

Griffith Sees Third Place in Sight---Aftermath of the Riceland Games

Griffith Is Anxious to Cop Cleveland Series

"Old Fox" Can See Third Honors in Race in Sight. Will Work Youngsters.

HARPER TO PITCH TODAY

Clark Griffith is anxious to cop this Cleveland series and will not be satisfied with an even break or two of the remaining three games. The Old Fox can see visions of taking third honors in the league from the White Sox but even with this position in sight he is more than anxious to have a good long look at the Nationals' new players.

The showing of Turner Barber, who was played in the left garden in Saturday's game, came up to the expectations of the Nationals' pilot as he claims the youngster was tipped off highly to him and was not surprised at the way he came through. While Barber was in the game he displayed some hitting strength that was a welcome relief to the fans.

Harry Harper or Joe Boehling is the selection for the Nationals' in the second game with the Indians. The call in case he shows no signs of wildness while warming up, as his work of late warrants it.

It takes a mighty good man to manage a ball team successfully, even when the outfit turned over to him is a high-class aggregation. The call in case he shows no signs of wildness while warming up, as his work of late warrants it.

It looks as if the long-suffering New York public had been bunched again. A parcel of the accounts of the McFarland-Gibbons boxing match, which was held in New York, is in doubt as to whether a tanço party or a prize fight was intended to be presented to the spectators for entertainment.

It was a fight, it was a boxing exhibition, as a match, or as any old thing one would choose to call it, was the worst of the kind ever seen.

Brooklyn Bunch Hits on Cardinals in Seventh and Ninth—Cubs Trim Boston Braves.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—The Superbas bunched their hits in the closing inning and won over the Cardinals, 5 to 4. The sixth two passes, a sacrifice and a single by Myers tied it. Daubert drove in a run off Robinson in the seventh, and scored one in the ninth. The Cardinals had runners on second and third with two out in the ninth when Roach was tossed out by Getz. Score: R. ## REX CLUBMEN LAND INDEPENDENT TITLE

Northeast Team Has Claim to Championship by Trimming the Nationals, 6 to 1.

By defeating the National A. C. heretofore unbeaten champions of the District, 6 to 1, the Rex Athletic Club has taken its place as the independent champion of the District. The team, which was coached by Doc Hartley, pitched sensational ball and deserved a shut-out. Forest Thompson, of post-season series fame, started the game for the Rex, and was relieved by Laverne in the third inning, after the Rex boys jumped on him for five runs. The Rex team was strengthened by the return of Clark, a clever shortstop, who has been out of the last four games. The Northeast club, a whole playing winning ball, Rabar's long hit, a home run, and a double, were the highlights of the game.

At the end of the eighth inning of the first game the two clubs and umpires Hughes and Gibbe left the field. When it was found that no agreement had been made for an eight-inning contest, the press box let out a holler and the indicator-handlers marched the clubs back for action.

STATEMENTS BY THE PRINCIPALS OF FIGHT

By "Mike" Gibbons—Do I think I won? I most certainly do. I think that "Packey" is the best man I have ever fought and a thorough sportsman. I thought that I had McFarland on the go several times, but he weathered the storm I attempted to create in good shape. The heat from arc lights bothered me considerably and made my head feel giddy at times, otherwise I was in good shape throughout. Yes, McFarland made me miss many times, but he is so clever that he'd make me miss one. I am going to take the $15,000 prize in good farming land in Minnesota. I will leave this afternoon for my home in St. Paul and then spend three weeks back shooting, which is my favorite sport.

By "Packey" McFarland—I think I had the better of but two out of the rounds. He was certainly the hardest man I have ever fought. His best blows were those which reached my body, as blows to the face and jaw were ineffective. Yes, I will continue in the boxing game if I can get another chance for a bout which I think I'm entitled to. Just at present I am arranging to go back to Chicago and arrange for the purchase of a business, which I will invest $30,000. I am very well pleased with the reception accorded me by my friends here, and hope that I may get another chance to box before they leave. My wife, who has never seen me in a boxing bout, has much to do with what I may do in the future.

Drivers and Cup for Which They Will Compete

Many of the crack racing drivers of the country have entered their names for the Vincent Astor Cup race, the 300-mile event with the new motor speedway at Sheepshead Bay, New York, will be opened on October 2. Although the entry list has not yet closed, and many of the big drivers are still to be heard from, it is practically certain that most of the well-known racing men will be in the list. Earl Cooper, Ralph DePalmer, Barney Oldfield, Bob Burman, Dario Resta, who has just garnered first laurels at San Francisco, Chicago, and other racing centers, and Gil Anderson, who with Earl Cooper forms the Stutz team, have either sent in their entries or signified their intention of so doing.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended an automobile race is expected when the gates of the new speedway are thrown open.

Games Here with Brewers Will Be Arranged Today

Arrangements for the playing of the remaining games of the intercity amateur series between the Agriculture club, District champions, and the Portner Brewing Company, of Richmond, will be completed today over the long distance phone. The Brewers were defeated in decisive manner Saturday in the Southern city by the local champions and they long for revenge. President James Crowder, of the Capital City League of Richmond, will complete plans with President Robert H. Young, of this city, today.

The Dixie team desired to come here to meet the local club at American League Park, but since this will not be available next Saturday, the date which has been selected, the teams will probably meet on the Terminal Railroad diamond, east of Union Station.

Treasurer Charles King, of the local amateur league, journeyed to Richmond Friday so as to have everything in readiness for the Aggies when they arrived and was also given the task of making any arrangements for the contest which he might see fit. King was not successful in closing details as the terms named were not made for the contest, but after the two-killings which the locals handed the Dixie outfit, they were willing to listen to the terms named by the Aggies, and the contest will be held on the Terminal Railroad diamond, east of Union Station.

Dr. Parker, who is known by local amateur followers as manager of the Battle Axe Club which played the first intercity series with Washington, was in the city to see the Aggies and extended all the courtesies of the city. A royal time was given the members of the Farmers' team before and after the games and Dr. Parker will be the manager of the boys as the "good fellow" of the Southern city.

Eddie Carroll, the big center fielder of the Aggies, was taken sick during the initial game and was replaced by Derrick in the nightcap. The heat worried all the local players, but Carroll was the only one who fell by the wayside.

Some one presented Lem Owen with a rabbit foot before he boarded the train for the Southern city, and after making every member and follower of the Aggies know that he had taken it with him when he went to the mound, Lemmy claims this was the real cause of the victory in the opening game. No, Owen is not superstitious.

Bill Cusack, one of the trio of the Georgetown collegians playing with the Aggies, who holds down the third, pulled the fielding feature of the games. In the second inning of the nightcap Moran, in the shape of a through ball, advanced Al Burch on a sacrifice, but Billy was on the job and caught the horsehide on the fly about five yards from the plate, doubling Burch at the doorkeeper's station.

BIG HORSE SALE HELD NEXT MONTH

Thoroughbred Breeders Will Buy in Stallions, Broodmares and Weanlings.

INTEREST INCREASES

Evidence that the thoroughbred-breeding industry of the country, which was formerly confined to the favored States, is spreading fast and rapidly becoming a national enterprise is furnished by the sources from which applications for the catalogue of the Elmsford stud of the late James Ben All Haggin, which is to be sold at Elmsford Farm, near Longton, Kan., are being made to the Powers-Hunter Company, which will conduct the sale on the 28th of October.

William L. Powers has by request mailed catalogues to breeders in every State in the Union as well as to breeders in all parts of Canada and in several of the South American republics. The United States has been a prolific source of supply for thoroughbred stock to Canada and in several of the South American republics and the demand for horses from those quarters has increased sharply since the beginning of the great war.

The Haggin sale will be the biggest since the dispersal of the Whittney stud in 1904, seven or eight months after the death of its founder, the late William Whittney. It will require a whole day to dispose of the three stallions, sixty-eight broodmares and thirty-one weanlings, of which several hundred have been bred in the Haggin family from racing and breeding.

Mr. Haggin, who, up to the very end of his life, took the keenest interest in his racers and stock horses, left many millions, but no heir sufficiently interested in the stud to maintain it. He died on the 25th of October the stallions and mares he carefully selected for his own establishment, when in 1910 he shipped several hundred horses to Europe and South America, the legislation, fathered by Gov. Hughes in that year and in 1908, hostile to racing in the United States, had been passed.

The sale of the 28th will not be confined altogether to the Haggin horses either. The heirs of Mr. Haggin have consented to the sale at Elmsford, after the stock left by their father has been disposed of. Mr. Haggin's son, E. F. Haggin, Jr., and his brother Woodford, E. F. Haggin, Jr., died last spring and this sale will be in settlement of his estate.

The stallions of the Haggin establishment to go under the hammer are Ballot, greatest of the sons of Votter, Sain, sire of Jack Atkin, and Nealon and Hessian, a young son of Watercross, the best horse Mr. Haggin imported from Great Britain during the period in which he was the leading breeder of the country. Hessian is the only son of Watercross remaining at Elmsford. The other two horses Mr. Haggin intended as Watercross' successor, died upward of a year ago after having got Watercross' stallions, Bonnie Keelo and other sterling performers.

Ballot, bred by the late James R. Keene, raced as a two and three-year old with Earl Faxon, Charles Edward, War Pearl, Superman, Montgomery, and McCarter. A better horse in every respect than his daddy, he won at all distances, under every set of weights and in every variety of going. Mr. Watercross' biggest prize given for an American thoroughbred stallion since Louis Winans purchased Sir Martin for $5,000 in 1868, when he purchased Sir Martin for $5,000, was the weanling to be offered on the 28th are sons and daughters of Ballot, Sain, Uncle, Hessian, and The Manager, another son of Votter, and the best one that raced, Ballot excepted. The mares are in foal to the same stallions.

Among the mares to be offered are Afric Queen, dam of Africard; Almadie, dam of Cater Lily and Goodwood; Captivity, dam of Double Eagle; Clara J., a sister of Watercross' daughter, dam of Rye; Enterprise, dam of Success; Gold, a sister of Goldie Maxim and dam of Rhine Maiden; Gracie, dam of Demond; Gracie, dam of Ella Bryson; Hamburg Belle, a futurity winner; Janice, dam of Statesman; Lina Holland, a sister of Sir Watercross; Lina, dam of Right Royal; Phida, dam of Beauclere; Prim 2d, dam of Proper; and Tradition, one of the great fillies of 1904, the season's All Star and Sysonby. Tradition defeated Sysonby in the futurity that year, she finishing second to Artful.

There will be no stallions in the Clay consignments. The Clay Brothers' stud consists entirely of mares and good ones. They are Marie Frances, by Sir Dixon; a four-year-old, third-year (by Sir Dixon), dam of Buckhorn; Outcomes (by Sir Dixon), dam of Inlan; Sea Spray (by Star Shoot), sister of Sea Shell and Ocean Bound; and dam of Sea Beach; The Lady (by Kingdon), dam of Irish Gentleman; Single Shot (by Star Shoot), dam of Shepphooter; Star Lady (by Star Shoot), a sister of Magnet; Ballerina (by Handspring), dam of Stellaria; Rose Tree 2d (by Boss Nicks), dam of Roamer and Crip (by Bridgeman), dam of Confederate.

TERRAPINS LOSE TWO GAMES TO THE WHALES

Chiefs Land First in Fifteen Innings, 5 to 4, and Second, 2 to 0. Other Federal Contests.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Chicago won two games from Baltimore today, 5 to 4 and 2 to 0, the first game going to fifteen innings. The Whales drove Young from the box in the eighth inning of the first game and tied the score at 2. Bailey and McConnell pitched the last six innings.

Each side scored in the tenth, and Baltimore got one more in the fifteenth. Chicago won in the last half of the fifteenth, scoring two runs on a pinch hit by Hendricks, two bases on balls and a single by Weiss. The second game was called at the end of the fifth on account of darkness. Hendrix allowed only one hit. Zwilling hit a homer in the first and in the third Mann scored. Hendrix with a double after Hendrix walked. Score: R. E. E. Baltimore..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-1 0 Chicago..... 5 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-5 2

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—The largest crowd that ever saw a Federal game in St. Louis saw the Terrapins lose and tie with Newark today. Newark won the opener, 1 to 0, and the second was a 2 to 2 tie. Score: R. E. E. Newark..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1 0 St. Louis..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 0

At the end of the eighth inning of the first game the two clubs and umpires Hughes and Gibbe left the field. When it was found that no agreement had been made for an eight-inning contest, the press box let out a holler and the indicator-handlers marched the clubs back for action.

Frank Pe obtained the longest clout of the day in the third inning of the second game when he hammered one over P. Burch's head for three sacks. He failed to count, as two were down at the time and Limerick popped to Lee.

When A. Burch coromed a hot one off Lem Owen's head in the first inning of the opening game, he pulled up at the midway station as the ball bounded to McCarthy in right field. "Shake it off" was heard on all sides by Owen's team mates, and the lanky hurler heeded the admonition and went back to work wearing his same old smile.

The Alexandria Eagles defeated the Palais Royal team here today by the score of 14 to 2. The pitching of Quynle, in the shape of a through ball, advanced Al Burch on a sacrifice, but Billy was on the job and caught the horsehide on the fly about five yards from the plate, doubling Burch at the doorkeeper's station.

Referee Joh Gives Draw Decision in an Interview

New York, Sept. 12.—William Joh, referee of the McFarland-Gibbons affair at Brighton Beach Saturday night, gave it as his private opinion after the bout that the result was a draw. Joh expressed his opinion through a newspaper and while it is not in any way an official judgment it shows how the fight would have gone into the records were referee decisions permitted at any stage of the fight.

The opinion of Damon Runyan, the famous fight promoter, gave it as his personal opinion that Gibbons was the most overrated boxer in the business. Fighting the way he did down at Brighton Beach he could not whip any one of half a dozen light-weights now before the public, let alone some of the good welters and middle-weights. No particular criticism attaches to the promoters of the affair. They did their best to handle the contest in a satisfactory manner, and while some of their plans went astray, notably when the occupants of the dollar seats broke into the higher priced sections, it was no fault of the men behind the battle that everything did not go smoothly, and it was no fault of those who the fight itself was not more satisfactory.

Counting the gate receipts and the money spent with the transportation company and the higher priced seats, it is estimated that the fight cost the public considerable over $100,000. The statement of the boxing commission shows that the attendance and the gate were short of nearly all estimates, but the 25,000 persons present will probably have covered the high-water mark in crowds at fistic events for a long time to come.

Halley Leads Bowlers After One Week's Play

Saturday night ended the first week of the individual duckpin tourney which is now in progress at Frank Sherman's alleys. The bowling has been exceptionally good and the weather, which the contestants desire a great deal of credit, as every man has been right on the job at scheduled time. The management will take this opportunity to thank the bowlers for the great amount of interest taken.
