOST FOREVER.

Quebec, June 23.—The Canadian Pacific Liner, Empress of Ireland, which was rammed and sunk by the collier Storstad in the St. Lawrence River, is a total loss. Testimony to this effect was given today before the special board of inquiry by William W. Wotherpoon, a New York diver, who went below and inspected the wreck. "It is impossible to raise the ship," said Wotherpoon.

HERE'S WHAT ARTISTS SAY IS THE PERFECT TYPE OF IRISH BEAUTY. The photo is of Mrs. Albert Surprenant, the bride of a wealthy young French banker and formerly Miss Lavinia Grimes, an artist's model of New York. Miss Grimes is of the dark hair, blue-eyed type of Killybegs, famed in verse and song, and her unusual coloring and features have been the motive of many drawings by such famous artists as Harrison Fisher and Charles Dana Gibson.

DRINK UP, BOYS, IT'LL BE DRY EVER AFTER

Saloonists in West Virginia Are "Rubbing It In" on Their Customers.

TALCUM POWDER AFTER JUNE

Special to The Washington Herald. Wheeling, W. Va., June 23.—Signs like the following are posted in saloons throughout West Virginia: "Weather forecast for West Virginia. "Long dry spell after July 1." "The York prohibition amendment to the State constitution, prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicants within the State, becomes effective on July 1." "August Trubert, one of the oldest saloonists in this city, announces that 'July 1 is the last of August.' In all saloons there are large calendars, from which the date is torn off each day, today's calendar containing this announcement: 'June 23—Seven More Days.' "Other placards announce: 'A camel can go nine days without a drink, but after July 1 you'll have to beat the camel.' "Don't be alarmed if after July 1 you spit talcum powder.' 'Don't ask us what we are going to do after the State goes dry, what are you going to do?' 'Drink up, hurry up, stock up.' "Tuesday night, June 23, will be a big night in West Virginia. It will be the last drink the saloonists will be able to obtain over the saloon bars and advantage will be taken of it. Then there will be another celebration. The prohibition supporters plan to rejoice over the advent of the dry era by parading the streets, ringing of church bells, blowing of whistles, etc."

Some of the saloonists and brewers have arranged to engage in business in other States. Many have made their fortunes and are content to retire. One wholesale liquor house in this city will move to Pittsburgh, another to Calistoga, Ky. Many saloonists will move across the border into Kentucky and Virginia.

BABY BORN ON THE UTAH.

Newest Refugee Joined Ships Company of Tampico. New York, June 23.—While the battleship Utah lay in Tampico Harbor, with 900 refugees huddled on her decks and in her officers' quarters, a baby was born in the cabin now occupied by Commander Frank Clark. This was the best of the batch of stories which the Utah brought in with her today. Several days later, when the Tampico danger seemed past and the refugees were put ashore, the mother and the child, as yet unnamed, went, too. Neither Commander Clark nor Ensign Badger, son of Rear Admiral Badger, went ashore at Vera Cruz. Today they agreed, with a laugh, that as far as they were concerned the arrival of the smallest refugee was the most exciting thing in the great American-Mexican war.

FLOODS SWEEP CHINA.

At Some Points the Water Along West River Has Risen 75 Feet. Hongkong, June 23.—The most serious flood known in a hundred years is devastating the country lying along the West River. At some points the water has risen seventy-five feet inundating hundreds of miles of farming land. Many Chinese have been drowned and damage of at least $5,000,000 has been done. Famine conditions will follow in consequence of the crop losses and preparations were commenced today to meet the needs which will inevitably arise. "The floods began June 15 and the water has not yet commenced to recede."

TRAIN HITS AUTO; 3 KILLED.

Special to The Washington Herald. Greenville, Mich., June 23.—Mrs. C. C. Merritt, sixty, Mrs. E. M. Beardslee, twenty, were instantly killed at Hale's Crossing today, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pere Marquette passenger train. Mrs. G. C. Lake, daughter of Mrs. Merritt, who was driving the car, is unconscious and may die. The machine became stalled on the crossing.

PLAY BASEBALL AT MIDNIGHT.

Fairbanks, Alaska, June 23.—The festival of the midnight sun was opened here last midnight with a baseball game between two local teams. More than a thousand persons attended the midnight game.

INVENTOR'S WIDOW DEAD.

Mrs. George Westinghouse, Victim of Paralysis, to Rest at Arlington. Lenox, Mass., June 23.—Mrs. George Westinghouse, widow of the famous electrical inventor, died early today at her home, Erskine Park, after a short illness. Mrs. Westinghouse suffered a stroke of paralysis last week, and within forty-eight hours her condition became so grave that her daughters and son were summoned. They were at her bedside when she passed away at 6:22 o'clock this morning. The Westinghouse winter home was in Washington, and there for many years Mrs. Westinghouse was a prominent entertainer. The family residence was the old Blaine home in Dupont circle, for which Mrs. Westinghouse paid $150,000.
