

VETERAN OF MANY WARS DIES AS RESULT OF FALL

Brig. Gen. Tompkins Was Son of Colonel and Has Three Sons in United States Army.

Brig. Gen. Charles H. Tompkins, U. S. A., retired, died yesterday morning at his residence, 1127 Twenty-first street northwest. Gen. Tompkins was eighty-four years old. Death was due to a fall incurred last September at Atlantic City. Funeral arrangements are to be announced later.

Gen. Tompkins was born in Fortress Monroe, Va., September 12, 1830, the son of Col. Daniel Tompkins. He entered West Point Military Academy in 1847, leaving two years later for enlistment in the regular service. From a private and corporal, he was promoted to the rank of brigadier general which he held upon retirement in 1894. He fought in the civil war as a lieutenant and colonel, was awarded two bravery at Fairfax Courthouse, he was awarded a medal of honor.

Gen. Tompkins' ancestors were army men and colonels in the regular service. Maj. S. H. Tompkins, the only son to be at the funeral, is now in Washington. Another son, Capt. Frank Tompkins, is on the Mexican border at Nogales, Ariz., with the Tenth Cavalry. Lieut. Daniel D. Tompkins is at Manila with the Eleventh Cavalry.

Miss Julia Tompkins, who lives with her father, is the only daughter. Gen. Tompkins' wife died eighteen years ago.

GETTING A START.

THE INVENTOR. By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR. (Copyright, 1915.)

STATISTICS are misleading, but I may say in passing that millions of patents have been issued, and that thousands of new inventions are patented yearly.

The Patent Office will grant a patent for a new discovery or invention, irrespective of its commercial or other worth, the patent examiners basing their decisions upon the novelty of the thing patented entirely regardless of its intrinsic value.

Inventions have been made by both sexes, and by persons of all ages, including the immature youth. Some of them have brought fortunes; but the majority of patents are worth practically nothing. A good discovery or invention, through lack of development and exploitation, has not contributed anything to its originator.

A successful invention is dependent upon two conditions: First, the commercial or other value of the thing itself; secondly, proper development.

Comparatively few inventors, or scientific men have business ability, and the majority do not understand the marketing of the products of their ingenuity. They can invent, but they cannot exploit. They can discover, but they cannot distribute.

While a few great inventions have been the result of chance or accident, the majority of profitable patents are the result of patient, careful, and conscientious study.

O'Malley straightway sold an idea with Zee-fald at the Fort-second Street "Country Club" and the result was a party of an entertainment and dance which begins promptly at 12 o'clock and lasts for two hours.

THE GREAT WHITE WAY

New York, Jan. 18.—If Nap Rucker, the justly famed pitcher for the Brooklyn team, is not careful some sort of some medical schools or other will induce him to jump.

Most pitchers spend the winter months devising new and startling curves for the evening newspaper—plans which dip and hop and soar—but Nap Rucker is none if not original. He contracts new ailments.

Defted burials laid him low in mid-season, but now he has developed an eczema which has formed a peritonsillitis. He has also, while he is discovering new things, discovered a freak bone in his shoulder and trouble with his tonsils.

MRS. CHARLES G. GATES, YOUNG, RICH WIDOW, TO WED HAROLD JUDD

(Special Correspondence of The Washington Herald)

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 17.—Announcement was made here that Harold Lee Judd, one of New Britain's wealthiest young men and prominent sportsman, will be married on January 20, 1915, to Mrs. Charles G. Gates, widow of the late Charles G. Gates, who was the son of John W. Gates.

The bride is a young woman of twenty-two years, a graduate of the Connecticut College, and was educated in the United States, according to Dr. J. M. Estabrook, of the Department of Justice.

The United States has a crop of 30,000,000 bushels of wheat," he said. "There is always room for export. If the supply is short, it will mean simply that bakers will charge a little more for a loaf of bread."

There is no possibility of a bread famine in the United States, according to Dr. J. M. Estabrook, of the Department of Justice.
