

FARMERS USING EGGS AT HOME

Truckers Near City Give Hen-nery Products to Summer Boarders.

BUTTER IS VERY SCARCE

Strawberries, California and Sour Cherries, Gooseberries and Cauliflower Almost Gone for Season.

Summer boarders at resorts near enough to Washington to draw supplies from here evidently live upon a diet of eggs and butter, if local traders know anything about food conditions.

"Vegetables are plenty, but dairy and henry products—" and they throw up their hands and shrug their shoulders expressively.

The markets in Washington depend largely upon the supplies of eggs and butter brought in by farmers, who also keep summer produce upon local tables. While there is a scarcity of the former commodities, prices remain the same. Fresh eggs are quoted at 25 to 30 cents a dozen, and the best grade of butter is selling for 25 cents a pound.

Four fruits and one vegetable disappeared from most markets here during the past week. Strawberries, California cherries, sour cherries and gooseberries are sold by few fruit dealers, while cauliflower is a thing of the past in any vegetable stands.

Meat and fish prices remained firm during the week. Wholesale quotations on beef fluctuated considerably, but on the whole, remained about even, that retail figures were unchanged.

U. S. Has Ten Field Guns More Than Were Used at Gettysburg

Artillery Lieutenant Gives Business Men at Plattsburgh Instruction Camp an Idea of Nation's Unpreparedness. Declares There Are Only Twelve Guns East of Mississippi.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 12.—There are only ten more field guns in the whole United States army today than were used in the battle of Gettysburg, according to an artillery lieutenant here at the government's military instruction camp in the course of a talk to the business men volunteers, and bore out the contention that the United States is not prepared to war that followed the talk of Gen. Wood last night.

Prominent men attending the camp, soldiers and statesmen, discussed freely today the words of Gen. Wood last night. The general made it plain this afternoon that he did not mean to reflect on the unpreparedness of the United States in his talk, and that he meant no one nation when he referred to the "country that were prepared."

"No country should be neutral if it cannot afford to back up its neutrality," was the comment of Charles E. Holt Warren, president of the Lincoln National Bank of New York, and a private in Company F.

"I heartily agree with Gen. Wood, and am so impressed with this camp that I shall permit every one of our 100 employees to attend the camp next year on full pay, and it will not come out of their regular vacation."

"If the officers in command of the camp are trying to find the weaklings among the volunteers, they could not have selected a better method than by the driving work through which they are putting the men under them. But up to date no one has dropped out, not one has failed to meet the requirement on the heavy task has been made in a spirit of cheerfulness."

"Talk about Muldoon's," remarked Mayor Mitchell, rushing into his tent at noon after a three hours' drill on the parade ground. "Muldoon's isn't it."

The army aeroplanes are expected to arrive tomorrow and the army aviators will begin flying over the lake and hills. More horses also will be brought from Fort Ethan Allen to supply the demand for special instruction cavalry work.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, formerly charge d'affaires in Mexico; Philip Roosevelt, Willard Straight, of J. P. Morgan & Co.; William Cochran, Jr., William J. Candler, formerly national lawn tennis champion; Oswald and Samuel Chew, millionaire tobacco merchants of Philadelphia; Alexander P. Brown, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler and Regis Post, formerly governor of Porto Rico, have all joined the cavalry.

Protest Marshall, the Philadelphia millionaire, has joined the Signal Corps. Arthur Wheeler and Dr. Charles Brown, polo players, established themselves in the ordnance department, and Harold Rosenbren, famous University of Pennsylvania football star, and Reginald Vanderbilt, of Philadelphia, won distinction today by being told they were the best men in the machine gun division. Dudley Field Malone also distinguished himself by winning a corporalship in his company in a competitive drill.

Most of the Washington men who are in Plattsburgh for the business men's summer training camp went from other vacation resorts to take up what they expected to be the strenuous work of the camp.

Basil Miles left here several days ago to accompany a group of men from a manufacturing plant who will test out machine guns. Mr. Miles will be the only man to join the machine gun brigade.

Besides Mr. Miles, the Washington men at Plattsburgh are L. Randolph Mason, of Rockville, who practices law, C. C. Duke, 22 E. street, northwest, John Cotton Smith, 1112 Connecticut avenue; Edward S. Bryant, United States Forest Service; Murray Cobb, 1622 Eighteenth street; Frank S. Brown, 145 Chapin street; Frederick L. Hultefeger, 1611 Eighteenth street, and Thomas J. Jackson, 1819 N. street.

Important developments in the international situation. The President was especially interested in the reports from his advisers regarding the state of mind of the country on the national defense issue.

There is no great uncertainty in his mind as to how the disclosure of his intention to recommend adequate increase for the army and navy would be received, but the enthusiasm evidenced in the reports made to him were most gratifying. The importance of an accurate political forecast of the attitude of the country on the national defense issue before the next session of Congress was fully realized by the President and his advisers.

There have been indications that the administration's program will meet with bitter opposition in the House and Senate.

Secretary of War Garrison is understood to have practically completed his report on the army.

The President's consideration of the steps to be taken to strengthen the army and navy is based upon the assumption that no necessity will arise for calling Congress into session before the date of the regular session in December, it was disclosed yesterday. On the other hand, he is desirous of making as possible progress with the formulation of the program, so that the various measures may be put speedily into shape should it develop that an extra session is necessary.

Political advisers of President Wilson reported to him on his return that a quiet inquiry made in the past three weeks shows the country is enthusiastically behind him in his determination to provide adequate increases for the army and navy in the forthcoming session of Congress.

It was indicated clearly by members of the administration that the President regards the increasing strength of the national defense program the chief domestic matter demanding immediate consideration on his part. Indications were that the national defense program, President's next departure for his summer home at Cornish, the national defense conference will have a major portion of his time, giving place only to views of exposition in library exhibit. Thirty Colored Photographs of Panama-Pacific Scenes Will Be Shown for Two Weeks.

Through courtesy of officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, thirty colored photographs of the exposition have been received by the Public Library, where they will be on exhibition for the next two weeks. They have been secured through the efforts of Joseph L. Wheeler, formerly assistant librarian of the library and now in charge of the exhibit of the American Library Association at the exposition.

In selecting the views for this exhibit, some of the best known features, such as the Court of the Universities, the Tower of Jewels, the Fine Arts Palace, and the arches of the Rising and Setting Sun have been chosen. There is a panorama of San Francisco Bay, with the whole exposition in the foreground. Each view has a full descriptive label. The coloring of the views and the preparation of the labels were done especially for the exhibit.

Jews Against Arms Export. German Association Appeals to U. S. on Behalf of Poland.

Berlin (via wireless to Skyville), Aug. 12.—The Association of German Jews has addressed an appeal to the United States to stop the transportation of ammunition to Russia, according to the Overseas News Agency. The appeal, which was written by Rabbi Levin, follows:

"Europe stands in flames. Across the ocean stands America in peace. She hears not the thunder of cannon. A fruitful rain of gold is falling upon the land. She is enjoying golden peace. We cry out to America in behalf of the un-happiest of lands—Poland. Thousands of America's industrious citizens come from that country now being destroyed by American shells.

"Instead of the gifts and money that you once sent back to towns from Libau to Lemberg, you are now sending iron shells for the Carr's army. Thou street iron for gold; death for life. Children in America are murdering their parents. You have peace and are not fighting for your very existence. We implore you to listen to this appeal. Copies of the protest, it was said, would be sent to all neutral countries.

CHERRYDALE CITIZENS FORM ASSOCIATION

New Society to Enter at Once Into Campaign for Public Improvements.

Cherrydale, Va., one of the most beautiful suburbs of the National Capital, now has a citizens' association. Its members claim the association will rank with any in the District of Columbia.

The Cherrydale Citizens' Association was organized last night at a meeting in the Cherrydale schoolhouse. Nearly every citizen of the community attended, and when the membership roll was thrown open fifty-two affixed the signatures.

J. L. May was elected president; R. A. Hightower, vice president; W. O. Williams, secretary, and B. F. Hutson, treasurer. The meeting was called by William Turnburke, chief of the volunteer fire department of Cherrydale.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted and dues were fixed at 50 cents a year. The first business after the formal organization was appointment of a committee to consider whether Cherrydale shall have a Chautauque.

The committee is composed of J. L. May, R. A. Hightower, B. F. Hutson, W. O. Williams, William Turnburke, and J. A. Gilbertson. This committee will report at the next meeting of the association in Cherrydale schoolhouse on September 1.

The association plans to enter with-out delay into a campaign for good roads, sidewalks, transportation facilities, school improvements, and better sanitation for the town.

GETS $13,686,480 IN GOLD. Bank of England Feels Result of Appeal to Public to Use Notes.

London, Aug. 12.—An analysis of the Bank of England's return today indicates that 2,372,292 pounds of gold (103,686,480) was sent into the bank during the week as a result of the government's appeal to the public to use notes instead of gold.

This, with a $3,855,000 influx from abroad, raised the bank's gold stock to $28,500,000.

At the same time the active bank note circulation decreased $5,110,000, so that an increase of about $23,000,000 in emergency note circulation this week is expected.

The government's repayment of advances made by the bank is understood to be $80,000,000 since the war loan was issued.
