CARGO SEIZURE
IN VALPARAISO

Sacramento's Captain Claims
Coal Was Taken by Germans.

BRYAN AWAITS REPORT

Serious Breach of Neutrality Involved in Allegation Concerning American Vessel.

Secretary of State Bryan said yesterday that he had never heard officially of any charges by the government of Chile that German naval forces had violated Chilean neutrality, and that the State Department had no information on the subject.

According to unofficial reports from Chile, it is asserted there that the American steamship Sacramento, which came under American registry at San Francisco after the war in Europe, was forced by German warships to deliver to Juan Fernandez Island a cargo of coal consigned to Valparaiso.

British Protested Clearance.

At the time of the departure of the Sacramento it was alleged that she was to enter the service of the Germans, in violation of the requirements of neutrality, and objection was made by British officials at San Francisco to her being permitted to depart with supplies, coal and provisions. It was charged that she had been transferred to the American flag so that she might engage in the business of supplying the German warships operating in the Pacific.

No evidence warranting the vessel's detention was presented, however, and she was permitted to depart. The British protested to clear for Valparaiso, where she has since arrived without any of her cargo. It is reported, the captain alleges that he was forced to deliver his cargo to Juan Fernandez Island under compulsion from German warships, that would constitute a grave offense by Germany against the rights of an American vessel engaged in neutral trade.

TO BOOM HERRICK FOR
G. O. P. NOMINATION

Cleveland Man to Be Guest of Ohio
Society on Return from Paris.
Where He Aided Americans.

Ohio Republicans in Washington are profoundly interested in the dinner of the Ohio Society of New York, which is to be held in January, and particularly as to the bearing it may have upon the next Presidential campaign. Former Ambassador Myron T. Herrick is to be the invited guest, and undoubtedly the occasion will be made one for launching a boom for the distinguished Ohio Republican and friend of President McKinley, who won distinction in business and public life before he made such a success as Ambassador to France in the trying time of the European war.

The business man in politics, a slogan of the campaign of 1896, with Mark Hanna as a leader, is to be revived. The demand will be for "A Business Man in the White House." Mr. Herrick is the ideal candidate for the position. He made an excellent governor of Ohio. He has political ambitions. He was urged to become a candidate for Senator after Senator Burton withdrew, but declined. It is said Mr. Herrick desired to avoid the factional fight in Ohio that he saw impending with the Foraker candidate.

On his arrival from abroad, the former Ambassador will be invited to permit the Ohio Society to give him a public reception. This will precede the dinner and even precede his first appearance in his home city, Cleveland, where great honors await him in the form of a State wide reception in which the present governor, the governor-elect and other high state officers will take part. It is not to be a political affair, for Gov. Cox, Senator Foraker and Mayor Baker of Cleveland are to participate.

RUBINSTEIN CONCERT GIVEN.

Voices Blend Beautifully—Lorberg Rare 'Cello Artist.

The Rubinstein Club, Mrs. A. M. Blair, director, gave its first concert of the season last night at the Raleigh Hotel. A beautiful balance of the voice parts made itself felt in the "Faith, Hope, and Love," of H. P. Shelly. The voices also were well balanced. The work in the choruses: "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower," of Rubinstein, and "Greatest Pair of Sisters," of Bruno Huhn.

Thus equipped, the chorus produces some fine effects in mass, and soars gloriously in aspirational passages. The compositions never are such as would be in danger of overstimulating the mind. They are always melodious, always pretty; compositions in which the harmonies move smoothly and simply along; there is usually an element of gladness, warmth and sweetness.

Last night, Schumann's "Moonlight" appeared at the end of the program: a rare gem to which Mr. Lorberg added a "cello obbligato." The assisting soloists were: Miss Helen Crennan, soprano; Mrs. James Kerr, contralto; Miss E. Augusta Hill, contralto and Mrs. Bertha Lincoln, contralto. The other soloists singly in a program in which Mr. Lorberg appears. Mr. Lorberg is an artist; and whether in the beautiful singing of the "cello in such numbers as the Albumblatt of Henrique, and "The Swan" of Saint Saens, which he played as five, or in his brilliant "Salsarelo" by Lindner, his work is from every point of view noble and beautiful. Of the singers, Mrs. Heustle is so well known in Washington that Bertha Lincoln need no comment. When she rose to sing last night, she was greeted with an ovation that must have assured her place in the hearts of her audience. Miss Crennan deserves mention as an artistically worthy of great encouragement. Miss Hill is a contralto of no very good voice, but artistic promise. Mrs. James Kerr sang very beautiful "At Dawning" of Cadman, and "A Perfect Day" of Bond.

The Chinese pupil reciting his lessons turns his back on the tutor. The Co-operative rural credit associations are planned for the Philippine Islands.

The Women's Alliance of All Souls' Unitarian Church will hold its regular meeting on Friday morning, November 27, at 11 o'clock in the lecture room of the church. The subject for discussion will be "Foreign Missions." Mrs. E. F. Williams will tell of conditions in China and Miss Putnam of her experiences in Japan. Mrs. H. K. Fulton will act as hostess. All women are invited.

PEACE THANKS WILL BE

Family Represents Wilson.

President Wilson, who will spend Thanksgiving at Williamstown, Mass., will be represented at the mass by J. P. Tumulty, his secretary. Cabinet officers will be present, and the church will be filled with the representatives of scores of other high government officials will attend.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Dr. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of Notre Dame University. Rev. M. J. Flordan, pastor of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Conception, will be celebrant of the mass.

Palmer, of Winona Lake, Ind., a leading figure at the World's Bible Conference, now in session in Washington, will deliver the subject to be given at the Foundry, at 11 o'clock in the morning. Rev. Dr. W. R. Wedderburn, pastor of the White Star line, will be in charge of the services.

Officers Investigate
HAMMOND RADIO SHIP

Army and Navy Men Experiment with Wireless-controlled Torpedo Boat.

On Way Here to Report.

Gloucester, Mass., Nov. 25.—Four United States army and navy officers of high rank have returned to Washington to prepare a report which they will lay before their superiors regarding the radio controlled torpedo boat, Nautilus, the invention of John Hays Hammond, Jr.

For a week past these officers have been studying the crash of the Nautilus on the surface of the sea. The apparatus manipulated by Hammond as he sat in his radio research laboratory at Fresh Water Cove. The apparatus was used to operate the Nautilus, but that he was bound to secrecy as to what had been done during the week.

He confirmed the report, however, that the boat's mechanism responded to wireless waves when twenty-eight miles distant from the sending station. This has been proved weeks ago by people aboard the boat who had nothing to do but to enjoy a sail without touching a finger to the controls. The Nautilus, however, is eight miles in about the limit of observation gunfire from warships. Mr. Hammond said there was no necessity of wireless waves in the operation of the boat, but that he had secured, as a matter of duty, satisfactory results at the greater distance.

The government investigators will report on the advisability of the purchase of the invention for the exclusive use of America.

Among those who will take part in the musical program will be Mrs. L. J. Mansuro, Miss Roberts, Pauline W. Mansuro, Mrs. M. C. Baier, E. H. Corson, Mr. Witt, Mrs. Beelman, Mrs. Edgar, Miss Muehau, W. H. Evans, Miss Baker, Clara Nelson, H. C. Gordon, Mrs. and Mrs. Falconer, Mrs. Rose, Edwin Steffe, Catherine Reese, Miss Ethel Day, Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, Maud Sites, and John Mulmby.

Services will be held at both the First and Second Churches of Christ, Scientist, beginning at 11 o'clock. In the evening the Catholic Knights of America will give their thirty-first annual donation party, entertainment, and ball at Convention Hall for benefit of St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum. Police grand the dedication of the fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus will be held in the Knights' home in E street northwest, beginning at 8 o'clock in the afternoon.

Henry P. Davison and Sir
George Paish Optimistic
as They Sail.

NEVER IN BETTER SHAPE

Americans Have Cleared Off $100,000,000 on Trade Balances, English Business Envoy Says.

New York, Nov. 25.—Predicting an era of great prosperity for the United States, Henry P. Davison, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Sir George Paish, adviser to the British government on finance and economics, sailed today for London aboard the White Star liner Adriatic.

"I am full of optimism," said Mr. Davison. "This country was never in better shape to extend its trade and the future looks extremely bright. To take full advantage of these prospects we must face the situation calmly. Capital feels that there will be a cessation of government investigations and beliefs that everything is settling on a satisfactory basis."

Sir George Paish, who has been here six weeks persuading American debtors to liquidate debts amounting to $200,000,000 on trade balances, said that $100,000,000 has been cleared off, and that with the resumption of the English cotton mills the demand for American cotton will clear the situation here.

"America will have a great run of prosperity during this war and apart from London you will resume normal trading when conditions permit. There are tremendous sums of money in this country that will be invested in the promotion and development of your own industries."

"We in England are hoping that as a result of the war we shall be able to reduce our expenditures for defensive purposes and that the saving thus effected will within a few years repay us the expense we are now incurring."

J. P. Morgan and his partner, W. H. Porter, entered Sir George Paish's cabin at the conclusion of the interview to wish him bon voyage.

"Tell our friends in London," said Mr. Morgan, "that we over here, will be only too glad to do anything we can if they need help at any time."

Miss McCue to Speak Sunday.

The Congressional Union weekly tea will have on Sunday, Mrs. Anna McCue, of Philadelphia, as the speaker. She has just returned from the Congressional Union campaign in the State of Washington, where she has been very successful in bringing the whole question of suffrage before the voters of the State, but also in organizing a group of women to produce the Federal propaganda. Miss McCue will assist in the work of the headquarters of the Congressional Union until January 1.

REDFIELD DENIES REPORT.

Will Not Quit Cabinet for Federal Trade Commission.

President Wilson is expected to name the members of the Federal Trade Commission before the holiday recess of Congress. It is believed that the President's mind is still open on the subject and as to one member of the commission, Joseph E. Davies, of Wisconsin, will be a member and probably chairman. That he is still open on the subject is evident from the Bureau of Corporations under the Department of Commerce. That Bureau is to be merged in the new Federal Trade Commission. It was suggested at the outset that the Commissioner of Corporations should be a member of the Commission and the President, it is believed, has had no intention of leaving Mr. Davies out of the Commission. His chances for being the chairman are excellent.

The report that Secretary Redfield was to be a member of the commission is authoritatively denied. He does not desire to exchange his place in the Cabinet for the Trade Commission and, as a matter of fact, has never been considered for it.

CROKER GETS LICENSE;
WEDDING TO BE SECRET

Former Tammany Chieftain and Miss Bula Edmonson, Cherokee Princess, to Marry Today.

New York, Nov. 25.—Richard Croker may not be Tammany boss of New York any longer, but he has power enough left to make a dignified, white-haired city clerk drop all the city's business and run errands for him like an A. D. T. messenger.

This was demonstrated tonight when city Clerk P. J. Scully took a blank marriage license application and a blank license from his office and hurried in a taxicab clear up town to Nathan Strauss' home in West Seventy-second street, where Mr. Croker and Miss Bula Edmonson, his twenty-three-year-old Cherokee princess bride-to-be were waiting to fill out the application and be sworn for the issuance of the license.

This was the climax to a day in which Mr. Croker and Miss Edmonson had dodged all efforts to find out about their intended wedding. It is reported that they are to be married tomorrow morning by Mr. Henry A. Brann in St. Agnes' Church, but there is a suspicion among Mr. Croker's friends that the seventy-three-year-old bridegroom select has proved his astuteness once more by having had a secret ceremony performed.

In the application for the license Croker gave his age as seventy-three, color white, and Miss Edmonson, herself an even fifty years off in filling out her age blank, also described herself as "white," although she is proud of being a quarter-bred Cherokee, and a princess in the tribe.

Keetaw Kalutchy, an Indian princess of the Cherokee nation, who is to marry Richard Croker, sometime chief of Tammany Hall, marched in the suffrage parade here on March 3, 1913. Princess Keetaw—or Miss Bula Edmonson, as she is known in the East—is a cousin of Representative Carl Hayden, of Arizona. She met Mr. Croker at a Democratic convention in Kansas City, where her father was a delegate.

Work for Delaware Suffrage.

Miss Mabel Vernon, just returned from the suffrage victory in Nevada, left yesterday to return to Delaware. She will enter at once upon the work of the Congressional Union headquarters in Delaware, where the amendment of the State constitution will come before the legislature in January. She is assisted by Mrs. Florence Bayard Hill, of Wilmington, daughter of the late Thomas F.

MRS. POLKINHORN DIES.

Widow of Printer Passes Away from Infirmities.

Mrs. Hannah M. Polkinhorn, widow of R. O. Polkinhorn, who for many years conducted a printing establishment here, died of old age at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis J. Battle, at 146 Kennedy street northwest, last night, after an illness of two months. Mrs. Polkinhorn was born here in 1836. She was the daughter of the late John Thompson, of Annapolis. She is survived by Mrs. Battle, two daughters, H. and Charles R. Polkinhorn; two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Stott and Mrs. Rudolph Johnson; six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.
