CRUSADE ON MALARIA AND MOSQUITOES BEGUN

District Health Department Calls Attention to Danger Coming from Standing Water.

The District Health Department has started an educational crusade against mosquitoes and malaria. Warning is given that unless steps are taken immediately to combat the mosquitoes, malaria will increase here in very marked degree.

Last August, according to the department, only two blood specimens examined in the bacteriological laboratory showed malarial infection. So far this month ten such specimens have been examined. Suggestions are given by the department as to how to fight mosquitoes.

"Mosquitoes are destroyed by the removal of standing water, which is their most frequent breeding place, or, if such water cannot be removed, by keeping it covered with a film of kerosene, which prevents the development of mosquitoes in it," says the department. "Even very small accumulations of water are sufficient for the development of large numbers of mosquitoes and in this connection attention should be paid to the water standing in the traps of yard and area drains."

"When these traps are not frequently flushed by rains or by use of the garden hose—and area drains are not frequently so flushed—they are liable to give rise to mosquitoes in neighborhoods supposedly well protected against such pests. Investigations have shown the malarial-carrying mosquito breeding in such places. As it is, of course, undesirable to remove the water from the traps of such fixtures, the remedy is to apply a small quantity of kerosene to each trap at frequent intervals, say a tablespoonful once a week."

HOTELS WILL BE FULL
FOR G. A. R. REUNION

Raleigh Makes Reservations for 900 Guests—Will Be Encampment Headquarters.

Reservations for more than 900 guests for the week of the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic have been made at the Raleigh Hotel. The Raleigh will be the headquarters of the encampment. So many have applied for rooms that the management is forced to refuse accommodations.

The encampment will commence September 27 and continue for a week. Hotel managements announce that bookings are on the increase, and that within a short time all accommodations will be taken. Although hotel men are certain that their establishments will be filled, many believe that the encampment will not draw so large a crowd as the last encampment here fourteen years ago.

"It must be remembered that there has been a heavy toll in the ranks of the veterans during the last fourteen years. That is not the principal reason. It must be remembered that money is tight; that people on the whole are more close-fisted than they were fourteen years ago. People are holding on faster to their coin, and that fact will deter many from making the trip to Washington."

Motor Trucks Carry Gold Valued at $19,534,200 Through New York Streets

New York, Aug. 11.—Twenty-five motor trucks with armed guards on board and mounted policemen riding alongside moved through the city streets today nearly forty-four tons of gold, valued at $19,534,200.

The gold and securities arrived at the American Express Company's depot at Tenth avenue and Thirty-third street on a special train from Halifax at 6:15 o'clock this morning and by noon the gold was in the vaults of the Sub-Treasury in Wall Street. Regarding its value W. P. Hamilton, of J. P. Morgan & Co., made this statement:

"The gold shipment was made up of 1,660,000 ounces of United States gold coin, worth $18,604 per ounce; so its total value was $19,534,200."

MOTOR SPEEDERS DENOUNCED.

Cyclists Arouse Criticism by Safety First Association.

Motorcyclists who ride through the city at forty or fifty miles an hour "with females riding behind" were denounced as a menace to street safety by members of the Washington Safety First Association at a meeting at Public Library last night.

It was suggested that the motorcycle squad of the police force, which now operates only on the outskirts of the city, be enlarged and stationed in the city proper to pursue speeding motorcyclists. Bicycle policemen, it was said, are unable to overtake them.

J. Clinton Hlatt, secretary, will ask the Commissioners to see that motorcyclists observe the speed law.

GARRISON FINISHES
PLANS FOR NEW ARMY

Secretary of War Will Submit Reorganization Program to President Wilson.

Secretary of War Garrison returned to Washington yesterday from his summer home on the New Jersey coast and in response to inquiries stated that he had completed a report to be submitted to President Wilson with regard to a military policy for the United States. It is expected that he soon will have a conference with the President and go over the entire subject with him.

While the President has asked both Secretaries Garrison and Daniels for reports and recommendations as to the military and naval establishments, Mr. Garrison undertook the task of working out a comprehensive military policy months before he received the President's request.

In co-operation with the General Staff and the chiefs of the War Department budget, he has covered the ground most thoroughly, and recommendations reached as to practically all the details of reorganization of the entire scheme of national defense and preparedness for war.

PICKPOCKET ROBS POLICEMAN.

Thief Takes Fat Roll from O. J. Trenis.

It is deplorable to be a crook, but it is unutterably bad when the crook loses respect for both the law and the law's guardian. O. J. Trenis, a Washington policeman, had a roll of gold certificates and an enjoyable anticipation when he boarded an interurban car at Norfolk on Ocean View last week. He stopped off the car at Ocean View, viewed the ocean, felt his pocket and wailed. Other passengers from the car did the same.

The policeman was game, however, and didn't let the missing pickpocket spoil his vacation. After a day's search, he found a friend, cashed a check, completed his outing and returned to Washington, determined to enforce the law.
