

WOMAN'S HERALD

Devoted to the Household, the Fashions and the Activities of Women.

MARY MARSHALL, Editor. DAILY DEPARTMENT OF THE WASHINGTON HERALD.

HERE'S A CHANCE.

If you really want to start in business in a field that is still in its infancy—if you want to be sure of doing something that will pay profits, and at the same time fill a real need—start a thoroughly up-to-date laundry in Latin-America.

Dr. David Allyn Gorton, the 83-year-old physician and father of the much-talked-about "eugenic twins," gives some interesting maxims on baby raising in his new book called "The Science of Eugenology."

When it comes to the details of baby tending the doctor gives as his first advice to dress children loosely in few garments. Beware of the long clothes, the wooly bands that bind, and the "booties" that impede free toe action!

Should the woman of today accept alimony? This is a question that is much discussed lately. If she demands and gains economic independence; if she seeks equal opportunities in the business and professional world; if modern methods free her of the drudgery of housework why, asks the logical one, should she have alimony when she has been freed from the ties of marriage?

GANDY RELIEVES FATIGUE.

Soldiers Devour Sweets in Enormous Quantities. The value of candy is recognized by military authorities. The British soldiers in France are reported as consuming "prodigious quantities of sweets."

MAYOR'S WALNUT-OIL. One Bottle Compound Hair Dye for either Hair or Beard.

A scientific, essential, profitable, and safe hair dressing. It is made from the purest and most valuable oils and contains no harmful ingredients.

Smart Frocks for Morning Wear

The new French coats cover the entire frock, are tight fitting, with a curve at the waist line and long, circular, flaring basque. The hat of white French crepe is outlined with very narrow fringe.

HOROSCOPE.

The stars incline, but do not compel. Monday, July 26, 1915. Conflicting planetary influences may be exceedingly disturbed today, according to astrology.

WIDOW ADOPTS MAN AGED 43.

New York, July 25.—An order just signed in the Surrogate's Court gives Mrs. Clara E. Seabury, widow of G. Thurston Seabury, of 129 West Seventy-second street, permission to adopt as her son, Albert Hill Nolan, 43 years old, who changed his name on January 17, 1912, to Albert Hill Seabury.

TOMORROW'S MENU.

Not a deed would he do, not a word would he utter. Till he weighed its reflection to plain bread and butter.—Lowell. BREAKFAST: Raspberries, Omelet and Cream, Creamed Dried Fruit, Cold Milk, Biscuits, Coffee.

GIRL FLEES, GARBED AS MAN.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 25.—Believing that a girl could be happier if she did not marry, Dorothy McCoy, a Montfort high school girl, left her home, donned men's attire, and started on a journey which led to her arrest at the North-western Station by detectives, who suspected that she was masquerading.

MISS ROBERTA WILLARD, of New York, who is extremely popular in Newport society this summer.

She Hunts Alligators. While engaged in this rare sport recently Miss Seward caught a sawfish 16 feet long, which she has given to the Field Museum of Chicago, having had it properly attended to by a taxidermist.

WEDDED ABOARD LAUNCH.

Ceremony Performed on Vessel to Observe the Law. Havre de Grace, Md., July 25.—Standing aboard a launch in the Susquehanna River and some 300 guests, last night, William M. Lauder, son of Harry Lauder, postmaster of Havre de Grace, and Miss Virginia Wallace, of New York City, were married by Rev. Edwin J. Hopkins, pastor of the Havre de Grace Presbyterian Church.

Neighbors Aid Sick Farmer.

A story of the neighborly spirit that exists in Tonawanda, Pa., is told in the August number of the Farm and Fireside, a farmer's trade journal. Abraham Hahn, living on the outskirts of Tonawanda, had been sick for a long time, the story says, and his farm had been neglected. On April 25 his neighbors gathered with their horses and plows, and at 5 o'clock that evening his field of thirty acres was ready for the fall.

Her Proposal.

The office of the Raymond Brothers' plant was insufficient hot for the first of July. And the chief accountant's desk stood in the hottest corner. His thin fingers trembled a little and his pale face flushed as he hastened to join the trim little stenographer who waited for him beside her table.

HOUSE-WIVES DAILY ECONOMY CALENDAR.

When the weather is hot, try to have the cooking all done in the morning. It is really possible, in a couple of the cooler hours of the morning, to cook the food for the day. Then, when dinner time comes, a little hot water and a little meal, and luncheon can be eaten quite cold. For luncheon can be made up cold salads, bread, and butter, fruit and iced coffee or chocolate.

NEW LINEN FROCK IS VERY QUAIN.

The revival of the Victorian made in lavender is a frock of white linen with scalloped edges and very wide sleeves. Extremely quaint in its old-fashioned lines, the frock is made of the finest linen. As shown in the sketch, the side seams of the circular skirt are cut in scalloped lines and bound with a narrow strip of the linen fabric. They are then tacked together to produce an outstanding line, which relieves the skirt from plainness.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

me in an exceedingly embarrassing position. "I do not understand," stammered the young man in bewilderment. "Well, you see Mr. Raymond seemed to me that we were had come to an understanding, you know, and I did not deny it! He said you were too valuable a man to lose, and so he suggested that we—take the vacation together, beginning Saturday. I am wondering what I shall say to him when I go back Monday morning."

GIRL ARRESTED; CAMERA SNAPS.

Atlantic City, July 25.—A South Carolina avenue beach crowd held its breath for a moment yesterday when a summer girl was arrested by her father, a beach guard, because the costume she wore was too much abbreviated. "Too short by two inches and a third," dramatically exclaimed the policeman. "You are under arrest." The girl burst into tears.

DAILY FASHION NOTE.

Two boudoir modes of unusual charm are the bathroom cap and kimono shown here. The cap is of bath towel cloth embroidered in blue and old rose, while the kimono is white nainsook, is decorated entirely in white embroidery. One-half yard of material makes the cap, but the kimono calls for four yards of thirty-six-inch nainsook. Cap No. 6912. Sizes, small, medium and large, price 15 cents. Embroidery No. 1184. Transfer, 15 cents. Kimono No. 5098. Sizes, 32 to 42 inch bust. Price, 15 cents. Embroidery No. 1188. Transfer, 15 cents.

FAMOUS WOMAN.

July 26 ought to be an auspicious birthday for the girl who wants to be a writer for it is the seventy-first anniversary of the birth of Bertha Buxton, one of the successful English women writers of the last century. As may be imagined from her first name, Bertha, Mrs. Buxton was of German parentage, her mother having been Mma. Theresa Leopold, a famous singer of her day. Bertha traveled about with her mother on her singing tours and from an early age she was known in musical circles. Her mother's travels took her to Germany, Holland and the United States.
