

FOOD EXHIBIT OPENS TONIGHT

Brilliant Display Will Begin at Convention Hall at 7:30 o'clock.

EDIBLES AND FURNISHINGS

District Commissioners, Civic and Trade Bodies, Will Begin March of Review as Doors Are Opened.

Washington's knowledge of food values and the things that go to make housekeeping a good living the greatest possible satisfaction will be greatly enhanced as a result of the food show which opens in Convention Hall at 7:30 o'clock this evening for a two weeks' run.

It marks the biennial display of the Retail Grocers' Protective Association and in it will be found the most celebrated of national and local manufacturers and purveyors of foods and household goods.

This show, the most pretentious one that Washington has ever witnessed, it is the culmination of hard work on the part of the food show committee and Perry P. Patrick, the manager of the display. The man in charge of the show's stock rooms gave eloquent testimony yesterday to contemplated generosity of the exhibitors. "Never in the history of food shows in Washington have the exhibitors brought so many cases of samples," he said, "and it has been necessary for Manager Patrick to secure a warehouse near Convention Hall to store the goods."

The official opening tonight will be distinguished by the presence of the District Commissioners, the presidents and secretaries of the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Association, Federation of Citizens' Associations and others.

The doors will be opened at 7:30 o'clock, and the grand promenade of guests, members of the Retail Grocers' Protective Association and food show reviewers will be begun to the accompaniment of "The Stars and Stripes Forever," played by Pletorio's band, which will give concerts both afternoon and evening throughout the show.

Booths and decorations are entirely novel. A test was had last night of the lighting effects. The grouping of booths has been accompanied along unique lines, and every booth is laden with the choicest of products that tickle the palate and intensify interest in life.

There are not alone suggestions for the home but for personal wear for men and women. How to cook and what to use in the preparation of foods for the table are shown side by side. Current and labor-saving appliances for the home are shown through the medium of two completely equipped homes, with fittings and appliances that will interest every present and prospective housewife in Washington.

The show has been constructed with a view to bringing about an even greater degree of confidence between the grocer and the buyer. The exhibitors realize that this is an age when the public demands to be shown, and tonight's opening will mark a brilliant beginning to an occasion of picturesque entertainment and educational value.

There are in Illinois nearly 700 consolidated rural schools, and most of these schools have a trained teacher in agriculture and another of domestic science. During the summer, when the schools are closed, school work continues, for these teachers visit each pupil at his or her home on the farm every ten days.

LUTHERANS UNITE AT ANNIVERSARY

Service Commemorates Nailing of Theses to Wittenberg Church Door.

MISSION TO FIGHT SIN

Dr. Greever Points Out Ten Infractions of Moral Law Which Command World's Attention.

Lutherans of Washington united last night, in an observance of the 368th anniversary of the reformation inaugurated by Martin Luther, in the Luther Memorial Church, Thomas Circle.

The occasion marked the anniversary of the nailing of the ninety-five theses to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg by Luther. The service was arranged by Rev. Dr. William A. Wade, Charles P. Steck, John T. Huddle and I. O. Baker.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Greever, of Columbia, S. C., editor of the American Lutheran Survey, preached on the forces within and without the church with which Christianity must wage an unceasing war if it hopes to conquer the world.

"Never before in the history of the world have current events been of such magnitude and interest as today," said the speaker, "but as Christians the question which confronts us is as to what we can do to protect the great work started by Martin Luther."

Freedom of Press is Abused; Papers of 1794 Prove Fact

Declaration of Aid to Attorney General Before Secular League Meets Opposition—Prohibition of Advertisements Advocated—Plan to Bar Papers From Mails Advanced

Members of the Secular League discussed "Abuse of the Freedom of the Press" at a meeting at Pythian Temple yesterday. There still was doubt when the meeting ended as to whether the power really is abused.

R. Colton Lewis, special assistant to the Attorney General, was the speaker. He believed that the freedom of the press had been abused and quoted from newspapers published as far back as 1794 and as recent as 1796 to prove his contention. He told of the abuse of its freedom by the Appeal to Reason, a Socialist organ. Some sentences from Mr. Lewis' speech follow:

"The abuse of its freedom by the press is growing worse and worse. The problem is so serious as to threaten the liberty of the people. Newspapers so use their freedom that the continued abuse constitutes a worse menace than possible regulation."

Mr. Lewis placed a large part of the blame for the assassination of President Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley on newspapers. He quoted from a newspaper called the Aurora which, in 1794 and 1796, attacked George Washington in hysterical fashion, and said in concluding his quotations that "that shows how much dependence may be placed on newspaper articles."

Mr. Lewis said that it would be good to deny the use of the mails to newspapers which didn't meet with approval, or if that were considered too strict, that they might be made to pay more for mailing their publications.

Prof. Hyland Kirk, a vice president of the league, opposed regulation of newspapers. The remedy, he said, would be worse than the disease.

"The Secular League ought to be interested in this question," he said.

WILL DISCUSS CRISIS AT ORDNANCE PLANT

Machinists Meet Tonight and May Call Out Steel Company's Workmen at Giesboro Point.

A special meeting of union machinists will be held tonight to discuss the sudden dismissal Saturday of six employees of the Washington Steel and Ordnance Company's plant at Giesboro Point. The six employees, members of the machinists' union, had been active in unionizing the 1,500 workmen at the plant. No reason was given by officials of the company for their discharge.

Harry F. Clark, secretary and treasurer of the company, declared yesterday he knew nothing of the incident, nor of any agitation among the workmen. The policy of the company has been to employ both union and nonunion men.

While the company has employed union men it has never recognized the organizations. The discharge of the six men is taken as evidence of active opposition to unionization.

Union officials declare the matter is at a crisis, though no mention of striking has been made. The situation will be determined at a meeting tonight of Local 190, International Association of Machinists, in Naval Lodge Hall.

BALTIMORE G.O.P. COUNTS ON SPLIT

Row Over Harrison Nomination Hope of Maryland Republicans.

DEMOCRATS PESSIMISTIC

Only Landslide, However, Can Take Control of General Assembly From Them.

Baltimore, Oct. 31.—Although the Democratic registration exceeds the Republican by 40,000, the governorship is in doubt, according to Baltimore politicians who are busy figuring estimates on Tuesday's election. Only a landslide can prevent the control of the general assembly by the Democrats. Nor could the Republicans hope to elect the candidate for governor if Maryland Democrats were united. Four years ago the Democrats, by a break in their lines, lost the governorship, though they elected the balance of their ticket by good majorities.

The situation this year is not much different from that of 1911. Again Senator Lee sought the nomination for governor in the primaries. He had the backing of Mayor Preston, of Baltimore, and the better part of the city machine. But Senator Smith, Lee's bitterest enemy, succeeded in nominating Emerson C. Harrington, State controller.

Now the Lee faction is rebellious, and the independent Democrats, who do not take kindly to the State machine, incline to side with them.

The Republicans named Irving E. Weller, chairman of the State roads commission, and a prominent business
