GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW CHURCH

Catholics of Alexandria Plan Edifice for Colored Residents.

FATHER KELLY IS PASTOR

Board of Tax Review Makes Announcement—Mrs. Helen Harlow Dead—Masons Pay Visit.

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 8.—Ground was broken this afternoon for the erection of St. Joseph's Catholic Church at the corner of Columbus and Wythe streets. The first spadeful of earth was thrown by Rev. Joseph Kelly, S. J., of Baltimore, who will be the pastor of the new church.

The ceremony breaking the ground was witnessed by Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, this city, and Rev. Lawrence F. Kelly, the assistant pastor, together with a number of parishioners of St. Mary's Church and a number of colored persons interested in the new edifice. Short addresses were made by the three priests and several laymen.

The structure will be two stories high and of brick with stone trimmings. It will be a combination church and school. The church will have a seating capacity of 350. It is expected that it will be completed in three months.

Rev. Joseph Kelly, the pastor, is interested in the evangelization of the colored race, and the society of priests of which he is a member looks after churches for colored people and schools as well. The new edifice will cost about $12,000. The plans for it were prepared by Architects Murphy and Olmsted, of Washington, and the builder is S. D. De Vaughan & Son, this city.

When the local board of tax review met this morning in the Corporation Court room it announced that October 15 will be the last day in which W. N. Lipscomb, examiner of returns of the State Board of Taxation, can file his returns for 1915 and the public is given until October 15 to file objections to Mr. Lipscomb's returns.

The most important announcement made by the board was that it had definitely decided to refrain from considering returns for years prior to 1915. Examiner Lipscomb stated that he was ready to present returns of omitted taxes, but upon the board's announcement he would withdraw his report of such omissions.

Among the reasons set forth by the board for this action there does not seem to be a definite policy. While the law permits going back to 1876, the board thinks such matters should be continued so as to allow the determination of a definite policy generally throughout the State so that the legislature could act upon the matter.

The board also expressed the opinion that taking up anything prior to 1915 taxes would not give sufficient time for 1915 matters.

Mrs. Helen Harlow, wife of Michael R. Harlow, a former resident of Alexandria, died this afternoon at her summer home at Murkirk, Md. Mrs. Harlow, besides her husband, who was for many years city treasurer of Alexandria, is survived by one son and four daughters. It is expected that the body will be brought to this city for burial.

The annual visitation of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons to Andrew Jackson Lodge was made last night, at which time an official visit was made by M. E. Church, district deputy grand master, Falls Church. The master Mason degree was conferred by officers of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, and lectures were made by Mr. Church, Rev. Dr. J. L. Allison and Charles E. Tennessee.

Sunday night he will speak in the M. E. Church South, and his subject will be "The Call of God."

First Man to Hear Words Sent 3,000 Miles Through Space

J. J. Carley at His "Wireless" Telephone in San Francisco, Over Which the First Wireless Message for a Distance of 3,000 Miles Was Received.

Carley, who is chief engineer of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, has the unique distinction of being the first man to hear spoken words conveyed by wireless a distance of 3,000 miles across the American continent. The transmitter was in Washington, while Mr. Carley was at the United States Navy Yard in San Francisco.

As chief engineer of the company through which the experiments were conducted, Mr. Carley shares much of the honor that accrues through the success of the invention. The wireless apparatus is here pictured, but to the lay mind it looks not unlike the ordinary telephone apparatus in universal use.

FAMILY OF FIVE NEEDS $12 PER WEEK HERE

Social Organizations of Washington Will Urge Higher Wages for Day Laborers.

The Monday Evening Club, in conjunction with other social service organizations of the District, will organize a campaign this year to have the District raise the pay of day laborers, who now get only $12 a day.

This announcement was made yesterday by Walter S. Uford, president of the Monday Evening Club and secretary of the Associated Charities.

Recent inquiries in New York have shown that the least amount on which a family of five may be maintained is $15, and similar investigations here indicate that $12 is the least on which this may be done.

The records of the Associated Charities show that many of the demands made upon it are not by the "down and out," but by families that do not earn enough to support them and are in need of small assistance.

G. Triest, a lawyer of New York, who is held by the British government on the charge of being a German spy. The father appealed to the State Department in behalf of his son, and as a result the young man's trial has been postponed to October 18. Mr. Triest asserted to officials of the State Department that his son is mentally unbalanced, and it is expected that this will be the chief basis of his appeal to the British authorities for his son's release.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY. O-O-MEINTRE.

Special Correspondent of the Washington Herald. New York, Oct. 8.—Andrew Jack was a very poor boy. Now it is quite different. He has limousines and things. The other day in a Broadway sidewalk cab he was a lucky day for you Andy, when you put your foot on the Battery.

Mack grew reminiscent. About eighteen years ago he met Billy Jerome on Broadway. Billy had to go to Conny Island, but didn't have the price. Mack was as free of money, he said, as a flea in crutches.

They went over to Billy Harms', a music publisher, and asked for a ten-spot. He waved them away. "Not a penny," he said. "If you want to make money, write me a song."

Mack and Jerome were desperate. So they set down right there and then and composed a song. They got $10. The song was "My Peak Is Bowery Girl," and it made them both a fortune in royalties.

The Fifth Avenue buses are coming in for a newspaper paning. One of them ran down and killed a man in upper Second Avenue the other day. The accident happened at 1 o'clock at night, and the victim was standing under a bright electric light and witnesses say the driver was nodding.

About a year ago the bus ran into the portico of a department store in Fifth Avenue and an aged woman's head was completely severed. Many complaints have been registered of the bus conductors are insolent, and that the push button signals on the tops of the buses fall to work, thereby endangering life and limb.

The bus company holds a valuable franchise which gives it a practical monopoly of bus traffic through some of the finest streets in the city. The public is demanding that they get chauffeurs who have had plenty of sleep.
